ALPS | CoreCommodity Natural Resources ETF

Fact Sheet | July 11, 2024

Approach

- Actively managed portfolio of natural resource equities: securities of companies that own, explore or develop natural resources as well as goods and services providers to these companies.
- Broad exposure to natural resources across the supply chain, including equity exposure to commodities with no liquid and active futures market (e.g. steel, rare earth minerals and wind).
- Quantitative multi-factor top-down and bottom-up process which evaluates corporate fundamentals, commodity relationships and market dynamics, favoring higher quality companies in preferred industries.

Investment Objective

The Fund seeks to maximize real returns, consistent with prudent investment management.

Key Features

- Focus on “pure play”: invest in upstream commodity producing companies to better isolate and represent the valuation of natural resources.
- Highly diversified: a global, all-cap portfolio typically comprised of between 250 and 350 companies covering many essential underlying commodity components.
- Inflation sensitivity & portfolio diversification: exposure to a strategy that may help to diversify overall portfolio risk and mitigate the impact from high unexpected inflation during periods of rising prices for natural resources.

Important Disclosures & Definitions

An investor should consider the investment objectives, risks, charges and expenses carefully before investing. To obtain a prospectus containing this and other information, call 1-866-759-5679 or visit www.alpsfunds.com. Read the prospectus carefully before investing.

Shares of ETFs are bought and sold at market price (not NAV) and are not individually redeemable.

All investments are subject to risks, including the loss of money and the possible loss of the entire principal amount invested. Additional information regarding the risks of this investment is available in the prospectus.

The Fund is new and has limited operating history.

Diversification does not eliminate the risk of experiencing investment losses.

The Fund's investments in securities of natural resource companies involve risks. The market value of securities of natural resource companies may be affected by numerous factors, including changes in overall market movements; economic, geographical or financial events; events occurring in nature; inflationary pressures; and domestic and international politics. Because the Fund invests significantly in natural resource companies, there is the risk that the Fund will perform poorly during a downturn in the natural resource sector. Certain natural resources may be produced in a limited number of countries and may be controlled by a small number of producers. As a result, political, economic and supply related events in such countries could have a disproportionate impact on the prices of such natural resources and the value of securities of companies involved in such natural resource. Another principal risk of investing in the Fund is equity risk, which is the risk that the value of the securities held by the Fund will fall due to general market and economic conditions, perceptions regarding the industries in which the issuers of securities held by the Fund participate or factors relating to specific companies in which the Fund invests. The Fund's investments in non-US issuers may be even more volatile and may present more risks than investments in US issuers. Equity investments in natural resources-related companies may not move in the same direction and to the same extent as the underlying natural resources.

Pure Play: refers to a publicly traded company that is focused on only one industry or product.
