

ACCESS

Every student deserves equal access to learning opportunities.

The Described and Captioned Media Program (DCMP) focuses on those classrooms having students with broad differences in their ability to see and hear. Description and captioning make educational media accessible to these students.

This DVD

- Defines and provides examples of description and captioning.
- Provides teacher testimony supporting the need for these accessibility options in educational media.
- Overviews the services provided by the DCMP, including our free-loan library of educational media.

Produced by Jacksonville State University Television Services

For more information, visit www.dcmp.org

Equal Access in the Classroom

presented by the Described and Captioned Media Program

If you enjoy this production please feel free to make copies to share with others!

Equal Access in the Classroom