For the employee's leave to qualify for FMLA to care for their family member, the care must be considered medically necessary. This can include assistance with basic medical care, hygiene, nutritional, safety, or transportation needs, or psychological comfort. Additional medical facts are helpful in determining the need for FMLA; however, they are not required.

B. Medical Information (continued)

TO BE COMPLETED BY HEALTH CARE PROVIDER

For purposes of family leave, "serious health condition" means an illness, injury, impairment, or physical or mental condition that involves one or more of the following:

- 1) Hospital Care/Inpatient Care ¹: An overnight stay in a hospital, hospice, or residential medical care facility, including any period of incapacity or subsequent treatment in connection with or consequent to such inpatient care.
- 2) Absence Plus Treatment: A period of incapacity of more than three consecutive calendar days (including any subsequent treatment or period of incapacity relating to the same condition), that also involves:
 - a. Treatment ² two or more times within 30 days of the first day of incapacity by a health care provider, by a nurse or physician's assistant under direct supervision of a health care provider, or by a provider of health care services (e.g., physical therapist) under orders of, or on referral by, a health care provider; or
 - b. One visit for treatment by a health care provider which results in a regimen of continuing treatment ³ under the supervision of the health care provider.
- 3) Pregnancy/Prenatal Care Any period of incapacity due to pregnancy, or for prenatal care.
- 4) Chronic Conditions Requiring Treatments: A chronic condition which:
 - a. Requires at least two visits annually for treatment by a health care provider, or by a nurse or physician's assistant under direct supervision of a health care provider;
 - b. Continues over an extended period (including recurring episodes of a significant underlying condition); and
 - c. May cause episodic rather than a continuing period of incapacity (e.g., asthma, diabetes, epilepsy, etc.).
- 5) Permanent/Long-Term Conditions Requiring Supervision: A period of incapacity which is permanent or long-term due to a condition for which treatment may not be effective. The employee or family member must be under the continuing supervision of, but need not be receiving active treatment by, a health care provider. Examples include Alzheimer's, a severe stroke, or the terminal stages of a disease.
- 6) Multiple Treatments (Non-Chronic Conditions): Any period of absence to receive multiple treatments (including any period of recovery therefrom) by a health care provider or by a provider of health care services under orders of, or on referral by, a health care provider, either for restorative surgery after an accident or other injury, or for a condition that would likely result in a period of incapacity of more than three consecutive calendar days in the absence of medical intervention or treatment, such as cancer (chemotherapy, radiation, etc.), severe arthritis (physical therapy), or kidney disease (dialysis).
- 7) For purposes of family leave, Incapacity means a period of incapacity (i.e., inability to work, attend school or perform other regular daily activities due to the serious health condition, treatment therefore, or recovery therefrom.).
- 8) Light Duty is defined as a temporary modification or elimination of one or more of the essential functions of the position (For questions, please contact Employee Relations.).

Notice to Medical Provider: The Genetic Information Nondiscrimination Act of 2008 (GINA) prohibits employers and other entities covered by GINA Title II from requesting or requiring genetic information of an individual or family member, except as specifically allowed by this law. To comply with this law, the State of Alaska, as an employer, asks that you not provide any genetic information when responding to this request for medical information. "Genetic Information" as defined by GINA, includes an individual's family medical history, the results of an individual's or family member's genetic tests, the fact that an individual or an individual's family member sought or received genetic services, and genetic information of a fetus carried by an individual or an individual's family member or an embryo lawfully held by an individual or family member receiving assistive reproductive services.

¹ Here and elsewhere on this form, the information sought relates only to the condition for which the employee is taking family leave.

² Treatment includes examination to determine if a serious health condition exists and evaluation of the condition. Treatment does not include routine physical examinations, eye examinations, or dental examinations.

³ A regimen of continuing treatment includes, for example, a course of prescription medication (e.g., an antibiotic) or therapy requiring special equipment to resolve or alleviate the health condition. A regimen of treatment does not include the taking of over-the-counter medications such as aspirin, antihistamines, or salves, or bed rest, drinking fluids, exercise, or other similar activities that can be initiated without a visit to a health care provider.
