

AGENCY INVENTORY ANALYSIS SERVICE CONTRACT INVENTORY CONSUMER PRODUCT SAFETY COMMISSION Fiscal Year 2018

Under section 743(e) of Division C of the Fiscal Year (FY) 2011 Consolidated Appropriations Act, Public Law No. 111-117, the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission's (CPSC's) agency inventory analysis includes a review of the contracts and information in the inventory, as set forth below:

1. The CPSC, in accordance with applicable laws and regulations, reviewed five contracts associated with the Special Interest Functions listed in the chart below, to determine whether any personal services contracts have been entered into and are being performed. Two of these Special Interest Functions were selected as Codes of Interest out of the 10 service codes with the largest obligation amounts for FY 2018. Two additional codes were reviewed per OMB guidance for FY 2018 (R499 and R699), even though they were not identified previously as Codes of Interest. Although OMB suggested also reviewing code R799 Support – Management: Other, CPSC did not have any contracts under that code for FY 2018.

PSCs	Special Interest Function	FY 2018 Obligation
D302	IT and Telecom – Systems Development	$2,947,990.91
D314	IT and Telecom – System Acquisition Support	$665,161.25
R499	Support – Professional: Other	$323,201.93
R699	Support – Administrative: Other	$1,012,314.03

The review of the five contracts associated with these codes included a questionnaire checklist given to the Contracting Officer Representative (COR) for each contract. Based on the review, no personal services contracts have been entered into during this period.

2. The CPSC has given special management attention, as set forth in FAR 37.114, to functions that are closely associated with inherently governmental functions.
3. Based on the review of each “Special Interest Function contract” (as defined in FAR 7.5), the CPSC is not using contractor employees to perform inherently governmental functions.
4. The CPSC has specific safeguards and monitoring systems in place to ensure that work being performed by contractors has not changed or expanded during performance to become an inherently governmental function. These safeguards include reviewing the performance of CPSC CORs and Procurement Officials.

5. The CPSC is not using contractor employees to perform critical functions in such a way that could affect the ability of the agency to maintain control of its mission and operations.
6. The CPSC has ensured that there are sufficient internal agency resources to manage and oversee contracts effectively.

Plan for analyzing the FY 2019 data

In accordance with the Service Contract Inventory checklist of Submissions, Formats and Deadlines attached to the 12/19/2011 Memo from Daniel I Gordon, as revised by the FY 2019 Service Contract Inventory Checklist dated 9/25/2019, the Consumer Product Safety Commission is submitting the identified Special Interest Functions for FY 2019.

The functions are:

- D302 IT and Telecom – Systems Development
- R708 Support- Management: Public Relations
- R699 Support – Administrative: Other

Codes of Interest D302 and R708 represent services at CPSC with significant obligations in FY 2019, and that also include the highest risk for personal services. CPSC intends to analyze both codes, as the agency has done in the past. In FY 2019, CPSC obligated $2,730,762.20 to D302, and obligated $1,549,738.42 to R708.

Additionally, per OMB guidance for FY 2019, agencies are encouraged to analyze PSCs R499 (Support – Professional: Other), R699 (Support – Administrative: Other) and R799 (Support – Management: Other) in their plan, if the PSCs have not already been reviewed. CPSC reviewed both R499 and R699 in FY 2018, but it did not have obligations for R799. CPSC continues to have no obligations to R799 in FY 2019, but the agency will continue to monitor R699 in FY 2019. CPSC obligated $780,893.08 to code R699 in FY 2019.

CPSC's FY 2019 analysis will be of contracts under the codes listed above.
