Gasoline Service to Disabled Persons

The Vermont law entitled "Gasoline Service to Disabled Persons", enables a motor vehicle operator with a disability who has been issued a Disabled Registration Plate or a Disabled Parking Placard under Vermont law (23 V.S.A. §304a) or the laws of any other state, to receive the following:

- a. Full Service by a gasoline station attendant. This means that an attendant at a gasoline station or convenience store which sells gasoline must dispense gasoline at the request of a disabled person who is driving a motor vehicle with a Disabled Registration Plate or Placard.
- b. Gasoline at the self-service price. If an attendant has been required to dispense gasoline at the request of the disabled operator, and the station offers self-service at a lower rate, the operator is to be charged the lower self-service price. NOTE: Neither of the above rights applies to self-service gas stations or convenience stores that are operated by a single (sole) employee. These stations/stores are exempt from the requirements of the law. All gasoline stations and convenience stores which sell gasoline are required to prominently display the international symbol of disability access in order to notify patrons of the availability of the services. (Dispensing of gasoline at the self-service price on behalf of a registered motor vehicle operator who is disabled.)

If you have a complaint or questions regarding the “Gasoline Service to Disabled Persons” law, please contact Human Rights Commission, 14–16 Baldwin Street, Montpelier, VT 05633. Phone - Voice & TDD: (802) 828-2480 or (800) 416-2010.
