- Alaska statewide physical fitness requirement only requires a medical exam. Recommends not using as an example.
- State academy provides entry level testing, sends a recruit home if they cannot meet 10% of the Cooper norms:
 - The standard will be the 10th percentile on the Cooper norms, meaning we ask only that your applicants be at least as fit as 10% of the population they will be policing:
 - 10 pushups
 - 17 sit-ups in a minute
 - 1.5 mile run in 17 minutes or less.
 - This new standard applies to all students. Those not meeting the entry standard on their initial PT test will be excused.
 - This drastically reduced the level of injuries and recruit drop-outs.
 - Hawaii advised to institute a physical agility exam pre-hire.

- Minimum hiring standards: <http://www.akleg.gov/basis/aac.asp#13.85.010>

Pending regulations amendment package (if adopted in March):

- mandates in-service training (presently none)
- modifies other regulations giving APSC the ability to suspend a certificate.
