HAPPENINGS AT LPU ONLINE

Students crack jobs in Reputed Companies

LPU Online students have witnessed a cheerful first-half of the year 2023! Several students have been placed in several reputed companies during numerous placement drives conducted by our placement cell.

While our sessions began in 2021, students from different programmes and different batches have already bagged good jobs, taking themselves a step closer to success and achieving their dreams.

One after another, many leading organisations like Poshway Consultant and Co, VFN Group, InternsElite, IntelliPaat, PLANETSPARK and WaySpire conducted placement drives, both virtually and on site, where all the students got an opportunity to participate and compete for the positions.

WORKSHOP BY EXPERTS

Continuing our effort to provide top-notch industry exposure to our students, we successfully conducted a workshop in April and a guest lecture in the month of May.

This enriching Workshop on Data Structure & Algorithms was conducted by Mr. Vibhakar Ghosh. The Guest Lecture on Collaborative Learning was given by Dr. Prikshat Kumar Angra.

These sessions helped our students dive deep into the subjects.

FRESHMEN INDUCTION

Every fresh start deserves a loud cheer and the right guidance!

Students join us with numerous dreams in their eyes and it's our responsibility to properly induct them through our Freshman Induction. The event provided students with a comprehensive introduction to the dynamic learning environment of LPU Online. Our distinguished speakers detailed the advantages of the Learning Management System. Students were guided on how to adeptly navigate the system to attend virtual classes and take exams via the "My Class" interface. All in all, the session fortified their confidence and readied them for the LPU Online educational experience.

LPU ONLINE DEBATE COMPETITION

Our students were offered an opportunity to delve into the essence of the 'More Than A Degree' philosophy through their participation in the debate competition. The event aimed at enhancing students' potential and public speaking skills and at the same time, offering a platform to display their communication prowess. The event, spanning four stages – three preliminary rounds and a climactic finale, showcased a riveting battle of wit and eloquence. The opening round drew significant interest with 65 participants. From there, 20 contestants advanced to the second round, narrowing down to four in the subsequent round, and finally two in the finale. All participants brimmed with confidence throughout the competition, and eloquently put forward their perspectives on a diverse range of topics. Finally, amidst tough competition, it was Akshat Batra, an Online MBA student who emerged as the champion in the final round, conducted on 9th May and took home the cash prize of a 5000 rupees. Overall, the event was a rewarding experience for every attendee.

I was fortunate to grab the winner's tag, along with the cash prize. The competition had 3 rounds, which took place over a month. The format of the competition was such that everyone got the opportunity to showcase the best version of themselves. The officials of LPU Online were very supportive along the way. They kept providing information and timely reminders to ensure that we don't miss out on anything. I would like to thank the Centre for Distance and LPU Online for making this possible and providing a fulfilling learning experience.

EMPOWERING LIFELONG LEARNERS: A CONVERSATION WITH THE DIRECTOR OF CENTRE FOR DISTANCE AND ONLINE EDUCATION

In a world that's constantly evolving, the journey of learning never truly ends. It's not just about enriching knowledge and skills; it's about embracing a mindset that fuels progress and adaptability on a societal scale. With a burning desire to usher in transformative change without compromising on quality, the mission of the Centre for Distance and Online Education centres around empowering the masses through the magic of learning. The Director, Prof. Pavitar Parkash Singh, Centre for Distance and Online Education, sheds light on university's commitment to lifelong learning.

Questions & Answers

The concept of lifelong learning has been in trend for the past few years. How would you like to define/describe it to our readers?

In today's rapidly changing world, technological advancements, globalisation, and evolving job markets require individuals to constantly update their knowledge and acquire new skills to remain competitive and adaptable. Being an active and ongoing process that extends beyond formal education, lifelong learning empowers individuals to stay relevant and effectively navigate these dynamic environments. It recognises that learning opportunities exist at every age and stage, and individuals can continue to grow intellectually, professionally, and personally throughout their lives.

In your opinion, what are the key benefits of lifelong learning for individuals in today's fast-paced and rapidly evolving world?

Undoubtedly, lifelong learning equips individuals with the skills and knowledge needed to adapt to new situations, technologies, and challenges. It fosters resilience by enabling individuals to embrace change, think critically, and quickly acquire new skills as required. Lifelong learners tend to have better career prospects, increased job security, and higher earning potential. All in all, lifelong learning is not just limited to professional development; it also contributes to personal growth.

How does the Centre of Distance and Online Education at Lovely Professional University promote lifelong learning among its students?

The centre offers a range of flexible learning options, including distance education and online programmes, allowing students to pursue education at their own pace and convenience. This flexibility enables working professionals, individuals with family commitments, or those residing in remote areas to access quality education and continue their learning journey. Moreover, keeping in line with LPU's motto of Think BIG, we welcome our distance and online student community to participate unequivocally in various online and offline campus events, workshops, and seminars. Their participation exposes them to new ideas, emerging research, industry practices, and current trends, fostering a culture of lifelong learning.

What role does technology play in facilitating lifelong learning experiences at the centre of distance and online education, and how do you ensure the integration of innovative digital tools in the learning process?

The centre, since its day of inception, has been leveraging, a centralised hub for course materials, resources, and communication to facilitate learning beyond traditional classroom settings. Virtual classrooms create an interactive and engaging learning environment, fostering collaboration and active learning. Our in-house developed online lectures, interactive multimedia content, virtual simulations, e-books, and online discussion forums enhance their learning experience. Likewise, we have been utilising technology to implement continuous evaluation and feedback mechanisms. Online quizzes, assignments, and assessments are conducted through digital platforms, allowing for timely feedback and monitoring of students' progress.

Can you share some examples of successful alumni who have leveraged the lifelong learning opportunities offered by the university to enhance their careers and personal growth?

Presently, LPU Centre for Distance and Online Education has 100000+ alumni to its credit, who are treading the path to success in their respective fields. Ravi Mathur (Co-founder and CTO, Insurance Samadhan, India), Manoj Thapa (CEO, Janaki Technology Pvt. Ltd., Nepal), Dr. Kanchan Garg (Joint Income Tax Commissioner), Gurpreet Singh (Arjuna Awardee and International - level Shooter), Hardeep Kaur Bhambra (Joint Director – Investigation, Excise, and Taxation), and thousands more, are prominent names who have leveraged the lifelong learning opportunities to not only flourish in their careers but also blossom at a personal level.

8 Steps of Professional Evolution

Ace the process of professional growth with guidance from LPU Online.

The journey from a fresher to an industry expert requires a comprehensive strategy & diverse skillset. LPU Online lists down the strategies and skills you will need for a remarkable professional growth.

Goal Setting: Set short-term goals strategically to increase your focus. It'll ensure that your motivation levels stay sky-high.
