1.2 PURPOSE AND DESCRIPTION OF THE PROCESSING

1.2.1 Purpose

The European Labour Authority (ELA) collects and uses personal information for the management of the European Labour Authority (ELA) main website.

The ELA main website offers various types of content aimed at informing the general public about the work of the ELA, ranging from general information, news, events, background information, official documents, policy information, links to specialised tools and applications. The ELA main website also aims to engage with users. Users can contact specific ELA staff through individual or functional mailboxes. Contacting ELA staff through a mailbox will activate web visitor's email software to send requests and comments to a specific mailbox.

Users can also access tools to opt-in to take part in surveys and/or register for events. In both cases, specific privacy statements apply for each such opt-in, outside the website.

In particular, the ELA main website displays personal data (name, profession, CV, contact details) of some people that are internal to the organisation. This includes: ELA senior management as well as staff working in the field of external communication or staff assigned to a particular activity / project / task / event for which communication via the internet is required. Other staff if communication on their achievements or contribution to ELA activities includes the publication of their personal data.

The ELA main website also publishes the list of people that are external to the organisation as members of the ELA Management Board and Stakeholder Group or members of the different Working Groups in the Authority to inform the public about their tasks and its composition. The specific Privacy Statements apply for these collections of personal data (Record "DPR-ELA-2023-0004 ELA Working Groups").

The ELA main website publishes as well names of the representatives of organisations, self-employed individuals and their collaborators/employees present at meetings with the ELA Executive Director for transparency reasons (more information about this process in Record "DPR-ELA-2023-0011 Publication of meetings with interest representatives and other externals").

As the European Commission is the system supplier (processor from a personal data protection point of view), for further information, please see also DG COMM "Record DPR-EC-00083 on processing of personal data on European Commission web sites" (within the europa.eu domain), including IP addresses, by visitors of the publicly available websites.

1.8 SECURITY MEASURES

Short summary of overall Technical and Organizational Measures implemented to ensure Information Security:

Description:

All data in electronic format (e-mails, documents, uploaded batches of data etc.) are stored either on the servers of the European Labour Authority or of its contractors.

The European Labour Authority's contractors are bound by a specific contractual clause for any processing operations of personal data on behalf of the European Labour Authority, and by the confidentiality obligations deriving from the General Data Protection Regulation.

In order to protect personal data, the European Labour Authority has put in place a number of technical and organisational measures. Technical measures include appropriate actions to address online security, risk of data loss, alteration of data or unauthorised access, taking into consideration the risk presented by the processing and the nature of the personal data being processed. Organisational measures include restricting access to the personal data solely to authorised persons with a legitimate need to know for the purposes of this processing operation.
