14. Democrats - Brokered Convention

In your view, would it be better for one of the Democratic candidates running to win enough delegates in the primaries to secure the presidential nomination before the party's convention, or would it be better if neither one of the candidates won enough delegates so that the party can pick someone else to be the nominee at the convention? (A) Better if one wins enough delegates in primaries; (B) Better if neither one wins enough delegates and convention chooses; (C) Not sure

The Economist/YouGov Poll

February 24 - 27, 2016

YouGov

Sponsorship	The Economist
Fieldwork	YouGov
Interviewing Dates	February 24 - 27, 2016
Target population	U.S. citizens, aged 18 and over.
Sampling method	Respondents were selected from YouGov's opt-in Internet panel using sample matching. A random sample (stratified by age, gender, race, education, and region) was selected from the 2010 American Community Study. Voter registration was imputed from the November 2010 Current Population Survey Registration and Voting Supplement. Religion, political interest, minor party identification, and non-placement on an ideology scale, were imputed from the 2008 Pew Religion in American Life Survey.
Weighting	The sample was weighted using propensity scores based on age, gender, race, education, news interest, voter registration, and non-placement on an ideology scale. The weights range from 0.1 to 4.1, with a mean of one and a standard deviation of 0.84.
Number of respondents	2000
Margin of error	$\pm$ 2.9% (adjusted for weighting)
Survey mode	Web-based interviews
Questions not reported	21 questions not reported.
