FEW to Hold 55th National Training Program Aug. 4-8 in Chicago

Professional Development and Networking Opportunities Open to Federal, State, Local and Military Employees

PRINCETON JUNCTION, N.J.—June 14, 2024—Federally Employed Women (FEW), a non-profit organization committed to advancing women in the government with cutting-edge training, nationwide networking and invaluable insight, announced today it will hold its 55th National Training Program (NTP) in Chicago, Illinois, on August 4-8.

NTP will feature more than 160 training classes and three different educational tracks, including professional development, employee experience and leadership, and culture. According to officials, all courses align with the U.S. Office of Personnel Management's Executive Core Qualifications. Attendees can request that their respective agencies cover the cost by completing a justification letter and an individual development plan.

“Due to its exceptional return on investment, NTP continues to attract attendees worldwide,” said FEW National President Pamela H. Richards. “They benefit from FEW trainings through greater morale, job performance and satisfaction, in addition to enhanced productivity and adherence to quality standards. Added paybacks include increased innovation in new strategies and products, as well as personal and professional growth.”

The five-day training program is designed to empower women at all levels of the workforce, both in government and throughout the private sector. NTP's program will include:

- 69 leadership and culture classes.
- 65 professional development classes.
- 29 employee experience classes.
