It was winter when we opened and it was winter when we closed. Harness racing has become a year-round sport in New York, and has necessitated a new approach to many facets of the Commission function.

For instance, there used to be a hiatus of several months between the end of one season and the beginning of another. This allowed for some vacations, research, experimental work, etc.

Time is a luxury we can no longer afford.

In our last report we were unable to discuss investigations underway by District Attorney William Cahn of Nassau County, District Attorney Aaron Koota of Kings County and U.S. Attorney Robert Morgenthau because these investigations were continuing and discussing them would be improper. Some phases of the investigations are still in progress and we cannot touch on these events. However, it might be enlightening to reprint a copy of the release issued by the Nassau County District Attorney William Kahn:

Nassau County District Attorney William Cahn today announced: More than one year has elapsed since the Kings County District Attorney's Office referred to me an allegation of an attempt to fix the fourth race that was run at Roosevelt Raceway on January 22nd, 1966.

During this period of time, this office and the Grand Jury has conducted a complete investigation of this allegation and other related matters. We requested and received the fullest cooperation from the New York State Harness Racing Commission under Commissioner Robert Glasser and the Management of Roosevelt Raceway. There were witnesses, however, who refused to cooperate and whose testimony before the Grand Jury resulted in perjury indictments. The investigation is now completed and there is no evidence upon which the Grand Jury can return further indictments.

The racing in New York State through 1967 has been superlative and well planned impressive stake programs have given New York's racing fans a chance to see some of the finest racing stock in the world.

The impressive program of the breeding industry continues its phenomenal rise, and is discussed in detail elsewhere in the report.

With the extended season, weather has become a decisive factor in harness racing. Mark Twain once said, "Everybody talks about the weather, but nobody does anything about it." Our tracks have been doing everything possible to winterize their facilities so that patrons will be comfortable regardless of the weather. It's a very expensive process and there is just so much that can be done at this time.

We are currently operating with a fairly stabilized market, and it's doubtful that the next few years will see any startling changes in attendance and handle that are not directly attributable to the weather factor. This situation should remain in "status-quo" until there is a change in the New Jersey situation which might have a strong affect when and if it occurs.

The volume of purses to horsemen in 1967 reached $20,455,308.09 +1.47% over 1966.

REVIEW OF THE COMMISSION FUNCTION

The New York State Harness Racing Commission has a general jurisdiction over all pari-mutual activities in the State and the corporations, associations and persons engaged therein.

Such general jurisdiction includes:

FIRST- protection and security to assure the public honest, competitive harness racing.

SECOND- to remove undesirable persons, undesirable or interlocking stock interests and ownership, and any other interests which may be detrimental to the sport and to pari-mutual harness racing.

THIRD- to supervise labor and management relations so that racketeering elements shall not be able to creep into the sport or into the administrative portions of the business, but, at the same time, to preserve the rights of employees to bargain collectively.

FOURTH- to license all persons who participate in harness racing regardless of their position or occupation and to assure a secure method for keeping undesirable elements and unfit and improper persons from participating in pari-mutual harness racing.

FIFTH- to supervise all building programs and to audit the books and records of licensed harness racing associations, corporations, and concessionaires engaged in the business.

SIXTH- to promulgate and file rules and regulations to properly supervise the sport.

In the administration of its responsibility the Commission, by its programs, has endeavored to instill public confidence in the integrity of the sport. This has been mostly achieved by:

1. The elimination of undesirable elements through the Commission's licensing program.
2. The supervision of the security and protective measures utilized by harness racing associations.
3. The examination of saliva and urine samples obtained from horses racing to establish whether such animals have been drugged or have been given some preparation which would affect their normal racing condition.
4. Conducting investigations on all matters pertaining to harness racing.
5. The ejection of bookmakers and touts.

6. The assessment of penalties for racing violations of the rules and regulations of the Commission.
7. Conducting hearings of violations.
8. The training and appointment of competent racing officials.

One important responsibility of the Commission is the preparation, recodification and revision of the rules and regulations governing harness racing in this State.

Fully cognizant of the National scope of harness racing, the New York State Harness Racing Commission has established a close, friendly cooperation with the United States Trotting Association, wherein the exchange of ideas, records and material has noticeably enhanced the progress of the sport.

As part of this policy, Commission representatives attend the annual United States Trotting Association convention on rules and other related matters in Columbus, Ohio, in addition to having representation at the USTA District #8 meeting, which encompasses N.Y. members.

In July of 1966, the Commission became affiliated with the National Association of State Racing Commissioners which gives us a top level liaison with the administrative racing function throughout the country.

The Commission, annually conducts public hearings and conferences with racing officials, breeders, representatives of management, harness writers covering the sport, and other interested parties for the purpose of reviewing and evaluating the effectiveness of the rules and regulations.

At these conferences, the rules are exhaustively studied, committees are established to go into specific categories in depth and then submit reports to the Commission for final study, decision and action.

The Commissioners then meet in Executive session, at which they review the final recommendations of some of the most knowledgeable men in the sport, and make the decisions which will govern New York harness racing for the next season.

After 8 Years

A Summary

In the continuing project, it's sometimes advisable to stop and take stock. We will take a sampling of the past eight years to see how the totals check out.

1960-1967

During this period, we have offered the public 6,635 racing programs. There were 57,133 races in which approximately 456,984 horses competed. The total attendance was 67,419,036 and the pari-mutuel handle reached the astronomical figure of 4,935,461,260.

The revenue to the State was 453,732,269 which helped finance many hospitals, schools, roads, and other worthy State projects.

With the extended season, daily averages are adversely affected and the weather factor assumed much more importance than it had heretofore. Current factors are discussed elsewhere in this report.

BREEDING IN NEW YORK STATE

The trustees of the Agriculture and New York State Horse Breeding Development Fund have done an outstanding job in their assigned task of building the Standardbred Breeding Industry into one of the States most meaningful projects.

Commissioner Don J. Wickham, the Chairman, and trustees, Commissioner Robert A. Glasser, George C. Paffenbarger, George W. Barker, Dr. Harry M. Zweig, and Executive Director, C. Russell Selkirk, deserve the commendation of everyone in racing.

The Agriculture and New York State Horse Breeding Development Fund was empowered to promote and develop agriculture within the State generally, and specifically, to improve standardbred horse breeding.

Through the Fund's programs, it is expected that the standardbred horse breeding industry will contribute 100 million dollars to the economy of New York State by 1976. The results of this continually increasing source of revenue will, in some way, affect every resident within the State.

Four major areas in which the Development Fund acts to reach its objectives are:

Authorizing appropriate New York bred harness races at each of the licensed harness tracks and providing adequate purses to effectively promote these events.

Directing financial assistance to town and county agricultural societies to maintain and repair fairground facilities.

Implementing a thorough and effective 4-H club program to promote an interest in the breeding and training of standardbred horses.

Providing purses for non pari-mutuel harness racing at the State Fair and maintaining and improving State Fair racing facilities.

Progress was made in all of these major areas during 1967.

SIRE STAKES IN '67

A major factor in developing and continually improving the standardbred horse breeding industry within the State is the New York Sire Stakes program, which in 1967 continued to increase in size and effectiveness. Through this program, the Development Fund sponsors stake races at each of the eight licensed tracks for two, three and four-year-old horses which have been bred within the State. In 1967, the Fund allocated over $1,480,533 to harness racing tracks for New York Sire Stakes races. Together with sustaining fees and starting fees paid by the horsemen, the total Sire Stakes purses paid to winners in 1967 amounted to $1,890,896.

As an additional incentive to develop the standardbred horse breeding industry within the State, the Development Fund also allocated funds in the amount of $160,045 for the non pari-mutuel racing program conducted at the New York State Fair. Together with sustaining fees and starting fees, total purses for these State Fair harness racing events amounted to $284,100.

STATE STANDARDBRED HORSE BREEDING INDUSTRY ON INCREASE

Many of the programs and actions undertaken by the Development Fund in 1966 and continued in 1967 have resulted in significantly improving the position of the standardbred horse breeding industry within the State. These include a stronger Sire Stakes program than ever before, and a nominal sustaining fee schedule, resulting in increased numbers of horses participating in the program. A 15% increase in New York-bred yearlings nominated for the New York Sire Stakes program in 1967 over 1966, a 34% increase in registered stallions, and a 30% increase in mares bred. A part of this dramatic increase in the number of stallions is due to an influx of "name" stallions including a number of proven sires, assuring an improvement in quality as well as quantity.

The estimated number of foals produced by mares bred in 1967 is expected to reach an all-time high of over 1700. The continuing increase in stallions registered, mares bred and the growing number of foals produced each year is entirely consistent with a primary objective of the Fund, to improve standardbred horse breeding within New York State.

4-H STANDARDBRED PROGRAM

Another important aspect of the Development Fund is the implementation of a thorough and effective 4-H Club Program to promote a greater interest in the breeding and training of standardbred horses among club members throughout the State. Originally promulgated by Harness Racing Commission Chairman Robert A. Glasser, the program has now grown under its present setup to where more than 6,500 youths are currently enrolled in more than 100 4-H horse clubs in New York State. The 4-H

Standardbred project is relatively new. In 1967, the Development Fund actively supported the 4-H Club Standardbred Program under agreements between the New York State 4-H Club Foundation, Inc., and Cornell University.

A total of $51,000 was paid by the Development Fund to the 4-H Foundation for the period October 1, 1966 through September 30, 1967. This was for support of the 4-H Standardbred Program consisting of the following two major divisions:

1. An extension program in horse science and husbandry involving use of visual aids and literature, 4-H scholarships, educational trips, horse achievement awards, and promotion, organization and conduct of leader training meetings, horse clinics and conferences.

A particularly interesting project within this phase of the program is the production of some 60 model horses being prepared by the noted sculptor, L. P. Jonas. These unique training aids will be made available for 4-H demonstrational use throughout the State.

2. The breeding phase of the program consists of two parts:
 - (a) The mare-lease program, and (b) stud fee payment assistance.

THE NEW BREED--OF BREEDER

Nestled among the soft rolling hills at Pine Bush, New York, one of the newer Breeding Farms, Pine Hollow Stud, is typical of the many new farms actively breeding standardbreds in New York as a result of the N.Y. Sire Stakes program, started in 1961 on a voluntary basis at the suggestion of the N.Y. Commission, and greatly expanded with the passage of the LaVerne Law in 1965, which also created the N.Y. Horsebreeders and Agriculture Fund which now directs the program.

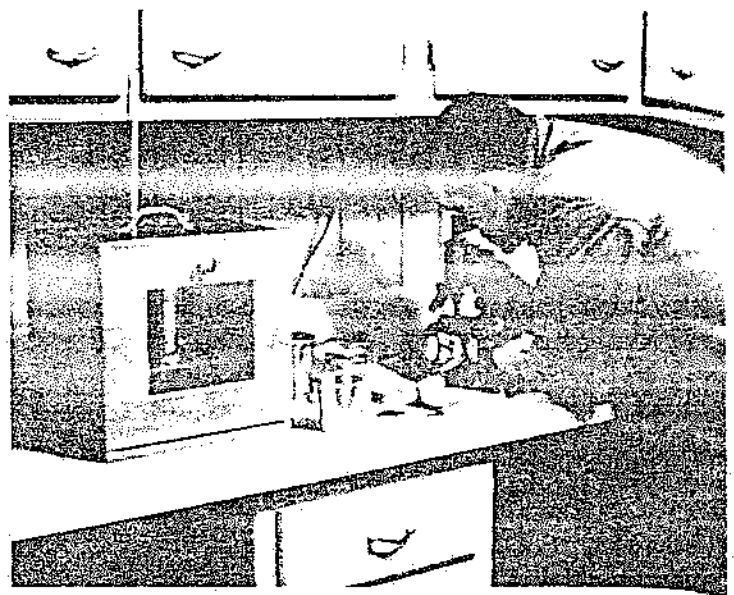

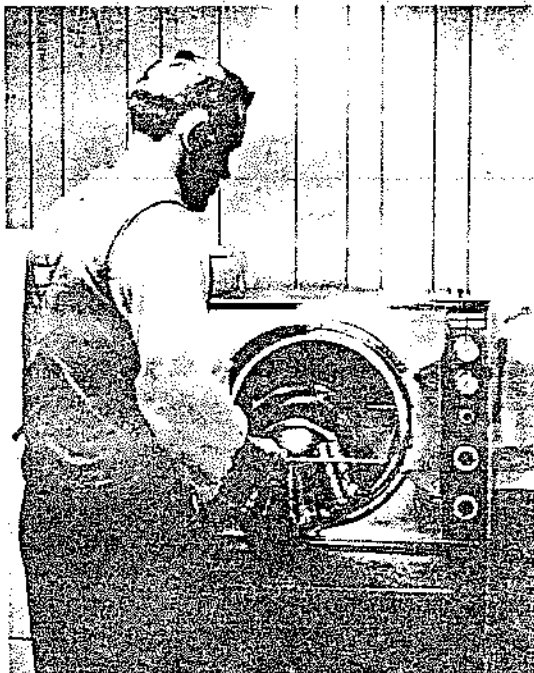

Pine Hollow Stud is not the largest, or the richest, or even the busiest, but it is typical of the great farms, with an excellent farm manager, owners who are not afraid to keep plowing money back into the farm, a modern scientific method of operation, and most importantly, truly great stallions.

(right) The microscope is used to examine blood samples, semen, and any number of other factors important in the operation of a breeding farm.

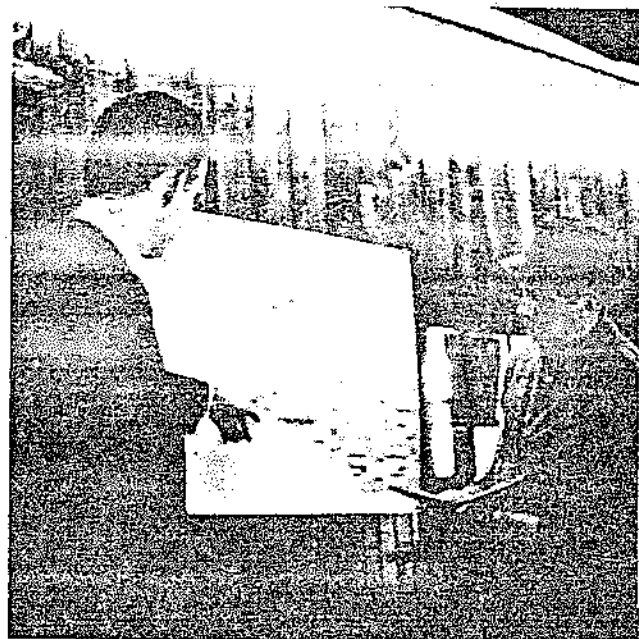

RIGHT: Stallion row, as it appears from the breeding shed. The antiseptically clean, polished mahogany stalls are "home" for greats like Torpid, Speedy Rodney, Romeo Hanover and others.

LEFT: Pine Hollow Stud will be a great place if it ever gets finished. As fast as a new building goes into construction, a newer one is being planned. Here, we see new barns which will be used for yearlings and mares.

RIGHT: Morton Finder, President of Pine Hollow Stud checks the chart with Jack Adams, his farm manager. The chart tells at a glance, the menstrual cycles and "heat" periods of the broodmares, whom they are to be bred to, and etc.

SECURITY

EXCERPT FROM THE REVIEW OF THE COMMISSION FUNCTION:

"PROTECTION AND SECURITY TO ASSURE THE PUBLIC HONEST, COMPETITIVE HARNESS RACING."

REPORT OF LICENSING AND INVESTIGATION SECTION

One of the principal functions of the Commission is to protect the public by maintaining the integrity of harness racing at the highest level. To effect this aim, the Commission takes every precaution to bar from the sport undesirables whose affiliation with the sport, in any manner, would diminish public confidence in the sport.

Towards this end, applicants for licenses are carefully screened. Applicants are required to execute detailed applications and submit photographs and fingerprints with each application. Local police and federal agencies check the applicants through their files and report back to the Commission. Where a minor criminal record of an applicant appears, pertinent investigation is conducted by the Commission to determine the facts behind the arrests or convictions and, on the basis of such investigation, issuance, denial, or revocation is made where it serves the best interest of the public. Felony or gambling convictions are usually sufficient grounds for denial or revocation of licenses for new applicants or licensees respectively.

The Commission is extremely grateful to Mr. J. Edgar Hoover, Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation; to Mr. Robert R. J. Gallati, Director of the New York State Identification and Intelligence Systems; to Mr. William E. Kirwan, Superintendent of the New York State Police; to the Ontario Provincial Police in Canada; and to the numerous local police departments in this and other states of America for their excellent and wholehearted cooperation in making the aims of the Commission possible.

Reciprocally, the Commission has assisted federal and local police agencies by making available Commission files when required. The information compiled on licensees is quite extensive and frequently serves the interests of law enforcement agencies.

With the harness racing seasons extended to an almost all-year round basis, the licensing activities have increased substantially. In 1967, the number of applications processed reached a new high of 19,954. Of this number, 185 were suspended, revoked, or denied because of derogatory information in the applicants background which would disqualify him from holding a Commission license.

The tremendous increase in licensing activities is dramatically reflected by comparison of the figures for 1954, when licensing was initiated, with those of 1967. In 1954, the number of applications was 11,417; in 1967, the number was 19,954, an increase of 8,537, or about 74.7% over 1954.

The figures listed below represent the number of applications reviewed and processed since the start of licensing in 1954 and the number of denials, suspensions and revocations of licenses since that time:

YEAR	APPLICATIONS RECEIVED	DENIED	SUSPENDED AND REVOKED

1964	19,543	88	117
1965	19,709	91	105
1966	19,825	105	109
1967	*19,954	89	96
TOTAL	226,781	1,329	1,445

*There were 54 applications upon which licenses were not issued because these applications were either withdrawn by the applicants, were incomplete and for various other reasons.

In 1967, the Commission approved 19,715 licenses, of which 8,841 were horsemen and 10,874 were in various other categories of non-horsemen, grooms, mutuel clerks, administrative help, food service, concessionaires, etc.

The following figures set forth, by category, the 1967 license denials, suspensions, and revocations in the horsemen and non-horsemen groups:

	Denied	Suspended	Revoked
HORSEMEN:
(Owners, Trainers, Drivers)	24	24	3
NON-HORSEMEN:
Grooms	40	41	2
Mutuel Clerks	11	1	1
Food Service	4	18	2
General Track Personnel ..	6	1	--
Miscellaneous	4	3	--
	89	88	8

Included among those whose licenses were suspended or revoked were several well known horsemen who were under investigation by both the Commission and the District Attorney's offices of Nassau and Kings County. In these investigations the facilities of the Commission were made available to the District Attorneys and the combined cooperation of all agencies concerned expedited the investigations.

The security at the eight harness racing tracks throughout New York State falls within the responsibility of the Commission. Security officers at these tracks, acting under Commission supervision, conduct spot checks in barns or other areas in a search for illegal paraphernalia, such as hypodermic needles, syringes, drugs, etc. Such items found in the areas searched result in intensive investigations and where responsibility is established, severe penalties are imposed upon those involved. In addition, security measures result in the barring and ejection from the tracks of those undesirables who prey upon the public such as touts, bookmakers, known gamblers, confidence men, etc. In 1967, hundreds of such undesirables were removed from the tracks. In some cases, persons were arrested and tried in local courts after they had returned to the tracks after having been ejected one or more times.

SALIVA AND URINE SAMPLES

Section 100.1 of the Harness Racing Commission rules makes it mandatory that the winning horse in every race be subjected to a saliva and urine test to determine the presence of any drug, stimulant, sedative, depressant, or other medicine. Further, the rules empower the track steward or presiding judge at any race meeting to order such tests for any other horse in the race. In every race where the purse exceeds $7,500, the second and third horses therein shall also be given the saliva and urine tests.

In 1967, 20,908 samples were collected for chemical analysis. In no instance was any foreign substance which was in violation of Commission rules found in the samples of any of the winning horses. In addition, spot checks were made on other horses with negative results.

The constant vigilance of the Commission in the matter of drugging horses is undoubtedly responsible for the insignificant number of drugging cases uncovered during the past few years. The Commission has maintained a policy of rapid investigative action in those instances where drugging of horses is suspected.

The following figures represent the number of samples collected at all tracks under Commission supervision during 1967:

SEMINAR

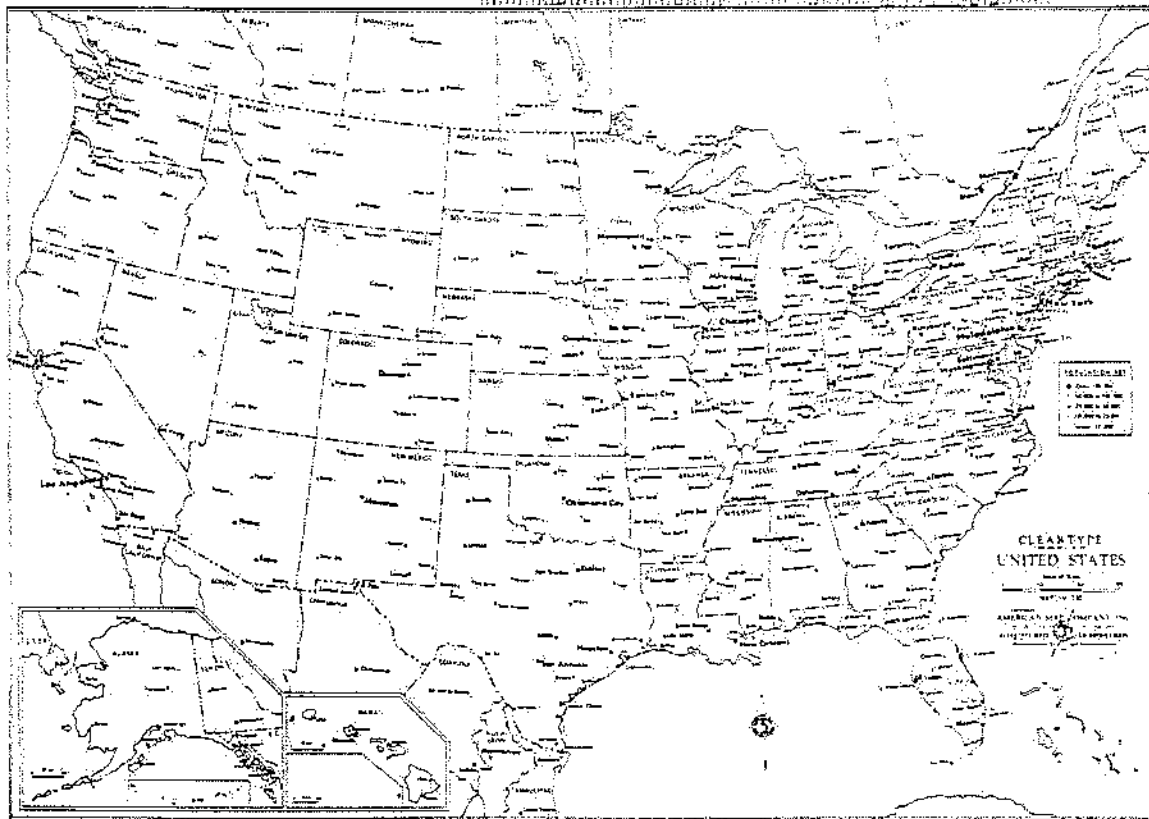

The annual Seminars conducted by the Commission are extremely valuable, and for 1967, Chairman Glasser again assigned Assistant Counsel John M. Dailey. In addition to being an attorney, Mr. Dailey has been a breeder, an owner, a trainer, and a driver. In conducting a two day Seminar in Syracuse, and a one day session in New York City, more than 150 of our officials took part in the discussions. Visual aids were also used to the fullest advantage.

AT

George Morton Levy, President and founder of Roosevelt Raceway, was inducted into Harness Racing's Living Hall of Fame at Goshen in July. Levy is considered the father of night-time pari-mutuel harness racing.

Youngsters ogle Su Mac Lad and Stanley Dancer during special Columbus Day morning program at Roosevelt Raceway. Over 6,000 mainly children, attended the no betting, no admission event. Featured were four New York Sire Stakes races and a harness clinic with Dancer, Bill Haughton and Dick Thomas.

Henri Levesque reins his great mare, Roquepine, to victory in the classic world championship international trot. Fresh Yankee (7) and Governor Armbr (9), both of Canada, were second and third.

The 1967 Dexter Cup proved to be harness racing's richest race at $183,463. Fittingly, Bill Haughton was the victor with the fine filly, Flamboyant. She trotted the mile in 2:04³/₅ in downing Halifax Hanover (7).

VERNON

Bill Haughton poses in the winner's circle with Miss Gold Cup after steering Keystone Pride to victory in the first annual Founders Gold Cup Trot at Vernon Downs. The pretty miss holds Vernon's solid gold tureen, believed to be the first gold cup in the history of harness racing.

Youngsters get a close look at a standardbred during one of five special children's programs at Vernon Downs this summer. More than 12,000 youngsters and adults attended the programs.

Stanley Dancer goes to the whip as he hustles Nevele Dancer through the stretch at Vernon Downs to complete a 1:57.3 trip, fastest mile at the home of the miracle mile this season.

BATAVIA

Fine Shot, the Sharpshooter 2-year-old trotting colt owned by Jack Bolton, won the $15,200 New York Sire Stakes division at Batavia Downs for driver Stanley Dancer.

Levi Harner, shown here winning with his trotting star Lofty Hanover, became the fourth driver in the history of harness racing to post 2,000 wins. The 58-year-old Harner-- who has captured 13 top driver crowns in WNY since 1946-- beat son Eldon's Miss Oak and trotting star Polaris in this dash.

Nevele Dancer driven by Harold Dancer, Jr. romped home in 2:02 to win the $16,100 Batavia Downs Colt & Filly Stakes 3-year-old pacing division.

BUFFALO

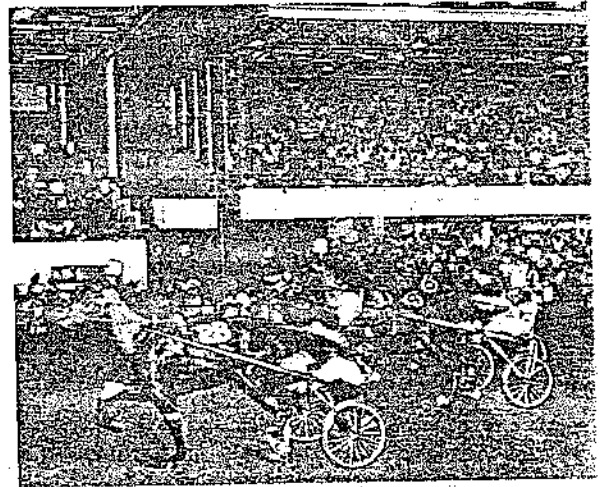

McByrd driven by young Gerry Kazmaier won four straight early closers at Buffalo Raceway. He is shown here in his 2:02 $\frac{4}{5}$ victory in the \$5,000 Can-Am Series. Parson Hanover was second.

Patti Poulsen, queen of the nation's airline stewardesses, and Jill Adzia, local travel agency beauty, congratulate Stanley Dancer after Nevele Pride's victory in the $18,360 2-year-old colt trot.

Meadow Paige, catch-driven here by Bob Altizer, won a $5,000 leg in the Can-Am Series at Buffalo Raceway, beating local favorite McByrd (Dick Wilcox) by a length.

Fantasia Hanover, with Frank Ervin in the sulky, set a Buffalo track record of 2:07 and equalled the national season mark in winning the $16,920 W.N. Reynolds Memorial 2-year-old filly trot.
