Law and Politics of Brexit

Brexit, the decision of the United Kingdom to leave the European Union, constitutes an unprecedented process, with profound implications for the UK and the EU. The talk -- based on work carried out at the Brexit Institute, including a book series Federico Fabbrini edits at Oxford University Press -- examines the causes of Brexit, including historical, sociological and political factors, and discusses its consequences. To this end, the talk overviews the process of withdrawal, the negotiations between the EU and the UK, and outlines the core features of the Withdrawal Agreement and Trade & Cooperation Agreement that govern the UK exit from the EU and the UK's new relationship with the EU.
