Dear <first name> <last name>,

Washington State University is committed to protecting the security and confidentiality of your personal information. Regrettably, we are writing to inform you about an incident involving some of your information that may have been accessed without authorization. Washington State University takes this incident very seriously. We want to provide you with information about what happened and help you take steps to protect yourself and your personal information.

On April 21, 2017, Washington State University learned that a locked safe containing a hard drive had been stolen. The hard drive was used to store backed-up files from a server used by our Social & Economic Sciences Research Center (SESRC). Immediately upon learning of the theft, we initiated an internal review and notified local law enforcement. On April 26, we confirmed that the stolen hard drive contained personal information from some survey participants and, as a result, we retained a leading computer forensics firm to assist in the investigation.

We know that not all of the information on the drive was encrypted and we have determined that the hard drive contained some of your personal information, including your name, address<variable data>.

We have no indication that the information on the hard drive has been accessed or misused in any way. However, as a precaution, we are notifying you of this incident and offering you a complimentary one-year membership to Experian's ProtectMyID Alert. This product helps detect possible misuse of your personal information and provides you with identity protection services focused on immediate identification and resolution of identity theft. ProtectMyID Alert is completely free to you and enrolling in this program will not hurt your credit score. For more information on ProtectMyID Alert, including instructions on how to activate your complimentary one-year membership, as well as some additional steps you can take, please see the page that follows this letter.

As president of Washington State University, I deeply regret that this incident occurred and am truly sorry for any concern it may cause you. We are committed to making improvements in our procedures and practices to help prevent this type of incident from happening again. Specifically, we will strengthen our information technology operations by completing a comprehensive assessment of IT practices and policies, improving training and awareness for university employees regarding best practices for handling data, and employing best practices for the delivery of IT services.

If you have any questions, please call 1-(866) 523-9195, Monday through Friday, from 8:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m. Pacific Time.

Sincerely,
