

WAGANAKISING ODAWAK STATUTE # 2021-_____
INTERIM CRIMINAL CODE

SECTION I. JURISDICTION

A. Definition. The criminal jurisdiction of the Little Traverse Bay Bands of Odawa Indians (also referred to in this Code as "Bands" and/or "LTBB") is its power to prohibit certain conduct, as a matter of public policy, within its territory.

B. Power Implemented. That power is exercised by enacting this Code and by punishing people who violate its laws.

C. Territorial Extent. The criminal jurisdiction of the Little Traverse Bay Bands of Odawa Indians shall extend to:

1. all lands and waters described in Article 1 Third and Article 1 Fourth of the Treaty of Detroit of July 31, 1855, 11 Stat. 621;
2. all trust land held now or in the future by the United States for the benefit of the Little Traverse Bay Bands of Odawa Indians;
3. the activities of Band members when exercising treaty hunting and fishing rights wherever such activity occurs.

D. Persons Under LTBB Criminal Jurisdiction. The criminal jurisdiction of LTBB shall extend to:

1. all members of LTBB and
2. all other Indians present within the areas described in Section I (C) of this Code.
3. The criminal jurisdiction of LTBB shall only extend to adults. However, upon motion of the tribal prosecutor, the judge may, in his/her discretion, try a minor as an adult.

COMMENTS

LTBB, as a sovereign tribal entity, possesses the power to regulate conduct within its territory. The criminal jurisdiction of LTBB, its power to prohibit certain conduct within its territory and to punish those who violate its laws, has been limited by the United States Congress and the United States Supreme Court in the following ways:

- (1) The Major crimes Act (MCA), 18 U.S.C. Section 1153, originally enacted by the U.S. Congress in 1885, gives the federal government jurisdiction over certain enumerated "major crimes" committed by one Indian against the person or property of another in Indian country. These crimes include murder, manslaughter, kidnaping, rape, statutory rape, involuntary sodomy, assault with intent to commit rape, incest, assault with intent to commit murder, assault with a deadly weapon, assault resulting in serious bodily injury, arson, burglary and robbery. The MCA has backfired to a large extent, because many of these crimes committed in Indian Country now go unpunished. The federal government has not devoted adequate resources to enforce the MCA, so federal prosecutors are reluctant to prosecute crimes that fall under the MCA. Indian tribes retain concurrent jurisdiction over these crimes. These "major crimes" are thus included in this Code to ensure that those who commit major crimes in LTBB territory are not allowed to go unpunished.

- (2) The Indian Civil Rights Act (ICRA): The ICRA, 25 USC Section 1302, was enacted by Congress in 1968. It makes many of the protections included in the United States Constitution's Bill of Rights applicable to the conduct of Indian tribes. It also limits the punishment that an Indian tribe may impose to a one (1) year jail term or to a fine of $5,000.00, or both.
- (3) Non-Indians: Under Oliphant v Suquamish Indian Tribe 435 US 191 (1978), an Indian tribe cannot try a non-Indian in Tribal Court. This Code, therefore, states that LTBB criminal jurisdiction shall only be exercised over Band members and other Indians present within LTBB's territory.

It is no longer debatable that LTBB can exercise jurisdiction over its members when exercising treaty hunting and fishing rights, regardless of whether such activity occurs within "Indian Country."

SECTION II. DEFINITIONS

For purposes of this Criminal Code:

- A. Indian. "Indian" means any person who is either:
1. a member of the Little Traverse Bay Bands of Odawa Indians;
 2. a member of any federally-recognized Indian tribe, band, or group; or
 3. any person of Indian blood who is generally considered to be an American Indian by the Little Traverse Bay Bands of Odawa Indians community.

B. Mental State: Malice. A person acts "maliciously" or "with malice" when that person consciously formulates a plan to injure the person or property of another and takes steps to carry out such plan.

C. Mental State: Intent.

1. A person acts "intentionally" or "with intent" with respect to conduct when it is that person's conscious desire to engage in certain conduct.

2. A person acts "intentionally" with respect to a result when it is that person's conscious desire that the conduct cause such result.

D. Mental State: Knowledge. A person acts "knowingly" or "with knowledge" when that person is aware of his/her actions and the probable consequences of such actions.

E. Mental State: Wanton or Reckless. A person acts "wantonly" or "recklessly" when that person is aware, or should be aware, that certain conduct will endanger the health, safety, or property of others but persists in engaging in the conduct despite the risks.

F. Mental State: Negligent. A person acts "negligently" or "with neglect" when that person acts in a manner that endangers the safety or property of others without exercising the care that a reasonably prudent person would exercise under the same or similar circumstances.

G. Minor. A minor is any person under eighteen (18) years of age.

H. Adult. For purposes of criminal jurisdiction an adult is any person eighteen (18) years of age or older.

I. Motor vehicle. Motor vehicle means any car, truck, motorcycle, or other motor-operated vehicle.

COMMENTS

This Section of the Code includes definitions of five (5) different mental states. One of these mental states is an essential element of any given crime.

SECTION III. REQUIREMENTS FOR CONVICTION

A. Culpability. A person shall not be guilty of an offense unless that person acted intentionally, maliciously, knowingly, recklessly or negligently as the law requires with respect to each material element of the offense; provided that any material element of an offense that does not require a mental state may be established by proving that the person participated in the prohibited conduct regardless of his/her state of mind.

B. Proof. No person may be convicted of an offense unless each element of the offense is proved beyond a reasonable doubt.

C. Intoxication.

1. Intoxication is not a defense unless it negates an element of the offense.
2. Self-induced intoxication cannot negate the element of recklessness.

D. Statute of Limitations. No person shall be prosecuted, tried or punished for any criminal offense unless the prosecution is initiated within one (1) year after both of the following conditions have been met:

1. discovery that an offense has been committed, and
2. discovery of the identity of the person who allegedly committed the offense.

E. Multiple Counts. When the conduct of a defendant establishes the commission of more than one offense, the defendant may be prosecuted for each such offense, unless:

1. one offense consists only of an attempt to commit the other;
2. inconsistent findings of fact are required to establish commission of the offenses; Or
3. the offenses differ only in that one prohibits a designated kind of conduct generally, and the other prohibits a specific instance of such conduct.

COMMENTS

This Section states that a person cannot be guilty of an offense unless that person acted with the requisite mental state, if a mental state is specified in the offense. For instance, to be convicted of battery it must be shown that a person intentionally struck another. If a person inadvertently bumps into another, he/she cannot be convicted of battery, because he/she did not act with intent.

Section III (B) states that in order to convict a person of an offense, each element must be proved beyond a reasonable doubt. Beyond a reasonable doubt means more than a mere likelihood. It means that the evidence as presented makes it virtually impossible for any other conclusion to be reached. Each element must be proved beyond a reasonable doubt. For instance, in order to convict a person of improper influence of an official, VII (H)(2), it must be proved beyond a reasonable doubt that the person (1) threatened harm to a tribal official, and (2) did so with the intent of influencing such person's official actions.

Section III (C) makes clear that intoxication in itself is not a viable defense. However, under certain circumstances it may negate an element of the offense, such as intent or knowledge. However, self-induced intoxication can never negate the element of recklessness. A person can act recklessly whether or not that person is aware of what he/she is doing.

SECTION IV. AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES AND ALIBI

A. Duress. It is an affirmative defense that the defendant, engaged in the conduct charged to constitute an offense, was coerced against his/her will by the use of, or threatened use of, unlawful force against his/her person or the person of another. The coercion must be such that a person of reasonable firmness would be unable to resist.

B. Protection of Self, Property, or Other Person. The use of reasonable force toward another person is justified and is an affirmative defense, if and only if:

1. the force is directed toward one who is using unlawful force, and
2. the person using such force reasonably believes the use of force is necessary for his/her protection or that of a third person.
3. The use of reasonable force toward another person is justified and is an affirmative defense if used to prevent the unlawful entry into the dwelling of the person asserting the defense or into the dwelling of another or to prevent the unlawful carrying away of personal property.

C. Alibi. The defense of alibi, that the accused was somewhere else when the crime was committed, shall be treated procedurally as an affirmative defense.

D. Procedures for raising affirmative defense. The procedures for raising and pleading affirmative defenses shall be specified by Court Rule.

COMMENTS

An affirmative defense does not negate an element of the crime, but raises additional circumstances that provide justification for the actions, relieving the defendant of culpability, so that he/she is not held criminally liable. For instance, if a person raises an affirmative defense of duress when being accused of battery, that person does not deny that he/she intentionally struck another. But that person may state, for example, that he/she was coerced into doing so by threats of a third person.

Similarly, if a person raises the defense of protection of self, property, or other person, to a charge of battery, that person is not denying that he/she intentionally struck another. However, that person is stating that his/her actions were necessary to protect himself/herself or another, and therefore such actions are justified.

SECTION V. COUNSEL

A. Right to Counsel. Any person accused of an offense under this Code may represent himself before the Tribal Court, or may be represented, at his/her own expense, by a person duly licensed to practice before the Tribal Court.

B. Persons Licensed to Practice in LTBB Courts. An Attorney admitted to practice law in any state may be licensed to practice in LTBB Courts upon:

1. payment of an annual fee, as specified by Court Rule; provided that the fee may be waived if the attorney is providing pro bono services;
2. certification to the Tribal Court that he/she has read the Court Rules; and
3. taking of an oath to uphold the Constitution and laws of the Little Traverse Bay Bands of Odawa Indians, maintaining due respect for the Tribal Court, and employing, in his/her conduct and duties, the highest degree of ethical and moral standards with which the legal profession is charged. The Tribal Court Rules may also set out a procedure for licensing non-attorney tribal members to practice before the Tribal Court.

SECTION VI. SENTENCING

A. Sentencing Considerations. The main goals of sentencing are the protection of the public, rehabilitation, healing of the harm done, restitution for the victim, appropriate punishment, and deterrence. The factors the Court should consider in sentencing include the seriousness of the offense and any resulting injury, the offender's prior record or lack of prior record, employment, family and community status and support, desires of the victim, amount of any restitution, genuine remorse expressed by the offender, and any other factors the Court deems relevant, consistent with achieving a just and fair sentence. The Court shall consider any victim impact statement, and also generally favor restitution, community service work and healing of the harm inflicted over incarceration, but has wide discretion on the appropriate sentence for any given case.

B. Types of Sentences. The Court has the following sentence options following a conviction. A sentence may utilize two (2) or more of the following options, unless the offender has been sentenced to prison following the enactment of TLOA by the Tribe:

1. Incarceration in a local jail for not more than one (1) year, depending on the statutory maximum of the crime for which offender was convicted.
2. Fines and costs pursuant to statutory requirements.
3. Placement on probation, with appropriate terms and conditions as set by the Court.
4. Prison sentencing. Upon enactment of TLOA by the Tribe, the defendant may be sentenced to prison, or any correctional facility that meets the requirements of 25 USC 1302, for up to three (3) years. Sentences for multiple felony convictions (sentences over one (1) year) may be consecutive at the discretion of the Court, but in no case may they exceed nine (9) years total, pursuant to TLOA - 25 USC 1302.
5. Delayed/Deferred Sentencing. The Court may adjourn or delay sentencing to give the defendant an opportunity to complete a rehabilitative program or to prove they deserve leniency, but only with the agreement of the Prosecutor may the Court reduce or dismiss charges after a delayed or deferred sentence. The delay may include any conditions deemed appropriate by the Court.
6. Consecutive vs concurrent sentencing convictions. In general, concurrent sentencing is preferred. The Court has the discretion to sentence consecutively for multiple convictions. Factors which should be considered when considering consecutive sentencing include: the heinousness of the offenses, the number of past convictions of the defendant, the number of victims, the seriousness of physical or psychological injuries or harm done, whether the defendant was on bond, probation, parole, or the subject of a protection order or other court order when the new offense(s) was committed, or other aggravated circumstances.

C. Victim's Impact Statement. Prior to sentencing, the Prosecutor shall inform the victim(s) of their right to submit a written statement to the Court detailing the physical, material, and emotional damages that they suffered as a result of the offender's actions. The victim has the right to speak at sentencing whether or not they have submitted a victim impact statement. The Court shall take into consideration any victim impact statement at sentencing.

COMMENTS

The Tribal Court Judge has considerable discretion in fashioning an appropriate sentence for a person convicted of an offense. The maximum jail term and fine is currently one year or $5,000 or both, unless the Tribal Council enacts TLOA.

SECTION VII. OFFENSES

A. Contempt of Court and Perjury.

a. Offense. Intentional and unjustifiable behavior by any person, which disrupts, obstructs, or otherwise interferes with the conduct of any proceeding of the Court, or which obstructs, or interferes with the administration of justice by the Court, including disobedience or resistance to, or interference with, any lawful summons, subpoena, process, order, rule, term of probation, sentence, decree, or command of the Court, including failure to appear for a court date, shall constitute contempt of court.

b. Contempt committed in the presence of the Court. When contempt of court is committed in the presence of the Court it may be punished summarily by the Court. In such case, an order shall be made reciting the facts constituting the contempt, adjudging the person guilty of contempt, and prescribing the punishment.

c. Contempt committed out of the presence of the Court. When it appears to the Court that a contempt has been committed out of the presence of the Court, the Court may issue a summons to the person so charged directing him/her to appear at a time and place designated for a hearing on the matter.

d. Sentence. A person found guilty of contempt of court may be sentenced to a jail term not to exceed thirty (30) days, or to a fine not to exceed one thousand dollars ($1,000.00), or to both. 4. Evidence that the defendant continued the contact or communication after having been requested by the victim or a representative of the victim to refrain from any further contact or communication gives rise to a rebuttable presumption that the continuation of the course of conduct did cause the victim to feel emotional distress, harassed, frightened, threatened or intimidated.
