That's weird because Bloomberg reports Auriga has discretionary accounts with B. Madoff. Maybe it was a few years ago or it could be a feeder fund.

Hey,

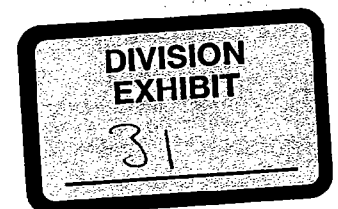

He said that he is not familiar with Auriga International although they could be an investor through one of the feeder funds.

If Bernie stops in ask him about Auriga International and whether or not that should be on the list. (If he asks where you got that from, you can say the Bloomberg machine).
