EUROPEAN EXTERNAL ACTION SERVICE

The European External Action Service (EEAS) is the European Union's diplomatic service.

Since 2011, the EEAS carries out the EU's Common Foreign and Security Policy to promote peace, prosperity, security, and the interests of Europeans across the globe.

The EEAS works under the political guidance of the High Representative of the Union for Foreign Affairs and Security Policy and Vice-President of the European Commission (often referred to as HR/VP).

Josep Borrell assumed the role of HR/VP in December 2019.

The HR/VP role entails making the European Union stronger and its voice heard on the international stage, working closely with the foreign and defence ministries of the member states of the European Union, the other EU institutions, and fostering partnerships with the United Nations and other International Organisations.

As the EU's chief diplomat, the HR/VP steers foreign and security policy on behalf of the European Union and coordinates the EU's foreign policy tools.

He also heads the European Defence Agency.

All over the world, the European External Action Service, in coordination with other European Union institutions, addresses EU foreign policy priorities, including civilian and military planning and crisis response.

The EEAS is also responsible for running the network of 144 EU Diplomatic Representations.

They represent the European Union in the country where they are located to strengthen bilateral relations, on the basis of EU principles and interests. More than 8,000 staff work at the Headquarters in Brussels and across the globe.

In addition, around 5,000 military and civilian staff are deployed in 17 ongoing military or civilian missions and operations worldwide, as part of the EU's Common Security and Defence Policy (CSDP).

The EU works to prevent and resolve conflicts, to support resilient democracies, to promote human rights and sustainable development, to fight climate change, and to contribute to a rules-based global order.

The EEAS is called a service for a reason. It is a privilege to serve the EU and its citizens and to help create a better world. To work for Europe, worldwide.

ABOUT THIS BOOK

"EU Foreign Policy in action – 10 years of EU Diplomacy around the world" is the outcome of a call for photos launched by the EEAS Strategic Communications team to all EU Delegations, Missions and Operations on the occasion of the 10th anniversary of the European External Action Service.

The objective of the call was to collect photos from all 144 EU Diplomatic Representations and 17 Missions and Operations highlighting the EU's action in countries across the globe.

This publication zooms in on the diversity of the work accomplished by the EU Delegations, Missions and Operations, giving a sample of what the EU does in the field, and how EU foreign policy is put in action around the world. These images are of course only a selection and a small fraction of the breadth of our external action.

These photos were also promoted digitally on the EEAS web and social media channels as part of the #EEAS10 campaign.

FOREWORD

EEAS Secretary-General STEFANO SANNINO

This year, 2021, is a very special year for the European External Action Service as we complete our first decade.

The launching of the EEAS ten years ago was an important step in the European integration process, and international challenges ever since show us the need to further develop our European common foreign policy.

We should proudly show our achievements and at the same time reflect on what we need to do next. We have to project who we are and what we do on a daily basis to make the European Union stronger and safer, while adapting to many challenges.

This is precisely the goal of this photobook that I have the pleasure to present to you with a self-explanatory title: "EU Foreign Policy in Action".

This book is a collection of great pictures of what we concretely do in the name of the EU everyday around the world, including some significant moments that have shaped our common European Union foreign policy.

Thanks to the work of our 144 EU Diplomatic Representations and 17 Missions and Operations on the ground, the EU plays a vital role in promoting its principles by cooperating with partners across the globe. I want to thank our EU Delegations and our Missions and Operations for their contribution to this book, and also pay tribute to their invaluable role in representing the European Union far from home.

I hope you will enjoy this book as much as I have... an experience of striking images of how we translate European foreign policy making into tangible action, on behalf of our citizens, and with our partners around the world.

Stefano SANNINO
EEAS Secretary General

The EU says "STOP" to Gender-Based Violence
DELEGATION OF THE EUROPEAN UNION TO BOTSWANA AND SOUTHERN AFRICAN DEVELOPMENT COMMUNITY (SADC)

During the COVID-19 pandemic, Gender-Based Violence (GBV) has increased in Botswana. Throughout the year, and especially during the 16 Days of Activism from 25 November to 10 December 2020, the EU Delegation to Botswana and the Southern African Development Community (SADC) strongly engaged in the fight against GBV, by funding Non Governmental Organisations active in the field. The Head of Delegation participated in several awareness-raising cycling events while the Delegation staff participated in a 25 km Walk away from GBV.

The Delegation Staff take up the Jerusalema challenge DELEGATION OF THE EUROPEAN UNION TO SOUTH AFRICA

One of the most uplifting moments in our foreign/public diplomacy in the past decade was taking up President Ramaphosa's challenge to publicly participate in the global Jerusalema dance craze to a track of music (the 2019 hit Jerusalema by Master KG and Nomcebo Zikode) that provided an uplifting soundtrack at a time of widespread despair/depression after the impact and cost of the first Covid-19 wave in South Africa became evident. The dance became wildly popular in South Africa (and globally - streamed more than 60m times on Spotify). The Delegation's participation was covered on social media by the country's Presidency (2019).

Walking with Ali: Making life easier for refugees with disabilities DELEGATION OF THE EUROPEAN UNION TO SYRIA

Nine-year-old Ali knows the struggle all too well. Ali has a disability that affects his ability to walk, sit comfortably and generally move around independently. But it didn't stop him from going to school in Homs, Syria, where he grew up. He especially loves mathematics. When his family fled their home in Syria more than four years ago, they had no idea what the future would hold. Where would they end up? How would they earn a living to support their large family? Would Ali cope without the additional support he needs? They just knew they had to leave if they wanted to survive (29 February 2016).
