It's been a tough couple of days for me. Although I gave the exam and follow-up investigation 110%, we just didn't uncover it. I think that we were very close - probably only 1 or 2 phone calls away from blowing it open - but we didn't (woulda, coulda, shoulda - my best portfolio)

I've emailed [redacted] a couple of times - he's had some kind words about me - but the bottom line is I/we missed it. He was an excellent liar, very convincing....very, very, aggravating
