Berkeley BIOENGINEERING

The future of biology. The future of engineering.

Hello again!

2019 is off to a fantastic start! We hope you thoroughly enjoy this captivating and short update from Bioengineering.

What moment defined Berkeley BioE for you?

On March 14, help us make more moments come true for more students.

Bioengineering BIGGIVE

SEIZE THE MOMENT 3.14.19

Please join us for the 2018-19 Distinguished Lecture in Bioengineering

March 15, 3:00 PM

"Mechanosensing: from Scaling in 'Omics & Nuclear Rupture to a Macrophage Checkpoint in Cancer"

Dennis E. Discher

Robert D. Bent Professor, University of Pennsylvania, and a UC Berkeley - UCSF PhD alumnus.

Welcome Professor Lareau!

With great pleasure we welcome our newest faculty member, Assistant Professor Liana Lareau. She joins us after distinguished postdoctoral fellowships with QB3, UC Santa Cruz, and a Damon Runyan Cancer Research Fellowship at Stanford.

Her research uses computational and molecular biology to understand how post-transcriptional regulation leads to robust and flexible control of gene expression.

The 2019 Alumni Summer Bear Bash!

We want you!

Calling all alumni for our 4th annual BioE Alumni Summer Bear Bash:
