SIXTY-FOURTH LEGISLATURE, IMPEACHMENT SESSION

PROCEEDINGS

FIRST DAY--MONDAY, AUGUST 4, 1975

Pursuant to the provisions of HSR 221, 64th Legislature, Regular Session, and under authority of Article XV, Section 1, of the Constitution of the State of Texas, and Article 5962, Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas, Speaker Clayton called the House of Representatives to order to consider matters of impeachment.

The roll of the House was called and a quorum was announced present (Record No. 1, Appendix).

The invocation was offered by Dr. Ralph M. Smith, pastor, Hyde Park Baptist Church, as follows:

Our Gracious Heavenly Father, as we begin this special session of the legislature, we pause to thank you for our nation. Guide, lead, and direct us as we enter our bicentennial celebration. Earnestly do we pray that our republic would continue with freedom, liberty, and justice for all until the end of time and the beginning of eternity.

Father, in this meeting, the House has a difficult assignment. Help them to have wisdom and to be guided by YOUR Divine Spirit in their judgements. Forgive us of our sins. In Jesus' Name. Amen.

REMARKS BY SPEAKER CLAYTON

Members of the House assembled here in this unusual session—the third of its kind in the history of this state—I would remind you that the price of justice is not cheap, but the system works. The proof of this is in the coming celebration of our 200th year as a nation. Though trials and tribulations may sometimes beset us, our faith in God and a government of the people has carried us to even greater heights and will continue to be our guidepost for tomorrow.

Our system of government requires that the governed, or the people, must also govern. This is most appropriately accomplished by those elected officials closest to the people—the legislators. But our system divides the responsibilities among three branches—a legislative, executive, and judicial branch—each performing proper functions. The legislative branch makes the law, the judicial interprets, and the executive implements the law. Within this system, the legislature provides for the structure by which the other branches of government accomplish their constitutional duties. However, some would say that what we consider here today is a waste of the taxpayers' money, not a legislative responsibility and a matter that reeks of political revenge. But if a government of the people continues to work, we must meet our responsibility as set out in the constitution and the laws of this state.

HSR 167, establishing a Select Committee on Impeachment, was proper in its introduction and its passage by an overwhelming majority. Now we must proceed with the committee's report—not to decide guilt or innocence—but rather to carry out our constitutional mandate to assess to the satisfaction of our own minds and consciences whether or not articles of impeachment should be brought in the case of the Judge of the 229th Judicial District Court.

Time will note and history will record our actions here today. To properly fulfill our role, we must ensure that the cause of justice is accomplished, and that no man's inalienable rights to life, liberty or the pursuit of happiness are jeopardized nor suppressed.

Your committee has worked hard; they have furnished you with the needed information for the deliberation of this matter. With the same type of determination and dedication shown in the 64th

Regular Session, I am sure that the House will dispense with its responsibility and can be adjourned within a few hours.

HSR 161—ADOPTED

The Speaker laid before the House the following resolution on committee report:

HSR 161, preferring articles of impeachment against O. P. Carrillo, district judge for the 229th Judicial District of Texas.

Mr. Hale offered the following committee amendment to the resolution:

Committee substitute for HSR 161

A resolution impeaching O. P. Carrillo, district judge for the 229th Judicial District of Texas, and preferring articles of impeachment against him.

BE IT RESOLVED by the House of Representatives of the State of Texas, That O. P. Carrillo, judge of the district court for the 229th Judicial District of the State of Texas, is impeached and that the following articles of impeachment be exhibited to the Senate:

Articles of impeachment exhibited by the House of Representatives of the State of Texas in the name of itself and of all the people of the State of Texas against O. P. Carrillo, judge of the district court for the 229th Judicial District of the State of Texas, in maintenance and support of its impeachment against him.

ARTICLE I

While holding office as district judge for the 229th Judicial District of Texas, O. P. Carrillo conspired with others to have Duval County pay for groceries, to which he was not entitled, for his personal use and benefit.

ARTICLE II

While holding office as district judge for the 229th Judicial District of Texas, O. P. Carrillo used his official powers in a manner calculated to subvert the principles of democratic government and obstruct the fair and impartial administration of justice, thereby bringing the district court for the 229th Judicial District of Texas into scandal and disrepute to the prejudice of public confidence in the judiciary of the state.

This conduct included but was not limited to one or more of the following:

(1) in the case of Clinton Manges versus M. A. Guerra, et al., Cause No. 3953 in the district court for the 229th Judicial District of Texas, which involved a party with whom O. P. Carrillo had numerous financial ties, he refused to recuse and disqualify himself;

(2) in the case of Estate of Texas on relation of Jose D. Nichols versus Archer Parr, Cause No. 8890 in the district court for the 229th Judicial District of Texas, which involved the suspension and removal from office of a former political ally with whom O. P. Carrillo had publicly split and who was involved in heated competition for political control of the governmental entities in Duval County, he refused to recuse and disqualify himself;

(3) he conspired with others to improperly influence the membership and proceedings of the grand jury of Duval County impaneled in February, 1975;

(4) he conspired with others to dominate and control the Benavides Independent School District by arbitrarily suspending from their offices his political opponents on the school district board of trustees and appointing his political allies as replacements.

ARTICLE III

While holding office as district judge for the 229th Judicial District of Texas, O. P. Carrillo acted alone or conspired with others to divert the services of governmental employees to his personal benefit when he was not entitled to receive those services.

This conduct included but was not limited to one or more of the following:

(1) Cleofas Gonzalez, while employed and being paid by Duval County, worked in the Farm and Ranch Store, which was a partnership between O. P. Carrillo and another;

(2) Pat Gonzalez, while employed and being paid by Duval County, worked in the Farm and Ranch Store, which was a partnership owned by O. P. Carrillo and another;

(3) Francisco Ruiz, while employed and being paid by Duval County, worked as a welder on O. P. Carrillo's property;

(4) Oscar Sanchez, while employed and being paid by Duval County, worked in the construction of a reservoir on O. P. Carrillo's ranch;

(5) Patricio Garza, while employed and being paid by Duval County, worked on O. P. Carrillo's ranch.

ARTICLE IV

While holding office as district judge for the 229th Judicial District of Texas, O. P. Carrillo conspired with others to misapply government equipment, which he was not entitled to use, to his personal benefit.

This conduct included but was not limited to one or more of the following:

(1) the use of a backhoe owned or leased by the Duval County Water Control and Improvement District in the construction of a private building on his property;

(2) the use of equipment owned or leased by Duval County in the construction of a water reservoir on his property;

(3) the use of a truck, mounted with post-hole digging equipment, owned or leased by Duval County in the construction of fences on his property;

(4) the use of welding equipment and supplies owned or leased by Duval County to make repairs on his property;

(5) the use of trucks owned or leased by Duval County to haul equipment and materials to his property for his private use.

ARTICLE V

While holding office as district judge for the 229th Judicial District of Texas and, prior to that, while simultaneously holding office as county attorney for Duval County and a member of the board of trustees for the Benavides Independent School District, O. P. Carrillo conspired with public officials and others to violate the constitution, oaths of office, statutes, and public policy against public officials doing private business with governmental entities they serve.

This conduct included but was not limited to the sale of goods and services and the rental of equipment, either directly from the Farm and Ranch Store, an entity owned by O. P. Carrillo and another public official, or by sham transactions through Zertuche General Store and other business entities, to various governmental entities in Duval County when O. P. Carrillo and close relatives with whom he had a joint economic interest served as officers of those governmental entities.

ARTICLE VI

While holding office as district judge for the 229th Judicial District of Texas, O. P. Carrillo filed false and fraudulent financial statements with the Secretary of State for Texas.

ARTICLE VII

While holding office as district judge for the 229th Judicial District of Texas, O. P. Carrillo conspired with others to use for his personal benefit materials and supplies owned by Duval County and other governmental entities, which he was not entitled to receive.

This conduct included but was not limited to the following: O. P. Carrillo used fuel owned by Duval County in his personal vehicles.

ARTICLE VIII

While holding office as district judge for the 229th Judicial District of Texas, O. P. Carrillo conspired with others to charge and collect money from governmental entities for rentals of equipment that did not exist and for rental of equipment that the governmental entities did not use.

ARTICLE IX

While holding office as district judge for the 229th Judicial District of Texas, O. P. Carrillo conspired with others to defraud Duval County by causing county funds to be paid to Arturo Zertuche, who was not entitled to receive the funds.

ARTICLE X

While holding office as district judge for the 229th Judicial District of Texas, O. P. Carrillo conspired with others to defraud Duval County by causing county funds to be paid to Roberto Elizondo, who was not entitled to receive the funds.

ARTICLE XI

While holding office as district judge for the 229th Judicial District of Texas, O. P. Carrillo conspired with others to defraud Duval County by causing county funds to be paid to Patricio Garza, who was not entitled to receive the funds.

In all of this, O. P. Carrillo has acted in a manner contrary to the trust reposed in him as district judge and is guilty of gross violations of the constitution and statutes of this state, of the duties of his office, and of the Code of Judicial Conduct. By such conduct he has rendered himself unfit to hold the office of judge of the district court for the 229th Judicial District of Texas and he warrants trial and conviction, removal from office, and disqualification from holding any future office in this state, and the House of Representatives, saving to itself the liberty to exhibit additional articles of impeachment against O. P. Carrillo at any future date, if it decides any are necessary, requests that O. P. Carrillo be required to answer the articles of impeachment against him.

Mr. Moreno raised a point of order against further consideration of HSR 161 on the grounds that it violates Rule XVII, Section 4; Rule VIII, Section 32; and Rule VIII, Section 27, as there is no fiscal note attached.

The Speaker overruled the point of order.

REASON FOR VOTE

The reason for voting against Article I, HSR 161, relating to the impeachment of O. P. Carrillo, district judge, 229th District Court, is because of my earnest belief that these proceedings violate Article II, Section 1 and Article XV, Sections 1, 2, 4, 5, 6, and 7 of the Texas Constitution, the due process and equal protection clauses of the Constitution of the State of Texas and of the Constitution of the United States of America. I further believe that the standards by which we are called upon to measure this grave and important matter are too vague, indefinite, and ambiguous to form the basis for such decision. I am unable to reach the merits of the allegations made in that my concern regarding the procedures has not been allayed.

The unfettered discretion allowed in these proceedings is unconstitutional and works to allow each member the privilege of deciding the truth or falsity of the allegations to be based on standards other than their merit.

Signed: Craig A. Washington

HOUSE JOURNAL

SIXTY-FOURTH LEGISLATURE, IMPEACHMENT SESSION

PROCEEDINGS

FIRST DAY (continued)—TUESDAY, AUGUST 5, 1975

The House met at 9 a.m. and was called to order by the Speaker.

The roll of the House was called and a quorum was announced present (Record No. 1, Appendix).

The invocation was offered by R. B. Hall, chaplain, as follows:

Almighty God, our Father, we come to Thee conscious of our shortcomings, and aware of our need of You.

Thank You for Your protective hand that has kept us safe since last we met. Father, as the many members of this House come together as one body, let them have open minds ready to receive the truth and able to understand clearly the unusual issues that face them this week.

We readily recognize our inability to govern the affairs of men apart from Your wisdom and guidance, and for this we pray.

Now our Father, we ask as did the psalmist, that You create in us a clean heart and renew a spirit of rightness within each of us. In the Name of Christ, Amen.

STATEMENT BY THE HONORABLE BEN REYES

If present I would have voted no on Article IV.

Signed: Reyes

REASON FOR VOTE

The reason for voting against Article IV, HSR 161, relating to the impeachment of O. P. Carrillo, district judge, 229th District Court, is because of my earnest belief that these proceedings violate Article II, Section 1, Article XV, Sections 1, 2, 4, 5, 6, and 7 of the Texas Constitution, the due process and equal protection clauses of the Constitution of the State of Texas and of the Constitution of the United States of America. I further believe that the standards by which we are called upon to measure this grave and important matter are too vague, indefinite, and ambiguous to form the basis for such decision. I am unable to reach the merits of the allegations made in that my concern regarding the procedures has not been allayed.

The unfettered discretion allowed in these proceedings is unconstitutional and works to allow each member the privilege of deciding the truth or falsity of the allegations to be based on standards other than their merit.

REASON FOR VOTE

Articles IX, X, and XI are basically the same charge. The crux of the issue is whether or not the alleged county employees performed any work for the county. The vote could have been the same on each. I felt the committee failed to negate the fact of performance of duty by the employees, and voted no on Article IX. However, on X and XI, I voted yes for I realize that the responsibilities of developing facts in close questions is the job of the Senate. They can't perform this job with our articles.
