

Co-chair's Statement Annex: Fundraising

Supporting the Future of Syria and the Region - Brussels V Conference
Brussels, 30 March 2021

Funding confirmed by the international community for the Syria Crisis response

Funding for 2021	Funding for 2022 and beyond	Loans for 2021 and beyond
EUR 3.6 B	EUR 1.7 B	EUR 5.9 B
USD 4.4 B	USD 2.0 B	USD 7.0 B

The international community confirmed EUR 3.6 billion / USD 4.4 billion<sup>1</sup> in funding to support humanitarian, resilience and development activities in 2021 for the Syria crisis response, which includes pledges towards the Syria Humanitarian Response Plan (HRP), the Regional Refugee and Resilience Plan (3RP), and the ICRC Syria Crisis appeals. This funding also includes support channelled via multi-donor mechanisms, as well as other funding for 2021. It will help to meet the immediate and basic needs of those affected by the humanitarian crisis in Syria, including supporting resilience efforts as well as supporting host countries to address the impact of the protracted crisis. These efforts will aim to secure quality education for all children and livelihood opportunities for refugees and affected communities as well as promote basic public services and economic growth for the benefit of all (see table 2).

The international community confirmed EUR 1.7 billion / USD 2.0 billion in funding for humanitarian, resilience and development activities in 2022 and beyond for the Syria crisis response. This multi-year commitment by the international community to Syria and neighbouring countries is important in demonstrating a clear commitment to continued support for those most affected by the Syrian crisis and ensuring humanitarian and development agencies are able to plan ahead.

<sup>1</sup> This includes some reconfirmed multi-year pledges from the Brussels III and IV conferences 'Supporting the future of Syria and the Region' of March 2019 and June 2020.

In addition to grants, multilateral development banks (MDBs), and bilateral donors pledged up to EUR 5.9 billion / USD 7 billion of loans (see table 3). The terms of these loans are yet to be agreed. We urge a substantial part of these loans to be made on concessional terms either on IDA equivalent terms or consistent with the revised OECD DAC principles agreed on 16 December 2014. We welcome this commitment to the region and will support MDB efforts to develop new ways of responding to protracted crises through increased access to sustainable lending.

The co-chairs will work in coordination with the refugee-hosting governments, humanitarian and development agencies, and multilateral development banks to ensure that these financial pledges are honoured promptly to ensure that vulnerable Syrians and host communities receive the assistance needed.

Conversion rates are based on UN operational rates of exchange as of 15th March 2021.

<sup>3</sup> Amounts provided are indicative and will depend on the political evolution in the region.

<sup>4</sup> Of which USD 498 million of the loan pledge is made up of loans offered on concessional terms.

<sup>5</sup> Will be subject to confirmation as EIB mandates are evolving between 2021 and 2022.

<sup>6</sup> The following donors announced loans: Italy (EUR 95,000,000 / USD 113,500,597) and France (EUR 425,000,000 / USD 507,765,830).

<sup>7</sup> Loan for 2021 in the form of macro-financial assistance at concessional terms (EUR 200,000,000 / USD 238,948,626).
