Notice of Data Breach

Dear Investor:

We are writing to inform you of an incident potentially involving some of your personal information that we hold. While we are not aware of any actual or attempted misuse of your information, we are providing you with an overview of the incident and resources available to you right now to protect yourself from any consequences. This notification has not been delayed because of a law enforcement investigation.

What Happened

On April 22, 2024, a third party attacked our email system and obtained unauthorized, remote access to the system. The third party had access to the email system for approximately 36 hours before being removed.

What Information Was Involved

Our investigation determined that the impacted information included limited partner names, authorized signatory names, business addresses, email addresses, phone and fax numbers, and limited partner Taxpayer Identification Numbers. This incident did not impact the security of your financial account numbers or payment information.

What We Are Doing

We responded to the incident immediately upon discovery and took steps to ensure the security of our systems. We are confident that the incident has been fully resolved and have taken steps to ensure the continuing integrity of your personal information and prevent future attackers from obtaining unauthorized access to our systems.

What You Can Do

Fraud Alerts

To protect yourself from the possibility of identity theft, we recommend that you evaluate placing a fraud alert on your credit files. A fraud alert conveys a special message to anyone requesting your credit report that you suspect you were a victim of fraud. When you or someone else attempts to open a credit account in your name, the lender should take measures to verify that you have authorized the request. A fraud alert should not stop you from using your existing credit cards or other accounts, but it may slow down your ability to get new credit. An initial fraud alert is valid for 90 days. To place a fraud alert on your credit reports, contact one of the three major credit reporting agencies at the appropriate number listed below or via their website. One agency will notify the other two on your behalf. You will then receive letters from the agencies with instructions on how to obtain a free copy of your credit report from each.

Equifax (888) 766-0008 or www.fraudalert.equifax.com
Experian (888) 397-3742 or www.experian.com
TransUnion (800) 680-7289 or www.transunion.com

Security Freezes

You may consider placing a Security Freeze, also known as a credit freeze, on your credit file, so that no new credit can be opened in your name without the use of a Personal Identification Number (PIN) that is issued to you when you initiate a freeze. A credit freeze is designed to prevent potential credit grantors from accessing your credit report without your consent. If you place a credit freeze, potential creditors and other third parties will not be able to access your credit report unless you temporarily lift the freeze. Therefore, using a credit freeze may delay your ability to obtain credit. Pursuant to federal law, you cannot be charged to place or lift a credit freeze on your credit report. Should you wish to place a credit freeze, please contact all three major consumer reporting agencies listed above.

You must separately place a credit freeze on your credit file at each credit reporting agency. The following information should be included when requesting a credit freeze:

- 1) Full name, with middle initial and any suffixes;
- 2) Social Security number;
- 3) Date of birth (month, day, and year);
- 4) Current address and previous addresses for the past five years;
- 5) Proof of current address, such as a current utility bill or telephone bill;
- 6) Other personal information as required by the applicable credit reporting agency.

If you request a credit freeze online or by phone, then the credit reporting agencies have one business day after receiving your request to place a credit freeze on your credit file report. If you request a lift of the credit freeze online or by phone, then the credit reporting agency must lift the freeze within one hour. If you request a credit freeze or lift of a credit freeze by mail, then the credit agency must place or lift the credit freeze no later than three business days after getting your request.

Review Credit Reports

When you receive a credit report from each agency, review the reports carefully. Look for accounts you did not open, inquiries from creditors that you did not initiate, and confirm that your personal information, such as home address and Social Security number, is accurate. If you see anything you do not understand or recognize, call the credit reporting agency at the telephone number on the report. You should also call your local police department and file a report of identity theft. Get and keep a copy of the police report because you may need to give copies to creditors to clear up your records or to access transaction records.

Even if you do not find signs of fraud on your credit reports, we recommend that you remain vigilant in reviewing your credit reports from the three major credit reporting agencies. You may obtain a free copy of your credit report once every 12 months by visiting www.annualcreditreport.com, calling toll-free 877-322-8228 or by completing an Annual Credit Request Form at: www.ftc.gov/bcp/menus/consumer/credit/rights.shtm and mailing to:

Annual Credit Report Request Service,

For More Information

You may further educate yourself regarding identity theft, fraud alerts, credit freezes, and the steps they can take to protect your personal information by contacting the consumer reporting bureaus, the Federal Trade Commission, or your state Attorney General (for more information on state-specific resources, please consult the Appendix attached to this letter.)

The Federal Trade Commission may be reached at: 600 Pennsylvania Avenue NW, Washington, D.C. 20580; www.identitytheft.gov; and 202-326-2222 (General Line). The Federal Trade Commission also permits those who discover that their information has been misused to file a complaint with them using the contact information listed above.

You have the right to file a police report if you ever experience identity theft or fraud. Please note that in order to file a report with law enforcement for identity theft, you will likely need to provide some proof that you have been a victim. Instances of known or suspected identity theft should also be reported to law enforcement and the relevant state Attorney General.

You may also visit the Securities and Exchange Commission Office of Investor Education and Advocacy's website (<https://www.sec.gov/spotlight/cybersecurity>) for more information about identity theft.

Finally, you may request a copy of reports we have filed with law enforcement to the extent we are able to provide.

If you have any questions or if there is anything we can do to further assist you, please call John McCleary at 646-251-2852.

Sincerely,
John McCleary
