

An Octoroon

Bloody Bloody Andrew Jackson

They have neither the intelligence, the industry, the moral habits, nor the desire of improvement which are essential to any favorable change in their condition. Established in the midst of another and a superior race, and without appreciating the causes of their inferiority or seeking to control them, they must necessarily yield to the force of circumstances and ere long disappear.

c/o Arena Stage

Washington, DC 20024

To: Mary Kathryn Nagle

Sovereignty is a great show. And Arena's casting was super, don't you agree. I had read Killers of the Flower Moon a few weeks before. Lived in Fort Sill 1954-1956 while my husband was in service. So I have some idea of the sorrowful history.

If you would like to attend an argument session here, my chambers would be glad to reserve seating for you. Contact Lauren Stanley at 202-479-2946 or lstanley@supremecourt.gov.

Cheers, and every good wish,
