Testimony and Records of Appearance
for the 10/24/2011 meeting

Volume 1

October 19, 2011

To the COGFA Legislative Members:

The Jacksonville Area Chamber of Commerce Board voted unanimously to oppose the proposed closure of the Jacksonville Developmental Center (JDC). This facility is a mainstay of this area and exemplary in the model care that it provides to the 195 members of our community.

We ask that you would consider the following key points about JDC:

- Maintains a solid certification record
- Remains in good standing with the federal government
- Had $2 million in Life Safety Code construction performed this summer
- Cut 22% for this fiscal year and lived within their means through annual cuts in the recent past
- Has a Health Care Center with a setup similar to a doctor's office which trains residents to go to a doctor's appointment in preparation for life in our community
- Provides a Short Term Assistance Program which works with statewide crisis teams and admits people who have psychological or behavioral needs
- Coordinates work programs within the facility and partners with two agencies in the Jacksonville community, once again in preparation for life outside of JDC
- It is the goal of everyone at this facility to provide the skills needed to live in the community

The closure of JDC will not save the state money. These people with disabilities will still need skilled staff to care for them. JDC provides that excellent care now. We need to prevent disrupting the lives of the residents and ensure their continued physical and emotional care.

Our area has suffered from the closure of several large plants over the past few years and since 2000, the loss of over 1700 jobs. The state's estimated $47 million impact on the county would be devastating. This is a time when we need the jobs and economic stability that JDC provides for our area.

Thank you for considering our request, and we ask that you analyze the outstanding programs that our center provides. Please vote against the closure of the Jacksonville Developmental Center.

Sincerely,

Paul White

Type of Testimony - Oral at hearing (Monday, Oct. 24 @ 5 pm)

Good evening. I'd like to thank members of the Commission for holding these important hearings on the proposal to close the state institutions for people with intellectual and developmental disabilities in Dixon and Jacksonville. My name is Katherine Dunbar, regional director for Bethesda Lutheran Communities. As someone who has worked in this field for XX years and as a life-long resident of Illinois, I am excited that Illinois state officials are taking this long-overdue first step to provide more appropriate, effective and efficient supports for people with disabilities.

I have long been confused as to why, as a society, we still feel it is acceptable to segregate people simply because they have a developmental disability. People with disabilities have the right to live in the community with access to community supports like any other citizen. Advocates, professionals and service providers have long recognized this right. So to has the United States Supreme Court in Olmstead v. L.C. in which the court ruled that the Americans with Disability Act prohibits states from discriminating against people with disabilities by providing services in institutions when the individual could be served more appropriately in a community-based setting." It is unconscionable to continue to deny the civil rights of people with disabilities based on outdated and faulty beliefs and prejudices.

Given the fiscal crisis facing the state of Illinois it is foolish to waste taxpayer dollars on an ineffective and biased system. It costs all of us more than $181,000 to institutionalize an individual at one of our state centers. That same person could be supported in the community at an average cost of less than $53,000. How often do we have the opportunity to provide better services while actually saving money? To provide a much higher quality of life and grant an individual the freedom to live in the community and save more than $25 million is an opportunity we must embrace.

With more than 21,000 Illinois citizens with developmental disabilities languishing on waiting lists, how can we continue to operate these costly and archaic institutions? We must close these institutions and reinvest resources in a service delivery system that embraces choice and treats all individuals as valued members of society.

It is, quite frankly, embarrassing that it has taken state officials so long to acknowledge that it is unacceptable to strip people of their civil rights and remove them from the community based solely on a disability. Fourteen other states have no state institutions. They demonstrate how they respect and value all their citizens by providing quality and cost-effective community-based supports.

Nationally, Illinois ranks last in utilization of community-based settings and 47th in its investment in community-based supports. The question is not whether we should close Mabley and Jacksonville. The question should be why are we only closing two institutions?

Anyone with disabilities, including those with multiple disabilities and intensive needs can be effectively and safely supported in the community. Research indicates that people who move from institutions to community settings have improved adaptive behavior skills. They also enjoy more natural social interaction, personal integration and more contact with their families.

The success of this rebalance effort rests in the partnerships you establish with private community-based based providers. We have experience and achieved great success providing supports in the community at a much lower cost than state-run facilities. We have insights and best practices that will be of great benefit as we move forward with this plan. It is imperative that Illinois officials invest in appropriate community supports – particularly mental health supports and access to emergency medical services. These investments today will save millions of dollars down the road and provide access to services for thousands of Illinois citizens that currently have nothing.

Once again, thank you for holding these hearings and taking this important first step.

Testimony at the hearing

My name is Donald Pannier I am the father of a resident of Jacksonville Developmental Center. I would like to thank you for this opportunity to speak to you tonight. Our son came to live here almost 10 years ago, he has called this home, and he has developed trust in the staff and a routine that is working for him. He had been in private settings and small home settings and did not do well in them. They were not able to accommodate his needs so if you close Jacksonville where will he move to there are no other facilities you have closed almost all of them.

Something that I think the state needs to answer for all the residents of this state if you close all of these facilities where will you turn next to cut corners. Please also answer me something else Jacksonville is our sons home, usually when you are evicted from your home it is because you have not paid your rent, that is not the case here our sons rent is paid every month with the payment of his SSI, so how much is the state exactly saving by the eviction of all our family members.

Might you not be able to come up with the same amount of money if you maybe reduced your expenses accounts or looked over your staff in your office? I know that maybe if you gave back your last raise in your salary or traveling allowance I am sure you might come up with just about as much money or even cuts in the Governors staff and traveling expense.

Why is it that everyone thinks that in order to save money is attack those who cannot fight back for themselves? Perhaps looking at budgeting in each of the offices or the expense accounts of everyone's I am sure let those of us who have had to live on a budget that we could find a lot of wants on your list and not just your needs

I don't think the answer to the state's budget problem is evicting our son from his home. He has had some very ruff years and is just now getting back to where he belongs. Every time his or any of their life's is disrupted there routine is changed you are talking about a long time in getting there life back to order. Please treat this as if they were your family member and not a budget cut, have a heart! You are going to be putting 170 innocent people out on the streets because there are not enough places for them.

I believe that I might speak for all the families of those who live here at Jacksonville pick on someone your own size and do not evicted them from their home they have paid their rent and don't need to be made to move from their home.

Arc Testimony on the Closing of Jacksonville Developmental Center

The Commission on Governmental Forecasting and Accountability

October 24, 2011

The Arc represents infants, children and adults with intellectual and other developmental disabilities.

The Arc believes it is imperative that state institutions be closed in Illinois. In Illinois, thousands of individuals have successfully transitioned from institutions to community living. We believe that many of the current individuals now living in CILA have successfully transitioned from state institutions and nursing homes. We know how to do this.

Community living offers people with disabilities a safer way of living with quality, independence and equality.

Let's to a review what state and national experts on intellectual disability systems have to say about Illinois. All of their reports state that Illinois needs to be re-balanced by closing state institutions and supporting community living. (See handout)

1. A Quest for Equality: Breaking The Barriers For People With Disabilities, A Call for Action For Illinois Leaders, The Chicago Community Trust, 2011.
2. The Blueprint for System Redesign in Illinois, Human Services Research Institute, 2008.
3. State Funding of Community Agencies for Services Provided to Illinois Residents with Mental Illness and/or Developmental Disabilities: Final Report to the Illinois General Assembly, Elizabeth T. Powers, Ph.D., University of Illinois, 2006.
4. Financing Service to Individuals with Developmental Disabilities in the State of Illinois, Robert Gettings, National Association of State Directors of Developmental Disabilities Services, 2003.

There are also two recent Legislative Resolutions calling for re-balancing the Developmental Disability System in Illinois. (See Handout)

1. Senate & House Joint Resolution 15 – 2011
2. House Joint Resolution 28 – 2009

There is also a tremendous editorial support for re-balancing the disability system by closing state institutions. Including most recently the Chicago Tribune's, Sept 30, 2011 editorial, Moving to Community Care – State-Run Centers for Developmentally Disabled Finally on the Way Out! (See Handout).

Other editorial boards supporting re-balancing (See Handout):

1. Chicago Sun Times – June 15, 2011
2. Chicago Tribune - May 23, 2011
3. State Journal Register – May 22, 2011
4. Pantagraph – May 22, 2011
5. Rockford Register Star – April 27, 2011

There are now 14 states without state institutions including our neighbors (See Handout)

1. Minnesota – 2000
2. Indiana – 2007
3. Michigan – 2009

Nationally, the trend is very dramatic in states closing their state institutions from a high of 194,650 individuals in state institutions to 33,732 in 2009. See the chart in your handouts and for view right here. Ask yourself, “Is this where we as public servants should be investing scarce resources for our state?”

The national research of outcomes of closures and deinstitutionalization is extensive dating back to 1982 through 2011. The findings are quite conclusive on outcomes regarding quality of life, adaptive behaviors, and health of individuals and satisfaction of families:

- 1) Improved quality of life, including more choice-making opportunities, more friends, greater community participation, and greater residential satisfaction.ⁱ
- 2) Improved adaptive behaviors, including social skills, self-care, and domestic skills and inconsistent results regarding challenging behaviors.ⁱⁱ
- 3) Similar or improved health status and health care access, with some difficulty in accessing some types of health care such as dental services, and less polypharmacy.^{iii i}
- 4) Greater satisfaction of families with community placement versus the previous institutions, despite the fact that many families initially opposed deinstitutionalization.^{1,iv}

Illinois has a “Blueprint” to re-balance the disability system. It was developed in 2008 as a seven year guide to move to an integrated community system. It is time to implement the “Blueprint for System Redesign in Illinois.”

Everyone can live in the community with the proper supports.

It is imperative that the individuals at both Jacksonville and Mabley be properly supported for a successful transition to community living.

We already know how to do this.

What we need now is the political will to do the right thing and move this antiquated institutional system into a community system that supports everyone based upon their individual needs.

Research of Outcomes of Closures and Deinstitutionalization

From 1980 to 2011, numerous studies and reviews of the outcomes of closures and deinstitutionalization in several countries report the following outcomes regarding quality of life, adaptive behaviors, and health of residents and satisfaction of families:

- 1) Improved quality of life, including more choice-making opportunities, more friends, greater community participation, and greater residential satisfaction.ⁱ
- 2) Improved adaptive behaviors, including social skills, self-care, and domestic skills and inconsistent results regarding challenging behaviors.ⁱⁱ
- 3) Similar or improved health status and health care access, with some difficulty in accessing some types of health care such as dental services, and less polypharmacy.^{iii, i}
- 4) Greater satisfaction of families with community placement versus the previous institutions, despite the fact that many families initially opposed deinstitutionalization^{1,iv}

Cost Savings of Closures

Generally community living is less costly to state government than community placements. Several recent reports from other states have indicated significant cost savings, including estimated savings of about 40% in Massachusetts^{iv} and 50% in Kansas^{vi}. Other studies have reported savings closer to 25%.^{vii}

While over time there are considerable cost savings of closing institutions, these savings do not usually occur until the institution is entirely closed. During the transition the costs can remain high as there is still a need to maintain the facility and most of the staff. Cost savings from deinstitutionalization are achieved primarily through the elimination/reduction of the high costs of operating a large state operated developmental center, leveraging less costly community services (social, educational, recreational), and avoiding the high costs of remodeling older institutions to meet federal standards.

In Illinois the new "State of the States in Developmental Disabilities 2011,"^{viii} the average daily spending per person in state institutions was $498 or $181,770 per year for 2009, The average CILA cost is $52,454 according to the Division of Developmental Disabilities, March/2011.

General Guidelines and Principles for Practice ^{ix}

The relocation process should be designed as a seamless system wherein staff of the developmental center and families/guardians have input and provide information to staff at the receiving programs and providers. The process should have follow-up services built in that allow for input from developmental center staff and other concerned people during the 30 days following the transfer, the period that is most likely to be disruptive to the residents. Ongoing communication between developmental centers and receiving residences should occur prior to the move and within the 30 days after the move.

Developmental center staff should remain available even after the 30 day period. Strategies to improve planning, communication, and oversight include the following:

- Develop a seamless relocation plan with a timeline, strategies for involving community agencies and other stakeholders and forming a broad-based coalition, resources needed, list of residents and their needs, notification process, and plan for alternative living arrangements that can address each individual's ongoing needs.
- Parents, families and guardians need to be informed of the closure and placements throughout the process with time targeted communications.
- The community system must have a plan to provide supports needed including the capacity to support individuals with complex medical or intensive behavioral needs.
- A person centered community integration plan (CIP) for each individual should be developed to outline the plan for providing appropriate supports in the community setting. It should be followed by a 30 day review and there after annually. It should be based on a person-centered plan (such as the Essential Life Planning or other individualized planning tools). The CIP should focus on helping the person plan for a "meaningful life". It should emphasize choice-making, goal attainment and development of skills facilitating community participation.
- This person centered plan should involve administrators and staff from the developmental center and the receiving facilities, families, guardians, and the individual with disabilities.
- Minimize disruption by minimizing internal transfer of residents and staff in the developmental center and community placements.
- Give parents, guardians, and the individuals opportunities to visit the future placements and communities and address their concerns and preferences.
- Involve parents and people with disabilities who have been through the process of community placements to help inform others.
- Provide employee counseling and job placement services for employees at the developmental centers.
- Mechanisms should be developed and in place for sufficient preparation, oversight, and quality assurance of community placements. In addition to state oversight systems, guardians and families should also provide oversight, so that their concerns and suggestions can be addressed.
- Staff in the community system need to be adequately trained to support individuals moving from the developmental centers. The staff from the developmental centers have insight into the unique needs of each individual and can convey these needs to the community staff.

The time to reform and rebalance the Developmental Disability System in Illinois is NOW. These editorial boards get it!

Chicago Tribune, May 23, 2011

"Disability advocates say the state could save roughly $170 million by closing four of its eight institutions. This needs to happen in a way that's least disruptive for the people at these institutions. But it needs to happen."

State Journal-Register, May 22, 2011:

"For years, advocates for the developmentally disabled have tried, with very limited success, to persuade the state to move away from reliance on institutions and toward greater use of residential group homes and community programs for those with developmental disabilities."

"Illinois must move out of the dark ages in treating its most vulnerable citizens."

Pantagraph.com, May 22, 2011

"... the trend in recent years has been moving toward community-based settings – and Illinois lags far behind other states that have scaled back or eliminated state-run institutions for those with developmental disabilities."

"It is a matter worthy of consideration – for financial as well as humanitarian reasons."

Rockford Register Star, April 27, 2011

"Illinois has its priorities exactly backward."

"Is it any wonder why Illinois is ranked 51st in the nation for supporting citizens in their communities?"

Chicago Sun-Times, June 15, 2011

"For a state looking to cut costs wherever it can, moving away from expensive institutional care is imperative."

"States that have seen the light have moved away from warehousing people with disabilities in large, residential facilities in favor of placing them in smaller, community-based settings."

Moving to community care

State-run centers for developmentally disabled finally on the way out

September 30, 2011 We suspect Gov. Pat Quinn isn't entirely serious about his threat to shut down seven state facilities and lay off 1,900 workers to close what he says is a $313 million budget gap. The governor may be trying to goad lawmakers into borrowing more money to stave off these cuts.

But if he follows through on at least some of these moves, he will make genuine, humane progress on behalf of some vulnerable citizens.

The governor's plans would launch an overdue revamp of the state program serving the developmentally disabled — people with Down syndrome, cerebral palsy, autism and other challenges.

Illinois' treatment of the developmentally disabled lags way behind the times. Other states have proved convincingly that in most cases, institutionalizing people in big government-run facilities hurts everyone concerned and wastes money. Community-based organizations offer small neighborhood group homes and other varied options for care and generally provide better results at a much lower cost.

Up to now, vested interests in state government have thwarted progress toward community care, despite a history of problems with the state institutions. A scandal that brought to light abusive treatment and padded staffing costs at the Howe Developmental Center in southwest suburban Tinley Park eventually led to that facility closing last year. Yet the other eight centers operated by the state have shown remarkable staying power, at an annual cost of roughly $300 million.

Quinn has called for shutting down two of the eight centers. That's a good beginning point, especially since it coincides with a plan to reduce the population at the remaining centers.

The governor has started to lay the groundwork for a responsible transition that takes into account the needs of families, guardians and residents, while phasing out an obsolete system.

One milestone: Quinn recently settled the last of three long-standing lawsuits aimed at forcing state-funded providers to offer less-restrictive options for care. The governor also has sought input from advocates for the disabled about how to manage the state and federal money available for a transition, establish a reasonable timetable and arrange for follow-up monitoring.

Shutting down these centers is no simple matter. It requires extensive documentation, public hearings and negotiations with union workers who have angrily denounced the governor's plan. No one would be surprised if AFSCME were to seek arbitration or file suit in an effort to preserve the status quo and the entrenched union jobs that go with it.

Remember, during his election campaign last year, Quinn made a promise to AFSCME that the state wouldn't close any institutions or lay off workers through June 2012. The governor says he doesn't have to abide by that deal because the legislature didn't give him enough money to pay for the institutions and the jobs through June.

Some of these institutions need to close, and as quickly as it is safe to do so. The paramount consideration should be the welfare of the residents now in state care. They're a fragile group, and those with challenging behaviors and intensive medical needs should be treated with caution and sensitivity. We believe the community system has the wherewithal not only to serve those now housed in state institutions, but to serve them better. Still, it's critically important to ensure that every placement is appropriate, and not force any that aren't.

State employees of the centers could make the process easier. Staff could support the idea of moving, help match residents with the best possible community placement options and work diligently to assist in the transition.

We hope that happens. If not, this change will be more painful and disruptive than it needs to be. Let's make a swift, smooth transition that provides residents with new homes that offer superior living arrangements and opportunities for personal growth. It's time.

As the old saying goes: “The more things change, the more they remain the same.” The people in charge of our State may be different, but the political games seem all too familiar.

We’ve seen this tactic before – the Governor targeting social service agencies, the employees who work there and the people they serve.

Such tactics are downright disrespectful. These kind of threats cause confusion and panic, in order to win some public relations battle or a test of wills, in an attempt to wring more money out of the Legislature and taxpayers.

Governor Quinn says this is a budget issue. I would agree with the need to cut spending, but I do NOT agree with the areas he wants to cut.

Targeting critical human services is not an example of leadership the taxpayers of Illinois deserve. This Governor got his $7 billion income tax increase in January, and he still cannot make his budget work.

What we need to do is take this budget apart, line by line, and identify 100 percent of the waste, graft, corruption, malfeasance and mismanagement that exist in state government. We can identify it and eradicate it and use those savings to pay our vendors on time, to pay our debt and to keep open facilities such as JDC, facilities that do good things for the community.

Where is Governor Quinn's concern about the human element of his proposals? Where is the Governor's plan to address the needs of the residents of JDC or the other institutions he is targeting?

The Governor should not be threatening to remove persons with disabilities from JDC ... a place where some have lived for years; a place where they have friends; a place they call home.

The residents here, they need JDC. The employees here – more than 400 hard-working men and women – they need JDC. The citizens of Jacksonville, Morgan County, and central Illinois – they all need JDC. The economic impact of the closure of this facility would be overwhelming.

Closing Jacksonville Developmental Center makes no economic sense. JDC employs hundreds of people and provides good-paying jobs. Giving pink slips to these hard-working men and women will have a terrible ripple effect on the region's economy and the businesses that rely on these citizens having jobs. Fewer jobs mean fewer groceries, fewer home improvements and fewer new clothes, which impacts local businesses.

Yes, state budget cuts are necessary, but this Administration never stops to set long-term policies or establish priorities. This Administration merely reacts in knee-jerk, and sometimes retaliatory, fashion. It creates crisis. We need to stop using people as political pawns, and as part of political theatre.

Major policy decisions that impact so many lives need to be determined as part of a long-term plan. That takes real leadership.

The good news is that the Governor cannot unilaterally close state facilities immediately. The State Facilities Closure Act lays out a process that must be followed and involves legislative input through this group – the Commission on Government Forecasting and Accountability. I appreciate the hard work that COGFA members have put into the hearings being held around the state.

And what of the legal concerns of AFSCME, which has a signed agreement with Governor Quinn from October of last year, stating that there will be no layoffs or state facility closures prior to June 30, 2012.

The Governor needs to honor his agreements. He needs to show true leadership by working with AFSCME, the Legislature and the families whose loved ones are being cared for at JDC and other facilities . . . working to find a solution that is respectful and considerate of all involved.

Respect and consideration. Cooperation and bipartisanship. These are what we need when decisions are made in Springfield. We need to be done with political gamesmanship.

I stand here today with the residents of JDC, the citizens of Jacksonville and Morgan County, and the members of AFSCME. We must keep JDC open and serving the people of Illinois.

Commission on Government Forecasting and Accountability
ATTN: Facility Closure
703 Stratton Building
Springfield, IL 62706

To Whom It May Concern:

My name is Jenny Geirnaeirt, Alderman for the City of Jacksonville. I feel compelled to submit a written statement concerning Governor Quinn's proposal to close the Jacksonville Developmental Center and other state facilities.

I have lived in Jacksonville my entire life of 40 years. It is a wonderful community that is truly supportive in good times and bad. Jacksonville is very familiar with the mentally and developmentally disabled. Many individuals who have left JDC over the past 30 years are living in our community in group and private homes. Our community has always supported them as a part of our community. We see them in everyday life at our restaurants, sporting events, movie theatres, etc.

I have been around the developmentally disabled and mentally ill my entire life. I grew up in a house that was two houses away from a private home which cared for developmentally disabled and mentally ill adults. As a young adult, they seemed to do fine as far as I could tell. As most kids do, we noticed that something was not quite right. One individual used to talk into his wallet like it was a phone. He believed he was an undercover agent in the neighborhood who rode his bike everywhere, always talking to the wallet. Another individual lived by us, came to our family business, and walked all around town. He worked odd jobs and was always very nice. We often used to give him free tea or coffee and my grandmother would even throw in lunch or dinner every now and then. I still see him to this day, but the man I see now is much different from the one 20 years ago. I see him pandering all over town trying to scrape even a quarter together. I am not even sure if he has a place to live now.

My point is this: I understand the desire for all individuals to live in their own homes and many people feel everyone should be in a group home, but this situation is definitely not a one size fits all approach. When I talk about the man who used to frequent our family bowling alley that we owned for 60 plus years, do you think there is a day that does not go by that he is not hungry? If he was living at JDC where he would still be able to work and live in the community, would he still be hungry and pandering around town?

My sister worked at the Jacksonville Developmental Center for 17 years. She still works for the state of Illinois, but now works in Juvenile Justice. She cared for many individuals there and firmly believes that SODCs need to continue operating. Some have such complicated health problems that they require 24-hour care. I struggle to believe the argument that we would save money because it is cheaper to care for an individual in a group home. I think it is cheaper only because the individual is not receiving the same types of services that are received in JDC. JDC has a health clinic and a dental clinic. Where are these individuals going to receive care when they are in the group home? They will go to private doctors and hospitals. This will have a ripple effect on hospitals that are already cashed strapped largely in part due to the state.

There are also the more aggressive and violent individuals. The staff at SODCs are trained to handle these types of situations and work with them. I am aware that there are many private owners who are neither prepared nor willing to handle these individuals due to costs, etc.

I have met many parents in the last month or so that truly want their loved one to remain in at JDC. Why is it so hard for the Governor Quinn, the legislators and the advocacy groups on the other side of the argument to not hear their voice?

On a completely different note, it has come to my attention that one of the reasons the Jacksonville Developmental Center has been slated for closure is due to our community water source being contaminated this past summer. I find it reprehensible that the Department of Human Services would cite an Act of God as a reason to send 190 individuals out of their home. I am the chairperson of the Water, Sewer and Utility Committee as an alderman for the city. There were many groups involved in that disaster who worked tirelessly together to work through the problem. The problem was a flash flood and as a result of that flood our water treatment plant came under water. One of the groups we worked extensively with was the Illinois EPA who praised Jacksonville for their response and the temporary system that was set up with our wells in the Illinois River. They knew that the water that was provided for a time was safe and could be used with precautions. There are many things that need to take place so this does not happen again. The city is working diligently to make that happen. It is not a recurring problem that many other communities have. I will be working directly with the mayor, the city council and our engineers to dispute any reasoning the Department of Human Services has to use this unlikely occurrence as a reason to close JDC.

Finally, JDC is not a facility. It is a home to approximately 190 individuals.
Please do not take away their home.

Sincerely,

Jenny E. Geirnaeirt
Alderman

Commission on Government Forecasting and Accountability

Springfield, IL 62706

Dear Senator Schoenberg and Representative Bellock:

High-needs individuals with developmental disabilities are and will continue to be expensive to serve. This is true whether they are to be served in State Operated Developmental Centers (SODCs) or in community settings.

Some community advocates claim that people can be served in the community for "on average $55,000" per year. It is certainly not true that high-needs individuals with severe medical and/or behavioral challenges, like those currently served in the SODCs, can be appropriately, adequately and safely served in the community for $55,000 or for significantly less than in the SODCs.

In the attached document, an actual high-needs SODC resident, BRB, is evaluated for CILA services and rates with the assistance of one of the largest and most reputable community providers in the state.

In scenario #1, Provider is realistically evaluating BRB for services and rates for which BRB would likely qualify in a one-person CILA. A one-person CILA was chosen due to BRB's extreme behaviors and low ICAP score. The estimate is $183,016 at current wage rates, or $192,592 with a modest $1 per hour raise for low-wage direct care staff. Even in this expensive "best case scenario," guardians, as well as many professionals in the field, would judge these services to be inadequate and dangerous. These concerns are footnoted in the attached document and include: isolation, periods of time with unsafe staffing levels (e.g., 1:1 with no back-up staff), inability of community to use mechanical restraints, likely use of emergency "911" to summon police due to lack of immediately available professional help, behavior intervention and psychotropic medication administration by low-wage staff, and greatly reduced professional support (compared to SODCs).

In scenario #2, Provider is again realistically assessing what BRB would likely be provided in a four-person CILA with the assumption that BRB has improved during scenario #1. That cost is $146,701 at current wage rates, or $153,550 with $1 per hour raise. Guardians and other professionals would have the same concerns as in scenario #1. Additionally, the assumption that BRB would improve in scenario #1 (rather than deteriorate or place other house mates at risk, which is much more likely) is not realistic because BRB depends on a high level of structure and his behavior deteriorates with less.

In scenario #3, we have evaluated BRB's needs and attempted to provide professional and staffing supports minimally comparable to SODC services. The cost for scenario #3 exceeds $270,000. Even at that cost, some of the same concerns persist, namely, isolation, lack of structure, and high risk of "911" police intervention due to diminished availability of sufficient professional staff trained to intervene, and inability of community service providers to employ mechanical restraints.

While very challenging, BRB is not the most challenging and cannot be dismissed as a uniquely expensive case. He does not present severe medical conditions, seizure activity, sexual aggression, fire-starting, or PICA (his PICA behavior has been extinguished at the SODC) as do some SODC residents.

While this document emphasizes cost issues, there are programmatic, human, and even legal issues which are at least as important as the issue of cost and must be weighed in deciding whether or not to close SODCs. Closures will both disrupt and risk the lives of the most fragile people with developmental disabilities, those who are served in SODCs. As their families and guardians, we implore you to seriously weigh these consequences.

Sincerely,

Rita Burke, President

Can The Community Provide HIGH NEEDS INDIVIDUALS Essential Services Comparable to SODC Services At Significantly Reduced Cost: BRB Case Study

High-Needs SODC Individuals:

Following years of State Operated Developmental Center (SODC) downsizing, and discharge of less difficult residents, the high-needs individuals who remain, as well as increasingly challenging new admissions, require a high level of support. If community services provided for these individuals are to be even relatively comparable to those provided in the SODCs, they will necessarily be expensive. BRB's needs are presented here as a sample to provide a comparison of SODC and community services and a cost analysis of providing BRB, or other high-needs individuals (some with extreme behavioral or medical challenges), services in the community.

BRB Profile:

-BRB is 41 years old, 6' tall, 190 lbs, and healthy.

-He is brain injured with borderline intellectual functioning.

-He has a diagnosis of pervasive developmental disorder. He is being treated for: obsessive/compulsive behaviors (currently monitored to prevent obsessive consumption of inordinately large amounts of fluids, including water from shower and toilet-interruption of O/C behaviors can bring about violent responses); unpredictable explosive (possibly neurologically triggered) physical aggression toward peers and staff; and destruction of property, particularly window breaking. He has a history (completely extinguished in SODC) of life-threatening PICA (swallowing inedible objects) which required three surgeries to remove pens/pencils.

-He has been expelled from numerous private settings (including highly regarded St. Coletta's and Oconomowoc Developmental Centers in Wisconsin). Discharge from private settings was always to home. His last private setting, 21 years ago, (secured through lawsuit settlement with state of GA) was Healthcare Rehabilitation Center, Austin, Texas, a brain-injury facility, at cost to GA of $250,000 per year from 1987-90.

-Current resident of Choate Developmental Center since 1990.

Current treatment at Choate Developmental Center (representative of services available at all SODCs):

Staffing

-BRB has a private room to minimize agitation, to allow staff to monitor behaviors, and to protect BRB and peers. Staff levels are 1:1 for 3 shifts daily, occasionally elevated to 2:1 off-unit, always at 2:1 off-campus. His limited off-campus trips (occasional brief trips to Wal-Mart, McDonald's, doctor visits) are always staffed 2:1. Additional staff are always available on the living unit and work site.

Medication Administration

BRB is administered medications, including four psychotropics, by an RN three times daily with regular on-campus blood level testing.

Behavior Intervention

The Behavior Intervention Plan (BIP) provides for structure and support to prevent explosive violent episodes, aggression toward peers and staff, property destruction, excessive intake of fluids, excessive smoking, perseverative tape recording of music, excessive use of caffeine. Situations requiring use of restraints (including statutorily mandated professional supervision of mechanical restraints¹) and methodology are outlined in BIP. Self-imposed early intervention strategies (e.g., voluntary use of sleeping bag "cocoon" to address stressful situations) are taught and encouraged. Staffing for behavior intervention includes daily interaction with Public Service Administrator (unit director), Residential Services Supervisor, Habilitation Plan Coordinator (HPC, formerly QSP/QMRP), Behavior Analyst, Social Worker, Nurse, Vocational Instructor, and Technicians. Available daily for communication/intervention, Psychologist, MD, Psychiatrist.

Day Program

BRB engages in on-campus work (recycling) 4-4.5 hours daily with 1:1 staffing, 2:1 when necessary. BRB has the option to return to his room during work hours, if he believes he is "not together," to prevent violent outbursts.

Religious, Social, Recreational

On-campus opportunities include church services, recreational activities, exercise. He has regular home visits.

The Community Alternative (scenarios #1 and #2 provided by Community Provider, Scenario #3 and footnotes by IL-ADD)

NOTE: The individual (BRB) used to base the estimates in scenarios 1 and 2 is described as a person exhibiting highly challenging behavior and who would be very difficult to serve in a community setting.

Scenario #1:

BRB is being served in a one person CILA² setting with additional support staff for significant portions of the day, i.e., during his day program. Assumption: BRB has an ICAP score of 18 which reflects a composite of behavioral challenges of an actual person as he would likely be scored in the community.

Staffing

Scenario #1 reflects a staffing ratio that is mostly 1:1, including overnight staff.³ The staff add-on does not reflect some natural overlapping of staff during day training as well as a period of 2:1 on the week-end when BRB may be in the community.

Medication Administration

Scenario # 1 assumes that BRB would take between 5 and 9 medications at each of the 3 medication pass times each day. The CILA direct contact staff are trained to administer all oral medications. The rate does not reimburse for additional staff time to administer medication. The amount reflected is an estimate of the amount that would be reimbursed for RN oversight of medication administration.⁴

Behavior Intervention

The premise is that BRB would need 4 hours of behavior intervention a week for the first 60 days after transitioning to the CILA and 2 hours a week thereafter for a total of 120 hours of behavior intervention a year.

Additional QMRP & Supervisor Support

The base CILA rate allows for 2.5 hours a week each for QMRP and Supervisor support. The amount shown reflects an additional 2.5 hours a week for both QMRP and Supervisor.

Day Program

BRB has been provided with 1:1 supports for day services.

Estimated Costs to BRB in this setting are as follows:

|--------------------------------|--|
| Base CILA rate | $63,729 |
| Medication administration | $ 328 |
| Staff Add-on | $85,313 |
| Behavior Intervention | $ 9,343 |
| Additional QMRP support | $ 2,358 |
| Additional Supervisor support | $ 2,090 |
| Day program w/additional staff | $19,855 |
| Total cost | $183,016⁵ (or $192,592 with increase in DSP wage of $1 hr.) |

Scenario #2:

BRB is being served in a 4- person CILA setting with additional support staff for large portions of the day, including at his day program. Assumption # 1: BRB has progressed⁶ so that he can now be served in a 4-person CILA with attendant reduction in the CILA rate from Scenario #1 in Behavior Intervention and Staff Add-on. Assumption # 2: BRB has an ICAP score of 18 and his house mates have ICAP scores of 33,46, and 50.

Staffing

Scenario # 2 reflects a staffing ratio that is mostly 1:1, including overnight staff.⁷ The staff add-on does reflect some natural overlapping of staff during day training as well as a period of 2:1 on the week-end when BRB may be in the community. There would be a higher staffing ratio overall for the house as there would be 3 other men living in the home.

Medication Administration

Scenario # 2 assumes that BRB would take between 5 and 9 medications at each of the 3 medication pass times each day. The CILA direct contact staff are trained to administer all oral medications. The rate does not reimburse for additional staff time to administer medication. The amount reflected is an estimate of the amount that would be reimbursed for RN oversight of medication administration.⁸

Behavior Intervention

Behavior Intervention would not include 2 additional hours during the first 60 days of transition as in scenario #1, but would continue with 2 hours a week for a total of 102 hours of behavior intervention a year.

Additional QMRP & Supervisor Support

The base CILA rate support 2.5 hours a week each. The amount shown reflects an additional 2.5 hours a week for both QMRP and Supervisor.

Day Program

BRB has been provided with 1:1 supports for day services

Estimated Costs to BRB in this setting are as follows:

|--------------------------------|--|
| Base CILA rate | $63,729 |
| Medication administration | $ 328 |
| Staff Add-on | $50,244 |
| Behavior Intervention | $ 8,097 |
| Additional QMRP support | $ 2,358 |
| Additional Supervisor support | $ 2,090 |
| Day program w/additional staff | $19,855 |
| Total cost | $146,701⁹ (or $153,550 with increase in DSP wage of $1 hr.) |

Scenario #3

BRB is being served in a four person CILA setting. This setting is chosen so that BRB has 1:1 staffing at all times with back up staff available at all times, and 2:1 off-campus.

Staffing

Scenario 3 reflects a staffing ratio that is 1:1 or 2:1 supervision (one staff during night shift with back up staff available, two staff during day shift on week days, two staff during ½ day shift on week-ends when B.R.B. would be “off-campus”/in community, one staff during swing shift with back up staff available).

32 extra staff hours per week day x 5 days = 160 hrs per week

28 extra staff hours per week-end day x 2 days = 56 hrs. per week

216 hrs week x 52 weeks = 11232 hours per year @ $12.86 144,443.52

Medication Administration

Nursing resources (beyond basic included in CILA rate) to administer regimen of mutually dependant medications (some with illicit street value).

LPN administration of meds x 3 daily = 1.5 hours daily

1.5 hours x 365 days = 547.5 hours per year @ $17.31 9477.23

RN supervision of LPN/check records/blood levels

1 hr week x 52 weeks = 52 hours per year @ $21.52 1119.04

Behavior Intervention

Behavior Intervention Level I (master's degree required by CILA Support Rate Determination)

Behavior planning, staff training.

10 hours per week x 52 weeks = 520 hours per year @ $77.86 40,487.20

Additional Individual Counseling

Individual Counseling (social worker)

5 hours per week x 52 weeks = 260 hours @ $30.57 7948.20

Day Program

Developmental Training (job coaching/training)

4.5 hours day x 5 days week = 22.5 hrs week

22.5 x 52 weeks = 1170 hrs per year @ $10.39 = 12,156.30

Flat rate allowable 11,427.00

Estimated Costs:

|---------------------------|----------------|
| Base CILA rate | 63,729 |
| Medication administration | 10,596 |
| Staff Add-on | 144,443 |
| Behavior intervention | 40,487 |
| Additional Social Worker | 7948 |
| Day Program | 11,427 |
| Total cost | 278,630 |

Statement to
The Commission on Government Forecasting and Accountability
Closure of Jacksonville Developmental Center
Monday, October 24th, 2011
By Barbara M. Pritchard
On Behalf of the Community for All Coalition

Good evening Commission members.

I'm appearing before you as the co-founder of the Community for All Coalition with my late husband, Lester. I am also a member of the State-wide Independent Living Council and the Illinois Council on Developmental Disabilities.

Currently, it is estimated that the state of Illinois is spending $181,700 per person per year in State Operated Developmental Centers. With this kind of money, surely the state can provide better alternatives than those at Jacksonville Developmental Center. And it should do so. The funds that are currently being spent on Jacksonville could be more effectively used to enable it's residents to live in the community of their choice with supports which are designed to meet their individual needs, wants and desires.

Fourteen (14) other states have closed all of their State Operated Developmental Centers. Michigan, for example, closed its last institution about a year ago. Now it serves many more people in the community at a much lower cost than Illinois currently does. I refer to Michigan because it is a state with similar economic woes and it is of a similar size and makeup to Illinois. Additionally, it is also a heavily unionized state as is our state. Illinois ranks 51st compared to other states, including Washington D.C., in terms of the number of people supported in community settings rather than institutions.

Some who oppose the closure of this institution may be afraid of the future. This is a normal response. Other families who have transitioned their family members to the community with individualized supports have found that their family members thrive in their new surroundings. This can be seen in the article "Mother, Daughter Find New Life After Howe" published April 18, 2011 in the Southtown Star, in which Angella, Betty's 58 year old daughter, enjoys a comfortable routine of simplicity. Angella is developmentally disabled and non-verbal.

You, as Commissioners, can use Illinois' current economic situation to do the right thing and assist families and individuals with a respectful, careful, and considerate transition into the community. There must be the individualized supports in place for each person to live a fulfilling and happy life.

I urge that the Commission members recommend the closure of Jacksonville Developmental Center.

Mother, Daughter Find New Life After Howe

4/18/11 - Southern STAR

By Donna Vickroy

dvickroy@southtownstar.com | (708) 633-5982

When Betty Turturillo watches her 58-year-old daughter accomplish the seemingly simple task of clipping a wooden clothespin onto the rim of a plastic bucket, she is genuinely impressed and tells her oldest child so.

That was great, Angel, she smiles. Want to do it again?

Of course Angela does, for hours, under the watchful eye of her doting mother.

She seems to be adjusting, she seems to be content, Betty says, stroking her daughters arm.

It has been more than a year since Angela was moved from Tinley Parks Howe Developmental Center to a ranch-style group home in New Lenox.

Shes nonverbal, so I have to go by what I see, Betty says.

What she sees, for the most part, is a return to normalcy.

Angela shares a home with five other adults. She attends workshops and goes out into the community to see the doctor, dentist and podiatrist.

In the world of the developmentally disabled, there is comfort in routine, there is joy in simplicity. And there is a dependence on familiarity. Thats one reason many family members of Howe residents were upset to learn in 2007 that the facility would be closing.

Now, as the dust settles on the ambitious project to relocate 263 developmentally disabled adults, Betty is at peace with her choice of a small group home over a large state-run facility, which is where most of the former patients ended up.

I hand-picked this place, she said.

The New Lenox home backs up to a wooded area. It is run by nonprofit Trinity Services, headed by former Howe director Art Dykstra.

I've known him since the 70s, Betty said. Trinity has a good reputation.

She suspects that the state will eventually shut down all of its large residential facilities.

And she is hopeful her daughter won't have to be moved again.

I just turned 80, Betty said. It's always a concern who's gonna be around for her when I'm gone.

For now, Betty makes the 20-minute trek from her Tinley Park home to the group home dubbed Cooper twice a week. She also brings Angela home one day on the weekend for a few hours.

Angela can sense when her mother is due to visit.

She starts to whimper and cry right about the time I'm expected, Betty said, adding that Angela recognizes people, which makes the high turnover rate among staff an ongoing struggle.

Most of the workers are young and not paid very well. Of course they want to move on, Betty said.

Its not a perfect world for Angela, but then it never has been.

But the disabled are treated a lot better now than they used to be, Betty said.

Angela suffered brain damage at birth. Though Betty soon realized her toddler was not like other babies, a diagnosis of cerebral palsy was not made until Angela turned 3.

It was kind of a relief to finally know, she said. Because now we could address it. Back then, doctors told me to just take her home and raise her like the other kids.

She did just that, until Angela turned 11 and became increasingly active.

When Betty realized her daughter needed full-time care, her options consisted of big state institutions or small schools that parent groups had started.

Angela was brought to a state-run facility in Dixon. For her family, who lived in Chicago at the time, the location was hardly convenient.

Then, in 1974, Angela became one of the first patients to move into the newly built Howe Developmental Center. Howe offered group home settings on a sprawling 80-acre site, with onsite medical care and opportunities to travel to workshops offsite.

The convenience was magnified when the Turturillos moved to Orland Park in 1986. Later, they moved even closer to Tinley Park.

As president of the Howe Friends and Family Association, Betty was among the most vocal opponents of Howes closure. She scoffed at the nonprofit advocacy group Equip for Equality's recommendation to close the facility based on allegations of abuse and neglect.

Nevertheless, in 2007 Howe was decertified, and plans were launched to shut it down.

The majority of its residents went to other state-run facilities. In June 2010, the last of Howes residents was moved out.

Now, with the transition and the controversy behind them, Betty can once again enjoy quiet moments with her daughter.

She really does like to work, she says, watching Angela meticulously place one clothespin after another onto the rim of the bucket.

I watched what she was able to do, she said. I taught her by learning from her.

Jacksonville Physical Plant

General Issues:

1. Jacksonville Developmental Center is the oldest of all state facilities, completed in 1848, the old Main building was demolished in the 80's, the facility sits on 134 acres, has 17 buildings no original buildings exist
2. The first patient was admitted in 1851 with the diagnosis of "extreme jealousy"
3. The first veterans building was added in 1945 as a diagnostic center for soldiers returning from WWII with a diagnoses with battle fatigue
4. Three veteran's buildings are on the demolition list due to roof leaks and mold; utilities passing underneath will make demolition expensive. The veteran buildings are currently being used for storage.
5. The facility uses city water and sewer but produces its own heat and electricity through an old inefficient coal powered plant ($1.2 million per year in coal)
6. The existing 3 boilers were installed in 1946; they continue to be in use and have to be cleaned and refurbished every year
7. Many of the large parts for the boiler system have to be fabricated to fit the old boilers, which is an expensive process and takes a lot of time to complete.
8. Cracks in boiler #3 are being welded at a cost of $50,000; safety valves in boiler #3 are being replaced or repaired at a cost of $30,000; blow down valves on boiler #3 are being replaced or repaired for a cost of $20,000; and boiler #3 will then need to be inspected at a cost of $25,000.
9. The turbines that produce the electricity for the facility have to be refurbished every 5 years at a cost of $150,000
10. There is no back-up power for the Dietary building which stores food
11. Roads and parking lots are in bad shape and are in need of repair
12. On the list of FY2012 Capital Improvement Items, there is a projection of $3.3 million for power plant upgrade, roofs, and electrical
13. Asbestos flooring in some buildings; EPA concerned that Boiler #2 lacks a precipitator
14. Current mechanical projects must be completed by the end of December 2011 or the EPA will begin assessing fines
15. EPA has established new air admission standards that will not be met which will require additional Capital Development money to meet.
16. Laundry building is currently used to store records from Howe Developmental Center, Lincoln, Galesburg, and Bowen.
17. Dix (ramps) and Gillespie (fire dampers) are under construction

There are 17 buildings on the 80 acre campus

Residential Buildings

1. Gillespie

- Built in 1945; 96,404 square feet, two story building.
- Capacity 128, current occupancy 92.
- Capital Development Board (CDB) project to replace entrance ramps, install fire dampers, repair flooring, repair duct penetrations voids, add sprinkler heads and repair handrails was completed.

2. Dix

- Built in 1935; 27,392 square feet
- Capacity 64, current occupancy 62
- Life Safety Code (LSC)/CDB Project to replace 10 ramps into the building, remodel exit stair to exterior, handrail improvements, install patio sprinklers, replace flooring and add fire damper was completed.

3. Jones

- Built in 1925; 8,296 square feet.
- Capacity 24, current occupancy 14
- LSC/CDB project to replace 3 ramps, correct thresholds, install smoke detectors, install patio sprinklers, sprinklers in closets and ductwork and some sidewalk replacement was completed.

4. Hill

- Built in 1925; 7,871 square feet
- Capacity 24, current occupancy 15
- LSC/CDB project to replace 4 ramps, seal voids, resolve sprinkler obstruction, install patio sprinklers, correct crawl space access hatch door, correct threshold at door and some side walk replacement was completed.

5. Bushnell

- Built in 1962; 37,525 square feet, multi-story.
- Capacity 16, current occupancy 11
- LSC/CDB project to replace exit stairway and guardrails, install smoke detectors in ducts, correct threshold at center exit door, correct concrete settlement at several doors, seal penetrations in corridors, replace handrails in three stairwells, replace entrance flooring, install fire dampers, install 2 hour fire walls is in the process of being completed.
- Dual purpose building. Residential Living, health care clinic, and office space to professional staff

Statement for the record from Congressman Aaron Schock
Commission on Government Forecasting and Accountability Public Hearing in Jacksonville, Illinois
On the closure of the Jacksonville Developmental Center

Morgan County, Illinois is located in the 18th Congressional District of Illinois, which I represent. It is home to the Jacksonville Development Center (JDC), a facility that employs roughly 420 people from the Jacksonville and Morgan County area in West Central Illinois. Governor Quinn has publicly state his intentions to close this facility.

There are currently 195 developmentally challenged, long-time residents of the Jacksonville Development Center whose lives will be seriously impacted by its closing. I am reminded of the grief encountered when the Lincoln Developmental Center was closed; many of whose residents were relocated to JDC.

I question the estimated savings projection if this important facility were to close. Residents would still require care covered by the State of Illinois, and critical support staff would need to be trained and paid. The state has an obligation to provide quality care to the most vulnerable members of our community. The Center endured budgetary cuts of 22% for this fiscal year and has worked to live within their means. Further, I am told that the State of Illinois just spent $2 million at the Jacksonville Developmental Center in Life Safety Code construction improvements this summer. I encourage Governor Quinn to find other ways to handle budgetary shortfalls in the State of Illinois than disproportionately cutting essential services to those who cannot provide for themselves.

As of August, Morgan County's unemployment rate was almost 9%. The Jacksonville area has already been affected by severe job loss. Hemorrhaging an additional 420 jobs could bring serious acceleration to the unraveling of their downstate rural economy.

The Center maintains a solid certification record and remains in good standing with the federal government. I contend that the JDC has enormous potential for being the center of a consolidation of similar facilities, rather than being a location to be shuttered.

As such, I ask that a full and fair review is conducted concerning the Governor's proposal for JDC. It is my expectation that this review will prove the Center's value and why it is essential to Morgan County, the surrounding region and the State of Illinois.

Sincerely,

Aaron Schock
Member of Congress

My name is Earnest Jones. I am the president of Friends of the Jacksonville Developmentally Disabled, a parent support group for the residents of the Jacksonville Developmental Center.

It's been stated that the residents could function in community homes. This is not true! Most of the residents of J.D.C. have been refused admittance to group homes or returned from community homes to J.D.C. because they couldn't provide the care needed.

Our son was in two different group homes and we were told to come and get him. We then had him admitted to the Lincoln Developmental Center which was his home for 27 years until the state closed it and moved him to Jacksonville. This was traumatic for him, going to a strange place where he didn't know anyone. It took him almost a year to acclimate to his new surroundings. Today (8 years later) he is well adjusted.

Are you going to close J.D.C. and put him and the other residents through this again?

There aren't enough beds available in community homes to take 170 clients. Many homes refuse to accept new clients because the state hasn't paid them for those they have.

Think seriously about what the closure would do for these most vulnerable citizens.

My name is Earnest Jones. I am President of the Friends of the Jacksonville Developmentally Disabled, a parent support group for the residents of the Jacksonville Developmental Center. I am speaking today as a parent of a developmentally disabled resident of JDC. Our son is 48 years old and is Profoundly Mentally Retarded due to severe brain damage caused by encephalitis at the age of 9 months. He is Autistic and has Tourette's syndrome and requires one on one care with 24-hour supervision. He previously lived in two different community homes but eventually we had to have him placed in a state operated developmental center. The community homes could not provide him with the care that he needed. On several occasions, he slipped out the door and wandered off several miles down the road because there was not adequate or enough staff to supervise all of the residents in the home. Due to his wandering off, they started keeping him heavily sedated.

At age 15, he was admitted to Lincoln Developmental Center. He lived there for 24 years until it closed in 2002. While he was there, he received excellent care and attended a sheltered workshop to learn some self-help skills. When LDC closed, he was moved to the Jacksonville Developmental Center. It took several months for him to adjust to his new environment. He could not understand why he was moved from what was familiar to him, thereby frustrating him by being in a strange place with people he did not know. Because of the patience and loving care of JDC, our son eventually made the adjustment and today is once again a happy and contented person. The only medication he takes is for the Tourette's syndrome. Not being sedated he has been able to learn more self-help skills such as table etiquette, dressing, bathing and limited sign language.

I agree with the basic premise that some developmentally disabled persons can benefit from living in a community based home. However, this is not true for other developmentally disabled individuals. Many community homes are understaffed due to a shortage of funds or low pay. Most of the residents of the state operated developmental centers are unable to function in small group homes because of health problems, as well as mental problems. To provide such care would require a large increase in trained personnel, which would be at an enormous cost. Some residents of SODC's are blind, confined to bed, unable to do anything for themselves and also require 24-hour nursing services. Would the community based home have the facilities and personnel to care for them?

I don't know if any of you on this committee have a disabled person in your family or if you have been close to a disabled person. If you do, then you know what I am talking about. If not, visit an SODC and get acquainted with some of them.

Just after the Lincoln Developmental Center was closed, a task force met for over a year to determine the future use of the facility. It was recommended to construct four community type homes on the campus. Those four homes were built and furnished but have not been open to residents. Why not?

If you close the state operated developmental center, where are all of these residents going to live. Our son could not function in a community based home. He would not be appropriate for nursing home placement. Where does he go? Please think this through carefully before closing any SODC. I do not understand how someone can determine what is best for my son, when he has never met him and does not know what his needs are. They seem to think that all sizes fit the same shoe. They need to give up their rose colored glasses and face reality. Thank you for allowing me to speak.

Illinois Council on Developmental Disabilities
Sheila T. Romano, Ed.D., Director

Testimony Submitted to the Commission on Government Forecasting and Accountability

Monday, October 24, 2011

Good evening, my name is Sheila Romano and I am the Director of the Illinois Council on Developmental Disabilities. Thank you for the opportunity to comment on the closure of the Jacksonville Developmental Center. The Illinois Council on Developmental Disabilities supports the planned closure of the Center.

The question before us is, "What is the right way to provide services for people with disabilities today?" The answer is very different from what it was when JDC was built. Service delivery has changed just as other industries have changed. We need to make strong policy decisions that reflect today's needs.

A first step is to start a discussion about long-term systemic change. We realize this is a daunting task, but it is one that can't wait.

In 2008 the Council produced a document called "The Blueprint for System Redesign in Illinois". This document offered a number of recommendations that provide the framework to re-balance our system. One recommendation was the closure of 5 of the 9 SODCs by 2014.

Achieving this goal represents a move that would bring Illinois to the national average related to providing services in the community. Let me repeat.... We would be AVERAGE. We would not be a national leader.

One facility was closed in 2010. The Governor has recommended two more, including JDC, for closure in 2012. This is a step in the right direction, but we have a long way to go.

The closure of JDC represents an opportunity to re-balance the current service system for people with developmental disabilities. An opportunity we can't afford to miss.

The Blueprint also recommended the restructuring of funding for community services. This goes hand in hand with the closure of facilities. In order to be successful, funding should be person-centered to promote flexibility and portability, not tied to categorical program lines.

The Council will be updating the Blueprint over the next few months to look even more closely at the system. We will share the final report with each of you. We look forward to using the data to strengthen the system even in these difficult economic times.

As we prepare for the closure JDC, we cannot forget the most important people involved...the individuals transitioning. Every effort needs to be made to make sure the transition is safe and person-centered.

Each individual needs to be supported in a positive manner by all involved in the decision making process. It is of the utmost importance that each decision is made slowly and carefully to result in the best outcome.

We urge the State to do whatever it takes to assure that the transition is planned and thoughtful. Leveraging necessary resources is essential to making it successful. Again, this is an opportunity to begin to fix our broken system. Let's not waste it. Thank you.

THE STATEWIDE INDEPENDENT LIVING COUNCIL OF ILLINOIS

Testimony to Illinois Commission on Government Forecasting and Accountability
October 24, 2011

By: William L. Gorman, Executive Director
Statewide Independent Living Council of Illinois

My name is William Gorman and I am the Executive Director of the Statewide Independent Living Council of Illinois. Per federal law, the SILC of Illinois has responsibility for developing a state plan for independent living services across Illinois. SILC of Illinois supports the closure of the Jacksonville Developmental Center.

We believe that the debate regarding institutions vs. community services should be over. Numerous studies verify that individuals with disabilities are safer, healthier, acquire skills at a greater rate, and have a higher quality of life in the community. The institutional model is outdated. I have seen closures of institutions in Indiana and Colorado and as long as the money follows the individuals into the community, Illinois can successfully close the Jacksonville Developmental Center. Fourteen (14) states have closed all of their state institutions yet we still have eight (8) developmental centers. It is time for us to face reality and move forward. The Department of Human Services' state plan calls for the downsizing and closure of some state institutions. This closure is in line with the state plan.

We are cognizant and sensitive to the concern over job loss; however, jobs lost at the Developmental Center will be created in the community to serve individuals transitioning from JDC to community services. Regardless, the preservation of state jobs cannot trump the right of individuals with disabilities to live in the community. We cannot use individuals with disabilities as economic commodities to maintain state employment.

In addition to the programmatic benefits of serving individuals in the community, we must address fiscal considerations. We cannot justify maintaining an old and deteriorating infrastructure at the JDC and overall, community services are more cost effective. We can quibble whether community services are two or three times more cost effective but it cannot be denied that they are less expensive.

In short, individuals with disabilities, like all citizens, want and need to live in the community. The SILC of Illinois encourages COGFA to recommend the closure of the Jacksonville Developmental Center. Thank you.

Dear Senators and Representatives

I'm here tonight to support of Jacksonville Developmental Center closing, we rank 51st in the nation in offering community living supports to individuals with disabilities, as a state of the Land of Lincoln. As a state we should feel ashamed of our selves.

Everyone, no matter how severe the disability is, has the right to live with freedom, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. It has been studied that persons with disabilities perform better and are happier in community settings where services are tailor to their individual needs than in institutional settings. More importantly they have a chance to contribute to society through volunteer or employment opportunities. Besides the benefits to the individual, it's cost effective--about 1/3 the cost of institutional care.

The transition for these individuals that are moving from Jacksonville Developmental Center must be safe and smooth in order to have success in moving into community.

Thanks for listening,

My name is Diane Lepper.

Twenty-eight years ago my husband and I were expecting our first child. Like so many new parents, we had many hopes and happy visions of what the future held for our child.

Twenty-seven years ago, our son was diagnosed with cerebral palsy. That was a rude kick in the stomach, and we felt overwhelmed... helpless. But help came.

It was the JDC that provided well-trained and innovative physical, occupational and speech therapists. They provided our son with a strong foundation of skills – skills that I believe are responsible for his ability to live more productively today. The JDC also provided advocates when we needed them, and parental counseling that was a godsend. These people knew what we were going through in raising a child with developmental disabilities, and their help was immeasurable.

Today, JDC's clients are 18 years of age or older. They have more severe disabilities than my son's. The JDC's caring employees work to bring some normalcy to the lives of their clients.

To the ladies and gentlemen serving on the committee for this hearing – if the stories you hear tonight touch your heart – good! Because these are true stories, about real living, breathing, feeling people; people who could be your cousin, your sister, your grandchild.

So, I pray all your loved ones are born healthy - and I pray that they never have a brain-damaging accident. And lastly, I pray that you can see that a society that does not do its best for its citizens who cannot “do” for themselves, has failed in the basics of humanity. The JDC is what is best for these special citizens. Please do not fail them. Thank you.

Hello again. My name is Diane Lepper and I have another, albeit more selfish, reason to keep the JDC facility open.

The JDC houses the Sophie Leschin Auditorium. Though used occasionally by other organizations, the stage is used primarily by the Jacksonville Theatre Guild, of which I am president of the board of directors. The Theatre Guild, which is a not-for-profit organization, produces six shows a year at Sophie; occupying it at least 46 weeks out of the year. Hundreds of area citizens work or perform on this stage: actors, directors, singers, dancers, carpenters, painters, people who sew costumes, and countless others who simply love the theatre. And they are not all from Jacksonville. Our theatre guild attracts people from Springfield, Chatham, Petersburg, Winchester, Pittsfield, Beardstown and beyond. It is so wonderful to see children, teenagers, and adults of all ages, fulfilling their dream of being a star on stage, even for just a little while.

Over 6,000 patrons come every year to enjoy our productions. They, too, come from all over. And with them they bring much needed revenue and tax dollars by their use of restaurants, gas stations, hotels, and more.

For its size, Jacksonville has a wealth of cultural venues. But close the JDC and you close down the theatre, and that would be a major loss to the cultural greatness of our community. On behalf of the Jacksonville Theatre Guild, its many volunteers and patrons, I would appreciate all you can do to keep this closure from happening. Thank you for your time and consideration in this matter.

I am Tonda Stouffe a nursing supervisor at JDC and as of Oct. 16 started my 40th year working here, so I do know a little about the individuals living here and the treatment they receive. For some of the people they have no family other than the staff and JDC. We are there for the birthdays, Thanksgiving, Christmas and the funerals. Our staff over the years has been the organist, the minister, the family who gathers to pay tribute to the person and the pallbearers who carry them on the final leg of their life's journey. The individuals have many health issues which the medical staff treat and take care of. When they need surgery or have an injury it is the staff who is there taking care of them and giving them a hug and wiping away the tears. We deal with the behaviors which are exhibited due largely from frustration or not going through the normal growth stages where you learn you do not always get your way.

We do work with people and teach them so hopefully one day they can go out and live in the community but for some this just does not seem to be a workable solution. There are many who have gone to group homes and failed and had to return due to the group home not having adequate training or staff to handle the acting out behaviors. In an attempt to handle the behaviors they are prescribed medication to control them. We have repeatedly sent people out on one medication or none and have them return on anywhere from 9 to 13 medications to control the behaviors. This is not right and should not be done. They return to use and we have to take them off the medications again and work them back up to the level where they were before they left us. Some people are at a developmental level where they will never be appropriate for a group home and we have seen over and over they die within 3-6 months after being placed in a nursing home. They do not always get as good care and are not as closely monitored as they are at JDC. When people go to the hospital they are not always checked as closely as they should be because they are scary to the staff. They make noises or look different and it scares people so they avoid them. We have places where if we make an appointment they want us to come before or after they close or through the back door so it does not upset other customers and this is not right.

The group homes are great for some but not the answer for all. There have been many that have blossomed in the group homes and I am happy for them but this is not the answer for all. I do have a concern that when we have meetings to transition people to group homes that one of the first things they are concerned about is getting them of food stamps or link cards so they can get their food. I have a problem with homes that we are placing people in relying on link cards to feed them. We do not use food stamps or link cards at JDC but we do teach the people who are capable what voting means, the process of voting, take them to get their cards and to vote in the elections. We are a teaching facility and do not want to hold anyone back but JDC is a needed place for some and I hope you see this and keep us open so we can continue the care these people deserve.

My name is Rick Stevens. Currently, I am a Jacksonville Alderman from the 3rd Ward. I could take your time tonight describing the horrific impact the closing of the Jacksonville Developmental Center will have on the Jacksonville area, but I am quite confident that there will be others tonight who will be more knowledgeable than I and will produce all the facts and figures for you.

I come here tonight with what I believe is a unique perspective. I worked at the Jacksonville Developmental Center for 31 years. I am presently working at a community agency (the Elm City Center). I have worked there for over 5 years. Adding that up totals over 36 years working with people with Developmental Disabilities. Furthermore, I spent the last several years at JDC working as an administrator whose job partially was to act as a liaison between the community providers and the Developmental Center. Previously, I was a Program Coordinator who worked directly with individuals many of which we successfully transitioned to community group homes.

Most certainly the closure of the Jacksonville Developmental Center will have a huge negative economic impact on the Jacksonville area. With the closing of EMI, AC Humko, and others the Jacksonville area has taken some tremendous blows. However, with the expansion of CCK industries, the recent Future Gen announcement, and our new downtown square and development, I truly believe Jacksonville is on the way back. The closing of JDC will have a disastrous affect on this positive momentum and our area economy.

But, I truly believe the far greater potentially disastrous impact will be on those individuals who believe JDC to be their home.

When I first started working at JDC in 1975 there was only one living area which served people with developmental disabilities. Shortly afterwards Jacksonville began admitting people from predominately other state facilities. In a few years with the closure of Galesburg, Manteno, Dixon, and Lincoln developmental centers more people arrived and called JDC their home. Many of these individuals did not know the meaning and had no concept of a stable home environment. They had been moved from one state facility to the next or, for one reason or another, had resided unsuccessfully at multiple group home settings. For many of these people Jacksonville has been the most stability they have known in their lives.

As I previously stated I have much experience working with community agencies. We are fortunate in Jacksonville to have several good community agencies such as the Elm City Center and Pathway. And, I am well aware of other community agencies throughout the state that serve individuals well. However, I have had experience with other community agencies that provide services to developmentally disabled people that my experience was not so positive.

Many community agencies pay their living area staff just slightly more than minimum wage. Their professional staff, if they have an adequate number, earn a fraction of what state professional staff are paid. Their staff training budgets are much less than at JDC. Consequently, the turnover is terrible. The ability to maintain program consistency is questionable at best. Three years ago I attended a meeting at a community agency that I worked with while at JDC. As I toured the classroom areas and walked down the hall I recognized one staff member's face. Evidently, most of the staff that I new had left.

As a JDC program coordinator several individuals moved to my living area from the community receiving multiple up to 7 medications for maladaptive behavior. When looking at community placement for others we were told by the community agency that paid vocational work was available only to find later that was not the case. In many cases people who moved to the community lived in more restrictive environments. An agency in this area does not allow the individuals access to their funds. In others, people can not go outside of their homes without staff supervision. Their bedrooms and living areas are much smaller than at JDC.

We had an individual who moved to a community setting who died within a year because the staff were using what I call “gut therapy”. They basically used food as a bribe and fed him to death to address his behavior. A woman from JDC moved to the community who drowned in the bath unsupervised. I could go on with more horror stories, but it would serve little purpose.

I also firmly believe that the majority of individuals who currently reside at JDC would be very difficult to be served in the community. Many of these people require 24 hour medical services. Others exhibit behavior that make residing in the community problematical.

Do I believe that everyone should be served at a state operated developmental center? Of course NOT. Like you, myself, and the people who live at JDC we should not have a “one size fits all”, “cookie cutter” approach. I believe the state operated developmental center’s role should be one that TRANSITIONS people to efficiently operated community residential settings. There are some people who currently reside at JDC who I believe could live elsewhere providing the appropriate funding and services are available. That I believe is one of the BIG questions this panel needs to seriously ponder.

One of the biggest selling points for community homes is that they serve people at a fraction of the costs of a state operated developmental center. However, when you have to include 24 hour medical services, pharmacy, psychological, psychiatric, PT, and close staff supervision the equation drastically changes.

From the community agency perspective one of the things that bothers me is that here we have announced the possible closure of a state operated developmental center, but I am unaware of any plan to adequately fund individuals moving to the community.

I conclude with a quote from Thomas Pomeranz a national authority working with the developmentally disabled “an institution is a state of mind, not a place”. Please recommend to allow the Jacksonville Developmental Center to continue to provide the necessary services to those individuals who desperately need them.

Thank you for the opportunity to speak to you this evening.

Dear Mr. Milligan:

I have reviewed your letter of November 4 and your request for information regarding the individuals that resided formerly at Lincoln Developmental Center. The following information is in response to your request.

Request: LDC individuals who have passed away

1.) October 1, 2001 through September 30, 2003

During this time period there have been a total of 29 deaths. Ten of the individuals that passed away between October 1, 2001 through August 31, 2002 were residing at Lincoln. Nineteen people have passed away since closure of Lincoln which is the time frame of September 1, 2002 through September 30, 2003.

2.) October 1, 1999 through September 30, 2001

Twelve people residing at Lincoln Developmental Center passed away during this time period.

3.) October 1, 1997 through September 30, 1999

Twelve people residing at Lincoln Developmental Center passed away during this time period.

If we can be of further assistance feel free to contact my office.

Sincerely,

Myra Nichols
Deputy Director
Division of Developmental Disabilities

RESOLUTION IN SUPPORT OF SAVING JACKSONVILLE DEVELOPMENTAL CENTER

WHEREAS; on September 8, 2011, the Governor of Illinois announced his intention to start the process to close Jacksonville Developmental Center (JDC);

WHEREAS; on September 23, 2011, the Illinois Department of Human Services submitted its recommendation to close JDC;

WHEREAS; JDC is the home for 196 residents with developmental disabilities and they are a part of our community;

WHEREAS; the Illinois Department of Human Services admits that "roughly twenty-six" residents will be able to be placed in state operated developmental centers, while approximately 170 will be "transitioned to community based settings";

WHEREAS; claiming intent to move 170 individuals to the community, without any assessment that such a move is in their interest or even possible is unconscionable;

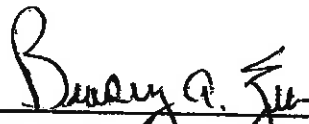

WHEREAS; moving residents from JDC can be an especially traumatic experience for the developmentally disabled;

WHEREAS; closing JDC will take 420 staff from Jacksonville, with many likely to lose their jobs;

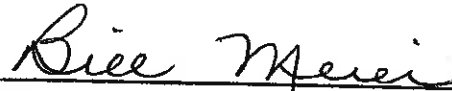

WHEREAS; the impact of this closing on Morgan County has been estimated to be over $47 million at a time when we need more jobs and economic development;

NOW THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED; that the MORGAN COUNTY BOARD does hereby go on record as being against the closure of Jacksonville Developmental Center and we call on the State General Assembly to pass a supplemental appropriation sufficient to keep the DHS centers open and services provided;

COMMISSION ON GOVERNMENT FORECASTING AND ACCOUNTABILITY.
HEARING ABOUT CLOSING
JACKSONVILLE DEVELOPMENTAL CENTER
OCTOBER 24, 2011

TOM FREDERICK, PRESIDENT CEO

Elm City Center has served people living at JDC for over 50 years. The people we serve range from individuals barely distinguishable from the general population to individuals with serious behavior issues to others with extremely limited abilities who need high levels of sophisticated care. We believe that the range of services offered to a person should be based on their needs whether it is a home, apartment, day program, community based residential, or a state facility. I have had many people who live at JDC ask me "What will happen to me and why is this happening?" JDC is often been their only home and for some it has been a safe haven from past events in their lives. For others, it is the place to get most of the services they need in one location.

There is a widely held belief that services in a community setting are always cheaper than in state facilities. Simply moving from JDC at about $165,000 a year to a community based provider at $55,000 a year seems like an obvious $110,000 savings. But it is just not reality.

Kevin Casey, the new DHS/DDD director, recently met with providers at IARF. He indicated the Department's goal is to move residential programs to 6 beds or less, preferably at 4 beds. That sounds admirable until you look at the rates paid to support these programs. In Pennsylvania, where Kevin came from, the community residential services rates are about $100,000 per year per person which is consistent with the nationwide figures in Braddock's "State of the States" report. In Illinois the base rates are $45,000-$55,000. The providers at the meeting immediately agreed that the 4-6 bed concept was good except that, under current Illinois rates, they could not stay in business with less than 8 beds. They said the $55,000 rate in a 24-hour staffed home :

1. Forces salaries of under $10 an hour with resulting high staff turn over
2. Does not cover the additional specialized costs of psychological, medical, behavioral, and legal interventions. In Illinois while minimum wage has risen to $8.25 over several years, while the rates have remained the same.
3. Requires providers to be very selective in whom they serve. They simply cannot afford individuals with significant behavioral problems that have property destruction, physical injury to self or others, fire setting, PICA, and elopement issues.

If 4 beds is the goal where will the state find the additional $50,000 per person for existing residential programs who must now find more homes and staff?

In a meta-study of peer reviewed studies of costs in institutional vs. community settings, Walshⁱⁱⁱ concluded that questions should revolve around a person's needs, the best place to provide for those needs and at what cost. :

1. Lack of comparability between an all-encompassing institution and community settings. Many community programs are simply not funded to provide all the services a state facility can offer.
 2. Cost shifting and aggregate costs. In many cost comparisons only housing costs are considered while food, medical, transportation and other costs are simply not included.
 3. Cost savings are often directly related to staffing costs. Moving from $15 an hour in a state facility to $9.50 in a community setting does save money but results in high turnover jobs that do not attract many qualified candidates, plus constant change for the people living there.
- The end result is the cost of services in community settings is actually much higher than reported.

The national trend is toward closing facilities like JDC, but they require significant amounts of planning ahead of time and often take up to 5 years to complete. Virtually none of that planning has occurred as this process moves forward. The planning needs to include:

1. Assessing each individual's particular needs by independent groups. This would include assessing functional abilities, risks, medical, behavioral, and personal skills while developing a realistic comprehensive cost. For some people this will be under $50,000 per year and others will be well over $300,000.
2. Family and guardian involvement for approval
3. Identifying the number of available beds in the state. The Williams and Ligas court cases will soon force the state to deal with residential needs of several thousand people not currently involved directly with JDC but will quickly take available beds and require more.
4. What providers are available and who are they able to accept? This is driven by rate formulas, the specific needs/behaviors of the people involved, back-up systems if the placement simply does not work, and the state's ongoing history of not paying its bills. A high cost person will need high rate payments regardless of whoever provides services.
5. An explanation of the funding source to cover the costs to close JDC and all the state facilities is needed. The state's financial status is a huge role in creating this situation. There needs to be a clean statement of where those funds currently exist (they are not in the budget explanations I have seen) or who loses if the funds must come from other existing budget lines.
6. Other states have taken up to 5 years to accomplish what Illinois is trying to do in under 8 months.

As the only SODC in a 3 hour radius, JDC should remain open to provide the assistance to helping people obtain their maximum level of independence. For some people JDC is the right place to live.

ⁱⁱ Walsh, K, 'Cost Comparisons of Community and Institutional Residential settings' Update, Mental Retardation, January 2009

The Jacksonville Development Center in one form or another has been a part of our community and a part of Illinois. It has been both a hospital and an asylum for the Insane. It has been a State Hospital and a center for the treatment of mental illness which expanded to include developmentally disabled as we learned more about ourselves.

The patients here are well cared for; usually better than they could get at home with burden it places on their families. It is a more comfortable and safer environment here for them than it would be in the general population. These patients and future ones are not going to go away. They are a part of human life.

Today the state government has gotten itself into a lot of trouble with overspending; usually caused by our legislators promising anything and everything so that they can get re-elected. But now they really have to cut their spending and of course they choose to cut an area where the recipients are not voters.

Many things have come and gone since this facility opened in 1851 but the need for these services have not.

I suggest the government cut their pork; and cut services to those that are not so much in need but have become enabled to a life style of living off the legislator's voter government sponsored payroll.

Dr. Woodbeck

Testimony for the Legislative Commission on Government Forecasting and Accountability, State of Illinois, October 24, 2011

I am here to address this legislative committee on behalf of my brother, Daryl Jones, who is a resident of Jacksonville Developmental Center. I would first like to thank the committee for allowing me to present a testimony this evening. Our family has had very little time to collect our thoughts and prepare a response, as we have just become aware from a Springfield newspaper article that Daryl's residential facility in Jacksonville is scheduled to close due to budgetary constraints. This is very unsettling to learn about closure plans from a newspaper article. It is also unsettling to learn that the decision to close the developmental center is "due to budgetary constraints".

I remember Daryl as child, before he became ill with encephalitis at the age of 10. Daryl was a straight "A" student, an outstanding athlete, and an all-around active healthy boy. And then one day, he was lying on the couch sleeping, but we couldn't wake him. After a lengthy stay in St. Louis Children's Hospital, where our mom had stayed with him day and night, I still remember the day he came home from the hospital. Daryl's appearance and behavior had changed dramatically. My brother continues to suffer with extreme convulsions that have altered his ability to learn and function beyond a young age.

Daryl stayed with our family through high school, and even graduated with his diploma. We can thank our mother for being so involved in his education. But as Daryl grew into an adult and became physically stronger, his behavior and medical needs could no longer be controlled in a home environment. My mom was very involved in locating a facility for Daryl that was well-suited for his needs. However, this is the third time that the residential center where Daryl was living is being closed. When the first center closed, Daryl was placed in community-based housing. The community housing option resulted in a negative outcome. His medical and behavioral issues forced them to move Daryl back to a secure residential center, as directed by his doctor.

Our parents are now 83 and 86 years old, and dad suffers from severe dementia. Although Jacksonville is a two and a half hour drive for them, my mom had visited other facilities, and of the facilities she visited, she thought that Jacksonville was the best fit for Daryl's needs. Daryl has resided here since they closed the developmental center in Alton, Illinois. The Jacksonville center has been a good fit for him.

These are our specific concerns with the closing of the Jacksonville Developmental Center for our loved one:

1. Due to Daryl's chronic complex medical and behavioral issues, he needs highly qualified, trained medical personnel, 24 hours a day.
2. To ensure Daryl's safety and the safety of others, Daryl needs a secure facility to prevent harm to him or others.
3. Behavioral issues should not be dealt with by a local police force, and potentially resulting with criminal incarceration, which is a high possibility if Daryl were placed in a community home-based environment. Daryl is not a criminal; he is developmentally disabled and deserves to be cared for by professionally trained medical personnel.

4. Decisions regarding medical treatment and housing choices for those with disabilities should be individual-based and not determined by their center of residency. "One size does not fit all"; all will not necessarily fit in community-based home environments.
5. No notification or information has been provided to the families of the residents regarding plans for closing, placement options, facility offerings, or locations.
6. Decisions regarding the care of these residents should not be made based on dollars and cents. The developmentally disabled are one of the most vulnerable of the vulnerable, as they have no voice of their own.

In summary, a community-based housing option was tried for Daryl and was not a viable alternative. Daryl had to be returned to a secure residential facility. Daryl has also been assessed as not being a candidate for a nursing home. If the state closes the Jacksonville Developmental Center and the other remaining facilities as planned, there will be no place for Daryl to safely live, nor will he receive required medical care.

Dear Honorable Co-Chairs Bellock and Schoenberg:

10.24.11

My name is Rob Kilbury and you have seen me around the capitol building for many years. I have testified any number of times in front of various committees you have been part of. I have a spinal cord injury and have used a wheelchair for mobility for the past thirty years. I have worked for the State of Illinois for the past 13 years.

Sometimes a dire fiscal climate allows policymakers to accomplish things they might not ordinarily be able to achieve. The current 2012 state budget is more than problematic, but if Illinois is to live within these fiscal constraints, we all have to act. Closing the Jacksonville Developmental Center is a wonderful place to start, in my opinion.

Illinois consistently ranks worst nationally in serving way too many individuals with cognitive disabilities in costly, outdated institutions like JDC. At the same time (or perhaps as a direct result), national statistics validate the argument that the state does not adequately invest in critical community supports for this important population.

I urge you to close JDC in 2012, and to reinvest future years' savings in community supports for these citizens. I believe the quality of life of the current residents of this facility will be much-enhanced with this reinvestment. That must be our ultimate benchmark for success in this transition, not merely saving general revenue funds.

Reiterating, the key here is not in the closing of this institution per se. The key is in the reinvestment of all savings from this and other closures (like Mabley, then perhaps Choate in future years) in funding many more group homes, community integrated living arrangements, and other such smaller residential settings and services.

The disability community in Illinois has benefitted from your exemplary leadership on critical issues in the past. We urge you and your colleagues on the Commission to find the courage necessary to "do the right thing" today. We fully expect the Chamber of Commerce, the union workers, and many others with a parochial, monetary interest in maintaining the status quo will outnumber us today; hopefully, you will make an ideological decision on the tenets of integration and the Americans with Disabilities Act.

Please move the Great State of Illinois into the 21st Century by utilizing this historic opportunity to take a monumental step forward with and for Illinoisans with disabilities.

Thanks in advance for your leadership,

Representative Watson:

Senator McCann:

This letter expresses my opinion on the historical treatment of disabled people based on more than twenty years experience in the field.

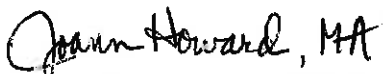

Certain aspects of this group contribute to the treatment they receive, being especially true for those who are not their own guardians, since they rely on others to decide their fate. Throughout their lives, for the most part, disabled individuals have little impact on their own outcomes. Their spending money, activities and living areas are not under their control. Due to such factors, this group has been and continues to be an easy target for unfair treatment and exploitation.

The purpose of community settings is more freedom, increasing access to community services. Living in a community residential setting can be detrimental in some cases. Some homes are not managed as they should be. Owned privately, they are licensed and monitored by IDPH but don't appear to be held to the same standards of care as state operated facilities (SOFs).

Group home caregivers are not required to earn credentials such as CNAs, LPNs and RNs in nursing homes. Direct care staff receive no specific training, earning much less than those paid in SOFs, causing high staff turnover. Nursing, psychological and psychiatric services are contractual and not available around the clock. Psychological and psychiatric services are usually provided quarterly or "as needed." The sporadic nature of these services results in inconsistent behavior intervention plans which are more likely to result in maladaptive behavior.

When individuals are discharged from SOFs into the community, it is not a sure thing that they will remain where they are placed. Behavior can become unmanageable resulting in psychiatric hospitalization, involvement with law enforcement or return to a SOF. Granted, community placement is trial and error, however those readmitted to SOFs usually require the type of structure that SOFs provide. My only concern is that placing nearly 200 residents in a 4 month time frame can lead to increased chaos and unsuccessful placements.

Sincerely,

Joann Howard, MA, JDC Psychologist

COGFA HEARING TO CLOSE JDC

TESTIMONY GIVEN BY: DON OLENDZKI

10/24/11

MY NAME IS DON OLENDZKI. I'M A RECENTLY RETIRED PSYCHOLOGIST FROM THE IDOC

FOR 22 YEARS I WORKED AS THE ONLY PSYCHOLOGIST FOR 3 FACILITIES WITH A TOTAL OF 1600 INMATES,

I HAVE SEEN THE RESULTS OF DE-INSTITUTIONALIZATION PERSONALLY.

I'VE TREATED MANY MENTALLY ILL AND D.D. INMATES WHO PREVIOUSLY RESIDED IN ONE OF ILLINOIS' STATE HOSPITALS.

THE PROMISE OF COMMUNITY RESOURCES TAKING RESPONSIBILITY FOR THEIR CARE + WELL BEING DID NOT MATERIALIZE...

MANY ENDED UP HOMELESS, LIVING IN CARD BOARD BOXES ON LOWER WACKER DRIVE, UNTIL THEY BROKE A LAW AND CAME TO PRISON

EVEN IN THE BIBLE, IN THE BOOK OF MATTHEW, THE LORD STATED:

"FOR I WAS HUNGRY + THIRSTY AND YOU GAVE ME NOTHING TO EAT OR DRINK I WAS SICK AND IN PRISON AND YOU DID NOT LOOK AFTER ME."

AND THEY RESPONDED: "LORD, WHEN DID WE SEE YOU HUNGRY OR THIRSTY, OR SICK AND IN PRISON, AND DID NOT HELP YOU?"

SLOW → THE LORD RESPONDED: "WHATEVER YOU DID NOT DO FOR ONE OF THE LEAST OF THESE YOU DID NOT DO FOR ME!"

NOW WE'VE ALL HEARD OF GANDHI, WINSTON CHURCHILL, ARISTOTLE + POPE JOHN ^{25th}

BUT DO YOU KNOW WHAT THEY ALL HAD IN COMMON ???

ALL OF THESE GREAT HUMANITARIANS BELIEVED THAT THE MEASURE OF A SOCIETY IS HOW IT TREATS IT'S MOST VULNERABLE MEMBERS...

SO I ASK YOU: WHAT TYPE OF SOCIETY ARE WE ?

HAS ILLINOIS' MOTTO BECOME "SURVIVAL OF THE FITTEST?" I HOPE NOT.

I IMPLORER YOU TO BE COMPASSIONATE AND VOTE TO KEEP JDC OPEN, SO IT CAN CONTINUE TO PROVIDE THE SPECIALIZED CARE THAT THESE RESIDENTS REQUIRE,

Susan Flynn

Position: SW at JDC for 23½ years, LCSW

Work main duties include people's admissions, discharges, and transfers in and out of JDC. Direct care worker for persons who live at JDC and liaison with their guardians.

JDC actively tries to place persons in group homes throughout the state. I have 3 people on my caseload who are moving to homes, awaiting DHS funding approval. JDC provides Technical Assistance to people discharged in the community homes experiencing behavioral problems. We work closely with DHS Support Services Team to deflect readmission to JDC.

JDC serve peoples with severe challenging behaviors that often cannot be served in a less restrictive environment

Severe physical aggression, violent outbursts that causes injury toward peers ✓ & staff. Aggression is hitting, kicking, spitting, biting, and using objects as weapons, pulling hair, breaking glass/windows.

Unauthorized attempts to leave the center with supervision of staff

Property Destruction, throwing TV's, microwave oven

PICA, eating inedible objects, glass, paper, nails, coins, batteries, radio ✓ antennas

SIB, cutting self, gouging, slashing ✓

Inappropriate social sexual behavior, some with children and animals ✓

JDC staff provides 24 hour supervision, can appoint 1-1- staff supervision in an emergency. Staff is well-trained regarding individuals' habilitation and behavioral plan. JDC is a structured environment offers 24 hour medical care, nursing, physician, } psychological, social, Psychiatric and group therapy.

Group homes have limited resources to deal with people who have volatile behavior. The police are called, person ends up in Psychiatric Ward of hospital or in jail where they remain for a short period of time and are released. The group home is unable to meet their needs, no other home can be located, readmission to SOF. This was the case in a recent readmission to JDC, lady whose behavior was unmanageable. Person required the structure of State operated facility.

JDC needs to stay open because we provide critical service to the Developmentally Disabled and their family/guardian in downstate Illinois. Violent people will jeopardize public safety and overstress legal, judicial system. On behalf of 197 people at JDC, this is their home; vote yes to keep JDC open.

Thank you, Susan Flynn

Hello, my name is Steve Keller and I have been a Carpenter at J.D.C. for the past 13 years. I have become very afraid about what will happen to the 200 people that live there. The state says that 170 will be placed in the community, and 30 will go to other S.O.D.C.'s. I believe they have their figures transposed. That, or the people that made this decision have no firsthand experience with these people. There are at the present time not that many spaces available in area community group homes. If there was wouldn't they have already been placed? To many of our people are not candidates for group homes. They have too many medical issues, or behavioral problems. Mr. Gorman, from the Independent Living Council states that community settings are so much cheaper. What he fails to mention are that these group homes "Cherry Pick" the type of individuals they want. They don't want people with medical or behavior issues. Some of our people can do a few thousand dollars damage to a building in a matter of minutes. Many have highly involved medical issues. He also states that jobs won't be lost. Well maybe not in the long run, but the State actually pays workers a living wage. All the group homes are minimum wage jobs with a very high turnover of personnel. Also at J.D.C. we have Doctors, Nurses and Psychologists on staff. The costs of these professionals are added on later for people in group homes. You will have a staff member with about 8 hours of training administering medication in group homes. We have R.N.s with 4 years of college. Which would you rather have? Many group homes are run by people that are only in it for the profit. They are not all non profit organizations. I would really hate to see more of what just recently happened in Pennsylvania occur here in Illinois. If 14 states have already closed their Developmental Centers that's fine. That means that 36 still have them. In my book that's known as a majority. Please find the funding to keep this center open. It would definitely be in the best interest of the people served there, our most vulnerable members of society.

Thank you

Dear Members of Hearing Committee,

As a parent I support the closure of the Jacksonville Development Center. It's well past the time to re-balance the disability system in Illinois investing in new capacity for community-based living.

The decision to close institutions should be over! All of our discussions, work and focus must be on developing capacity for community-based living for all individuals with intellectual and developmental disabilities.

My daughter, Samantha, is 21 years old this year. Her disability is Down ^{too} Syndrome. We have worked hard to maximize her potential. She has worked hard. We have taken advantage of community supports and natural supports available to any community member. She is in community 5 days a week. She utilizes community transportation, both para-transit and selected fixed routes. Yet, Samantha needs daily support in all areas of life's activities. She wants to keep her life and find support in community based living.

Unfortunately, she remains on the PUNs list waiting for services.

As long as there are institutions open in Illinois, we as tax payers are supporting a self-feeding, antiquated, inadequate, broken system that no one wants; a system that prohibits other individuals, like my daughter, from receiving the necessary and less costly supports needed for living in community.

I understand the fears of individuals associated with this move. They are real and justified. It is our responsibility to ensure a safe and adequate transition to community living.

Rebalance the Illinois system so that people currently residing in an institution can experience the fullness of community life and people who are on waiting lists may receive the help they need.

Please do not force institutionalization on one more person in Illinois. This is an opportunity to do the right thing for people with disabilities and their families and be smart with precious taxpayer dollars.

Thank you for the opportunity to express my views.

My name is Michelle Spurlock.

Living in the community is the best for me because I can come and go when I want. I can eat what I want. I can make my own choices.

When I lived in a group home, I couldn't go for a walk unless the other girls wanted to go, too. I had this movie called, "Home Alone" and my roommate loved the movie and we had to watch it all the time. I finally got tired of watching it and I didn't want to watch it one night so I said, "no" and besides it was my movie, my TV and my VCR. She threw a fit and the house parent turned the movie on. I also got very sick when I lived at the group home. They wouldn't let me go to my own doctor, they said I had to go to their doctor, I told their doctor I wouldn't have medicine with alcohol in it because of my seizures.

When I got home, the staff called me in the kitchen to take my medicine. I told her I could taste the alcohol in it. The staff said there wasn't any alcohol in it but there was. I refused to take any more because the alcohol would affect my seizures and the staff wrote me up.

Since I've lived on my own, I have support from PA's. I have friends to help me with doing laundry, work, clean, go to food pantry, go shopping and pay bills. I am part of a scrapbook club and we get together twice a month. I go out to eat, to dances, to parties, shopping and to friend's houses. I also travel to Springfield and other places in Illinois to participate in advocacy events. I am the Treasurer of the Network, a self-advocacy group in Alton, IL.

My dream was to live on my own in the community, and it came true. I want everybody who dreams of living on their own in community to have their dreams come true. We can all work together to make dreams come true.

Robin Michelle Spurlock

I am writing in response to the proposal to close the Jacksonville Developmental Center. I feel I can address this issue as I have worked both in the community setting and at the Center.

While I agree that the "least restrictive setting" should be the basis for all individuals who live at JDC, I also know that there are some who cannot live in a community setting without becoming a danger to them selves and others. There are instances in community settings where supervision of something so simple as mealtime safety cannot be attained. It sounds easy to place someone in a community home BUT....Someone who needs pureed food and thickened drink is in danger of choking when seated at a table with others who have food of another consistency if staff cannot be directly beside the individual to see that food is not taken from a tablemates plate. Seating at another table is not an option as this individual can get up and go to the other table at will. The staff ratio that community settings can provide (also due to state budget cuts to their funding) won't allow for this level of supervision.

The JDC has been seeking community placement for individuals. But there are some individuals who cannot handle the relative freedom of a community setting. They by law can chose not to take the medication that gives them the ability to behave in a manner appropriate for community living.

The situation in Jacksonville is unique in that the Center and the community programs are inseparable. Both Elm City and Pathway Services provide day training for many residents of the Center. The closure of the Center will affect the community as a whole in a far greater measure than the individuals and staff from the center. Pathway Services has set in motion an expansion to provide sheltered workshop training to prepare individuals to get employment in community businesses. Taking the individuals from this venture will in essence sabotage the project.

I feel the Jacksonville Developmental Center should remain open while communities are given time to expand the living and work opportunities for persons that reside at the Center. The timeline of February closure is unrealistic if one truly has the best interests of the individuals from the Center at heart.

Closure hearing of Jacksonville Developmental Center.

I am here to oppose this closure of this center. I represent the nurses at this facility but also 3 others on the Governor's list. I have been to 2 other hearings and have heard the Department of Human Services say pretty much the same thing each time 1 it's the budget and 2nd they plan to rely on community based services for the residents in the community. Yet the cost to place the residents will fall back to the state which in turn will most likely cost either the same or even slightly higher than to have this and the other facilities remain open.

Has the commission even looked to see where these residents would be moved to? Jacksonville has 194 residents who have called this center home would have to either go to Choate, Fox, Luderman, Shapiro, Murray or Ann Kiley Developmental centers. All are over 100 miles away from their families. Not to mention the possible overcrowding this would place on these other facilities.

The loss of over 450 jobs here at this facility, but what other jobs losses would be affected here in the community.

The Illinois Nurses Association, Afsme, the Community and its 194 Residents beg of you to keep this facility open!!

Re: Proposed Closure of the Jacksonville Developmental Center

Dear Chairman Schoenberg, Chairman Bellock and Members of the Commission:

Equip for Equality, the independent, not-for-profit organization designated by the Governor in 1985 to administer the federally mandated Protection and Advocacy system for people with disabilities in Illinois, is in full support of the proposed closure of Jacksonville Developmental Center (Jacksonville DC). Equip for Equality's mission is to advance the civil and human rights of people with disabilities, which is accomplished through self-advocacy training and technical assistance, legal services, public policy initiatives, and investigations of abuse and neglect in all settings that serve people with disabilities.

Equip for Equality fully supports the closure of state institutions such as Jacksonville DC in order to allow people with disabilities to live and thrive in the community. Although the impetus for the proposed closure is budgetary, we believe that the current fiscal crisis presents an opportunity to do the right thing. For years the state has spent too much money to deliver too little to its citizens with developmental disabilities. We are actively working with the governor and state agencies in order to develop a comprehensive, well-thought out plan for transition of the individuals living at Jacksonville DC to appropriate settings equipped to meet their needs. With appropriate supports and services, all individuals with disabilities, including those with the most significant disabilities, can live in the community.

The closure of Jacksonville DC will further the state's expressed commitment to rebalance our long term care system, stated clearly in the Division of Developmental Disabilities' Strategic Plan released in June 2010. The closure will also allow Illinois to move one step closer to fulfilling the integration mandate of the Americans with Disabilities Act to provide services in the most integrated setting possible to meet an individual's needs and comply with the Supreme Court's Olmstead decision that unnecessary segregation and institutionalization of individuals with disabilities constitutes discrimination under the ADA. The legal consensus that people have a fundamental right to live in the most integrated environment that meets their needs is consistent with data showing that individuals with developmental disabilities are successful in community settings. It is also consistent with the consent decree in the Ligas v. Hamos case in which the state has fully embraced the concept of services in the community for those currently residing in ICF/DDs.

Studies on outcomes of moving people with developmental disabilities from institutions to the community have concluded that most have made significant gains in adaptive behaviors and have decreased more challenging behaviors. Moreover, longitudinal studies based upon parent surveys in states that have closed institutions, such as Wisconsin, Minnesota and Pennsylvania, substantiate that a large percentage of parents who were initially opposed to closure became satisfied with community living and believed their family members to be happier in the community.

To provide for successful transitions, the closure of state operated institutions and the transition of individuals to the community must be carefully designed and implemented. We know this can be done and done well. Fourteen states, including Michigan, have closed all of their state-operated institutions for people with developmental disabilities and are successfully serving those individuals in the community.

The current fiscal crisis makes clear that Illinois cannot afford the high cost of continuing to do the wrong thing. Serving individuals with developmental disabilities in community settings has been proven to be more cost effective than providing services in an institution. On average it is three times more expensive to serve an individual in a state-operated developmental center as it is to serve an individual in a Community Integrated Living Arrangement, or CILA. A large aging facility such as Jacksonville DC, is extremely costly to maintain and requires extensive investment in the infrastructure, resulting in greater overall cost or less available funds for providing services to individuals with disabilities residing there.

Equip for Equality recognizes that transitioning individuals out of Jacksonville DC and into the community presents challenges, especially given the time frame proposed. However, we believe that it can be done successfully if the transition plan includes the following strategic measures:

First, there must be enhanced on-site monitoring during the closure process to ensure the safety of individuals residing in the facility.

Second, there must be independent oversight of the transition planning and implementation to ensure that the full array of options is available and that an individual's choice is respected and informed decisions can be made.

Third, there must be an extensive effort to educate people with disabilities and their guardians and families regarding the options for community living.

Fourth, the transition process must be adequately funded to ensure both a successful transition and continued success in the community, and, as required by the Community Services Act, the savings realized as a result of the closure of Jacksonville DC must be reinvested in the community to provide ongoing services and supports.

Finally, there must be adequate resources available for follow-up and ongoing support services to ensure success in the community.

Equip for Equality is currently working with the state and other organizations to plan for a successful transition. We will continue to work with the state to ensure that individuals currently residing at Jacksonville DC are provided with high quality choices that can meet each person's unique preferences and needs so they can enjoy a stable, safe and fulfilling life in the most integrated setting.

IN A MEDICAL ENVIRONMENT FOR 38 YEARS
IN ONE WAY OR ANOTHER. I CAN ASSURE
YOU THE PEOPLE WE CARE FOR AND ABOUT
RECEIVE LOVE AND CARE.
I HAVE WORKED IN BOTH NURSING HOMES

THE CLOSURE WOULD AFFECT ME GREATLY, BUT
THE MAJOR CONCERN IS HOW OUR PEOPLE WOULD BE AFFECTED.
PLEASE LEAVE JDC OPEN AND LEAVE
THE PERSONS WE SERVE IN THEIR HOMES!!!

My brother lives at JDC. He is what I'd call a 'niche' person. He is nearly incapable of taking care of himself physically. He cannot speak to express his needs or concerns. He can walk fairly well, and can feed himself, but cannot take care of any of his bodily functions. At JDC, where he's ~~lived~~ lived for nearly ~~35~~ 35 years, he is at home. Staff know and care for him as a friend as much as a patient. Moving him to a new environment will disrupt his sense of security and could possibly endanger his well being while the new staff are assessing his capabilities and "getting to know him". ~~And~~ quite frankly, as he will continue to depend on the state for his welfare, I don't see any reasonable cost to benefit ratio being achieved.

As a parent of a 28 yr old with Down Syndrome I am delighted to see our state move forward in their intent to provide opportunities in the community. We have a responsibility to insure a positive transition for current residents with ample services, however this closure is long overdue. I don't know of any parents that plan for their child to grow up & move into institutional settings. They have previously had no other choices to attain adequate services. I look forward to a brighter future in the community for people with disabilities

I think it is an atrocity to close this wonderful facility & put these defenseless residents in group homes & boarding houses. They will not have near as good of care & would be very disturbed by such a change.

I feel that we must be their advocates & support oppose this closing. I will withhold my political support from anyone who supports this. State's too needs to make cuts many other places first.

WRITTEN COMMENTS:

- ① JDC social services work tirelessly to place individuals into less restrictive community homes.
- ② Many of JDC residents placed in community homes have made successful transitions, some have not due to the lack of adequate behavioral and psychiatric supports.
- ③ In order for community providers to be able to successfully support the majority of the persons served who remain at JDC, the state will need to allocate more money for additional trained staff to provide the behavioral supports needed. In addition, psychiatric services will need to be expanded and local psychiatric units will need to be trained to treat persons with DD/MI diagnoses.
- ④ Ideally, all persons with Developmental Disabilities should live in their own home in the community. Realistically, the community is not ready to receive them.
- ⑤ Closing any developmental center prematurely is nothing short of barbaric.

WRITTEN COMMENTS:

I am opposed to the closing of any of the Mental Health and/or Developmental Centers.

If the residents could be successful in the community group homes, why hasn't this been done before?

It seems to me the State Government is always trying to balance the budget on the backs of our citizens who need the most help.

Group Home placement: is it really a viable option? The state is currently months behind on payments to group homes.

I believe not all residents can be successful in the community setting. Some prefer to remain at JDC where they are comfortable.

Leave the option available for all residents.

Petition

- We call on Representatives Watson and Tracey and Senators McCann and Sullivan to commit to vote for a Supplemental Appropriation that will stop all of the closings and layoffs.
- We ask each of the legislators to commit to get their other legislators in their caucuses to vote for it.
- We call on the Governor to publicly declare that there will be no closing and sign the Supplemental Appropriation
