REGION OF VALENCIA

Enjoying time as a family is easy in the Region of Valencia

Warm, light, safe and welcoming; it is an ideal destination for families. Castellón, Valencia and Alicante provinces in a privileged setting await you with a multitude of nature, urban, leisure and fun options.

Beaches and coves for all tastes, themed routes, guided tours, museums, gastronomy, festivals, environment and nature, sports, leisure and theme parks are just some of the activities we propose so you can discover and enjoy the area with your little ones.

We provide the good weather, the energy, a wide range of options and amenities so you can experience our land at your leisure.

CASTELLÓN PROVINCE

Coast and inland

Benicàssim / Castellón / Catí
Morella / Oropesa del Mar
Peñíscola / Vinaròs

Castellón, the most northerly province of the Region of Valencia, is full of charm and great contrasts. Spain's second most mountainous province has an inland full of amazing landscapes and towns that will transport you to Medieval times, but also 75 miles of coast full of coves and excellent beaches bathed in the tranquil waters of the Mediterranean Sea.

You can choose to spend your days on the beach with a multitude of amenities designed for kids (play areas, seaside libraries, cycling routes or outings, water sports for kids, water parks and many more leisure activities) or head inland, where you will enjoy the beauty and peace and quiet of some unparalleled wild landscapes. Eight natural parks and over 620 miles of certified trails and two greenways allow you to enjoy great nature adventures with your little ones.

MORELLA

Morella has officially been a Child Friendly City since October 2016. This seal, awarded by UNICEF, recognizes those cities that foster and promote the application of the Convention on the Rights of the Child (CRC) within the local sphere. We are fully adapted to the needs of the littlest tourists.

We boast places designed for playing, such as the Tower of Games, known as the Portal or Towers of Sant Miquel, the main gate to the walled compound where children can enjoy an exhibition of traditional games and dress up in authentic medieval costumes. They can also have an adventure crossing the forest on Tibetan bridges at an adventure circuit located on an old industrial estate, the Fabrica Giner, a leisure spot that offers horse-riding, a guesthouse, youth hostel, summer pool, green areas, etc. The Temps de Dinosaures Museum (Age of Dinosaurs) is another must-see, where kids -and adults- can learn about the dinosaurs that lived on this land, which were discovered in sites around Morella. A life-sized model of an iguanodon welcomes them to the museum.

PEÑÍSCOLA

This is one of the jewels of the Mediterranean, with its unmistakable silhouette and Medieval port, surrounded by a wall over the sea and its town of whitewashed houses. Its beaches, accessible and narrow, have kid-friendly amenities at the Accessible Point and the Baby Area. The crusader castle that housed Pope Luna has museography to complement a cultural visit, which can also include the Museum of the Sea or the Cinema Routes. Sierra de Irta Natural Park completes the tour for nature lovers, who can enjoy this reserve just a few steps away with over 9 miles of virgin coast.

VALENCIA PROVINCE

Coast and inland

Ayora /Cofrentes El Puig de Santa María Gandia / Cullera

Valencia, the central province of the Valencian Community, has embraced modernity without turning its back on its roots. It offers travelling families different natural spaces of a singular attraction with its lagoons, rivers, mountains and extensive agricultural fields where orchards, orange trees and rice fields are lost on the horizon.

Gastronomy is one of the main attractions, particularly based on the preparation of rice dishes and seafood. Cultural tourism is the other great attraction, either through interesting museographic options of singular monuments that make up the vestiges of past civilisations of Roman and Arabic origin.

This province offers some of the longest beaches in the entire Valencian Community and coastal destinations with a great family-friendly tourist tradition and experience, complemented by some inland destinations that will amaze you.

AYORA

In Ayora, the streets tell us stories, nature invites us to relax and the character of its people makes us feel at home. Even better if travelling with the family. Its natural heritage, unique in Spain, with cave paintings at the Abrigo de Tortosilla and the Poblado Íbero de Meca, offers a wide range of guided tours for the whole family. In urban places, we can discover Ayora's great heritage by enjoying a "family game gymkhana" and the opportunity to relax in its parks or try its delicious gastronomy both for adults and kids. Come and discover the inland magic.

ALICANTE PROVINCE

Coast and inland

Altea / Benidorm / Calpe
Dénia / El Campello / Elche
Villena / Xàbia

Alicante, the southernmost province of the Valencian Community and known as the Costa Blanca, stands out for its long, white fine sandy beaches, delimited by dunes, secluded crystal clear water coves and prelittoral peaks of singular beauty that go as far as the sea, offering magical landscapes of a singular beauty ideal for family trips.

At coastal destinations, you will find an ideal microclimate for relaxing by the sea or enjoying an extensive leisure and fun activities for little ones, with a multitude of theme and water parks.

Inland, you will discover the beauty of fertile valleys and farming terraces with cherry trees, loquat trees, vines, almond trees and olive trees, as well as reliefs on which imposing castles and picturesque villages are erected, where the tradition of its people, its gastronomy and trades allow you to obtain the best souvenirs: toys, footwear and leather goods, pottery, sweets and nougat, oils, among others.

ALTEA

Altea is a bustling town that offers plenty of things for families to do. From enjoying beach adventures or experiences like sailing, snorkelling, and SCUBA diving, to hiking in the mountains, to making the most of the cultural events on offer throughout the district, such as concerts, exhibitions, markets and much more.

And don't miss out on the fiestas. Altea is a charming village and these festivities are the highlight. The Castell de l'Olla, declared a Festival of Touristic Interest by the Valencian Government, is a real spectacle. During the rest of the year, the festivities continue with the « Planting of the Tree » of Saint John, and the main festivities with the Moors and Christians parades and their embajadas or 'meeting of the envoys'. Altea is an ideal village both to spend your family holiday in or to visit on a delightful day trip, enjoying restaurants that are true displays of authentic Mediterranean cuisine.

DÉNIA

Situated on the shore of the Mediterranean Sea, its privileged climate invites you to experience the open air and enjoy its natural settings and traditional streets and neighbourhoods. The castle is its emblematic monument and its archaeological, ethnological and toy museums are also worth a visit. Its long sandy beaches and impressive rocky coves, and the Montgó Natural Park and Cabo San Antonio Marine Reserve stand out. Take a stroll through its marinas, enjoy active land and sea tourism activities, and guided tours, and visit its markets and flea markets.

VILLENA

Villena is a city full of magic and charm, ideal for family tourism. Atalaya Castle is the city's distinctive emblem. Guided tours are suitable for both adults and children. Also, if you are travelling with a baby, the Castle Tourist Info has baby carriers so you can enjoy your visit to the full. Be sure to visit El Tesoro de Villena, a finding of over 22 lbs of gold from the Bronze Age. Villena also offers activities such as open air routes, music festivals, Medieval, Moors and Christian festivals that, thanks to the city's characteristic good weather, can be fully enjoyed with the family.
