Nick Masino is the first GenX President and CEO of the Gwinnett Chamber and Partnership Gwinnett. At the helm, Masino is known for his strong leadership, commitment to Gwinnett, and more than two decades of making an impact in the community and economic development arenas. As President and CEO, Masino has shepherded in the most diverse board of directors in Chamber history, reinvigorated its public policy focus, implemented a new strategic plan and is currently overseeing a massive renovation to Georgia’s largest Chamber of Commerce facility.
