BEFORE THE
ILLINOIS COMMERCE COMMISSION

PRE-BENCH OPEN MEETING

Chicago, Illinois
October 6, 2009

Met, pursuant to notice at 1:30 p.m.

BEFORE:

- MR. CHARLES E. BOX, Chairman
- MS. LULA M. FORD, Commissioner
- MS. ERIN M. O'CONNELL-DIAZ, Commissioner
- MR. SHERMAN J. ELLIOTT, Commissioner

SULLIVAN REPORTING COMPANY, by Patricia Wesley, CSR, RPR

1 CHAIRMAN BOX: Good afternoon. Is everything all
2 set in Springfield?

3 JUDGE WALLACE: Yes.

4 CHAIRMAN BOX: Pursuant to the provisions of the 5 Illinois Open Meetings Act, I now convene the 6 regularly scheduled pre-bench session of the 7 Illinois Commerce Commission.

8 With me in Chicago are Commissioners
9 Ford, and O'Connell-Diaz, and Elliott. I am 10 Chairman Box. We have a quorum.

11 Before moving into the agenda, this is 12 the time we allow members of the public to address 13 the Commission. Members of the public wishing to 14 address the Commission must notify the Chief Clerk's 15 office at least 24 hours prior to the bench session.
16 According to the Chief Clerk's office, there have 17 been no requests to speak.

18 We have one item on the agenda today,
19 Docket 08-0363, Northern Illinois Gas Company's 20 order on rehearing regarding its proposed general 21 increase in natural gas rates. The issue on 22 rehearing was whether the entire amount of 1 short-term debt should be imputed in the capital 2 structure or should a lesser amount be included in 3 the capital structure, if any.

4 Judge Sainsot and Judge Kimbrel are 5 with us.

6 JUDGE SAINSOT: Just to start off with, we are 7 required by law to tell you if there are any new 8 comments on rehearing. There are no new comments.

9 CHAIRMAN BOX: Thank you. Do you want to give us
10 a brief overview of the one issue in this particular 11 case?

12 JUDGE SAINSOT: Yes. This Commission granted 13 rehearing solely to determine whether the amount of 14 short-term debt that was included in Nicor's capital 15 structure in the final order in this docket was the 16 proper amount to include or whether a lesser amount 17 is in order. Implicit in this ruling is the 18 recognition of the fact that it is appropriate to 19 include some short-term debt in Nicor's capital
20 structure.

21 On rehearing, Nicor and staff chose not 22 to present any testimony, instead they stipulated to

1 the admission of certain data request responses into 2 evidence.

3                   Also, on rehearing Nicor argued that if 4 the difference between this case and its previous 5 rate cases is inclusion of cash working capital in 6 its capital structure, then the amount of Nicor's 7 short-term debt should be limited to the amount of 8 its cash working capital.

9                   The problem with that argument is that 10 Nicor, the party with the burden of proof, did not 11 present any evidence establishing that the amount of 12 its cash working capital is the same as the amount 13 of its short-term debt.

14                   The significance of the fact that cash
15 working capital was included in Nicor's capital 16 structure is not the amount of its cash working 17 capital, rather it is that once Nicor placed cash
18 working capital in its cash capital structure, staff
19 investigated the sources of Nicor's cash working 20 capital.

21                   That investigation led staff to 22 conclude that Nicor's short-term debt was the source

1 of Nicor's cash working capital. It also led staff
2 to conclude that Nicor fund rate base items were 3 short-term debt. There was no evidence presented on 4 rehearing indicating that staff was wrong.

5                   On rehearing Nicor also argued that the 6 amount -- that most of its seasonal gas purchases
7 are investor financed; however, staff established, 8 through its discussion of rehearing Exhibit 4, that 9 because Nicor uses a type of last-in, first-out 10 accounting method, Nicor pays for this gas with 11 customer-supplied funds, and there's no evidence 12 indicating that staff is incorrect.

13                   I should also point out to you that 14 also included in the order is a determination as to 15 the joint motion to reopen. Originally the final 16 order in this docket concluded that a rulemaking 17 should commence with the purpose of establishing 18 standards for gas efficiency programs. Since that 19 time, the General Assembly enacted Section 8-104 of 20 the Public Utilities Act.

21                   The joint movant stated that,
22 therefore, a rulemaking on this issue was not

1 necessary and the order before you agrees with them, 2 and we should also remind you that if you change the 3 amount of short-term debt, then the appendix to the 4 original order would need to be changed, so you just 5 need to let us know so we can change the appendix.

6                   Also, if the amount of short-term debt
7 is changed, Nicor will need a few days to re-file 8 its tariffs and that should be reflected in the 9 order.

10   Any questions?

11       CHAIRMAN BOX: Any questions from the bench?

12   (No response.)

13                   I have a few. Judge Sainsot, could you 14 go through and just give me the differences between 15 this case and the three prior rate cases where 16 short-term debt was not imputed in the capital
17 structure.

18       JUDGE SAINOT: Well, there are a couple of 19 differences. One, the chief difference is inclusion 20 of cash working capital, because once -- in the 21 capital structure -- because once cash working 22 capital was included in the capital structure, then

1 staff took a look at what was in cash working 2 capital and that led staff to conclude that a 3 portion of cash working capital was short-term debt.

4           Also, in this case there was only three 5 months where Nicor had no short-term debt. In 6 previous cases there were many more months where 7 Nicor was found to have no short-term debt 8 whatsoever.

9       CHAIRMAN BOX: In any months at all?

10       JUDGE SAINSOT: Well, no, it had some. In the 11 last case I think it had five months with no 12 short-term debt whatsoever and the other seven 13 months it had short-term debt.

14       CHAIRMAN BOX: What about this particular case?

15       JUDGE SAINSOT: It has three months.

16       CHAIRMAN BOX: Didn't those cases say that's not 17 an indication of the fact that shareholder money was 18 being used and not ratepayer money so the point of 19 distinguishing the fact that there was no short-term 20 debt should not be included in short-term debt?

21       JUDGE SAINSOT: Well, obviously, shareholder
22 money would have been used during those three months

1 or those five months if short-term debt wasn't used.

2 COMMISSIONER FORD: I guess I had an issue,
3 because, as the Chairman said, that for the three 4 times we have included -- it's been included, and I
5 look back and see there in Black's Law where it says 6 legal precedent, and not being a lawyer and I was 7 wondering if those three times that the Commission 8 did include that we would be remiss if we did not 9 include it this time?

10 JUDGE SAINSOT: Well, you are quite right that to 11 pay attention to the precedent. The trouble is here
12 is that the facts are different, and when the facts 13 are different, you don't have legal precedence, and 14 that is discussed in the order before you.

15 CHAIRMAN BOX: Succinctly tell us what that 16 difference is, the actual difference?

17 JUDGE SAINSOT: Well, I just mentioned the other 18 two, the first two that come to mind. I believe 19 there are others in the order as well.

20 COMMISSIONER O'CONNELL-DIAZ: Well, "others"
21 meaning other cases?

22 JUDGE SAINSOT: No, other facts.

1       COMMISSIONER O'CONNELL-DIAZ:  So there's three 2 months differences of utmost importance to your 3 recommendation?

4       JUDGE SAINSOT:  No.  The most important fact here
5 is staff's analysis of what was in cash working 6 capital, which was in the original testimony in the 7 case in chief before rehearing.  That is the most 8 significant fact.  We didn't have that in any other 9 case.  We didn't have staff going through the cash 10 on hand -- what Nicor's cash on hand is, which is 11 what cash working is.  It's not just an accounting 12 function.  It is what the -- what cash Nicor has on 13 a daily basis, where that money comes from.

14       COMMISSIONER O'CONNELL-DIAZ:  And I think the 15 most recent Commonwealth Edison case is the cash
16 working capital.

17       JUDGE SAINSOT:  Right, but staff's analysis of 18 cash working capital led it to conclude in that case 19 that there was no short-term debt in cash working 20 capital.

21       COMMISSIONER O'CONNELL-DIAZ:  It wasn't an 22 exhaustive review in that proceeding by staff.

1 JUDGE SAINSOT: Pardon me?

2 COMMISSIONER O'CONNELL-DIAZ: There was not an 3 exhaustive review of cash working capital by staff 4 in that proceeding.

5 JUDGE SAINSOT: I don't know. All I know is 6 looking at the order there was no mention. You have 7 a better feel for that than I would.

8 CHAIRMAN BOX: Commissioner Elliott.

9 COMMISSIONER ELLIOTT: I just have got a comment.
10 It seems the distinctive difference is an exhaustive 11 study analysis performed in this proceeding with 12 regard to that issue. It seems to be a perfunctory
13 look at short-term debt and the amount on hand month 14 to month in the prior cases. It seems to be quite 15 different.

16 JUDGE SAINSOT: Well, and I would also point out 17 that gas in and of itself is much more seasonal than 18 electricity and staff has talked exclusively about 19 the need for short-term debt due to the seasonal 20 nature of gas purchases and use of gas.

21 CHAIRMAN BOX: In Peoples' last rate case, their 22 short-term debt was zero, wasn't it?

1 JUDGE SAINSOT: That's correct, and North Shore
2 too, which was part of that case.

3 CHAIRMAN BOX: And that was zero because did the 4 staff do an exhaustive review in that particular 5 case to see if, in fact, short-term debt existed or 6 not or just --

7 JUDGE SAINSOT: Either that or Peoples had no
8 short-term debt and Peoples handled its finances 9 differently. That's the only thing I can think of.

10 COMMISSIONER O'CONNELL-DIAZ: Didn't the 11 Commission reject the theory on four different 12 occasions in four different matters that we had 13 before us?

14 JUDGE SAINSOT: Well, it rejected it in the last 15 two Nicor rate cases, that is true; however, 16 factually I think we have a different situation,
17 otherwise, we wouldn't be here.

18 COMMISSIONER O'CONNELL-DIAZ: Whose testimony can 19 I look to to support the staff's exhibit -- the LIFO 20 analysis that you refer to in your --

21 JUDGE SAINSOT: There is no testimony on that.
22 That was part of the evidence that was stipulated

1 to. There's absolutely no testimony on that that I
2 can recall. No, that's not true actually.
3 Mr. Arbushaw (phonetic) testified as to that 4 procedure, but staff's particular analysis comes 5 from what was stipulated into evidence on rehearing.

6 COMMISSIONER FORD: Well, except when short-term 7 debt can be traced to a particular asset, then it's 8 treated in the same manner as long-term debt. I 9 guess I had questions along -- issues along those 10 lines because it seems that in our other cases -- 11 the three other cases you did not bring all that 12 into the factual component of the case. That's why 13 I'm having an issue with this.

14 If a child gets an F three times and -- 15 I mean an A three times and comes back and gets an 16 F, I want to have substantial reasons, and you are 17 saying that Nicor did not present evidence that they 18 did not track a short-term debt?

19 JUDGE SAINCOT: Yes, that's correct. That's not 20 the only thing we are stating here, but that's 21 correct. I'm not saying that Nicor has to track its 22 debt.

1                   What we are saying here is that it
2 would be a lot easier if for Nicor or any other 3 utility in the future if they found a way to track
4 its debt. That's all.

5           COMMISSIONER O'CONNELL-DIAZ: But to disallow the 6 totality of what Commissioner Ford was referring to 7 as a kind of precedent that I'm just -- it's not 8 clear to me that there's a procedural evidentiary 9 record in this matter to lead us to that place and 10 that there should be somewhat of an apportionment, 11 and if that's the way the Commission is going to be 12 looking at this issue you have noted, maybe we need 13 to signal that, but there's just a whole host of 14 cases where short-term debt has been treated in the 15 manner that the Commission has treated it and so 16 that becomes to me, the regulatory certainty. I
17 just don't see anything in this record that wins me 18 over to the other side.

19                   That being said, you know, I'm thinking 20 there should be a middle ground as opposed to this 21 all or nothing, which that is the problem that I 22 see, and I would prefer to see a middle ground, and

1 if this is the way the Commission's going to be 2 looking at this as our determination, then we should 3 signal to our companies that they need to start 4 keeping their records in a different manner than 5 they have if we are going to be looking at it like 6 this.

7                   It's very clear to me from 8 Mr. Arboushaw's testimony in the case in chief, 9 which, you know, led right into the reopening that 10 with these monies there is a three-month period that 11 due to the seasonal fluctuation of the business that 12 they're in.

13                   We can do all sorts of different kinds 14 of analyses and hypotheticals, but that doesn't give 15 me comfort on the facts level that this is 16 appropriate nor legally sustainable, and so, you
17 know, I understand it.

18                   I think we are in a situation where 19 obviously the books and records are not kept in the 20 manner that I think staff would like them to be, so 21 maybe we need to signal that, but this all or 22 nothing I think is really --

1       COMMISSIONER ELLIOTT:  On the other hand, I think 2 we did just exactly that in reopening.

3                   I thought that our judge's opening 4 statement with regard to what was requested to be 5 provided, and the company provided no evidence with 6 regard to anything other than the total.

7       COMMISSIONER O'CONNELL-DIAZ:  I believe because 8 these amounts are fungible, which is webbed through 9 all the testimony, that there's a problem of 10 producing a document that's got these numbers and 11 where it went and how that was tracked.  I think 12 that --

13       JUDGE SAINCOT:  Well, I didn't mean to interrupt
14 you.  I'm sorry.  I'm sorry.

15       COMMISSIONER O'CONNELL-DIAZ:  So I just think 16 that that presents the problem.  If we are going to 17 be requiring our companies to do that, then I think 18 we should give them a signal to do that and I think 19 -- also, staff's position I think we could have 20 gotten a better argument that there was some portion 21 but they just weren't sure what it was, so I guess 22 it's up to us to determine what's fair and

1 reasonable and also what we could -- how we could 2 get to a legally sustainable order. I just find 3 this should be really an about face as to how we 4 have dealt with it in most of the recent rate cases 5 which had had cash working capital, so, you know, 6 I --

7       COMMISSIONER ELLIOTT: I think in my review I
8 don't think there's any question, there's no doubt, 9 that the company has short-term debt in its capital
10 structure. The question is whether they utilize 11 that short-term debt to fund rate base assets, and I
12 think that's the difference in the analysis 13 performed in this case that is different from the 14 analysis performed in the other cases as to whether 15 or not there's been any relationship and that's the 16 analysis in the cash working capital that was not 17 performed in those prior cases and I think that 18 distinguishes this case from the others.

19                   Now to the regard with if there's some 20 level under the totality again, it's Nicor's burden 21 to provide that evidence, and I think your 22 statements here is that that evidence was not

1 provided and that's sort of where I'm at. They have 2 had not only the opportunity in the case in chief 3 but rehearing.

4 CHAIRMAN BOX: You just started saying something 5 earlier. What were you saying?

6 JUDGE SAINSBOT: Well, I'm sorry. Again, I didn't 7 mean to interrupt anyone. There's no evidence here 8 that it couldn't have been some testimony or like 9 evidence about pattern and practice that when we get 10 this kind of a situation this is how we function.
11 It would have been a simple matter to do.

12 There's no evidence here as to that.
13 What we do have is Nicor saying, well, you know, the 14 monies all over the place. Well, in reality they 15 probably do -- for the margin calls, for example, 16 they probably do go to certain place when they have 17 margin calls and that would have been a very simple 18 thing to do, and it wasn't done.

19 CHAIRMAN BOX: So does it concern you at all that 20 if we are talking about LIFO, and FIFO, and 21 accounting procedures, to see a company go from zero
22 percent short-term debt in their capital structure

1 to 19 percent if my numbers are right? Does that 2 cause you some pause?

3 JUDGE SAINSOT: Yes. And I was kind of shocked 4 that Nicor chose not to present testimony and just 5 stipulated to the admission of data request 6 responses.

7 CHAIRMAN BOX: The staff thought that the 8 position didn't have to be all or nothing and the 9 company puts forth a compromise position and that 10 was not acceptable to you in your order either.

11 Was there any particular reason why 12 given the fact that going from zero to 19 to the 13 fact that the last three cases we ruled a certain 14 way and we haven't signaled anything? Staff never 15 agreed with that, but I think that's something we 16 have to take up later, too, that when -- I think we 17 talked about this at the oral argument, that when I
18 asked for precedence, I was given a list of cases 19 that the staff had taken a certain position and the 20 last time I checked that's not precedent.

21 I wanted to know how the Commission
22 ruled and it just seems like maybe I shouldn't say

1 staff is lying in wait for something like this where 2 Peoples is zero, Com Edison is zero, and I've never 3 seen a company's short-term debt at 19 percent.

4 COMMISSIONER FORD: And I'm looking at the 5 conclusion in 9-507 (phonetic) that says to me 6 included -- short-term debt should be included in 7 the company's capital structure adopted in this 8 procedure. Short-term debt is used as a source of 9 financing assets in rate base.

10 So when we come to those kinds of 11 conclusions and our failure to include it 12 understates (sic) the amount of the cost of debt, 13 that supports the company's rate base. This is from 14 our own dockets. Not being a lawyer, I'm just being 15 able to analyze and synthesize some information.

16 COMMISSIONER O'CONNELL-DIAZ: I guess the other 17 part I'm trying to keep in my mind is short-term 18 debt is more expensive than long-term debt.
19 Short-term debt actually helps the company's bottom 20 line and, in fact, helps the rates be lower, so for 21 us to discourage usage of short-term debt and 22 encourage or disallow that I think is not an

1 appropriate thing because at some point in time that 2 will have an effect on the bottom line, so I think 3 Commissioner Ford's statement that she just read
4 from one of our other dockets is totally on board 5 and on point.

6                   Again, to go back to the testimony that 7 was given by the company in Exhibits 24.1, 24.2, 8 Exhibit 3, I don't know if they have anything more 9 than what they gave in the first round because these 10 are fungible.

11                   We know they had zero balances three 12 months of the year. In the other cases that the 13 Commission has approved it was four months and seven 14 months, so I think we get into semantics in regard 15 to that.

16                   In other company cases, other than 17 Nicor, have a lot of this short-term debt and most 18 recently Com Ed, and although I think Peoples, as 19 Commissioner Elliott pointed out, wasn't heavily
20 litigated, I don't know if there was an agreement, 21 but short-term debt is utilized during the seasonal 22 fluctuation and I think that hitting the bottom line

1 keeps prices and keeps the company in a good
2 financial picture which is important for customers.

3                   So for us to do an about face without 4 having the absolute concrete evidence in a record to 5 me that's troubling, so I think we know it's not a 6 hundred percent. It's not -- to me, I think it 7 should be some middle place that we might find 8 ourselves would be a reasonable conclusion for this 9 situation.

10       CHAIRMAN BOX: Does the record include latitude
11 for something other than zero or all?

12       JUDGE SAINCOT: I really wish it did. The only 13 thing that we thought represented a middle ground
14 was reducing it to the amount of Nicor's cash
15 working capital.

16                   The problem with that is that Nicor's 17 cash working capital is not the same as it's 18 short-term debt and there's no indication that they 19 equate each other in that way. They're two separate 20 entities, but that would be it.

21       CHAIRMAN BOX: Any other questions of the judge?
