

CREATING TRAUMA-INFORMED SPACES WORKSHOP

Using trauma-informed design to promote healing, health, & human dignity

This 90 minute workshop explores what it means for a space to be trauma-informed, why this is important, and how to get started in building a trauma-informed space that will promote healing, health, and human dignity. Examples of space transformations will be shared. Participants will leave the workshop with concrete steps for creating more healing-centered spaces within your organization.
