Departmental Earnings

Introduction

Definition and purpose

Departmental earnings are defined¹ as any charge for goods and services and any regulatory, licensure, or other similar charges levied by a state agency and paid by individuals, businesses, or other non-state entities. It does not include charges between agencies. The purpose of the report is to show whether fees and charges defined as a departmental earning are recovering the cost of the activity for which they are collected.

Departmental earnings must be reviewed in even-numbered years to provide for a structured review and to allow for agency input in the fee setting process as set forth in state statute². All fee changes, i.e., new fees, fee increases and fee decreases must be shown as change items in the biennial budget.

Cost recovery statutory requirements

All fees must be set at a level that neither significantly over recovers nor under recovers costs³. Such costs are to include direct services and overhead costs, unless otherwise provided by law. Statute further requires that recovery of costs be limited to deficits incurred two fiscal years immediately preceding the setting, adjustment or authorization of the departmental earning.

Report format

The departmental earnings report, similar to agency biennial budget documents, displays:

- Actual earnings and expenditures for fiscal year 2019 and 2020.
- Budgeted receipts and expenditures from the budget system for fiscal year 2021, as of November 30, 2020, which was prepared for developing the 2022-23 biennial budget. Agencies may have made additional financial decisions since then; these decisions include potential changes to departmental earnings estimates.
- Current law receipts and expenditures for fiscal years 2022 and 2023.
- Governor's recommendations for fiscal years 2022 and 2023.

All dollar amounts are expressed to the nearest thousand.

The departmental earnings report includes three parts:

Part one: A statewide departmental earnings summary, which includes:

Departmental Earnings

Glossary

Agency funds: One of four types of fiduciary funds. Agency funds are used to report resources held by the reporting government in a purely custodial capacity (assets equal liabilities). Agency funds typically involve only the receipt, temporary investment, and remittance of fiduciary resources to individuals, private organizations, or other governments.

Component unit funds: Funds to account for the activities of legally separate organizations for which the elected officials of the primary government are financially accountable. In addition, component units can be other organizations for which the nature and significance of their relationship with a primary government are such that exclusion would cause the reporting entity's financial statements to be misleading or incomplete. Component unit funds may be either proprietary funds or governmental funds.

Enterprise fund: Proprietary fund type used to report an activity for which a fee is charged to external users for goods or services.

Fund: Fiscal and accounting entity with a self-balancing set of accounts recording cash and other financial resources, together with all related liabilities and residual equities or balances, and changes therein, that are segregated for the purpose of carrying on specific activities or attaining certain objectives in accordance with special regulations, restrictions, or limitations.

Fund classifications. One of the three categories (governmental, proprietary, and fiduciary) used to classify fund types. This report includes all three classifications.

Fund type: One of eleven classifications into which all individual funds can be categorized. Governmental fund types include the general fund, special revenue funds, debt service funds, capital projects funds, and permanent funds. Proprietary fund types include enterprise funds and internal service funds. Fiduciary fund types include pension (and other employee benefit) trust funds, investment trust funds, private-purpose trust funds, and agency funds. Component unit funds are also an included fund type in the State financial reports. This report includes the general fund, special revenue funds, agency funds, component unit funds, enterprise funds, and a permanent fund.

General fund: One of five governmental fund types. The general fund typically serves as the chief operating fund of a government. The general fund is used to account for all financial resources except those required to be accounted for in another fund. The state has multiple general funds including the state-wide general fund and transit-related general funds. This report includes only one general fund – the state-wide general fund.

Governmental funds: Funds generally used to account for tax-supported activities. There are five different types of governmental funds: the general fund, special revenue funds, debt service funds, capital projects funds, and permanent funds. This report includes this classification, the general fund, special revenue funds, agency funds, component unit funds, enterprise funds, and a permanent fund.

Internal service fund: Proprietary fund type that may be used to report any activity that provides goods or services to other funds, departments, or agencies of the primary government and its component units, or to other governments, on a cost-reimbursement basis. This fund type is explicitly excluded from departmental earnings statutory reporting requirements; no funds of this type appear in this report except as noted in the tables.

Permanent funds: Governmental fund type used to report resources that are legally restricted to the extent that only earnings, and not principal, may be used for purposes that support the reporting government's programs (i.e., for the benefit of the government or its citizenry).

Proprietary funds: Funds that focus on the determination of operating income, changes in net assets (or cost recovery), financial position, and cash flows. There are two different types of proprietary funds: enterprise funds and internal service funds.

Departmental earnings group: For the purpose of this report, a grouping of like fees and/or charges in order to compare revenues and expenditures to determine the level of cost recovery. These groups are determined by each agency as they analyze their fees.

Revenue class: A grouping of revenue source codes to aggregate the financial information into comparable, state-wide buckets. Revenue types included in this report are departmental services, departmental sales, licenses & fees, departmental penalties, departmental investment earnings, care & hospitalization.

Special revenue funds: Governmental fund type used to account for the proceeds of specific revenue sources (other than for major capital projects) that are legally restricted to expenditures for specified purposes.
