Application Submission Resource Roundup

No matter where you are in the grant application process, we have resources to help you complete your application. Check out our new one-minute video that highlights the entire application process.

Getting Started: To apply for federal funding, you must first register your entity with SAM.gov and Grants.gov. If you've used these systems in the past, you still need to ensure that your registration and users are current. Check out where to find DOJ funding opportunities and how to apply in Grants.gov to kick-start your application process.

Working on Your Application: After completing the necessary steps in SAM.gov and Grants.gov, you complete your application in JustGrants. Learn about the user roles and assignments and how to complete a budget.

Training and Resources: Do you still have questions? Attend an application submission training webinar or access digital training materials and guides on the JustGrants Resources website.

Be sure to review your solicitation guidance closely, as each solicitation will have varying application requirements and deadlines.

You received this email because you are a current or previous Department of Justice grant applicant or award recipient.
