SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Background

The Continued Dumping and Subsidy Offset Act of 2000 (CDSOA) was enacted on October 28, 2000, as part of the Agriculture, Rural Development, Food and Drug Administration, and Related Agencies Appropriations Act, 2001 (the “Act”). The provisions of the CDSOA are contained in title X (sections 1001–1003) of the appendix of the Act (H.R. 5426).

The CDSOA amended title VII of the Tariff Act of 1930 by adding section 754 (codified at 19 U.S.C. 1675c) to provide that assessed duties received pursuant to a countervailing duty order, an anti-dumping duty order, or a finding under the Antidumping Act of 1921 will be distributed to affected domestic producers for certain qualifying expenditures that these producers incur after the issuance of such an order or finding. The term “affected domestic producer” means any manufacturer, producer, farmer, rancher, or worker representative (including associations of such persons) who:

(A) Was a petitioner or interested party in support of a petition with respect to which an antidumping duty order, a finding under the Antidumping Act of 1921, or a countervailing duty order has been entered;

(B) Remains in operation continuing to produce the product covered by the countervailing duty order, the antidumping duty order, or the finding under the Antidumping Act of 1921; and

(C) Has not been acquired by another company or business that is related to a company that opposed the antidumping or countervailing duty investigation that led to the order or finding (e.g., opposed the petition or otherwise presented evidence in opposition to the petition). The distribution that these parties may receive is known as the continued dumping and subsidy offset.

Section 7601(a) of the Deficit Reduction Act of 2005 repealed 19 U.S.C. 1675c. According to section 7701 of the Deficit Reduction Act, the repeal takes effect as if enacted on October 1, 2005. However, section 7601(b) provides that all duties collected on an entry filed before October 1, 2007, must be distributed as if 19 U.S.C. 1675c had not been repealed by section 7601(a). The funds available for distribution were also affected by section 822 of the Claims Resolution Act of 2010 and section 504 of the Tax Relief, Unemployment Insurance Reauthorization, and Job Creation Act of 2010.

Historically, the antidumping and countervailing duties assessed and received by U.S. Customs and Border Protection (CBP) on CDSOA-subject entries, along with the interest assessed and received on those duties pursuant to 19 U.S.C. 1677g, were transferred to the CDSOA Special Account for distribution. 66 FR 48546, Sept. 21, 2001; see also 19 CFR 159.64(e). Other types of interest, including delinquency interest that accrued pursuant to 19 U.S.C. 1505(d), equitable interest under common law, and interest under 19 U.S.C. 580, were not subject to distribution. Id.

Section 605 of the Trade Facilitation and Trade Enforcement Act of 2015 (TFTEA) (Pub. L. 114–125, February 24, 2016; codified as 19 U.S.C. 4401), provided new authority for CBP to deposit into the CDSOA Special Account for distribution delinquency interest that accrued pursuant to 19 U.S.C. 1505(d), equitable interest under common law, and interest under 19 U.S.C. 580 for all surety payments received by CBP on or after October 1, 2014, on CDSOA subject entries, as well as post-judgment interest received by CBP on those surety payments (see 28 U.S.C. 1961).

On March 28, 2022, President Biden ordered the sequester of non-exempt budgetary resources for Fiscal Year 2023 pursuant to section 251A of the Balanced Budget and Emergency Deficit Control Act of 1985, as amended (87 FR 18603, March 31, 2022). To implement this sequester during Fiscal Year 2023, the calculation of the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) requires a reduction of 5.7 percent of the assessed duties and interest received in the CDSOA Special Account (account number 015–12–5688). OMB has concluded that any amounts sequestered in the CDSOA Special Account during Fiscal Year 2023 will become available in the subsequent fiscal year (see 2 U.S.C. 906(k)(6)). As a result, CBP intends to include the funds that are temporarily reduced via sequester during Fiscal Year 2023 in the continued dumping and subsidy offset for Fiscal Year 2023, which will be distributed not later than 60 days after the first day of Fiscal Year 2024 in accordance with 19 U.S.C. 1675c(c). In other words, the continued dumping and subsidy offset that affected domestic producers receive for Fiscal Year 2023 will include the funds that were temporarily sequestered during Fiscal Year 2023.

Because of the statutory constraints in the assessments of anti-dumping and countervailing duties, as well as the additional time involved when the Government must initiate litigation to collect delinquent antidumping and countervailing duties, the CDSOA distribution process will be continued for an undetermined period. Consequently, the full impact of the CDSOA repeal on amounts available for distribution has been delayed for several years. It should also be noted that amounts distributed may be subject to recovery as a result of reliquidations, court actions, administrative errors, and other reasons.

List of Orders or Findings and Affected Domestic Producers

It is the responsibility of the U.S. International Trade Commission (USITC) to ascertain and timely forward to CBP a list of the affected domestic producers that are potentially eligible to receive an offset in connection with an order or finding. In this regard, it is noted that the USITC has supplied CBP with the list of individual antidumping and countervailing duty cases, and the affected domestic producers associated with each case who are potentially eligible to receive an offset. This list appears at the end of this document.

A significant amount of litigation has challenged various provisions of the CDSOA, including the definition of the term “affected domestic producer.” In two decisions, the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit (Federal Circuit) upheld the constitutionality of the support requirement contained in the CDSOA. Specifically, in SKF USA Inc. v. United States Customs & Border Prot., 556 F.3d 1337 (Fed. Cir. 2009), the Federal Circuit held that the CDSOA’s support requirement did not violate either the First or Fifth Amendment. The Supreme Court of the United States denied plaintiff’s petition for certiorari, SKF USA, Inc. v. United States Customs & Border Prot., 560 U.S. 903 (2010). Similarly, in PS Chez Sidney, L.L.C. v. United States, 409 Fed. Appx. 327 (Fed. Cir. 2010), the Federal Circuit summarily reversed the U.S. Court of International Trade’s judgment that the support requirement was unconstitutional, allowing only plaintiff’s non-constitutional claims to go forward. See PS Chez Sidney, L.L.C. v. United States, 684 F.3d 1374 (Fed. Cir. 2012). Furthermore, in two cases interpreting the CDSOA’s language, the Federal Circuit concluded that a producer who never indicates support for a dumping petition by letter or through questionnaire response, despite the act of otherwise filling out a questionnaire, cannot be an affected domestic producer. Ashley Furniture Indus., Inc. et al. v. United States, 734 F.3d 1306 (Fed. Cir. 2013), cert. denied, 135 S. Ct. 72 (2014); Giorgio Foods, Inc. v. United States et al., 785 F.3d 595 (Fed. Cir. 2015).

Domestic producers who are not on the USITC list but believe they nonetheless are eligible for a CDSOA distribution under one or more antidumping and/or countervailing duty cases are required, as are all potential claimants that expressly appear on the list, to properly file their certification(s) within 60 days after this notice is published. Such domestic producers must allege all other bases for eligibility in their certification(s). CBP will evaluate the merits of such claims in accordance with the relevant statutes, regulations, and decisions. Certifications that are not timely filed within the requisite 60 days and/or that fail to sufficiently establish a basis for eligibility will be summarily denied. Additionally, CBP may not make a final decision regarding a claimant’s eligibility to receive funds until certain legal issues which may affect that claimant’s eligibility are resolved. In these instances, CBP may withhold an amount of funds corresponding to the claimant’s alleged pro rata share of funds from distribution pending the resolution of those legal issues.

It should also be noted that the Federal Circuit ruled in Canadian Lumber Trade Alliance v. United States, 517 F.3d 1319 (Fed. Cir. 2008), cert. denied sub nom. United States Steel v. Canadian Lumber Trade Alliance, 129 S. Ct. 344 (2008), that CBP was not authorized to distribute such antidumping and countervailing duties to the extent they were derived from goods from countries that are parties to the North American Free Trade Agreement (NAFTA). Due to this decision, CBP does not list cases related to NAFTA on the Preliminary Amounts Available report, and no distributions will be issued on these cases.

Regulations Implementing the CDSOA

It is noted that CBP published Treasury Decision (T.D.) 01–68 (Distribution of Continued Dumping and Subsidy Offset to Affected Domestic Producers) in the Federal Register (66 FR 48546) on September 21, 2001, which was effective as of that date, to implement the CDSOA. The final rule added subpart F to part 159 of title 19, Code of Federal Regulations (19 CFR part 159, subpart F (sections 159.61– 159.64)). More specific guidance regarding the filing of certifications is provided in this notice to aid affected domestic producers and other domestic producers alleging eligibility (“claimants” or “domestic producers”).

Notice of Intent To Distribute Offset

This document announces that CBP intends to distribute to affected domestic producers the assessed antidumping or countervailing duties, section 1677g interest, and interest provided for in 19 U.S.C. 4401 that are available for distribution in Fiscal Year 2023 in connection with those antidumping duty orders or findings or countervailing duty orders that are listed in this document. All distributions will be issued by paper check to the address provided by the claimants. Section 159.62(a) of title 19, Code of Federal Regulations (19 CFR 159.62(a)), provides that CBP will publish such a notice of intention to distribute at least 90 calendar days before the end of a fiscal year. Failure to publish the notice at least 90 calendar days before the end of the fiscal year will not affect an affected domestic producer’s obligation to file a timely certification within 60 days after the notice is published. See Dixon Ticonderoga v. United States, 468 F.3d 1353, 1354 (Fed. Cir. 2006).

To obtain a distribution of the offset under a given order or finding (including any distribution under 19 U.S.C. 4401), an affected domestic producer (and anyone alleging eligibility to receive a distribution) must submit a certification for each order or finding under which a distribution is sought, to CBP, indicating its desire to receive a distribution. To be eligible to obtain a distribution, certifications must be received by CBP no later than 60 calendar days after the date of publication of this notice of intent to distribute in the Federal Register. Claimants are encouraged to submit certifications electronically at <https://www.pay.gov> under the Public Form Name, “Continued Dumping and Subsidy Offset Act of 2000 Certification” (CBP Form Number 7401) to ensure CBP’s timely receipt and to avoid any potential delivery delays associated with mail or courier service. All certifications not received by the 60th day will not be eligible to receive a distribution.

As required by 19 CFR 159.62(b), this notice provides the case name and number of the order or finding concerned, as well as the specific instructions for filing a certification under section 159.63 to claim a distribution. Section 159.62(b) also provides that the dollar amounts subject to distribution that are contained in the Special Account for each listed order or finding are to appear in this notice. However, these dollar amounts were not available in time for inclusion in this publication. The preliminary amounts will be posted on the CBP website (<https://www.cbp.gov>). However, the final amounts available for disbursement may be higher or lower than the preliminary amounts.

CBP will provide general information to claimants regarding the preparation of certification(s). However, it remains the sole responsibility of the domestic producer to ensure that the certification is correct, complete, and accurate so as to demonstrate the eligibility of the domestic producer for the distribution requested. Failure to ensure that the certification is correct, complete, and accurate as provided in this notice will result in the domestic producer not receiving a distribution and/or a demand for the return of funds.

Specifically, to obtain a distribution of the offset under a given order or finding (including any distribution under 19 U.S.C. 4401), each potential claimant must timely submit a certification containing the required information detailed below as to the eligibility of the domestic producer (or anyone alleging eligibility) to receive the requested distribution and the total amount of the distribution that the domestic producer is claiming. Certifications should be submitted electronically at <https://www.pay.gov> utilizing Public Form Name, “Continued Dumping and Subsidy Offset Act of 2000 Certification” (CBP Form Number 7401) or by mail to U.S. Customs and Border Protection, Revenue Division, Attention: CDSOA Team, 6650 Telecom Drive, Suite 100, Indianapolis, IN, 46278. The certification must enumerate the qualifying expenditures incurred by the domestic producer since the issuance of an order or finding and it must demonstrate that the domestic producer is eligible to receive a distribution as an affected domestic producer or allege another basis for eligibility. Any false statements made in connection with certifications submitted to CBP may give rise to liability under the False Claims Act (see 31 U.S.C. 3729–3733) and/or to criminal prosecution.

A successor to a company that was an affected domestic producer at the time of acquisition should consult 19 CFR 159.61(b)(1)(i). Any company that files a certification claiming to be the successor company to an affected domestic producer will be deemed to have consented to joint and several liability for the return of any overpayments arising under 19 CFR 159.64(b)(3) that were previously paid to the predecessor. CBP may require the successor company to provide documents to support its eligibility to receive a distribution as set out in 19 CFR 159.63(d). Additionally, any individual or company who purchases any portion of the operating assets of an affected domestic producer, a successor to an affected domestic producer, or an entity that otherwise previously received distributions may be jointly and severally liable for the return of any overpayments arising under 19 CFR 159.64(b)(3) that were previously paid to the entity from which the operating assets were purchased or its predecessor, regardless of whether the purchasing individual or company is deemed a successor company for purposes of receiving distributions.

A member company (or its successor) of an association that appears on the list of affected domestic producers in this notice, where the member company itself does not appear on this list, should consult 19 CFR 159.61(b)(1)(ii). Specifically, for a certification under 19 CFR 159.61(b)(1)(ii), the claimant must name the association of which it is a member, specifically establish that it was a member of the association at the time the association filed the petition with the USITC, and establish that the claimant is a current member of the association.

In order to promote accurate filings and more efficiently process the distributions, we offer the following guidance:

- If claimants are members of an association but the association does not file on their behalf, the association will need to provide its members with a statement that contains notarized company-specific information including dates of membership and an original signature from an authorized representative of the association.
- An association filing a certification on behalf of a member must also provide a power of attorney or other evidence of legal authorization from each of the domestic producers it is representing.
- Any association filing a certification on behalf of a member is responsible for verifying the legal sufficiency and accuracy of the member's financial records, which support the claim, and is responsible for that certification. As such, an association filing a certification on behalf of a member is jointly and severally liable with the member for repayment of any claim found to have been paid or overpaid in error.

The association may file a certification in its own right to claim an offset for that order or finding, but its qualifying expenditures would be limited to those expenditures that the association itself has incurred after the date of the order or finding in connection with the particular case.

As provided in 19 CFR 159.63(a), certifications to obtain a distribution of an offset (including any distribution under 19 U.S.C. 4401) must be received by CBP no later than 60 calendar days after the date of publication of the notice of intent in the Federal Register. All certifications received after the 60-day deadline will be summarily denied, making claimants ineligible for the distribution regardless of whether or not they appeared on the USITC list.

A list of all certifications received will be published on the CBP website (<https://www.cbp.gov>) shortly after the receipt deadline. This publication will not confirm acceptance or validity of the certification, but merely receipt of the certification. Due to the high volume of certifications, CBP is unable to respond to individual telephone or written inquiries regarding the status of a certification appearing on the list.

While there is no required format for a certification, CBP has developed a standard certification form to aid claimants in filing certifications. The certification form is available at <https://www.pay.gov> under the Public Form Name “Continued Dumping and Subsidy Offset Act of 2000 Certification” (CBP Form Number 7401) or by directing a web browser to <https://www.pay.gov/public/form/start/8776895/>. The certification form can be submitted electronically through <https://www.pay.gov> or by mail. All certifications not submitted electronically must include original signatures.

Regardless of the format for a certification, per 19 CFR 159.63(b), the certification must contain the following information:

- (1) The date of this Federal Register notice;
- (2) The Department of Commerce antidumping or countervailing duty case number (for example, A-331-802);
- (3) The case name (product/country);
- (4) The name of the domestic producer and any name qualifier, if applicable (for example, any other name under which the domestic producer does business or is also known);
- (5) The mailing address of the domestic producer (if a post office box, the physical street address must also appear) including, if applicable, a specific room number or department;

(6) The Internal Revenue Service (IRS) number (with suffix) of the domestic producer, employer identification number, or social security number, as applicable;

(7) The specific business organization of the domestic producer (corporation, partnership, sole proprietorship);

(8) The name(s) of any individual(s) designated by the domestic producer as the contact person(s) concerning the certification, together with the phone number(s), mailing address, and, if available, facsimile transmission number(s) and electronic mail (email) address(es) for the person(s). Correspondence from CBP may be directed to the designated contact(s) by either mail or phone or both;

(9) The total dollar amount claimed;

(10) The dollar amount claimed by category, as described in the section below entitled “Amount Claimed for Distribution”;

(11) A statement of eligibility, as described in the section below entitled “Eligibility to Receive Distribution”; and

(12) For certifications not submitted electronically through https://www.pay.gov, an original signature by an individual legally authorized to bind the producer.

Qualifying Expenditures That May Be Claimed for Distribution

Qualifying expenditures that may be offset under the CDSOA encompass those expenditures incurred by the domestic producer after issuance of an antidumping duty order or finding or a countervailing duty order (including expenditures incurred on the date of the order’s issuance), and prior to its termination, provided that such expenditures fall within certain categories. See 19 CFR 159.61(c). The CDSOA repeal language parallels the termination of an order or finding. Therefore, for duty orders or findings that have not been previously revoked or were not revoked prior to October 1, 2007, expenses must be incurred before October 1, 2007, to be eligible for offset. For duty orders or findings that were revoked prior to October 1, 2007, expenses must be incurred before the effective date of the revocation to be eligible for offset. For example, assume for case A–331–802 Certain Frozen Warm-Water Shrimp and Prawns from Ecuador, that the order date is February 1, 2005, and that the revocation effective date is August 15, 2007. In this case, eligible expenditures would have to be incurred on or after February 1, 2005, up to and including August 14, 2007; expenditures incurred on or after August 15, 2007, cannot be included as eligible qualifying expenditures for A–331–802.

For the convenience and ease of the domestic producers, CBP is providing guidance on what the agency takes into consideration when making a calculation for each of the following categories:

(1) Manufacturing facilities (Any facility used for the transformation of raw material into a finished product that is the subject of the related order or finding);

(2) Equipment (Goods that are used in a business environment to aid in the manufacturing of a product that is the subject of the related order or finding);

(3) Research and development (Seeking knowledge and determining the best techniques for production of the product that is the subject of the related order or finding);

(4) Personnel training (Teaching of specific useful skills to personnel, that will improve performance in the production process of the product that is the subject of the related order or finding);

(5) Acquisition of technology (Acquisition of applied scientific knowledge and materials to achieve an objective in the production process of the product that is the subject of the related order or finding);

(6) Health care benefits for employees paid for by the employer (Health care benefits paid to employees who are producing the specific product that is the subject of the related order or finding);

(7) Pension benefits for employees paid for by the employer (Pension benefits paid to employees who are producing the specific product that is the subject of the related order or finding);

(8) Environmental equipment, training, or technology (Equipment, training, or technology used in the production of the product that is the subject of the related order or finding, that will assist in preventing potentially harmful factors from affecting the environment);

(9) Acquisition of raw materials and other inputs (Purchase of unprocessed materials or other inputs needed for the production of the product that is the subject of the related order or finding); and

(10) Working capital or other funds needed to maintain production (Assets of a business that can be applied to its production of the product that is the subject of the related order or finding).

Amount Claimed for Distribution

In calculating the amount of the distribution being claimed as an offset, the certification must indicate:

(1) The total amount of any qualifying expenditures previously certified by the domestic producer, and the amount certified by category;

(2) The total amount of those expenditures which have been the subject of any prior distribution for the order or finding being certified under 19 U.S.C. 1675c; and

(3) The net amount for new and remaining qualifying expenditures being claimed in the current certification (the total amount previously certified as noted in item “(1)” above minus the total amount that was the subject of any prior distribution as noted in item “(2)” above). In accordance with 19 CFR 159.63(b)(2)(i)–(iii), CBP will deduct the amount of any prior distribution from the producer’s claimed amount for that case. Total amounts disbursed by CBP under the CDSOA for some prior fiscal years are available on the CBP website.

Additionally, under 19 CFR 159.61(c), these qualifying expenditures must be related to the production of the same product that is the subject of the order or finding, with the exception of expenses incurred by associations which must be related to a specific case. Any false statements made to CBP concerning the amount of distribution being claimed as an offset may give rise to liability under the False Claims Act (see 31 U.S.C. 3729–3733) and/or to criminal prosecution.

Eligibility To Receive Distribution

As noted, the certification must contain a statement that the domestic producer desires to receive a distribution and is eligible to receive the distribution as an affected domestic producer or on another legal basis. Also, the domestic producer must affirm that the net amount certified for distribution does not encompass any qualifying expenditures for which distribution has previously been made (19 CFR 159.63(b)(3)(i)). Any false statements made in connection with certifications submitted to CBP may give rise to liability under the False Claims Act (see 31 U.S.C. 3729–3733) and/or to criminal prosecution.

Furthermore, under 19 CFR 159.63(b)(3)(ii), where a domestic producer files a separate certification for more than one order or finding using the same qualifying expenditures as the basis for distribution in each case, each certification must list all the other orders or findings where the producer is claiming the same qualifying expenditures.

Moreover, as required by 19 U.S.C. 1675c(b)(1) and 19 CFR 159.63(b)(3)(iii), the certification must include information as to whether the domestic producer remains in operation at the time the certifications are filed and continues to produce the product covered by the particular order or finding under which the distribution is sought. If a domestic producer is no longer in operation, or no longer produces the product covered by the order or finding, the producer will not be considered an affected domestic producer entitled to receive a distribution.

In addition, as required by 19 U.S.C. 1675c(b)(5) and 19 CFR 159.63(b)(3)(iii), the domestic producer must state whether it has been acquired by a company that opposed the investigation or was acquired by a business related to a company that opposed the investigation. If a domestic producer has been so acquired, the producer will not be considered an affected domestic producer entitled to receive a distribution. However, CBP may not make a final decision regarding a claimant's eligibility to receive funds until certain legal issues which may affect that claimant's eligibility are resolved. In these instances, CBP may withhold an amount of funds corresponding to the claimant's alleged pro rata share of funds from distribution pending the resolution of those legal issues.

The certification must be executed and dated by a party legally authorized to bind the domestic producer and it must state that the information contained in the certification is true and accurate to the best of the certifier's knowledge and belief under penalty of law, and that the domestic producer has records to support the qualifying expenditures being claimed (see section below entitled "Verification of Certification"). Moreover, as provided in 19 CFR 159.64(b)(3), all overpayments to affected domestic producers are recoverable by CBP, and CBP reserves the right to use all available collection tools to recover overpayments, including but not limited to garnishments, court orders, administrative offset, enrollment in the Treasury Offset Program, and/or offset of tax refund payments. Overpayments may occur for a variety of reasons, including but not limited to: reliquidations, court actions, settlements, insufficient verification of a certification in response to an inquiry from CBP, and administrative errors. With diminished amounts available over time, the likelihood that these events will require the recovery of funds previously distributed will increase. As a result, domestic producers who receive distributions under the CDSOA may wish to set aside any funds received in case it is subsequently determined that an overpayment has occurred. CBP considers the submission of a certification and the negotiation of any distribution checks received as acknowledgements and acceptance of the claimant's obligation to return those funds upon demand.

Review and Correction of Certification

A certification that is submitted in response to this notice of intent to distribute and received within 60 calendar days after the date of publication of the notice in the Federal Register may, at CBP's sole discretion, be subject to review before acceptance to ensure that all informational requirements are complied with and that any amounts set forth in the certification for qualifying expenditures, including the amount claimed for distribution, appear to be correct. A certification that is found to be materially incorrect or incomplete will be returned to the domestic producer within 15 business days after the close of the 60-calendar-day filing period, as provided in 19 CFR 159.63(c). CBP must receive a corrected certification from the domestic producer and/or an association filing on behalf of an association member within 10 business days from the date of the original denial letter. Failure to receive a corrected certification within 10 business days will result in denial of the certification at issue. The return of a certification for correction does not preclude CBP from taking other actions related to the incorrect or incomplete initial certification. It is the sole responsibility of the domestic producer to ensure that the certification is correct, complete, and accurate so as to demonstrate the eligibility of the domestic producer to the distribution requested. Failure to ensure that the certification is correct, complete, and accurate will result in the domestic producer not receiving a distribution and/or a demand for the return of funds, in addition to other potential legal and administrative consequences.

Verification of Certification

Certifications are subject to CBP's verification. The burden remains on each claimant to fully substantiate all elements of its certification. As such, claimants may be required to provide copies of additional records for further review by CBP. Therefore, parties are required to maintain, and be prepared to produce, records adequately supporting their claims for a period of five years after the filing of the certification (19 CFR 159.63(d)). The records must demonstrate that each qualifying expenditure enumerated in the certification was actually incurred, and they must support how the qualifying expenditures are determined to be related to the production of the product covered by the order or finding. Although CBP will accept comments and information from the public and other domestic producers, CBP retains complete discretion regarding the initiation and conduct of investigations stemming from such information. In the event that a distribution is made to a domestic producer from whom CBP later seeks verification of the certification and sufficient supporting documentation is not provided as determined by CBP, then the amounts paid to the affected domestic producer are recoverable by CBP as an overpayment. CBP reserves the right to use all available collection tools to recover overpayments, including but not limited to garnishments, court orders, administrative offset, enrollment in the Treasury Offset Program, and/or offset of tax refund payments. CBP considers the submission of a certification and the negotiation of any distribution checks received as acknowledgements and acceptance of the claimant's obligation to return those funds upon demand. Failure to repay overpayments upon demand may result in administrative consequences. Additionally, the submission of false statements, documents, or records in connection with a certification or verification of a certification may give rise to liability under the False Claims Act (see 31 U.S.C. 3729–3733) and/or to criminal prosecution.

Disclosure of Information in Certifications; Acceptance by Producer

The name of the claimant, the total dollar amount claimed by the party on the certification, as well as the total dollar amount that CBP actually disburses to that affected domestic producer as an offset, will be available for disclosure to the public, as specified in 19 CFR 159.63(e). To this extent, the submission of the certification is construed as an understanding and acceptance on the part of the domestic producer that this information will be disclosed to the public and a waiver of any right to privacy or non-disclosure. Additionally, a statement in a certification that this information is proprietary and exempt from disclosure may result in CBP's rejection of the certification.

List of Orders or Findings and Related Domestic Producers

The list of individual antidumping duty orders or findings and countervailing duty orders is set forth below together with the affected domestic producers associated with each order or finding who are potentially eligible to receive an offset. Those domestic producers not on the list must allege another basis for eligibility in their certification. Appearance of a domestic producer on the list is not a guarantee of distribution.

NATURE’S TOUCH FROZEN FOODS (WEST) INC., Plaintiff, v. UNITED STATES, Defendant.

Before: Stephen Alexander Vaden, Judge
Court No. 1:20-cv-00131

Granting in-part and denying in-part Defendant’s Cross-Motion for Summary Judgment and denying Plaintiff’s Motion for Summary Judgment.

Dated: May 26, 2023

John M. Peterson, Neville Peterson LLP, of New York, NY for Plaintiff. With him on the brief were Richard F. O’Neill and Patrick B. Klein.

Jamie L. Shookman, Trial Attorney, Commercial Litigation Branch, Civil Division, U.S. Department of Justice, of Washington, DC, for Defendant United States. With her on the brief were Justin R. Miller, Attorney-in-Charge, International Trade Field Office; Brian M. Boynton, Principal Deputy Assistant Attorney General; and Patricia M. McCarthy, Director, Commercial Litigation Branch. Of counsel on the brief was Fariha B. Kabir, Office of the Assistant Chief Counsel, International Trade Litigation, U.S. Customs and Border Protection.

Vaden, Judge:

Plaintiff Nature’s Touch Frozen Foods (West) Inc. (Plaintiff or Nature’s Touch) brought this action contesting U.S. Customs and Border Protection’s (Customs) tariff classification of the subject merchandise, which are mixtures of frozen fruit, some of which contain frozen vegetable ingredients. In cross-motions for summary judgment, Nature’s Touch argues that the merchandise should be classified under Harmonized Tariff Schedule of the United States (HTSUS) subheading 2106.90.98 as “[f]ood preparations not otherwise specified or included: Other: Other; Other; Other; Other; Other; Other,” while the United States (Defendant or the Government) argues for classification under various eight-digit provisions within HTSUS heading 0811 as “Fruit . . . frozen[.]” For the reasons stated below, Nature’s Touch’s Motion for Summary Judgment is DENIED and the Government’s Cross-Motion for Summary Judgment is GRANTED IN-PART.

I. Procedural Background

This case concerns various frozen fruit mixture products that Nature's Touch imported into the United States from Canada between June 6, 2018, and November 21, 2018. Summons at 3–4, ECF No. 1. At liquidation, Customs classified the subject merchandise under heading 0811, HTSUS, which covers “Fruit and nuts, uncooked or cooked by steaming or boiling in water, frozen, whether or not containing added sugar or other sweetening matter.” 0811, HTSUS; Pl.’s Statement of Undisputed Material Facts (Pl.’s Facts) ¶¶ 11–24, ECF No. 28. Depending on the ingredients of the mixture, Customs classified the merchandise in liquidation under the following HTSUS subheadings: 0811.90.10 (“Bananas and plantains”), 0811.90.20 (“Blueberries”), 0811.90.52 (“Mangoes”), and 0811.90.80 (“Other”).¹ Pl.’s Facts ¶¶ 11–24, ECF No. 28; Def.’s Resp. to Pl.’s Statement of Undisputed Material Facts (Def.’s Resp. Facts) ¶¶ 11–24, ECF No. 36. The relevant provisions and duty rates of HTSUS Chapter 8, which covers “Edible Fruit and Nuts; Peel of Citrus Fruit or Melons,” read:

0811: Fruit and nuts, uncooked or cooked by steaming or boiling in water, frozen, whether or not containing added sugar or other sweetening matter:

0811.10: Strawberries: 11.2%

0811.20: Raspberries, blackberries, mulberries...4.5–9%

0811.90: Other:

0811.90.10: Bananas and plantains: 3.4%

0811.90.20: Blueberries: Free

0811.90.52: Mangoes: 10.9%

0811.90.80: Other: 14.5%

Nature's Touch timely protested on October 30, 2019, claiming that the frozen fruit mixtures should instead be classified under subhead-

¹ Although the Government in general argues in support of the HTSUS classifications used by Customs at liquidation, the Government seeks classification under a higher-duty provision than the one used at liquidation for two of Nature's Touch's products. See Def.'s Br. at 23, 28, ECF No. 36. These are Organic Triple Berry with Kale (liquidated in subheading 0811.90.52 at 10.9%, classification sought in 0811.90.80 at 14.5%) and a single entry of Blueberry Blitz in Entry No. MK8–5346590 (liquidated in subheading 0811.90.20 duty free, classification sought in 0811.90.80 at 14.5%). The Government notes that “due to the procedural posture of this case,” it will not seek to amend its answer to claim any duties owed; but rather it is “advancing the correct classification of [these products] in order to aid the Court in fulfilling its statutory mandate to classify the merchandise at issue under the correct provision of the tariff statute[.]” Id. at 23–24, n.7.

ing 2106.90.98, HTSUS, as “Food preparations not elsewhere specified or included: Other: Other; Other; Other; Other; Other.” 2106.90.98, HTSUS; Summons at 1–2, ECF No. 1. The relevant provisions and duty rates of HTSUS Chapter 21, which covers “Miscellaneous Edible Preparations,” read:

2106: Food preparations not elsewhere specified or included:

2106.90: Other:

Other:

Other:

Other:

Other:

2106.90.98: Other...6.4%

Nature’s Touch’s protest further claimed that the merchandise was eligible for duty-free treatment under the North American Free Trade Agreement (NAFTA). Summons at 2, ECF No. 1.

That protest was deemed denied on July 4, 2020, and Nature’s Touch filed a summons and complaint challenging Customs’ classification on July 15, 2020. Id. at 1–2; Compl., ECF No. 5. Nature’s Touch later moved for summary judgment with an accompanying brief. See Pl.’s Memo in Supp. of Its Mot. for Summ. J. (Pl.’s Br.), ECF No. 28. The Government filed a cross-motion for summary judgment. Def.’s Memo in Opp’n to Pl.’s Mot. for Summ. J. and in Supp. of Def.’s Cross-Mot. for Summ. J. (Def.’s Br.), ECF No. 36. Thereafter, Nature’s Touch and the Government filed reply briefs in support of their Motions. See Pl.’s Reply Br. in Supp. of Its Mot. for Summ. J. (Pl.’s Reply), ECF No. 30; Def.’s Reply Memo in Furth. Supp. of Def.’s Cross-Mot. for Summ. J. (Def.’s Reply), ECF No. 31.

The classification at issue was not the first time Customs had classified Nature’s Touch’s mixture products. In a prior ruling, HQ H307154, dated February 7, 2020, Customs classified two such products, one consisting of 25% strawberry, 25% blueberry, 25% blackberry, and 25% raspberry and the other of 34% mango, 33% raspberry, and 33% cherry. See HQ H307154 at 4; see also Def.’s Br. at 24, ECF No. 36. There, Customs determined that both mixtures were described by HTSUS 0811.90.80, as “Fruit . . . frozen: Other: Other” applying HTSUS General Rule of Interpretation 1, which requires that “classification shall be determined according to the terms of the headings[.]” See HQ H307154 at 4; GRI 1, HTSUS.

However, for the merchandise at issue here, Customs changed its position. Rather than classify all of the merchandise as “Fruit . . .

frozen: Other: Other.” Customs employed an alternative methodology and classified the mixtures into different subheadings depending on the ingredients in each mixture. See Def.’s Br. at 1–2, ECF No. 36; see also Def.’s Resp. Facts ¶¶ 11–24, ECF No. 36. In defending Customs’ classification, the Government explained that none of heading 0811’s subheadings described mixture products, including subheading 0811.90.80, HTSUS (“Fruit . . . frozen: Other: Other”). See Def.’s Br. at 18, 26, ECF No. 36. The Government instead argues that each mixture should be classified by considering the subheadings that cover the mixture’s specific fruit ingredients and choosing the subheading that comes last in numerical order, applying HTSUS General Rule of Interpretation 3(c).² See id. at 20–21, 27. The Government disavowed its prior classification methodology and wrote that HQ H307154 “employed an incorrect reasoning” when it determined that frozen fruit mixtures could be classified under HTSUS 0811.90.80 as “Fruit . . . frozen: Other: Other.” Def.’s Br. at 24, ECF No. 36. Nature’s Touch rejected both of these methodologies and instead argues that all the mixtures are described by the terms of 2106.90.98, HTSUS, covering “Food preparations not elsewhere specified or included: Other: Other: Other: Other: Other: Other: Other.” Pl.’s Br. at 2–3, ECF No. 28.

On February 16, 2023, the Court held a status conference and issued an Order requiring the parties to submit supplemental briefing. See Order, ECF No. 42. The Supplemental Briefing Order asked the parties to address whether all of the merchandise at issue could be classified under 0811.90.80, HTSUS (“Fruit . . . frozen: Other: Other”). The parties filed supplemental briefs in support of their positions, and both Nature’s Touch and the Government continue to argue that subheading 0811.90.80, HTSUS, does not describe the mixtures. See Def.’s Supplemental Brief, ECF No. 44; Pl.’s Supplemental Brief, ECF No. 46.

II. Description of Subject Merchandise

The following facts are taken from the parties’ Statements of Undisputed Material Facts or are otherwise on the record and undisputed. The subject merchandise consists of fourteen frozen fruit mixture products, five of which also contain frozen vegetable ingredients. Pl.’s Facts ¶¶ 10–24, ECF No. 28; Def.’s Resp. Facts ¶¶ 10–24, ECF No. 36. Nature’s Touch produces the mixtures by importing fruits and vegetables from around the world to its Abbotsford, Canada facility, where they are cleaned, combined, and packaged for export to the ² That methodology still classified certain products into HTSUS 0811.90.80 (“Fruit . . . frozen: Other: Other”) because, if a mixture contained an ingredient not enumerated by a subheading, such as “peaches,” then “Other” became the ingredient subheading that came last in numerical order. See Def.’s Br. at 21, ECF No. 36.

United States. Pl.’s Facts ¶¶ 4–6, ECF No. 28; Def.’s Resp. Facts ¶¶ 4–6, ECF No. 36. With the exception of certain blueberries, all of the fruit and vegetables in the subject mixtures arrive at Nature’s Touch’s facility already cut and frozen. Defendant’s Statement of Additional Undisputed Material Facts ¶ 6, ECF No. 36; Plaintiff’s Response to Defendant’s 56.3 Statement (Pl.’s Resp. to Def.’s 56.3 Statement) ¶ 6, ECF No. 30. Consumers use the mixtures for a variety of purposes, such as to make smoothies, sauces, chutneys, punches, dips, baked goods, and fruit salads; or they may thaw and eat the mixtures directly. Pl.’s Facts ¶¶ 34, 45, ECF No. 28; Def.’s Resp. Facts ¶¶ 34, 45, ECF No. 36. However, “[n]ew applications for the products at issue may be developed based on customer usage,” and Nature’s Touch “does not know how a customer will ultimately use the products at issue.” Pl.’s Resp. to Def.’s 56.3 Statement, ¶¶ 12–13, ECF No. 30.

The mixtures contain no ingredients other than frozen fruit and vegetables, and the specific combinations of fruit and vegetables within each product are as follows:³

JURISDICTION AND STANDARD OF REVIEW

The parties have not disputed Nature's Touch's fulfillment of the prerequisites for initiating this action. See 28 U.S.C. § 2637(a). Because Nature's Touch contests Customs' denial of its protests against the tariff classification of its merchandise, jurisdiction is proper pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1581(a) ("The Court of International Trade shall have exclusive jurisdiction of any civil action commenced to contest the denial of a protest, in whole or in part ..."). The Court reviews Customs' denial of Nature's Touch's protest de novo. See Rheem Metallurgical S/A v. United States, 951 F. Supp. 241, 246 (CIT 1996), aff'd, 160 F.3d 1357 (Fed. Cir. 1998). Although Customs' decision is presumed correct and "[t]he burden of proving otherwise shall rest upon the party challenging such decision," the Court's "duty is to find the correct result." 28 U.S.C. § 2639(a)(1); Jarvis Clark Co. v. United States, 733 F.2d 873, 878 (Fed. Cir. 1984) (Wisdom, J.).

Rule 56 of the United States Court of International Trade provides that summary judgment may be granted "if the pleadings, depositions, answers to interrogatories, and admissions on file, together with the affidavits, if any, show that there is no genuine issue as to any material fact and that the moving party is entitled to judgment as a matter of law." USCIT Rule 56(c); see also Celotex Corp. v. Catrett, 477 U.S. 317, 322 (1986) (interpreting the analogous provision of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure). In a tariff classification dispute, summary judgment is appropriate where "there is no genuine dispute as to the nature of the merchandise and the classification turns on the proper meaning and scope of the relevant tariff provisions.” Deckers Outdoor Corp. v. United States, 714 F.3d 1363, 1371 (Fed. Cir. 2013) (citing Bausch & Lomb, Inc. v. United States, 148 F.3d 1363, 1366 (Fed. Cir. 1998)). In ascertaining whether a genuine, material issue of fact exists, a Court reviews evidence submitted, in this case from the Statements of Undisputed Material Facts, drawing all inferences against the moving party. See Matsushita Elecs. Indus. Co. v. Zenith Radio Corp., 475 U.S. 574, 587 (1986). The movant bears the burden of demonstrating that there exists no genuine issue of material fact that would warrant a trial. See, e.g., Adickes v. S.H. Kress & Co., 398 U.S. 144, 157 (1970). At summary judgment, “the judge’s function is not himself to weigh the evidence and determine the truth of the matter but to determine whether there is a genuine issue for trial.” Anderson v. Liberty Lobby, 477 U.S. 242, 249 (1986); see also Ford Motor Co. v. United States, 157 F.3d 849, 854 (Fed. Cir. 1998).

DISCUSSION

I. Legal Framework for Tariff Classification Under the HTSUS

The HTSUS is organized into headings, each of which contains one or more subheadings. The headings describe general categories of merchandise, and the subheadings “provide a more particularized segregation of goods within each category.” Orlando Food Corp. v. United States, 140 F.3d 1437, 1439 (Fed. Cir. 1998). The Court follows a strict order of operations when deciding HTSUS classification cases, which is set out in the General Rules of Interpretation (GRIs) of the HTSUS. The first task is to classify the merchandise into the correct HTSUS heading by construing the language of the headings. Id. at 1440. This is done by applying GRI 1, which provides that “classification shall be determined according to the terms of the headings and any relative section or chapter notes.” GRI 1, HTSUS. A product is classifiable under GRI 1 if it “is described in whole by a single classification heading” of the HTSUS. La Crosse Tech., Ltd. v. United States, 723 F.3d 1353, 1358 (Fed. Cir. 2013) (quoting CamelBak Prods., LLC v. United States, 649 F.3d 1361, 1364 (Fed. Cir. 2011)). If no heading describes the product in whole, the Court may proceed to GRIs 2 through 5, in order, only proceeding to the next GRI if the previous GRI cannot classify the product. See Mita Copystar Am. v. United States, 160 F.3d 710, 712 (Fed. Cir. 1998); Wilton Indus. v. United States, 741 F.3d 1263, 1266 (Fed. Cir. 2013). “[I]f the proper heading can be determined under GRI 1, the court is not to look to the subsequent GRIs.” R.T. Foods, Inc. v. United States, 757 F.3d 1349, 1353 (Fed. Cir. 2014).

GRI 2 provides that the classification of “goods consisting of more than one material or substance” shall be according to the principles of GRI 3. GRI 2, HTSUS. Under GRI 3(a), goods are classified into “[t]he heading which provides the most specific description”; but if multiple headings “each refer to part only of the materials or substances contained in [a mixed good],” they are regarded as equally specific and the Court moves to GRI 3(b) by classifying the good according to the material that gives the good its “essential character.” GRI 3, HTSUS. If no essential character can be found, then the good is classified pursuant to GRI 3(c), “under the heading which occurs last in numerical order among those which equally merit consideration.” Id. After using the GRIs to determine the correct heading, the Court determines the correct HTSUS subheading using GRI 6, which directs that GRIs 1 through 5 be reapplied at the subheading level. GRI 6, HTSUS. “Only after determining that a product is classifiable under the heading should the court look to the subheadings to find the correct classification for the merchandise.” Orlando Food, 140 F.3d at 1440.

“Absent contrary legislative intent, HTSUS terms are to be construed according to their common and commercial meanings, which are presumed to be the same.” Carl Zeiss, Inc. v. United States, 195 F.3d 1375, 1379 (Fed. Cir. 1999). The common meaning of a tariff term is a question of law to be decided by the Court. E.M. Chems. v. United States, 920 F.2d 910, 912 (Fed. Cir. 1990) (citing Stewart-Warner Corp. v. United States, 748 F.2d 663, 664–65 (Fed. Cir. 1984)). When a tariff term is not clearly defined, the Court “may consult lexicographic and scientific authorities, dictionaries, and other reliable information” or may rely on its “own understanding of the terms used.” Baxter Healthcare Corp. v. United States, 182 F.3d 1333, 1337–38 (Fed. Cir. 1999). The Court may also consult the Explanatory Notes for the Harmonized Commodity Description and Coding System, which are maintained by the World Customs Organization. Although not legally binding, the Explanatory Notes “are generally indicative of the proper interpretation of a tariff provision.” Degussa Corp. v. United States, 508 F.3d 1044, 1047 (Fed. Cir. 2007) (citing Motorola Inc. v. United States, 436 F.3d 1357, 1361 (Fed. Cir. 2006)).

II. Classification of the Subject Merchandise

A. Summary

The nine all-fruit mixtures are properly classified into heading 0811, HTSUS pursuant to GRI 1 because the term “Fruit . . . frozen” describes these products in whole. The common meaning of “fruit” includes mixed fruit — as in the phrase “a bowl of fruit” — so that it is unnecessary for the heading to enumerate fruit mixtures in order to cover them. Nature's Touch's arguments to the contrary are improper because they require inferring from the lack of a subheading enumerating mixtures within 0811 that the heading does not cover mixtures, in violation of binding precedent that subheadings may not be considered until after the proper heading is chosen.

However, the term "Fruit . . . frozen" does not describe the five mixtures that contain vegetable ingredients because these products contain features substantially in excess of those within the common meaning of the term. This requires the Court to consider whether Nature's Touch's preferred heading, 2106, HTSUS ("Food preparations not otherwise specified or included") describes the fruit-and-vegetable mixtures pursuant to GRI 1. The Court concludes that it does not. It first finds that food preparations must undergo processing additional to what is already inherent to the term "food" to avoid rendering "preparations" mere surplusage. The Court then considers whether cutting, freezing, and combining fruits and vegetables is sufficient to turn these ingredients into food preparations. It holds that these steps are insufficient because the Explanatory Note to heading 2106, HTSUS operates to exclude mixtures of cut fruits and vegetables from the heading if they are consumed as such and because both case law and the structure of the HTSUS distinguish between freezing and preparation. Having eliminated the candidate GRI 1 headings, the Court instead classifies the fruit-and-vegetable mixtures into heading 0811 under GRI 3(b) because it finds that the fruit content predominates and supplies the essential character of these mixtures.

Finally, all of the subject mixtures are properly classified into the basket subheading 0811.90.80, "Other," pursuant to GRI 1. The Court rejects the arguments of both parties that the subheading excludes mixtures because it does not explicitly enumerate them and instead finds that the plain meaning of "Other" describes products, including the subject merchandise, that cannot be described in whole by the terms of the other subheadings within the proper heading. In seeking to require that basket subheadings specifically enumerate mixtures in order to include them, the Government adopts an interpretive method at odds with both the plain meaning of "Other" and with its own position that such enumeration is unnecessary for heading 0811 to cover mixtures. The Court declines the parties' invitation to read exclusions into tariff provisions that are absent from their text or to apply different interpretative rules when construing subheadings rather than headings.

B. Application of the GRIs to Determine the Correct Heading

The threshold issue in this case is whether the merchandise is properly classified in HTSUS heading 0811 as “Fruit . . . frozen,” because Nature’s Touch’s proposed alternative classification, HTSUS heading 2106, is a basket provision that applies to “Food preparations not elsewhere specified or included.” 2106, HTSUS (emphasis added). Classification of imported merchandise in a basket provision, like 2106, “is only appropriate if there is no tariff category that covers the merchandise more specifically.” R.T. Foods, 757 F.3d at 1354 (quoting Rollerblade, Inc. v. United States, 116 F. Supp. 2d 1247, 1251 (CIT 2000), aff’d, 282 F.3d 1349 (Fed. Cir. 2002)). Therefore, the Court first will apply GRI 1 to determine whether the merchandise can be classified as “Fruit . . . frozen” under heading 0811. The Court considers the nine all-fruit mixtures separately from the five fruit-and-vegetable mixtures.

1. The All-Fruit Mixtures

Under GRI 1, the Court first asks whether the nine all-fruit mixtures are “described in whole” by the terms of heading 0811 — that is, whether they are “Fruit . . . frozen[.]” CamelBak Prods., 649 F.3d at 1364; see 0811, HTSUS. Nature’s Touch claims that they are not because the term “fruit,” as used in the heading, should be read to refer only to individual types of fruit and to exclude mixed fruits. See Pl.’s Br. at 12, ECF No. 28. Nature’s Touch concedes that heading 0811, taken by itself, could potentially classify the mixtures. Oral Arg. Tr. 17:18–19, ECF No. 39 (Peterson: “I mean, we concede that 0811 is potentially applicable to our product.”). However, Nature’s Touch claims that the heading should be construed in light of its subheadings, which do not specifically provide for mixtures and list only individual types of fruit, such as “Blueberries” or “Mangoes.” See Pl.’s Br. at 11–12, ECF No. 28; see also Oral Arg. Tr. 7:4–8, ECF No. 39 (Peterson: “[I]f you look at heading 0811, you will see that they provide for fruits. And they provide in various eight-digit subheadings for individually named fruit. At no point does that provision contain a mixtures provision.”). Nature’s Touch contrasts this with other HTSUS headings and subheadings that expressly cover “mixtures” and infers that the omission of the term “mixtures” from heading 0811 and its subheadings must be read as intentional. See Pl.’s Br. at 13–14, ECF No. 28. For example, Nature’s Touch cites several subheadings in Chapter 7 HTSUS that specifically provide for vegetable mixtures. See Id. at 13 (noting, among others, subheading 0710.90 providing for “[m]ixtures of vegetables.”). Nature’s Touch therefore concludes that, “[w]here the HTSUS intends to include mixtures of frozen food in tariff classifications, the plain language of the headings clearly provides for mixtures” and that “frozen fruit mixtures do not meet the plain language requirements for classification in Heading 0811, HTSUS.” Id. at 12–13.

The Government, however, argues that heading 0811 is an eo nomine provision — that is, one that “describes the merchandise by name, not by use.”⁴ Carl Zeiss, 195 F.3d at 1379. Under well-established case law, eo nomine provisions are interpreted to “include[] all forms of the named article, even improved forms,” and as long as the product does not “possess features substantially in excess of those within the common meaning of the term,” it will be covered by the provision that names it. CamelBak Prods., 649 F.3d at 1364–65 (citing Casio, Inc. v. United States, 73 F.3d 1095, 1098 (Fed. Cir. 1996)) (internal quotation marks omitted). The Government notes that the common meaning of the term “fruit” includes mixtures of different fruits, as in the phrase “a bowl of fruit.” Def.’s Br. at 13, ECF No. 36. The Government therefore concludes that the term “Fruit . . . frozen” describes the all-fruit mixtures in whole.

The Government is correct. Heading 0811 is an eo nomine provision that describes frozen fruit by name and includes mixtures of frozen fruit. Although the term “fruit” is not discussed in either the HTSUS chapter notes or the Explanatory Notes, the common meaning of the term “fruit” embraces mixed fruits and does not imply a limitation to individual types of fruit. That fact should be plain to anyone who has kept a “bowl of fruit” in their kitchen, ordered a “fruit plate” in a restaurant, or navigated to the “frozen fruit” aisle in a grocery store and selected one of Nature’s Touch’s mixtures. Dictionary definitions of “fruit” confirm that the term has a plural meaning that denotes, roughly, “fruits in general.” See, e.g., Fruit, Oxford English Dictionary (2d ed. 1989) (“Vegetable products in general, that are fit to be used as food by men and animals.”); Fruit, CollinsDictionary.com, <https://www.collinsdictionary.com/us/dictionary/english/fruit> (last visited May 8, 2023) (noting that “[t]he plural form is usually fruit, but can also be fruits”); Fruit, American Heritage Dictionary (3d ed. 1996) (plural “fruit or fruits”); Fruit, Webster’s New International Dictionary (2d ed. 1956) (“Collectively, a dish, a selection, a diet, of fruits”).

The Court concludes that the common meaning of the term “fruit,” as used in heading 0811, refers generally to fruit of all kinds and is not limited to individual fruit. It therefore includes mixed fruit.

Nature’s Touch’s method of construing the language of the heading in light of its subheadings impermissibly scrambles the order of operations for tariff classification. The Court must determine the correct heading “without reference to [its] subheadings” R.T. Foods, 757 F.3d at 1353; see also Orlando Food, 140 F.3d at 1440 (“Only after determining that a product is classifiable under the heading should the court look to the subheadings to find the correct classification for the merchandise.”). Once the correct heading has been determined, the Court continues its analysis by choosing a subheading contained within that heading. It may not hop out of the heading and restart the process because it believes the available subheadings are inadequate, as Nature’s Touch suggests. See Oral Arg. Tr. 22:22–23:2, ECF No. 39 (Peterson: “Now, let’s say we’ve gone through 0811. There is no provision in there prescribing a rate of duty for mixtures of frozen fruit . . . you are commanded by [GRI 1] to see if there is any other way, any other provision that classifies these goods at the GRI 1 level.”). Rather, “[o]nce the Court chooses the proper heading, the Court is limited to choosing a subheading only from within the proper heading, i.e., the subheadings appearing under other headings become irrelevant for the classification of the merchandise at issue.” Witex, U.S.A., Inc. v. United States, 353 F. Supp. 2d 1310, 1315–16 (CIT 2004).

Nature’s Touch argues that, unless the plain language of the heading specifically provides for mixtures, the heading cannot cover them. Pl.’s Br. at 13, ECF No. 28. This interpretive method requires ignoring binding precedent that headings must be chosen without any reference to subheadings. To take Nature’s Touch’s own example, subheading 0710.90, providing for frozen mixed vegetables, is contained within heading 0710, which itself makes no mention of mixtures and provides only for “Vegetables . . . frozen.” 0710, HTSUS. They are organized in the HTSUS as:

0710: Vegetables (uncooked or cooked by steaming or boiling in water), frozen:

0710.90: Mixtures of vegetables

Because the subheading cannot inform the interpretation of the heading, a frozen mixed vegetable product could only be properly classified in heading 0710 if it is interpreted to include mixtures despite its text not expressly providing for them. Nature’s Touch is therefore incorrect when it states that “[w]here the HTSUS intends to include mixtures of frozen food in tariff classifications, the plain language of the headings clearly provides for mixtures.” Pl.’s Br. at 13, ECF No. 28. Rather, as the Government correctly argues, “a broad eo nomine term can cover mixtures, even if not explicitly stated in the text.” Def.’s Br. at 16, ECF No. 36.

Nature’s Touch contends that an eo nomine provision cannot be expanded “to include something mixed or joined with the named article, which is not that named article,” noting that an eo nomine provision for strawberries will include all forms of strawberries but not a mixture of strawberries and blueberries. Pl.’s Reply at 8, 9, ECF No. 30. This argument is unavailing where all of the articles are themselves frozen fruit. A mixture of frozen strawberries and frozen blueberries does not “possess features substantially in excess of those within the common meaning” of the terms of heading 0811 — it is frozen fruit. Casio, 73 F.3d at 1098 (quoting United Carr Fastener Corp. v. United States, 54 CCPA 89, 91 (1967)) (internal quotation marks omitted). Because the nine all-fruit frozen mixture products are described in whole by the term “Fruit . . . frozen,” they are classified in heading 0811 by operation of GRI 1.

2. The Fruit-and-Vegetable Mixtures

(a) Application of GRI 1

The Court next must determine whether the remaining five mixture products, which contain both fruit and vegetable ingredients, are described in whole by the term “Fruit . . . frozen[.]” Pl.’s Facts ¶¶ 11–24, ECF No. 28; Def.’s Resp. Facts ¶¶ 11–24, ECF No. 36. The Court finds that they are not; therefore, GRI 1 cannot classify them into heading 0811. The Court is mindful that a product may contain materials that are not named by an eo nomine provision and still be classified into that provision under GRI 1 as long as those materials do not trigger a “change in identity” of the product. CamelBak Prods., 649 F.3d at 1365. To determine whether a change in identity has occurred, the Court asks whether the product contains features substantially in excess of those within the common meaning of the term “Fruit . . . frozen.” See Casio, 73 F.3d at 1098. The Court may look to a variety of factors, including commercial factors such as the marketing of the product in question. See CamelBak Prods., 649 F.3d at 1369 (finding that the products contained features substantially in excess of “backpacks,” in part, because they “are commercially known, advertised and sold as ‘hydration packs.’”).

Here, the Court finds that the fruit-and-vegetable mixtures contain features substantially in excess of frozen fruit. In addition to comprising between 15% and 33% of the mixtures' total content by weight, the vegetable content of these mixtures forms a significant part of the products' commercial identity. Nature's Touch references the vegetable ingredients in the names of four of the five products and prominently features vegetables on the packaging of at least four of those products. Pl.'s Facts ¶¶ 14, 16, 19, 21, ECF No. 28; Def.'s Resp. Facts ¶¶ 14, 16, 19, 21, ECF No. 36 (referencing product names "Organic Green Mango Medley," "Organic Tropical Fruit and Greens," "Organic Strawberry/Cherry/Kale," and "Organic Triple Berry with Kale");⁵ Pl.'s Br. at Ex. D, ECF No. 28 (depicting the retail packaging for all products except "Organic Tropical Fruit and Greens").⁶ The vegetable ingredients are therefore substantially in excess of frozen fruit, and the mixtures are not classifiable through GRI 1 into an eo nomine provision for "Fruit . . . frozen[.]"

At this point, the Government argues that the fruit-and-vegetable mixtures should be classified as "Fruit . . . frozen" using a GRI 3(b) essential character analysis. See Def.'s Br. at 25–26, ECF No. 36. But GRI 3 may only be reached if the terms of all available headings do not describe the product, eliminating all GRI 1 possibilities. See Mita Copystar, 160 F.3d at 712 ("As GRI 1 expressly provides, the other GRI provisions may be consulted only if the headings and notes 'do not otherwise require' a particular classification.") (quoting GRI 1, HTSUS). The Court must therefore ask whether these mixtures are described by the terms of heading 2106, "Food preparations not otherwise specified or included." 2106, HTSUS. The Court holds that they are not.

Because it is undisputed that the mixtures at issue are "food," the Court's inquiry turns on the meaning of "preparations" as used in heading 2106. "The term 'preparation' is not defined in the HTSUS or the General Rules of Interpretation." BASF Corp. v. United States, 29 C.I.T. 681, 691 (2005). The Federal Circuit has found that "[i]nherent in the term 'preparation' is the notion that the object involved is destined for a specific use." Orlando Food, 140 F.3d at 1441 (citing the Oxford English Dictionary (2d ed. 1989) definition of "preparation" as "a substance specially prepared, or made up for its appropriate use or application, e.g. as food or medicine, or in the arts or sciences.”). However, for the purposes of the HTSUS, use as food is not, by itself, sufficient to turn a product into a “food preparation.” “Products are not classifiable under heading 2106, HTSUS, merely because they are specifically made for use in food.” Mondelez Global LLC v. United States, 253 F. Supp. 3d 1329, 1332 (CIT 2017) (finding that an article must be both “food” and a “preparation”). For a product to qualify as a “food preparation,” it must undergo processing additional to what is already inherent in the term “food,” otherwise the term “preparation” would become mere surplusage. “It is our duty ‘to give effect, if possible, to every clause and word of a statute[.]’” United States v. Menasche, 348 U.S. 528, 538–39 (1955) (quoting Montclair v. Ramsdell, 107 U.S. 147, 152 (1883)). Nature’s Touch is therefore incorrect when it argues that the mixtures are food preparations because they are “specially prepared for multiple appropriate uses and applications as food.” Pl.’s Br. at 18, ECF No. 28. Nature’s Touch is also incorrect when it attempts to read “preparation” out of the heading entirely by arguing that “[t]here is no required, minimum or mandated type of ‘preparation’ required for a product to be classified under heading 2106, HTSUS.” Pl.’s Reply at 14–15, ECF No. 30. The Court declines to read “food preparation” as “food.”

⁵ Plaintiff and Defendant both reference a "Blueberry Blitz" product containing 15% butternut squash, a vegetable ingredient. Pl.'s Facts ¶ 15, ECF No. 28; Def.'s Resp. Facts ¶ 15, ECF No. 36. Although the vegetable content is not referenced in the name of the product, the Court nonetheless finds that this content is prominently displayed in the product's marketing and is significant enough to render the ingredients substantially in excess of fruit. See Pl.'s Br. at Ex. D, ECF No. 28 (demonstrating that butternut squash is featured on the product's packaging).

⁶ At oral argument, the parties stipulated that Exhibit D was an accurate reflection of the products' retail packaging. Oral Arg. Tr. 5:16–6:2, ECF No. 39; see also Def.'s Resp. Facts ¶ 7, ECF No. 36 (accepting same).

Nature’s Touch emphasizes the many processing operations it performs on the mixtures, describing such activities as recipe design, cleaning, sorting, inspection, packaging, and readying for importation and sale as “preparation.” Pl.’s Br. at 5, 19–21, ECF No. 28. Yet recipe design is product development, not a step to prepare or process food. See Def.’s Br. at 36–37, ECF No. 36. The other operations are common to all commercial food products, which must necessarily be cleaned, sorted, inspected, packed, and readied for sale. See id. at 34. Because the Court is compelled to read “preparation” as requiring more than what is already inherent to “food,” these steps are insufficient to turn Nature’s Touch’s mixtures into food preparations. Rather, fruit and vegetable ingredients undergo three processing steps that turn them into Nature’s Touch’s unique products: cutting,⁷ freezing, and combining. See Pl.’s Br. at 4–5, ECF No. 28; Def.’s Resp. Facts ¶ 5–6, ECF No. 36; see also Pl.’s Resp. to Def.’s 56.3 Statement ¶ 5–8, ECF No. 30 (recounting processing steps and agreeing that “[o]nce frozen, the individual pieces of fruit in the products undergo no further change in character prior to the products’ retail sale.”). The

Court therefore considers whether these operations are sufficient to create a “food preparation” within the meaning of HTSUS heading 2106.

The Government argues that they are not, pointing out that the Explanatory Note to heading 2106 lists exemplar products that “require significant processing beyond simply mixing fresh food ingredients.” Def.’s Br. at 30, ECF No. 36. Although the Explanatory Note does not expressly define “preparation,” it does list exemplars of “food preparations” that fall within the heading.⁸ See Explanatory Note 21.06 – Food preparations not elsewhere specified or included. The qualities shared by such exemplar products may be used by courts to derive the meaning of the HTSUS heading. See, e.g., Schlumberger Tech. Corp. v. United States, 845 F.3d 1158, 1165–66 (Fed. Cir. 2017) (finding that the products listed by the Explanatory Note for a heading covering “ceramic wares” all had “definite forms” and because the granulated bauxite in question “does not have a definite form, it cannot fall within that Heading’s terms.”). The Government is correct that most of these exemplar products require significant processing, such as “Flavouring powders for making beverages,” “Protein hydrolysates consisting mainly of a mixture of amino-acids and sodium chloride,” and “Edible tablets with a basis of natural or artificial perfumes.” Explanatory Note 21.06 (2), (6), (8). However, certain exemplar products do not indicate on their face whether or not they require significant processing. See, e.g., Explanatory Note 21.06 (5) (listing “Natural honey enriched with bees’ royal jelly”). The Court therefore will not attempt a nebulous inquiry into the intensity or significance of the processing a product must undergo to become a food preparation but rather will look to the way the processing steps specific to Nature’s Touch’s products — cutting, freezing, and combining fruits and vegetables — are treated in the HTSUS, the Explanatory Notes, and case law.

The Explanatory Note to heading 2106 excludes mixtures of cut fruits and vegetables from heading 2106 if they are fit for consumption “as such.” Explanatory Note 21.06 (15) describes an exemplar food preparation consisting of:

⁸ Explanatory Note 21.06 sets forth two categories of food preparations covered by heading 2106, but neither supplies a definition of the term “preparation.” They are:

- (A) Preparations for use, either directly or after processing (such as cooking, dissolving or boiling in water, milk, etc.), for human consumption.
- (B) Preparations consisting wholly or partly of foodstuffs, used in the making of beverages or food preparations for human consumption. The heading includes preparations consisting of mixtures of chemicals (organic acids, calcium salts, etc.) with foodstuffs (flour, sugar, milk powder, etc.), for incorporation in food preparations either as ingredients or to improve some of their characteristics (appearance, keeping qualities, etc.)

Mixtures of plants, parts of plants, seeds or fruit (whole, cut, crushed, ground or powdered) of species falling in different Chapters (e.g. Chapters 7, 9, 11, 12) or of different species falling in heading 12.11, not consumed as such, but of a kind used either directly for flavouring beverages or for preparing extracts for the manufacture of beverages.

Explanatory Note 21.06 (15) (emphasis added). The Explanatory Note’s exclusion of plant or fruit mixtures that can be consumed independently reflects a specific intent to remove products similar to the mixtures at issue from heading 2106. See Pl.’s Resp. to Def.’s 56.3 Statement ¶ 11, ECF No. 30 (agreeing that consumers “eat [the mixtures] directly”). The Court therefore concludes that cutting and combining fruits and vegetables is insufficient to turn these ingredients into a “food preparation.” If it were, the drafters of the Explanatory Notes would not have bothered to insert language prohibiting the application of heading 2106 to such mixtures.

The Court is left to determine whether freezing an otherwise excluded mixture of cut fruits and vegetables turns it into a “food preparation.” The Court is unpersuaded. Case law and the HTSUS distinguish between “prepared” foods and “frozen” foods. In Frosted Fruit Products Co. v. United States, 18 Cust. Ct. 119 (1947), the Customs Court held that frozen guavas that had been trimmed, cleaned, and packed in boxes “are not ‘prepared,’ in a tariff sense” and declined to classify them as “guavas prepared or preserved.” Id. at 121. That holding has been repeatedly extended. See Interocean Chem. & Minerals Corp. v. United States, 13 C.I.T. 449, 453 (1989) (“[I]t has been held that freezing, being a temporary preservation[,] is neither a preparation nor a preservation for tariff purposes.”); see also Crawfish Processors Alliance v. United States, 30 C.I.T. 639, 645 (2006) (noting that “Frosted Fruit made it clear that more is necessary than freezing to make something prepared or preserved.”). This is reflected in the structure of the HTSUS. For example, Chapter 20, HTSUS covers “Preparations of vegetables, fruit, nuts or other parts of plants.” The chapter excludes fruits and vegetables that have been “prepared or preserved by the processes specified in chapter 7, 8, or 11.” Ch. 20, Note 1(a), HTSUS. Chapters 7 and 8 contain frozen fruit and vegetables; therefore, Chapter 20 should exclude them if the HTSUS considers freezing a process to prepare or preserve. Yet Chapter 20 is filled with frozen products — for instance heading 2008, which covers “Other vegetables prepared or preserved otherwise than by vinegar or acetic acid, frozen[.]” 2008, HTSUS. The HTSUS therefore considers whether a product is frozen to be separate from whether it is prepared or preserved. See R.T. Foods, 757 F.3d at 1356–57 (making the same observation concerning vegetables of Chapter 7).

Nor do the fruit-and-vegetable mixtures satisfy the test offered by Orlando Food, which found that “[i]nherent in the term ‘preparation’ is the notion that the object involved is destined for a specific use.” 140 F.3d at 1441 (classifying tomato sauce base in heading for “sauces and preparations therefor”). The parties’ Statements of Undisputed Material Facts, which bind the Court on summary judgment, provide that (1) all of the products at issue “can be used for many purposes” and may be “eat[en] directly,” (2) “[n]ew applications for the products at issue may be developed based on customer usage,” and (3) Nature’s Touch “seeks to provide customers with a wide range of possible end uses for its products” but “does not know how a customer will ultimately use the products at issue.” Pl.’s Resp. to Def.’s 56.3 Statement, ¶¶ 9–13, ECF No. 30. Products that “can be used for many purposes” are not “destined for a specific use.” See Orlando Food, 140 F.3d at 1441.

The fruit-and-vegetable mixtures therefore cannot be described as “food preparations” within the meaning of the HTSUS, the Explanatory Notes, or case law. Because fruit-and-vegetable mixtures that are consumed as such are excluded from heading 2106 by Explanatory Note 21.06 (15) and because freezing is distinguished from preparation by both the HTSUS and case law, the Court holds that Nature’s Touch’s mixtures of frozen fruits and vegetables are not “food preparations” within the meaning of heading 2106.

(b) Application of GRI 3

Having established that neither of the candidate HTSUS headings describe the fruit-and-vegetable mixtures in whole under GRI 1, the Court moves sequentially to the next applicable General Rule of Interpretation, GRI 3(a), in order to classify the mixtures.⁹ GRI 3(a) provides that the heading “which provides the most specific description” shall be preferred over headings providing “a more general description.” GRI 3(a), HTSUS. However, when two headings each refer to only part of the materials contained in mixed goods, they are regarded as equally specific under GRI 3(a); and the court must move to a GRI 3(b) essential character analysis to resolve the classification. GRI 3(a), HTSUS. In this case, heading 0811 (providing for “Fruit . . . frozen”) and heading 0710 (providing for “Vegetables . . . frozen”)

⁹ GRI 2(a), which applies to incomplete and unfinished products, is inapplicable. See GRI 2(a), HTSUS. GRI 2(b) provides that “[t]he classification of goods consisting of more than one material or substance shall be according to the principles of rule 3.” GRI 2(b), HTSUS.

each “refer to part only” of the fruit-and-vegetable mixtures. GRI 3(a), HTSUS. The Court will therefore pick between these two headings by conducting an essential character analysis under GRI 3(b), which provides that mixtures that cannot be classified by GRI 3(a) “shall be classified as if they consisted of the material or component which gives them their essential character, insofar as this criterion is applicable.” GRI 3(b), HTSUS.

The Court conducts an essential character analysis by “isolat[ing] the most outstanding and distinctive characteristic of the article” through a fact-based analysis that “consider[s] the totality of the evidence.” Structural Indus., Inc. v. United States, 29 C.I.T. 180, 185 (2005) (quoting Canadian Vinyl Indus., Inc. v. United States, 408 F. Supp. 1377, 1378 (Cust. Ct. 1976)). Put simply, the Court asks what component “predominate[s]” over the others. See La Crosse Tech. 723 F.3d at 1360. Because the fruit-and-vegetable mixtures contain between 67% and 85% frozen fruit ingredients by weight, the Court finds that the fruit ingredients predominate and impart the essential character of these mixtures. See Pl.’s Resp. to Def.’s 56.3 Statement ¶ 4, ECF No. 30; see also Home Depot U.S.A., Inc. v. U.S., 491 F.3d 1334, 1336 (Fed. Cir. 2007) (quoting Explanatory Note VIII for GRI 3(b), explaining that essential character may be determined by “the nature of the material or component, its bulk, quantity, weight or value”). Nature’s Touch apparently agrees because it refers to the fruit-and-vegetable mixtures as “fruit mixtures” in its Statement of Undisputed Material Facts. See, e.g., Pl.’s Facts ¶¶ 14, 15, 19, 21, ECF No. 28. The fruit-and-vegetable mixtures are therefore properly classified into heading 0811 under GRI 3(b).

C. Application of the GRIs to Determine the Correct Subheading

With all the merchandise classified into heading 0811, the Court next determines the correct subheading within heading 0811 by reapplying the GRIs sequentially. See GRI 6, HTSUS. The Court first applies GRI 1 and asks whether the mixtures are described in whole by the terms of any of the three available six-digit subheadings: 0811.10 (“Strawberries”); 0811.20 (“Raspberries, blackberries, mulberries, loganberries, black, white or red currants and gooseberries (other than kiwi fruit)”; and a basket or residual subheading, 0811.90 (“Other”). Subheading 0811.90, “Other,” contains additional eight-digit subheadings that include, among others, 0811.90.10 (“Bananas and plantains”); 0811.90.20 (“Blueberries”); 0811.90.52 (“Mangoes”); and, finally, 0811.90.80 (“Other”). See supra at I. The Court applies the GRIs once at the six-digit subheading level and again, separately, at the eight-digit level. See GRI 6, HTSUS (providing that “only subheadings at the same level are comparable”).

One of the few issues that the parties agree on is that subheadings 0811.90 and 0811.90.80, “Other,” do not describe the mixtures under GRI 1. Nature’s Touch argues that, “[s]ince the various subheadings of Heading 0811, HTSUS include only single fruits, ‘other’ frozen fruits of subheading 0811.90.80, HTSUS, similarly fails to describe the instant goods . . . this Court should use [noscitur a sociis] and examine the word ‘other’ in Subheading 0811.90.80, HTSUS, as only encompassing a signal [sic] fruit not previously or specifically mentioned.” Pl.’s Br. at 12–13, ECF No. 28. The Government largely agrees. Casting aside Customs’ prior contrary ruling in HQ H307154, the Government now writes that:

[T]he subheadings of Heading 0811, HTSUS provide for individual types of fruit Whereas certain subheadings under other headings in Chapter 8 cover mixtures of fruit. . . subheading 0811.90.80, HTSUS simply says ‘other’ without any reference to mixtures, and therefore can be read to provide just for individual types of fruit not enumerated in the preceding subheadings of 0811.90, HTSUS.

Def.’s Br. at 18, ECF No. 36. The parties therefore agree that, because the subheadings under heading 0811, HTSUS contain only single fruits, a subheading providing for “other” fruit must be interpreted to mean other single fruits not otherwise enumerated and cannot include mixed fruit.

On that basis, the Government believes that the mixtures cannot be classified into any subheading under GRI 1. Nor, in the Government’s view, can a GRI 3(b) essential character analysis be performed because “no one ingredient imparts the essential character of these mixes.” Def.’s Br. at 27, ECF No. 36. Instead, the Government currently believes that each mixture product should be classified by applying GRI 3(c) and choosing the subheading that occurs last in numerical order among those that equally merit consideration. Id. at 20, 27; see also GRI 3(c), HTSUS. In this case, the Government would classify each mixture into the subheading that comes last in numerical order among those subheadings that describe individual types of fruit included in the mixture. See Def.’s Br. at 20, 27, ECF No. 36.

The Court was skeptical of the parties’ theories regarding subheadings 0811.90 and 0811.90.80, “Other.” In its Supplemental Briefing Order, the Court asked the parties to address the fact that many subheadings of heading 0811 contain multiple fruits. See, e.g., 0811.20, HTSUS (providing for “Raspberries, blackberries, mulber-ries, loganberries, black, white or red currants and gooseberries”); 0811.90.10, HTSUS (“Bananas and plantains”); 0811.90.25, HTSUS (“Cashew apples, mameyes colorados, sapodillas, soursops and sweetsops”). The Court noted that these multiple-fruit subheadings would appear to include mixtures of the named fruits. For example, if Nature’s Touch imported a mixture of frozen bananas and plantains, that product would be “described in whole” by the term “Bananas and plantains.” Cf. CamelBak Prods., 649 F.3d at 1364. The Court therefore questioned why subheadings 0811.90 and 0811.90.80, “Other,” should be interpreted to mean “other single fruits” and exclude mixtures when the term is surrounded by multiple-fruit subheadings that include mixtures of those fruits. See Supplemental Briefing Order, ECF No. 42.

In its supplemental brief, the Government repeated its new litigation position that the mixtures could not be classified as “Other” because the term “only encompasses individual types of fruit not enumerated in the subheadings that precede it.” Def.’s Supplemental Brief at 2, ECF No. 44. The Government asked that the term “Other” be read “in its context and with a view to its place with the other subheadings of 0811.90,” and warned of “unintended consequences” if the term was interpreted to include mixtures. Id. at 3, 5. For example, the Government noted that blueberries and cranberries, both of which are duty-free, would become dutiable at 14.5% if imported in a mixture, a result it described, without citation to any authority, as “counterintuitive.” Id. at 5. The Government instead argued that “Other” should be read to exclude mixtures that contain products enumerated in the other subheadings. Otherwise, mixtures containing ingredients provided for eo nomine by other HTSUS provisions would fall into “Other,” which, in the Government’s view, “is not what we believe the HTSUS drafters intended.” Id. at 6. Nature’s Touch agreed with the Government and denied that the multiple-fruit subheadings suggested that the “Other” subheading could include mixtures. Citing Standard Chlorine Chem. Co. v. United States, 13 C.I.T. 198 (1989), Nature’s Touch argued that the multiple-fruit subheadings “are not ‘mixtures’ provisions. They are merely provisions which eo nomine describe two or more items.” Pl.’s Supplemental Brief at 6, ECF No. 46. On that basis, Nature’s Touch concluded that “subheading 0811.90.80, covering ‘Other’ frozen fruits, covers individual frozen fruits not mention [sic] in the eight-digit subheadings which preceded it.” Id.

These arguments ignore something important: the plain meaning of “other.” Cf. Carl Zeiss, 195 F.3d at 1379 (“HTSUS terms are to be construed according to their common and commercial meanings, which are presumed to be the same.”). “Other” means “none of the above.” Under GRI 1 (and GRI 6, for subheadings), if a product is not described in whole by any named subheading, it falls into the residual or basket subheading “Other.” See, e.g., DMV USA, Inc. v. United States, 25 C.I.T. 970, 972 (2001) (“In the event that merchandise is not found to be classifiable under a specific subheading, it is then classified as ‘other.’”); Cargill, Inc. v. United States, 318 F. Supp. 2d 1279, 1290 (CIT 2004) (“Since the merchandise does not fit under a named provision, it must be classified elsewhere, under the basket provision[.]”).

Both Nature’s Touch and the Government seek to prevent this by reading “Other” narrowly, using canons of construction and concerns about duty rates to defeat the plain meaning. But canons and duty rates do not control classification — the text of the headings and subheadings do. See GRI 6, HTSUS (providing that “classification shall be determined according to the terms of [the] subheadings.”). Indeed, soon after arguing that it “seems illogical” to tax a mixture at 14.5% when its individual ingredients would be subject to lesser rates if imported alone, the Government concedes that “duty rates apply based on the correct classification” — not the reverse. Def.’s Supplemental Brief at 5, ECF No. 44.

When interpreting the text of basket subheadings like “Other,” the Federal Circuit has ruled that the term should be read broadly. See Rollerblade, Inc. v. United States, 282 F.3d 1349, 1354 (Fed. Cir. 2002) (stating that residual subheadings such as “other [sports equipment]” are “intended as a broad catch-all to encompass the classification of articles for which there is not a more specifically applicable subheading”) (quoting EM Indus. v. United States, 22 C.I.T. 156, 165 (1998)) (emphasis added). This comports with the structure of the HTSUS, which “is designed so that most classification questions can be answered by GRI 1, so that there would be no need to delve into the less precise inquiries presented by GRI 3.” Telebrands Corp. v. United States, 36 C.I.T. 1231, 1235 (2012), aff’d, 522 Fed. Appx. 915 (Fed. Cir. 2013).¹⁰ Attempts to narrow the meaning of “Other” are therefore inappropriate. It is the proper classification for a product not described in whole by the named subheadings within the correct heading.

¹⁰ The Government worries that using a basket provision to classify mixtures “would render GRI 3 meaningless.” Def.’s Supplemental Brief at 6, ECF No. 44. The Court’s recourse to GRI 3 in this very case obviates the Government’s fear. See supra at II.B.2.b. Regardless, the Court cannot reach the later GRIs if classification under GRI 1 is possible. See R.T. Foods, 757 F.3d at 1353 (“If the proper heading can be determined under GRI 1, the court is not to look to the subsequent GRIs.”); see also Telebrands Corp., 36 C.I.T. at 1235 n.5 (noting that proposal to require consideration of GRIs 2–6 concurrently with GRI 1 in certain circumstances was rejected by the Harmonized System Committee).

Both parties argue that the lack of express language providing for mixtures in the “Other” subheadings should be interpreted to mean that the subheadings cannot cover mixtures under GRI 1. See Pl.’s Supplemental Brief at 4, ECF No. 46; Def.’s Br. at 18, ECF No. 36 (“Whereas certain subheadings under other headings in Chapter 8 cover mixtures of fruit . . . subheading 0811.90.80, HTSUS simply says ‘other’ without any reference to mixtures, and therefore can be read to provide just for individual types of fruit not enumerated in the preceding subheadings of 0811.90, HTSUS.”). It is surprising that the Government would here require a tariff provision to specifically enumerate mixtures in order to cover them — after all, the Government argued precisely the opposite when it urged the Court to classify mixtures in heading 0811 despite the absence of “mixtures” from its text. Cf. Def.’s Br. at 8–9, ECF No. 36 (“Plaintiff argues that Heading 0811, HTSUS does not cover the products at issue because it does not specifically enumerate ‘mixtures.’ However, this argument contradicts the broad, plain language of the heading”); id. at 16 (“[T]he fact that ‘mixtures’ of fruit are not explicitly enumerated in Heading 0811, HTSUS is not determinative. Limiting this heading to single types of fruit, when its express language contains no such limitation, would contradict well-settled jurisprudence.”). The Government’s eagerness to arrive at its now preferred result has led it to demand that subheading 0811.90.80, “Other,” be “limit[ed] . . . to single types of fruit, when its express language contains no such limitation” — a startling contradiction. Id. Rather than allow the Government to switch between two different interpretive rules at its pleasure, the Court simply adopts the consistent principle that it is improper to infer a mixtures exclusion where none is present in the plain text of heading 0811 or subheading 0811.90.80, “Other.”

Regardless of the Government’s situational ethics, the structure of heading 0811 forecloses its latest interpretation. Heading 0811 covers “Fruit and nuts . . . frozen.” 0811, HTSUS (emphasis added). Because none of the heading’s subheadings mention nuts, all frozen nut products, including mixtures of frozen nuts and mixtures of frozen fruit and nuts, must fall under subheading 0811.90.80, “Other.” The subheading necessarily embraces mixtures. The Court therefore declines to apply one rule to heading 0811 and another to subheading 0811.90.80 and instead finds that it is unnecessary for either provision to enumerate mixtures in order to cover them.

The Government believes that subheading 0811.90.80, “Other,” should be read to exclude products that contain fruits enumerated by heading 0811’s other subheadings, writing without citation to authority that “classification of a mix of blueberries and cranberries under the provision for ‘Other,’ meaning in part, ‘other than blueberries and cranberries,’ seems illogical.” Def.’s Supplemental Brief at 5, ECF No. 44. Yet that was the logic of the Federal Circuit in R.T. Foods. There, the court affirmed the Government’s classification of a tempura vegetable mixture consisting, among other ingredients, of “three pieces of carrot, three pieces of wing bean [and] three pieces of long or green bean” into heading 2004, HTSUS, covering “Other vegetables prepared or preserved otherwise than by vinegar or acetic acid, frozen[.]” R.T. Foods, 757 F.3d at 1351. This heading is itself a broad “Other” provision that does not enumerate mixtures. The court then classified the product into six-digit subheading 2004.90, covering “Other vegetables and mixtures of vegetables.” The court finally had to choose an eight-digit subheading, picking between 2004.90.10 (“Antipasto”), 2004.90.80 (“Beans”), and 2004.90.85 (“Other”). The Government argued for “Other,” and the court agreed even though the merchandise at issue contained beans. See id. at 1351, 1357. The Federal Circuit did not read “Other” narrowly to mean “products containing no antipasto or beans.” Nor did it resort to GRI 3. Instead, it asked whether the terms “antipasto” or “beans” described the product. “[B]ecause the subject merchandise is not ‘antipasto’ or ‘beans,’ it is properly classified under subheading 2004.90.85[.]”¹¹ Id. at 1357. A mixture product may therefore be classified into a residual or basket subheading even if it contains ingredients enumerated by other subheadings within the proper heading.

The Government’s sole substantive case citation, Pillowtex Corp. v. United States, 171 F.3d 1370 (Fed. Cir. 1999) supports, rather than contradicts, the principle that a mixture product may be classified into a basket subheading even if it contains materials enumerated by other subheadings within the proper heading. In Pillowtex, the court classified comforters consisting of down filling in a cotton shell. Id. at 1372. The dispute centered around whether the cotton and down comforters were classifiable in a subheading for bedding articles “Of cotton” or, alternatively, a subheading for “Other” bedding articles. Id. at 1375. In its GRI 1 analysis, the court struggled to determine how much cotton an article needed to contain before it could be described as “of cotton,” and concluded that the language of the heading, subheading, and Explanatory Notes did not “provide any insight into the meaning of the term ‘of cotton’ as it relates to comforters.” Id. at 1374. The court concluded that both “Of cotton” and “Other” described the goods prima facie: “The cotton outer shell part of the subject comforters allow the comforters to fall under [‘Of cotton’], whereas the down filling part of the subject comforters allow them to fall under [‘Other’].” Id. at 1375–76. The court broke the tie by conducting an essential character analysis under GRI 3(b) and classified the product into “Other” on the basis of its down filling. Id. at 1376.

Here, there is no interpretive difficulty under GRI 1 where multiple subheadings describe the goods. The named subheadings under heading 0811 do not say, for example, “of strawberries,” “containing strawberries,” or “made from strawberries.” They simply say “Strawberries,” classifying products that can be described, in whole, as strawberries. See CamelBak Prods., 649 F.3d at 1364 (“We apply GRI 1 as a substantive rule of interpretation, such that when an imported article is described in whole by a single classification heading or subheading, then that single classification applies, and the succeeding GRIs are inoperative.”). Mixture products containing strawberries cannot be classified under an eo nomine subheading for “Strawberries” because “when an article “is in character or function something other than as described by a specific statutory provision — either more limited or more diversified — and the difference is significant,” it is not properly classified within an eo nomine provision.” R.T. Foods, 757 F.3d at 1354 (quoting CamelBak Prods., 649 F.3d at 1365) (citation omitted). In the absence of a need for any inquiry into the proportion of strawberries a product must contain before it can be classified as “Strawberries,” the Court is left with “Other” as the only subheading that describes the products — which Pillowtex affirms it does when it determined that down and cotton comforters could be described by “Other” even though the comforters contained cotton. See Pillowtex, 171 F.3d at 1375.

The Court will follow the same procedure the Federal Circuit employed in R.T. Foods and that Customs followed in its prior ruling, HQ H307154. At the six-digit level, the Court asks if any of the mixtures are described in whole by the term “Strawberries” and concludes that they are not, ruling out 0811.10. It similarly concludes that none of the mixtures are described in whole by the term “Raspberries, blackberries, mulberries, loganberries, black, white or red currants and gooseberries (other than kiwi fruit),” ruling out 0811.20. Subheading 0811.90, “Other,” describes all of the mixtures because they are not described in whole by the terms of any other six-digit subheading within the correct heading, 0811. The Court then re-applies GRI 1 at the eight-digit subheading level. It similarly finds that, because the mixtures are not described in whole by the terms of any of the eight-digit subheadings that enumerate fruits, they fall into the residual subheading 0811.90.80, “Other,” dutiable at 14.5% ad valorem.

Although this produces the same result that the Government sought for five of the mixture products (Antioxidant Blend Frozen, Frozen Medley Mixed Fruit, Blueberry Blitz, Organic Strawberry/Cherry/Kale, and Organic Triple Berry with Kale), for the other nine products this classification results in a higher duty rate than the Government seeks. The Court is required to classify the merchandise into the correct HTSUS provision independent of the parties’ arguments and the Government’s prior classification. See Jarvis Clark, 733 F.2d at 878 (holding that “the court’s duty is to find the correct result, by whatever procedure is best suited to the case at hand”) (emphasis in original). However, because the Government makes no claim for additional duties as to these nine products, this Court will not order reliquidation and grant the Government relief it did not seek. See Answer, ECF No. 15. Nature’s Touch is therefore not required to pay the difference in duties that results from the Court’s reclassification of the nine products for which the Government did not seek classification into 0811.90.80, HTSUS. See Mitsubishi Intern. Corp. v. United States, 22 C.I.T. 324, 357 (1998) (finding that, because the Government did not request as a remedy that Customs reliquidate entries into the correct subheading, “plaintiff is not required to pay the difference in duties as a result of the reclassification[.]”), aff’d, 182 F.3d 884 (Fed. Cir. 1999); see also Def.’s Br. at 23 n.7, ECF No. 36 (conceding the necessity of counterclaims for collection of excess duties from Nature’s Touch).

Accordingly, though the Court differs with the Government’s legal rationale, the Court GRANTS IN-PART the Government’s Motion as to the classification of Antioxidant Blend Frozen, Frozen Medley Mixed Fruit, Blueberry Blitz, Organic Strawberry/Cherry/Kale, and Organic Triple Berry with Kale and DENIES IN-PART the Government’s Motion as to the classification of the remaining nine products and orders Customs to reclassify all of the products into 0811.90.80, HTSUS. Nature’s Touch’s Motion is DENIED.

D. Eligibility for Duty-Free Treatment under NAFTA

The parties do not dispute that the North American Free Trade Agreement (NAFTA) was in force at the time the subject merchandise was imported. See Pl.’s Br. at 23 n.13, ECF No. 28; Def.’s Br. at 38, ECF No. 36. Under the United States’ tariff laws, products that “originate in the territory of a NAFTA party” are entitled to preferential duty treatment.” Cummins Inc. v. United States, 454 F.3d 1361, 1361–62 (Fed. Cir. 2006) (quoting General Note 12(a)(ii), HTSUS). One way that a product may so originate is if it is transformed in the territory of a NAFTA party, and one manner of transformation is undergoing a shift in tariff classification as specifically provided for in General Note 12 of the HTSUS. Nature’s Touch argues that its merchandise qualifies for duty-free treatment under NAFTA because the products originate in Canada. Specifically, Nature’s Touch invokes the so-called tariff-shift rule by claiming that the imported ingredients “undergo a change from Chapter 8, HTSUS, classifications to Heading 2106, HTSUS” when they are mixed at Nature’s Touch’s Canadian facility. Pl.’s Br. at 24, ECF No. 28. Because the Court finds that no shift into heading 2106 from another HTSUS chapter occurs, Nature’s Touch’s arguments concerning duty-free treatment under NAFTA are meritless.

CONCLUSION

Although the purpose of the tariff schedules is to implement the nation’s customs regime, the tax rates specified therein do not govern the tariff schedules’ interpretation — their text and the ordered rules established in the General Rules of Interpretation do. To find fully in favor of either the Government or Nature’s Touch would require the Court to discard these principles of interpretation and to disregard Federal Circuit precedent so as to engage in a results-oriented inquiry. This the Court cannot do. In consideration of the foregoing, the Court GRANTS IN-PART and DENIES IN-PART the Government’s Cross-Motion for Summary Judgment; DENIES Nature’s Touch’s Motion for Summary Judgment; and holds that the subject merchandise is properly classified in 0811.90.80, HTSUS, dutiable at 14.5% ad valorem. Judgment is entered ordering Customs to reclassify all the merchandise but to reliquidate only the following products: Antioxidant Blend Frozen, Frozen Medley Mixed Fruit, Blueberry Blitz, Organic Strawberry/Cherry/Kale, and Organic Triple Berry with Kale. Such reliquidation shall also not include entries of Organic Triple Berry with Kale originally liquidated in subheading 0811.90.52 at 10.9% and the single entry of Blueberry Blitz at Entry No. MK8–5346590 that was liquidated in subheading 0811.90.20 duty free, for which the Government does not claim duties owed. See Def.’s Br. at 23, 29, ECF No. 36. No other products shall be reliquidated, as the Government has made no claim for excess duties that would result from their proper reclassification into 0811.90.80, HTSUS.

OPINION AND ORDERBarnett, Chief Judge:

This action concerns the final affirmative determination in the antidumping duty investigation by the U.S. Department of Commerce (“Commerce” or “the agency”) regarding certain metal lockers and parts thereof from the People’s Republic of China (“China”). See Certain Metal Lockers and Parts Thereof From China, 86 Fed. Reg. 35,737 (Dep’t Commerce July 7, 2021) (final affirmative determination of sales at less than fair value) (“Final Determination”), ECF No.

28–4, and accompanying Issues and Decision Mem., A-570–133 (June 28, 2021) (“I&D Mem.”), ECF No. 28–5.¹

Plaintiff List Industries, Inc. (“Plaintiff” or “List”) challenges several aspects of the Final Determination as unsupported by substantial evidence and not in accordance with law, namely, Commerce’s selection of Turkey as the primary surrogate country, Commerce’s selection of certain surrogate values, and Commerce’s selection and calculation of financial ratios. Pl.’s Br. in Supp. of Rule 56.2 Mot. for J. on the Agency R. (“Pl.’s Mem.”), ECF No. 32–1; Pl.’s Reply Br. in Supp. of Mot. for J. on the Agency R. (“Pl.’s Reply”), ECF No. 39. Defendant United States (“Defendant” or “the Government”) and Defendant-Intervenors² support Commerce’s determination. Def.’s Mem. in Opp’n to Pl.’s Mot. for J. on the Agency R. (“Def.’s Resp.”), ECF No. 36; Def.-Int. Zhejiang Xingyi Metal Prods. Co., Ltd.’s Br. in Resp. to Pl.’s Mot. for J. on the Agency R. (“Zhejiang’s Resp.”), ECF No. 37; Def.-Int. Hangzhou Xline Mach. & Equip. Co., Ltd.’s Opp’n to Pl.’s 56.2 Mot. for J. on the Agency R. (“Hangzhou’s Resp.”), ECF No. 38.³

For the following reasons, Commerce’s Final Determination will be remanded for reconsideration or further explanation of the treatment of certain income categories in the calculation of the sales, general, and administrative expenses (“SG&A”) and profit ratios. Commerce’s Final Determination will be sustained in all other respects.

BACKGROUND

On July 29, 2020, Commerce initiated an investigation into certain metal lockers and parts thereof (“metal lockers”) from China alleged to have been sold in the United States at less than fair value. Certain Metal Lockers and Parts Thereof From the People’s Republic of China, 85 Fed. On February 11, 2021, Commerce issued its preliminary determination. Certain Metal Lockers and Parts Thereof From the People’s Republic of China, 86 Fed. Reg. 9,051 (Dep’t Commerce Feb. 11, 2021) (preliminary affirmative determination of sales at less than fair value; postponement of final determination and extension of provisional measures) (“Preliminary Determination”), PR 301, CJA Tab 18, and accompanying Decision Mem. for the Prelim. Determination (Feb. 4, 2021) (“Prelim. Mem.”), PR 285, CJA Tab 16. For the Preliminary Determination, Commerce determined that the only complete, audited financial statements on the record were those of Grupo Carso and Ayes. Prelim. Mem. at 13. Commerce preliminarily determined that Grupo Carso was not a producer of comparable merchandise, and that Ayes was such a producer. Id. Consequently, Commerce selected the financial statements of Ayes for the purpose of determining the surrogate financial ratios. Id.

When calculating the SG&A ratios using Ayes’ financial statements, Commerce preliminarily excluded certain income categories listed as “other real operating income” because Ayes’ “financial statements neither describe nor discuss how this income is associated with the general operations of the company.” Prelim. Surrogate Value Mem. (Feb. 4, 2021) (“Prelim. SV Mem.”) at 6, PR 295–96, CJA Tab 17. Commerce also excluded “interest income from investing activities” when determining the SG&A and profit ratios. Id.

For the Final Determination, Commerce continued to find that Ayes produced comparable merchandise and that Grupo Carso did not. I&D Mem. at 11–12. Commerce thus found that Ayes’ financial statements constituted the best available information to determine surrogate financial ratios. Id. at 12. Commerce also revised its financial ratio calculations for the Final Determination by reclassifying several other income categories and “rental income” as offsets to the SG&A ratios. Id. at 15. Commerce explained that it “excluded ‘interest income’ from the financial ratios . . . and [did] not offset SG&A or adjust[] profit for this line item.” Id. at 16. Commerce further explained that it selected Turkey as the primary surrogate country because of the completeness and contemporaneity of the surrogate value data available from that country, including the financial ratios. Id. at 12.

In this action, List challenges Commerce’s (1) determination that Ayes produced comparable merchandise whereas Grupo Carso did not; (2) selection and adjustment of Ayes’ financial statements to determine surrogate financial ratios; and (3) selection of Turkey as the primary surrogate country. See generally Pl.’s Mem. The court heard oral argument on November 3, 2022. See Docket Entry, ECF No. 45.⁴

The court has jurisdiction pursuant to section 516A(a)(2)(B)(i) of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, 19 U.S.C. § 1516a(a)(2)(B)(i) (2018),⁵ and 28 U.S.C. § 1581(c). The court will uphold an agency determination that is supported by substantial evidence and otherwise in accordance with law. 19 U.S.C. § 1516a(b)(1)(B)(i).

DISCUSSION

I. Commerce’s Surrogate Country and Surrogate Value Selection Process

An antidumping margin is “the amount by which the normal value exceeds the export price (or the constructed export price) for the merchandise.” 19 U.S.C. § 1673. When an antidumping duty proceeding involves a nonmarket economy country, Commerce determines normal value by valuing the factors of production⁶ used to produce the subject merchandise in a surrogate market economy country as well as amounts for “general expenses and profit plus the cost of containers, coverings, and other expenses.” Id. § 1677b(c)(1).

In selecting these “surrogate values,” Commerce must, “to the extent possible,” use data from a market economy country that is at “a level of economic development comparable to that of the nonmarket economy country” and is a “significant producer[] of comparable merchandise.” Id. § 1677b(c)(4). To select a surrogate country, Commerce has adopted a four-step approach:

- (1) the Office of Policy (“OP”) assembles a list of potential surrogate countries that are at a comparable level of economic development to the [non-market economy] country; (2) Commerce identifies countries from the list with producers of comparable merchandise; (3) Commerce determines whether any of the countries which produce comparable merchandise are significant producers of that comparable merchandise; and (4) if more than one country satisfies steps (1)-(3), Commerce will select the country with the best factors data.

Jiaxing Brother Fastener Co. v. United States (“Jiaxing II”), 822 F.3d 1289, 1293 (Fed. Cir. 2016) (alteration in original); see also Import Admin., U.S. Dep’t of Commerce, Non–Market Economy Surrogate Country Selection Process, Policy Bulletin 04.1 (2004), <http://enforcement.trade.gov/policy/bull04-1.html> (last visited May 30, 2023).

Commerce generally values all factors of production in a single surrogate country, referred to as the “primary surrogate country.” See 19 C.F.R. § 351.408(c)(2) (excepting labor). With respect to “manufacturing overhead, general expenses, and profit, [Commerce] normally will use non-proprietary information gathered from producers of identical or comparable merchandise in the surrogate country.” Id. § 351.408(c)(4).

II. Commerce’s Determination that Ayes Produces Comparable Merchandise and that Grupo Carso Does Not

A. Legal Framework

Commerce determines if a company in the surrogate country produces comparable merchandise by “apply[ing] a three-part test that examines ‘physical characteristics, end uses, and production processes.’” Shanghai Foreign Trade Enters. Co. v. United States, 28 CIT 480, 490, 318 F. Supp. 2d 1339, 1348 (2004) (citation omitted). For purposes of this determination, “the burden of creating an adequate record lies with the interested parties, not with Commerce.” Qingdao Sea-Line Trading Co. v. United States, 766 F.3d 1378, 1386 (Fed. Cir. 2014).

B. Parties' Contentions

Plaintiff contends that Commerce departed from its established practice of applying a three-part test that examines “physical characteristics, end uses, and production processes” to determine the comparability of the merchandise. Pl.’s Mem. at 16. Additionally, Plaintiff contends that Commerce failed to support with substantial evidence its findings that Ayes produces comparable merchandise, and that Grupo Carso does not. Id. at 18; see also Pl.’s Reply at 5.

The Government responds that Commerce applied the three-part test and explained its reasoning, contending that the record supports Commerce’s finding that Ayes’ merchandise is comparable to the subject metal lockers. Def.’s Resp. at 14–15. The Government further argues that the record does not support a finding that Grupo Carso’s merchandise is comparable to the subject metal lockers. Id. at 12. Zhejiang advances similar arguments. See Zhejiang’s Resp. at 4–5.

C. Analysis

On the basis of the record before it, Commerce reasonably determined that Grupo Carso was not a producer of comparable merchandise, and that Ayes was such a producer.

Commerce acknowledged that Grupo Carso produces “metallic structures for bridges, building, and mining branches, heat exchangers, pressure vessels, distillation towers, air coolers, surface capacitors, high pressure feed water heaters, and large containers.” I&D Mem. at 12. However, Commerce explained that “although [List] claim[s] that Grupo Carso produces comparable products including metal containers, we note that Grupo Carso’s list of products identifies ‘large containers,’ not metal containers.” Id. at 12 n.61 (citing Pet’rs’ SV Cmts., Ex. Mex.-9; Pet’rs’ Case Br. at 4 (May 12, 2021), CR 296, PR 341, CJA Tab 19).

With respect to the end uses of Grupo Carso’s merchandise, Commerce noted that “Grupo Carso is a diversified conglomerate with commercial, industrial, infrastructure, construction, and energy sectors that do not produce comparable merchandise.” Id. at 12 & n.56 (citing Pet’rs’ SV Cmts., Ex. Mex.-9). On the basis of the limited information before it, Commerce reasoned that “many of these products represent high-value structural components for the public or private sector, and/or machinery that includes ‘cutting-edge technology.’” Id. at 12 n.61 (citing Pet’rs’ SV Cmts., Ex. Mex.-9).

Finally, with respect to production processes, Commerce concluded that “the record lacks sufficient information to demonstrate . . . that Grupo Carso uses a similar production process to that of the metal lockers under investigation.” Id. at 12–13. Commerce again noted that “there is an unspecific indication that Grupo Carso has engaged in the ‘manufacture of large containers’ but the record lacks any evidence regarding the physical characteristics, end uses or the production process for such containers.” Id. at 13.

Commerce also evaluated the record evidence and explained the basis for its finding that Ayes was a producer of comparable merchandise. Commerce cited technical specifications, pictures of products, and product dimensions, reflecting the physical characteristics of the merchandise produced by Ayes. See id. at 12 & n.57 (citing Prelim. Mem. at 13; Zhejiang’s Fin. Ratios Submission). Commerce also explained that “Ayes . . . produces mesh fences, steel mesh, ribbed iron, and certain machines (drawing machine, cutting machines, butt welding machines, wire mesh bending machines, etc.)” Id. at 12.

Commerce reviewed and referenced marketing materials reflecting the end uses and production processes of the merchandise produced by Ayes. See id. at 12 & n.57 (citing Prelim. Mem. at 13; Zhejiang’s Fin. Ratios Submission); see also Prelim. Mem. at 13 & n.102 (citing Zhejiang’s Fin. Ratios Submission). Among other things, the marketing materials indicated that “Ayes produces metal panel fences, steel mesh products, and cold-drawn bars and coil in a manner similar to the production of metal lockers.” Zhejiang’s Fin. Ratios Submission at 2. Among the materials considered by Commerce were a discussion of Ayes’ production process for wire mesh and a chart comparing the production processes between Ayes’ merchandise and the subject metal lockers. See id., Exs. 4–5.

Plaintiff contends that Commerce “failed to provide any analysis or explanation for its determination that Ayes, but not Grupo Carso, produces merchandise comparable to the subject lockers.” Pl.’s Mem. at 17–18. The court acknowledges that the total quantum of Commerce’s explanation of how its three-part test applies to both Grupo Carso and Ayes is limited. In this case, however, that limited analysis is a function of the limited information placed on the record by the parties. While Plaintiff objects that Commerce failed to apply its three-part test to Grupo Carso, Plaintiff does not identify any record information regarding Grupo Carso of which Commerce did not take account. Commerce’s limited analysis of Grupo Carso is a result of the limited information placed before the agency by Plaintiff.

In these non-market economy antidumping cases, Commerce is tasked with identifying the “best available information” with which to value the respondent’s factors of production. That best available information standard, however, is applied with respect to the record developed before the agency; i.e., the information made available for Commerce's determination. See Qingdao, 766 F.3d at 1386. Commerce cannot be faulted for failing to consider information with which it was not provided. In fact, Commerce recognized the limitations of the record by stating that the petitioners simply reiterate their previous arguments . . . but provide no elaboration on how these products or their production processes are comparable to metal lockers. The record lacks sufficient information to demonstrate that Grupo Carso produces anything with similar physical characteristics or end uses comparable to metal lockers, or that Grupo Carso uses a similar production process to that of the metal lockers under investigation.

I&D Mem. at 12–13.

While Commerce's analysis of the three-part test with respect to Ayes is also, admittedly, limited, that again is a function of the limited information contained on the record. Nevertheless, Commerce evaluated the limited information before it to reasonably determine that Ayes produced comparable merchandise. Among other things, Ayes produces mesh fences and steel mesh. See id. at 12. While wire mesh lockers are excluded from the scope of the order, that exclusion requires that at least three sides, including the door, be made from wire mesh and that the locker exceed certain physical dimensions. See Final Determination, 86 Fed. Reg. at 35,740. Otherwise, the scope expressly provides that "subject metal lockers typically are made of flat-rolled metal, metal mesh, and/or expanded meta." Id. Commerce's reliance on Ayes' production of mesh fences and steel mesh as support for its finding that Ayes produces comparable merchandise is reasonably discernible from this limited record. See Wheatland Tube Co. v. United States, 161 F.3d 1365, 1369–70 (Fed. Cir. 1998) ("Where the path of an agency's reasoning is reasonably discernible, this Court may nonetheless sustain the agency's action.").

For these reasons, Commerce's determination that Ayes produces merchandise comparable to the subject metal lockers, and that Grupo Carso does not, is supported by substantial evidence.

III. Commerce's Selection of Ayes' Financial Statements to Determine Financial Ratios

A. Parties' Contentions

Plaintiff contends that Commerce's determination that Ayes had suitable financial statements from which to calculate surrogate financial ratios was not supported by substantial evidence or in accordance with law. Pl.'s Mem. at 21; see also Pl.'s Reply at 7. Plaintiff contends that if Commerce acted in accordance with its past practice of calculating financial ratios, Commerce would have found that Ayes was not profitable and, therefore, unsuitable for determining the surrogate financial ratios. Pl.'s Mem. at 21; see also Pl.'s Reply at 7–8. The Government responds that Commerce applied its practice of treating “other income” as related to the general operations of the company and correctly found that Ayes was profitable. Def.'s Resp. at 16; see also Zhejiang's Resp. at 5–6 (arguing that Commerce adhered to its practice).

B. Analysis

Commerce calculated respondents' SG&A and profit using financial ratios derived from Ayes' financial statements. See I&D Mem. at 14–16. Commerce calculated the SG&A ratio by taking Ayes' SG&A as a percentage of its raw materials, direct labor, energy, manufacturing overhead, and traded/finished goods. Changes to the Surrogate Fin. Ratios for the Final Determination (June 28, 2021) (“Fin. Ratios Mem.”), Attach. 3, PR 357–58, CJA Tab 22. Commerce calculated the profit ratio by taking Ayes' profit as a percentage of its raw materials, direct labor, energy, manufacturing overhead, traded/finished goods, SG&A, and interest. Id.

At issue is whether Commerce properly accounted for certain income categories when calculating the financial ratios for Ayes. Plaintiff asserts that if the income categories it challenges are properly excluded from these calculations, Commerce would have found that Ayes was not profitable and, therefore, selected the financial statements of another company (e.g., Grupo Carso) to calculate the financial ratios. See Pl.'s Mem. at 21. For purposes of this discussion, the court divides the income categories into three groups as discussed below.

1. Commerce Properly Accounted for Certain Other Real Operating Income Categories

For the Preliminary Determination, Commerce “excluded other real operating income” categories from its SG&A ratio calculation. Prelim. SV Mem. at 6. Specifically, Commerce excluded deferred finance income, incentive income, shipping revenues, provisions no longer required, price difference, and other income and profits from the SG&A ratio calculation. Id., Attach. 3. In its comments to Commerce on the Preliminary Determination, Plaintiff argued that while Commerce properly excluded these income categories from SG&A, the agency failed to adjust the profit calculation accordingly. See Pet'rs' Case Br.

at 11–12. For the Final Determination, Commerce revised its SG&A calculation and included these “other real operating income” categories in the calculation of SG&A. I&D Mem. at 15. Before the court, Plaintiff contends that Commerce failed to adequately explain the change in treatment of these “other real operating income” categories between the Preliminary Determination and Final Determination and that the explanation Commerce provided was conclusory and unsupported by the record. Pl.’s Mem. at 24; see also Pl.’s Reply at 9–10. Plaintiff maintains that these income categories should have been excluded from both the SG&A and profit ratio calculations, as it maintained before Commerce. Pl.’s Mem. at 24–26; Pl.’s Reply at 10–12.

Commerce provided an explanation, supported by substantial evidence, for its change between the Preliminary Determination and Final Determination with respect to some, but not all, of the income categories at issue. For the Final Determination, Commerce revised its final surrogate financial ratios calculations to include all six of the “other real operating income” categories identified above and explained that it came “to understand that the term, ‘real operating income,’ in audited financial statements means that the relevant expense categories apply to the general operations of the company.” Fin. Ratios Mem. at 2, n.6. Moreover, Commerce described its practice of seeking “consistency in the treatment of both the revenue and expense side of line items on Ayes’ financial statements.” I&D Mem. at 15.

While Commerce’s description of its practice as seeking consistency in the treatment of revenues and expenses explains some of the changes it made, it fails to justify all of these changes. Furthermore, the examples that Commerce provides of its consistency introduces another issue.

First, in describing its practice of consistent treatment, Commerce provided two examples drawn from the “other real operating income” categories. In one case, Commerce stated that it includes both exchange gains and losses in the calculation of financial income and expenses. Commerce similarly said that it “excluded both the shipping expenses and shipping revenues in the Preliminary Determination” and “continue[d] to exclude both the expenses and revenues associated with shipping merchandise for sale.” Id. While Commerce accurately described its treatment of exchange gains and losses, the supporting documents for Commerce’s Final Determination indicate that shipping expenses were excluded, but shipping revenues were included in SG&A. See Fin. Ratios Mem., Attach. 3. Because Commerce’s actual treatment of shipping revenue appears to be at odds with its stated treatment of that revenue, the court must remand this issue for reconsideration or further explanation.

Commerce’s revised treatment of four other income categories is addressed by its explanation of providing consistent treatment. For each of these four income categories (deferred finance income, provisions no longer required, price difference, and other income and profit), Ayes’ financial statements included an analog expense category that Commerce had already included in the SG&A ratio calculation (deferred finance expense, provision for doubtful receivables, price difference, and other expenses and losses). See id. Commerce’s expressed interest in “consistency in the treatment of both the revenue and expense side of line items on Ayes’ financial statements” is adequate to explain Commerce’s treatment of these income categories for the Final Determination.

There is one remaining category of “other real operating income” that Commerce excluded from the SG&A ratio calculation for the Preliminary Determination but included for the Final Determination: incentive income. While Commerce listed incentive income along with other income categories with corresponding expense categories, the court is unable to discern the corresponding expense category or any other explanation for Commerce’s change for the Final Determination. To that end, the court must remand this issue for reconsideration or further explanation.

The court further notes that, contrary to Plaintiff’s argument, the inclusion of certain “other real operating income” categories as offsets to SG&A does not contradict Commerce’s general practice.⁷ As Commerce explained, its normal practice calls for the agency to treat the revenue and expense sides of line items consistently. I&D Mem. at 15.⁸

Plaintiff relies on selected determinations in which Commerce excluded certain “other real operating income” categories from offsetting SG&A. See Pl.’s Mem. at 24–25. In those determinations, Commerce made fact-specific determinations that are not inconsistent with or otherwise detract from its general practice.⁹ Instead, these exclusions represent exceptions to Commerce’s practice of treating other income as an offset to SG&A such as when the record demonstrates that it relates to a prior period or to non-subject merchandise. See I&D Mem. at 15 (explaining the exceptions to Commerce’s practice). Absent a demonstration by Plaintiff of such similarities, the cited determinations do not support a general exclusion of these income categories from the SG&A ratio. See id.

⁷ “In calculating the [general and administrative] expense ratio, Commerce normally includes certain expenses and revenues that relate to the general operations of the company as a whole and to the accounting period, as opposed to including only those expenses that directly relate to the production of the merchandise.” Issues & Decision Mem. for Forged Steel Fittings from the Republic of Korea, A-580–904 (Oct. 13, 2020) at 18, <https://access.trade.gov/Resources/frn/summary/korea-south/2020–23110–1.pdf> (last visited May 30, 2023)).

2. Commerce’s Inclusion of Rental Income Must Be Remanded for Reconsideration or Further Explanation

Ayes’ financial statements include an income category of “rental income” under the heading “Income from Investing Activities.” Zhejiang’s Fin. Ratios Submission, Ex. 2. For the Preliminary Determination, Commerce excluded rental income from the SG&A ratio calculation. Prelim. SV Mem., Attach. 3. However, for the Final Determination, Commerce included “rental income” as an offset to SG&A. I&D Mem. at 15. Plaintiff contends that Commerce failed to explain the change in treatment of “rental income” between the Preliminary Determination and Final Determination. Pl.’s Mem. at 28; see also Pl.’s Reply at 14.

Commerce has not explained its treatment of rental income in the Final Determination. While Commerce included a reference to “rental income” within its explanation of how it treated “other real operating income” categories, rental income was not such a category and, instead, was listed as “income from investing activities.” See Fin. Ratios Mem., Attach. 3. Commerce’s explanation of providing consistent treatment between income and expense lines does not explain Com-

merce’s treatment of rental income for the Final Determination—both because such an explanation does not apply to income from investing activities and because there is no obvious corresponding expense.¹⁰ See id.

In the absence of any explanation for Commerce’s treatment of rental income, this issue is remanded for Commerce to reconsider or further explain its treatment of this income category in the SG&A and profit ratio calculations.

3. Commerce’s Treatment of Interest Income in Calculating Ayes’ Profit Must Be Remanded for Reconsideration or Explanation

Ayes’ financial statements also include an income category of “interest income” under the heading “Income from Investing Activities.” Zhejiang’s Fin. Ratios Submission, Ex. 2. The parties agree that Commerce excluded “interest income” as an offset to SG&A expenses in the financial ratio calculations. See Pl.’s Mem. at 22–23; Def.’s Resp. at 18. Plaintiff, however, maintains that Commerce failed to remove “interest income” from Ayes’ profit. Pl.’s Mem. at 26; see also Pl.’s Reply 13–14. The Government responds that Commerce excluded this “interest income” both as an offset to Ayes’ SG&A and from Ayes’ profit. Def.’s Resp. at 20–21. To that end, it appears that the parties disagree on what Commerce did with respect to interest income in calculating Ayes’ profit.

On November 10, 2022, the court issued a letter seeking to confirm its understanding of Commerce’s treatment of interest income for the Final Determination and inviting comment from the parties. Letter Order at 1, ECF No. 47.¹¹ Rather than providing clarity with respect to Commerce’s treatment of interest income, the parties’ responses confirmed their disagreement over the basic facts of what Commerce did.¹²

The role of the court is to review Commerce's determinations and determine whether they are in accordance with law and supported by substantial evidence. The court is unable to perform this review function when it is unable to identify what determination Commerce made. Accordingly, this issue is remanded to Commerce for reconsideration or further explanation of its treatment of "interest income" in the calculation of financial ratios. Commerce must be precise in its selection of terminology and, to the extent that it continues to maintain that it is excluding interest income from profit without making a deduction or offset, demonstrate that its profit calculation does not include the interest income.

4. Plaintiff's Arguments that Ayes is Unprofitable Fail

Plaintiff contends that Ayes' profitability results from the other income categories, challenged above, and that when Commerce properly adjusts for those income categories, Ayes will be unprofitable and, therefore, inappropriate as a basis for the surrogate profit ratio. Pl.'s Reply at 8–9. Plaintiff argues that Commerce disregards financial statements that are only profitable due to "other income." Id. at 9.

As discussed above, Plaintiff's challenges to Commerce's treatment of four of the eight income categories fails. While Commerce must reconsider or further explain its treatment of the remaining four income categories, even if Commerce decides that all four categories must be deducted from Ayes' profit, the record indicates that Ayes will remain profitable.¹³ Consequently, Plaintiff's challenge to the use of Ayes' financial statements due to a lack of profit fails because the premise on which it is made has not been established.

IV. Commerce's Selection of Turkey as the Primary Surrogate Country

A. Legal Framework

As discussed above, Commerce generally values all factors of production in a single surrogate country, referred to as the "primary surrogate country." See 19 C.F.R. § 351.408(c)(2) (excepting labor); Jiaxing II, 822 F.3d at 1294 & n.3. The court has acknowledged this practice as a way "to minimize distortion." Tri Union Frozen Prods., Inc. v. United States, 41 CIT __, __, 227 F. Supp. 3d 1387, 1400 (2017); see also Carbon Activated Tianjin Co. v. United States, 45 CIT __, __, 547 F. Supp. 3d 1310, 1318 (2021) (discussing Commerce's preference to value all factors of production in a single surrogate country). The court also discussed above Commerce's four-step approach to selecting the primary surrogate country and that it is selected based on the reliability and completeness of the data in the similarly-situated surrogate country. Commerce will "only resort to a secondary surrogate country if data from the primary surrogate country are unavailable or unreliable." Jiaxing Brother Fastener Co. v. United States, 38 CIT 1404, 1412, 11 F. Supp. 3d 1326, 1332–33 (2014) (citations omitted), aff'd, Jiaxing II, 822 F.3d 1289.

B. Parties' Contentions

Plaintiff contends that Commerce's selection of Turkey over Mexico as the primary surrogate country was not supported by substantial evidence or in accordance with law. Pl.'s Mem. at 29; see also Pl.'s Reply at 15. Plaintiff contends that Commerce failed to compare the relative data quality between Mexico and Turkey because the agency determined that Grupo Carso was not a producer of comparable merchandise. Pl.'s Mem. at 30–31; see also Pl.'s Reply at 15. Additionally, Plaintiff contends that the Mexican data were superior because Turkey's surrogate values were not contemporaneous, Ayes' financial statements were less detailed than Grupo Carso's, and Ayes was not profitable. Pl.'s Mem. at 34–36; see also Pl.'s Reply at 15. The Government contends that Commerce found that the Turkish data included “a complete[], audited financial statement for a company that produced comparable merchandise, unlike the Mexican surrogate data.” Def.’s Resp. at 23. The Government further contends that Commerce addressed Plaintiff’s arguments against selecting Turkey as the surrogate country, explaining that the Turkish values were contemporaneous, and Ayes’ financial statements showed a profit and contained sufficient detail. Id. at 23–24.

C. Analysis

Plaintiff’s argument that Commerce erred in selecting Turkey as the surrogate country is based on several factual assertions, two of which the court has already rejected: Commerce reasonably found that Ayes produces comparable merchandise whereas Grupo Carso does not; and while Commerce must revisit its treatment of certain income categories when calculating the financial ratios, the value of those categories is not significant enough to result in finding Ayes to be unprofitable in any case. Having rejected those claims, as Commerce did below, the court considers whether Plaintiff’s remaining arguments are a sufficient basis to question Commerce’s selection of Turkey.

Plaintiff’s contention that Commerce did not examine the relative data quality between the Mexican and Turkish data is not supported by the record. To the contrary, Commerce acknowledged that “the Mexican data for certain [factors of production] may be more contemporaneous than that of corresponding Turkish data,” and explained that “the record is incomplete with respect to [surrogate values] from Mexico, but is complete with respect to [surrogate values] from Turkey.” I&D Mem. at 13. Commerce further explained that it was able to adjust certain non-contemporaneous surrogate values to reflect the period of investigation, allowing it to value all factors of production, including the financial ratios, in its selected surrogate country. See id.

Plaintiff also argues that Grupo Carso’s financial statements should have been used because they are more detailed than Ayes’ financial statements. Pl.’s Mem. at 35. Commerce’s practice is to select financial statements that are “sufficiently detailed to calculate financial ratios, and are from the primary surrogate country.” Issues & Decision Mem. for Certain Quartz Surface Products from China, A-570–084 (May 14, 2019) at 81–82, <https://access.trade.gov/Resources/frn/summary/prc/2019–10800–1.pdf> (last visited May 30, 2023). Regardless of the detail in Grupo Carso’s financial statements, Plaintiff has not identified any inadequacy with the level of detail in Ayes’ financial statements.

Commerce also found that Mexico's surrogate data was incomplete because Plaintiff misclassified certain inputs under the Harmonized Tariff Schedule ("HTS"). I&D Mem. at 13. Plaintiff disputes this assertion, pointing to Commerce's statement that the agency's determination on data quality was "based on an analysis of complete, factual information on the record, and did not result from a deficient or incomplete SV submission." Pl.'s Mem. at 31 (citing I&D Mem. at 13–14). Regardless, Commerce also noted that the missing or misclassified HTS numbers "further support[ed]" its selection of Turkey as the surrogate country. I&D Mem. at 13. Thus, Commerce treated the misclassification as a contributor to its selection of Turkey over Mexico, but not determinative of that selection. Even if it were treated as a neutral factor, it would not serve to counter the lack of an appropriate financial statement from a producer of comparable merchandise in Mexico and Commerce's preference to value all factors in the primary surrogate country.

For these reasons, Commerce's selection of Turkey as the primary surrogate country is supported by substantial evidence and in accordance with the law.
