

Two Formulas for Writing Successful Dog Bios

A catchy dog bio coupled with a compelling photo is the perfect recipe for getting a featured dog adopted. Below are two formulas to try. Simply plug in your pups' particulars.

Basic

My name is Fluff. As you can see from my photo, I am/have stunning blue eyes and silky, soft fur. (fill in a physical characteristic or breed type). I'm approximately 2 years (years/months) old and love eating raw carrots (fill in something that potential adopters will find endearing). The most important thing to know about me is I love playing with other dogs and do great in playgroup at the shelter (choose a positive personality trait).

Funny

Since you're reading this, you're obviously looking for a new best friend—and, hey, so am I! I don't care how old you are or what you look like, but in case those things matter to you, I'm approximately 2 years (years/month) old and that's me in the picture with the silky, soft fur (fill in a physical characteristic or breed type). My perfect match would be someone who loves feeding me raw carrots by the bushel (fill in something the dog loves). I don't mean to brag, but people tell me I'm a lot like @LeonardoDiCaprio in The Titanic (pick a super hero or famous person) because I have stunning blue eyes and am completely devoted to those I love (fill in a physical characteristic or personality trait that matches with the named super hero or celebrity)*. When I'm not admiring your every move, I'd love to be playing with other dogs. So, what do you say? Wanna be besties?

* Note: If you describe a dog as being like a specific celebrity, consider tagging the celeb on social media for possible extra exposure.