

Religious Accommodation Policy

Scope

Applies to all students at and applicants to Mayo Clinic College of Medicine and Science (MCCMS) and MCCMS faculty and staff when a religious accommodation is requested.

Purpose

To establish the framework for providing students and applicants with sincerely held religious beliefs, observances, or practices reasonable religious accommodations.

To establish a learning environment where differences are treated with respect and inclusion.

Policy

- MCCMS complies with all federal and state laws and regulations concerning the education of persons with sincerely held religious beliefs, observances, or practices that conflict with Mayo Clinic/MCCMS policies, or with other aspects of their education.
- MCCMS does not discriminate against applicants or students in regard to application procedures, acceptance, appointment, enrollment, advancement, discipline, dismissal, or other terms, conditions, and privileges of their education or training.
- MCCMS prohibits disparate treatment, segregation, or harassment based on religious belief, observance, or practice, as well as retaliation for the exercise of sincerely held religious beliefs, observances, or practices.
- MCCMS and/or the respective School will collaborate with applicants and students to reasonably accommodate their religious beliefs, observances, or practices.
- MCCMS commits to reasonably accommodate applicants and students, unless the accommodation would impose an undue hardship.
 - MCCMS does not guarantee that all requests can be accommodated or that an applicant or student will get their preferred accommodation.
 - Accommodation requests will be considered on a case-by-case basis.

Policy Notes

There may be variations in State or Federal laws regarding the duty to provide a reasonable accommodation of a sincerely held religious belief, practice or observance. Mayo Clinic and its affiliated sites will comply with Federal, State and other local laws and regulations in the applicable jurisdiction.
