

Jacquelyn Clayborn

Founder/CEO

ONC National

As leader of ONC National, I bring over 20 years of experience in sales, customer service, and client retention, giving me a comprehensive understanding of the challenges and opportunities minority-owned businesses face.

My journey in leadership is marked by strategic planning, team development, and commitment to empowering MBEs. I have served on the boards of NAMC and APWC, where I gained valuable insights into advocacy and industry dynamics.

My educational background, including programs like Goldman Sachs 10KSB, Biz Owners Ed, Beck School of Construction, and Dart Small Business Academy, has equipped me with the tools and partnerships necessary to lead the MBEIC effectively. I am dedicated to fostering an inclusive environment that respects and values the contributions of all MBE members.

My approach will ensure that everyone's voice is heard while also introducing fresh perspectives to engage younger MBE owners. To drive greater participation at events, we will launch innovative ad campaigns that resonate with established and emerging MBE owners. We will introduce relevant topics that address the current needs and challenges of the entire MBE community, ensuring our events are informative and inclusive.

Understanding the importance of reaching younger MBE owners, we will create initiatives that appeal to their unique needs while respecting the wisdom and experience of seasoned members.

By leveraging digital platforms and social media, we will build a strong, interconnected community. I ask for your vote to lead the MBEIC with a focus on inclusivity, innovation, and the continued growth and success of all minority-owned businesses.
