Riding the bus is now easier in Clackamas County!

RideClackamas.org includes real-time bus tracking, trip planning, and clear connections between the County's six bus systems.

CLACKAMAS COUNTY, Ore. — JULY 18, 2023. RideClackamas.org is a new, interactive website launched in June of 2023 to make riding the bus — as well as using other types of public transportation — easier for people who live and work in Clackamas County, Oregon.

The mobile-responsive website features a trip-planner that connects all six County bus systems as well as other regional transit services; real-time bus tracking; and an interactive map with route schedules and photos of bus stop locations to help riders easily navigate the various transit systems.

Detailed system information including fares, routes, connection points, and alerts for Canby Area Transit (CAT), Clackamas Connects Shuttle (ClackCo), Mt. Hood Express (MHX), Sandy Area Metro (SAM), South Clackamas Transportation District (SCTD), and South Metro Area Regional Transit (SMART) can all be found, along with connection information to other regional transit services such as TriMet. The final outcome is a user-friendly, one-stop website for bus riders looking to get to any corner of Clackamas County across the various transit systems.

Sponsored by Clackamas County, and funded through the Oregon Department of Transportation, the project was guided by input from leaders at each of the bus systems as well as numerous community members.
