What is MACI
MINNESOTA ASSOCIATION OF COMMERCE AND INDUSTRY

It is a federation of 1,500 business and professional firms and more than 60 local chambers of commerce united to achieve for Minnesota and its business community what individual firms or organizations could not achieve alone.

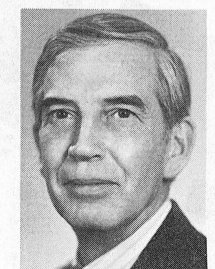

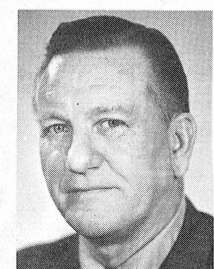

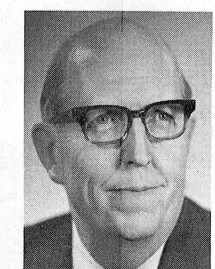

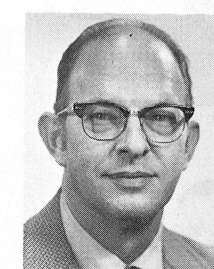

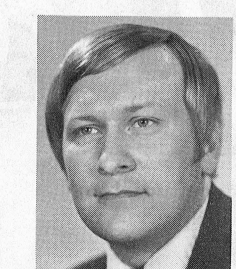

Its membership represents those who create and maintain some 300,000 jobs. They range from the self-employed individual to some of the state's largest payroll providers. More than half the members employ 25 or fewer. More than 80 per cent employ 100 or fewer. They are scattered in all parts of the state with nearly half coming from the non-metropolitan area.

MACI is a non-profit association, supported only by members' dues. Policies and positions are developed by a board of directors of 51 from 25 communities elected by the members. A staff composed of specialists in various fields works with officers, directors, subject-oriented councils, task forces and ad hoc committees in carrying out programs of MACI.

Activities in a broad way cover the areas of employment relations, environmental affairs, human resources, public affairs and governmental relations, and economic development.
