September 14, 2021, at 11:00 a.m.

Florida Housing Finance Corporation will hold a workshop to discuss a pilot program designed to encourage the new construction of affordable homes for purchase by low-to-moderate income homebuyers. Florida Housing is proposing a new program that will provide a revolving line of construction funding to qualifying builders. We encourage all interested parties to attend and provide input that will help staff shape the competitive solicitation for funding that will be issued. The workshop will be held via webinar on September 14 at 11:00 a.m., Eastern Time. The link to register for this workshop can be found here: <https://attendee.gotowebinar.com/register/5472688702447970318>
