Position Statement

I am a lifelong Alaskan who grew up in Mt. View with my parents and two older sisters. After graduating from East Anchorage High School, I pursued my love for baseball in college and proudly played for the Cook Inlet (now Anchorage) Bucs. I then went on to receive my law degree from the University of Arizona.

After two years in civil practice, I spent the next ten years of my legal career as an assistant district attorney. During that time, I prosecuted cases in Sitka, Juneau, Wrangell, Angoon, and then in Anchorage. The following ten years I spent litigating personal injury cases. I have now had the privilege of serving my fellow Alaskans as a District Court Judge for the past fifteen years.

As a District Court Judge I strive to follow the law while simultaneously treating everyone I encounter with dignity, fairness, and respect, regardless of the circumstances that brings them to court. I remain committed to ensuring that every person, with or without an attorney, has access to the court. I make every effort to ensure all decisions are delivered in a manner that is understandable and accessible for all individuals involved.

I will continue to uphold my oath to the people of Alaska by administering justice fairly, impartially, promptly, and with respect, to the best of my ability. I would be honored to continue my service to the people of the State of Alaska.
