THE CONTENDERS

The 33rd edition of the FIBA Intercontinental Cup opens a new chapter in the history of this storied competition. It is the first time ever the event is hosted in Asia, the first time ever it includes Asian clubs, and the first time in the last 36 years that it features more than four contenders for the title.

The field of contenders has expanded to six clubs from around the world, drawn into two groups. These six teams represent six diametrically different leagues and each team comes from a different geographical region, but they all have one thing in common: None of them yet knows what it feels like to lift the FIBA Intercontinental Cup trophy, and they all arrive in Singapore aiming to conquer the coveted crown and add it to their silverware collection.

GROUP A

AL AHLY - EGYPT - Basketball Africa League winner

NBA G LEAGUE IGNITE - USA - NBA G League representative

SESI FRANCA - BRAZIL - Basketball Champions League Americas winner

GROUP B

AL MANAMA - BAHRAIN - FIBA West Asia Super League winner

TELEKOM BASKETS BONN - GERMANY - Basketball Champions League winner

ZHEJIANG GOLDEN BULLS - CHINA - Chinese Basketball Association representative

Each team will play two games in the Group Phase and on the final day of competition the teams that topped their respective groups will square off in the Final to battle for the trophy. The second-placed teams in each group will face off in the Third-Place Game, while the third-placed teams in each group will fight for fifth place in the tournament.

FINAL

As a club a few years away from its 100th birthday, Al Ahly is much more than simply one of the most storied clubs in Egypt. The Cairo-based club, founded in 1930, is an integral part of basketball history in Africa.

The Reds, as they are affectionately known, are coming off an enormously successful 2022-23 season which saw them conquer the domestic double and put the cherry on top by winning their first ever Basketball Africa League (BAL) crown in May.

In the big Final in Kigali, Rwanda, Al Ahly defeated AS Douanes of Senegal and clinched a spot in this year's FIBA Intercontinental Cup as BAL champions.

Al Ahly have grown accustomed to success throughout the club's long history. They have won the Egyptian league title on seven occasions and the Egyptian Cup 11 times.

Meanwhile on the international stage, in addition of course to the 2023 BAL trophy, they also celebrated the FIBA Africa Champions Cup title in 2016 and the Arabophone Championship in 2021.

AL MANAMA

If Al Manama manage to taste success in Singapore this September and therefore become the first Asian club in history to lift the FIBA Intercontinental Cup trophy, they will be presented with a problem among their celebrations: they will have serious trouble finding free space for the new silverware in their already laden trophy case.

The Bahrain-based club are the most successful basketball organization within the country, as they are able to boast of having a total of 40 domestic trophies in their possession.

Al Manama have conquered the Bahrain league title on 22 occasions and the Bahraini Cup 18 times. In 2023 they won both titles, adding yet another domestic double to their name.

However, Al Manama arrive in Singapore as representatives of a competition they won for the first time. In June, they celebrated lifting the very first trophy in the history of FIBA West Asia Super League, after defeating Kuwait Club in the title game of the Final Eight that was hosted in Dubai.

NBA G LEAGUE IGNITE

There is only one trophy so there can be only one champion at FIBA Intercontinental Cup Singapore 2023, but if there was an unofficial title for the most exciting young team, the NBA G League Ignite would win it without a contest.

Current NBA players such as Jalen Green, Jonathan Kuminga and Scoot Henderson came through the Ignite program, and their young successors on this year's roster are ready to showcase their skills in Singapore.

The concept for the Ignite program came to fruition in 2020, when the team was created to provide high school, college and international prospects with an avenue towards the NBA Draft. Ignite have competed in the NBA G League during the past three seasons, reaching the play-off Quarter-Finals once.

A team representing the NBA G League has competed in the FIBA Intercontinental Cup in each of its last four editions, with the Lakeland Magic and the Rio Grande Valley Vipers achieving third place finishes. Will the young guns do better in Singapore?

SESI FRANCA

Will third time be a charm for the Brazilians? Sesi Franca reached the Final of the FIBA Intercontinental Cup on two occasions, in 1975 and 1980, but both times ended up having to settle for second place.

So, this time around, the members of the team which embarked on a transatlantic trip to Singapore all the way from the Brazilian state of Sao Paulo can only be truly content with reaching the top spot of the podium.

That's a spot that Franca are very familiar with, as they are the most winning club in Brazilian league history with 13 titles to their name, while they also have four Pan American Club Championship trophies, six South American Club Championships, and one FIBA South American League titles to their name.

The conquest that earned them a spot in Singapore this September though was the Basketball Champions League Americas trophy they lifted last April, after defeating Argentina's Quimsa in the Semi-Final and fellow Brazilian side Flamengo in the Final, in front of their home fans.

TELEKOM BASKETS BONN

No German club has ever won two international trophies in the same year and no German club has ever won the FIBA Intercontinental Cup, so the dual challenge that Telekom Baskets Bonn face in Singapore is clear.

Yet Bonn, who arrive as Basketball Champions League winners and, by extension, as representatives of Europe, are something of an oddity in German basketball.

They are one of the most established and well-respected clubs but in the 31 years since 1992, when they were founded, and up until this year, they had no trophies to show for it.

Bonn has reached the German BBL league Finals on six occasions and the German Cup Final three times, yet they always ended up as the runners up.

Luckily for them, that unlucky domestic streak did not apply internationally. In May, Bonn capped off a fantastic campaign in the Basketball Champions League by defeating Hapoel Bank Yahav Jerusalem in the title game of the Final Four in Malaga and became the first ever German team to win the competition.

ZHEJIANG GOLDEN BULLS

The Zhejiang Golden Bulls are poised to write a page of basketball history in Singapore, the very moment they step foot on the court for their Group B opener against Al Manama, as they will become the first ever Chinese club to participate in the FIBA Intercontinental Cup.

The club that is based in the province of Zhejiang was founded in 1995 and has been competing in the Southern Division of the Chinese Basketball Association (CBA). The Golden Bulls had a deep run in the 2020-21 CBA season and reached the Semi-Finals of the league play-offs.

They did even better in the 2022-23 campaign, since they first raced to win the top seed in the Regular Season and then battled their way to the play-off Finals. There however they lost the fight for the title to the back-to-back Chinese champions, the Liaoning Flying Leopards.

Now, the Golden Bulls aspire to not only showcase Chinese basketball on the international stage, but also dazzle the international audience with their trademark offensive-minded game.
