Filing codes for Type of Insurance that have all zeros after the decimal point include all listed sub-codes (if any), when this Type of Insurance code is listed under Type of Insurance in the filing transmittal document. An example, to correctly represent on the Uniform Property & Casualty Transmittal Document, is as follows:

Placing Code 11.0000 (Medical Malpractice) under Type of Insurance on the transmittal document would denote the filing of all its sub-codes listed. If all of the sub-codes represent occurrence coverage, then it is necessary to list the code 11.1000 (Occurrence) as a second code under Type of Insurance. If all of the sub-codes represent claims made coverage, then it is necessary to list the code 11.2000 (Claims Made) as a second code under Type of Insurance. If the sub-codes under Code 11.000 vary between occurrence and claims made coverage, then it will be necessary to list each sub-code as either occurrence or claims made by denoting a 1 or 2 immediately following the sub-codes decimal point as explained in the following example.

*Filing codes for Sub-Type of Insurance with sub-codes that denote a 1 or 2 immediately following the decimal point are to be used to clarify a coverage sub-code so that only one sub-code number is needed to file for a particular coverage, rather than two. An example, to correctly represent on the Uniform Property & Casualty Transmittal Document, is as follows:

The filing for claims made acupuncture coverage (located in the Type of Insurance for Medical Malpractice), as correctly entered under Sub-Type of Insurance of the transmittal document.

The claims made sub-code in the example is 11.2000. The acupuncture sub-code without designating whether it is occurrence or claims made is 11.0001.

Since the first digit following the decimal for 11.2000 is the number 2, that number may be dropped down in lieu of the 0 for the first decimal in the acupuncture sub-code. This would therefore change the acupuncture sub-code from 11.001 to 11.2001, which would effectively designate its coverage as that of claims made acupuncture.

The same procedure is applicable to sub-codes where other double-asterisks appear, such as the following: Sub-codes 5.1000 (Non-Liability Portion for the Commercial Multiple Peril Type of Insurance) and 5.2000 (Liability Portion for the Commercial Multiple Peril Type of Insurance); 17.1000 (Occurrence for the Other Liability Type of Insurance) and 17.2000 (Claims Made for the Other Liability Type of Insurance).

SERFF Notes: SERFF limits each filing to a single Type of Insurance (TOI) and Sub-Type of Insurance (Sub-TOI).

When a filing contains more than one of the identified Sub-Types of Insurance, use the appropriate .0000 "Combinations" code. Example 1: If a Homeowners filing includes both 4.0003 Owner Occupied Homeowners and 4.0004 Tenant Homeowners, use 4.0000 Homeowners Sub-TOI Combinations as the SERFF Sub-Type of Insurance. Example 2: If a Medical Malpractice filing includes both occurrence and claims made coverage for Acupuncture, use code 11.0001. If it includes only claims made coverage but for Acupuncture, Chiropractic and Optometry, use code 11.2000.

Because auto filings are either Private Passenger Auto or Commercial Auto and because most contain both liability and physical damage exposures, the codes for Private Passenger Auto and Commercial Auto have been added to the table to accommodate these filings in SERFF. Hint: The first digit after the decimal designates Private Passenger (.1) or Commercial (.2). The last (fourth) digit after the decimal designates No-Fault/PIP (.X001) or Liability (.X0002).

Coverage purchased by consumers, manufacturers, merchants, educational institutions or other providers of goods and services extending credit, for indemnification of losses or damages resulting from the nonpayment of debts owed to/from them for goods or services provided in the normal course of their business.

Credit insurance is generally issued in connection with the issuance of credit to an individual by a bank, retailer, finance company or other similar organization and protects the organization for the unpaid balance of the loan and frequently for durations of less than 120 months. (Taken from SSAP No. 59, Credit Life and Accident and Health Contracts.)

Personal GAP (Guaranteed Asset Protection) Insurance

Credit insurance that insures the excess of the outstanding indebtedness over the primary property insurance benefits in the event of a total loss to a collateral asset.

*States may require annual statement to be completed differently from the recommendation.

Credit Involuntary Unemployment

Credit insurance that provides a monthly or lump sum benefit during an unpaid leave of absence from employment resulting from specified causes, such as layoff, business closure, strike, illness of a close relative and adoption or birth of a child. This insurance is sometimes referred to as Credit Family Leave.

Force-Placed Business:

Include all types of business that are “force-placed” or “lender-placed” in the same pre defined lines of business as business placed by borrower or creditor for the same coverage.

Force-placed (also known as lender-placed and creditor-placed insurance) is insurance that is placed by the lender subsequent to the date of the credit transaction, providing coverage against loss, expense or damage to collateralized property as a result of fire, theft, collision or other risks of loss that would either impair a creditor’s interest or adversely affect the value of collateral covered by limited dual-interest insurance. It is purchased by the lender according to the terms of the credit agreement as a result of the borrower’s failure to provide required insurance, with the cost of the coverage being charged to the borrower. It may be either single-interest insurance or limited dual-interest insurance.
