FROM: Vicki Parkinson, Workforce Programs Manager
SUBJECT: Training Milestone Measurable Skills Gain

Training Milestone Measurable Skill Gain (MSG) change per USDOL guidance.

Change:

The training milestone Measurable Skill Gain can ONLY be used for OJT's and Apprenticeship trainings. Other WIOA work based learning activities cannot be used for the training milestone Measurable Skill Gain.

Previous guidance concerning secondary transcript, post-secondary transcript, education functioning level, skills progression and diploma/equivalent Measurable Skill Gains remain the same.

Determining completion:

Career planners will determine the appropriate time-frame, skill gains, or steps to complete the OJT or apprenticeship for successful achievement of the Measurable Skill Gain.

Examples of Training Milestone Measurable Skill Gains achievement:

Note: Not an exhaustive list.

- Completion of OJT
- Completion of 1 year as an apprentice
- Increase in pay rate
- Mastery of specific job skills

We are currently making changes to the Technical Assistance Guide and past trainings to reflect this guidance.
