Benefits of Asset Allocation Using ETFs

Exchange-Traded Funds offer unique benefits when constructing an allocation:

- Diversification – instant exposure to a variety of asset classes
- Transparency – sponsor, or provider, announces the contents of portfolio at the beginning of each business day
- Low Expense Ratios<sup>(a)</sup> – allow for a fully-allocated portfolio at a similar cost to a single asset class fund
- Flexibility<sup>(b)</sup> – high liquidity enables fast, easy moves among asset classes

<sup>(b)</sup> ETFs are considered to have continuous liquidity because they allow for an individual to trade throughout the day.

<sup>(c)</sup> Actual asset class weightings will change periodically in response to market conditions.

<sup>(d)</sup> The current allocations are slightly over or under-weight to the strategic models to take advantage of market opportunities.

The Morningstar ETF Asset Allocation Portfolio Series are not exchange-traded funds (ETFs), instead, they consist of five risk-based asset allocation portfolios that invest in underlying ETFs, which are typically open-end investment companies or unit investment trusts.

The Portfolio allocates investments among multiple ETF asset classes including: US equity, fixed income, real estate and international ETFs. Asset allocation does not assure a profit or protect against down markets. The stocks of smaller companies are subject to above-average market price fluctuations. There are specific risks associated with international investing, such as currency fluctuations, foreign taxation, differences in financial reporting practices and rapid changes in political and economic conditions. Real estate investments are subject to specific risks, such as risks related to general and local economic conditions and risks related to individual properties. Fixed income securities are subject to interest rate risk, prepayment risk and market risk. Commodity trading is highly speculative and involves a high degree of risk.

ALPS Portfolio Solutions Distributor, Inc. does not distribute the underlying ETFs within the Portfolio.
