Washington State Department of Natural Resources (DNR) began implementing the Quartermaster Harbor Mooring Buoy Management Plan (QHMP) in February of 2015. This year, DNR plans to authorize up to 56 mooring buoy licenses in Dockton Cove. The authorizations may begin thirty (30) days from the date of this notification.

The QHMP is a supplement to the Maury Island Environmental Aquatic Reserve Management Plan, adopted on October 29, 2004. The QHMP was publicly announced on April 3, 2013. The goal of the QHMP is to safely, sustainably, and legally improve moorage opportunities while protecting the interests of local recreational boaters and waterfront residents.

On and after March 11, 2016, DNR intends to authorize up to 56 mooring buoy licenses on State-owned aquatic lands, for the sole purpose of recreational-use mooring buoys. They are located in Dockton Cove, in King County, Washington.
