

STATE ELECTION IN 1890.

The political contest of 1890 brought four distinct parties into the field. The Australian law of voting in the large cities, enacted by the legislature of 1889, provided that the names of nominees for state offices, should be filed with the state auditor twenty-eight days before the day of election. Under this clause the "Prohibition" was the first to comply with the law, followed by the "Republican," "Democrat," and "Alliance" candidates.

The platforms adopted by the several political conventions, are given in the order of time at which they were held; but the "Alliance" party was debarred from filing the names of their candidates (not having been previously a political party under the terms of the law) until there had been filed with the state auditor a certificate of nomination containing the names of at least one per cent. of the entire vote cast at the previous state election.

PROHIBITION PLATFORM.

1. We, the delegates of the prohibition party, in state convention assembled, do declare in favor of the total annihilation of the manufacture, sale and use of intoxicating liquors as a beverage, in state and nation.

2. The question of prohibition is both a political and national one, and demands for its success the efficient action of a political party organized for that purpose.

3. High or low license as a means for removing the evils of the saloon curse is and always has been a delusion and a fraud, unrighteous in principle and vicious in execution.

4. Since the late decision of the United States supreme court has made it impossible for any state to prevent the importation of intoxicating liquors within its bounds, we do demand of Congress the speedy enactment of a law preventing the importation of such liquors into any state having a prohibitory law.

5. We extend hearty sympathy and co-operation to our sister state of Nebraska in her fight to prohibit the ravages of the rum demon among her people and their homes.

6. We further declare in favor of the election of U. S. Senators and of the President and Vice-President of the United States by a direct vote of the people; for the Australian system of ballot reform for the whole state; for the reduction of the tariff to a revenue basis and against the political trickstering of the McKinley tariff bill now pending in congress.

7. We also favor and will work for the taxation of all railroad property on an equal basis with all other property of the state, the complete control of the railroads and other public carriers by the state, fixing the rates of transportation for the shipment of grain without impediment, giving private parties the right to construct elevators without restraint, contiguous to railway tracks at all local stations. In fixing rates for transportation let the rates be such as will give fair remuneration for labor and capital invested but nothing for interest on watered bonds.

8. The absolute abolishment of option gambling on boards of trade and the enactment of such laws as shall make all such transactions a criminal offence.

9. For an increase in the volume of money equal to the requirements of an ever increasing trade and business.

10. We are in favor of settling all strikes by arbitration, and equal pay for equal work irrespective of sex. Also for shorter hours of labor in factories, stores and manufacturing institutions and on public works.

11. That all pools, trusts and combinations whose aim and effect are to control prices and prevent competition in the open market, should be declared conspiracy and made punishable by fine and imprisonment.

12. We demand of our legislators the enactment of laws to carry out the above principles and protect our laboring classes against the oppression and greed of capitalists.

Whereas, the desire is rapidly extending that the right of suffrage should not be limited on account of sex, and whereas, only by an amendment to our constitution can such right be granted, therefore,

Resolved, That we are heartily in favor of such an amendment being submitted to the legal voters of Minnesota at a general election.

ALLIANCE PLATFORM.

[After the adoption of the platform, and when it became necessary to file a certificate of nomination in accordance with the election law, the name was changed to "Alliance."]

The Farmers' Alliance and Industrial Unions of the state of Minnesota in convention assembled, hereby ordain and establish the following declaration of principles:

First—We demand that the "war tariff," which has too long survived the object of its creation, shall be radically revised, giving very material reduction on the necessaries of life, and placing raw material upon the free list to the end that we may compete with the world for a market; and that such luxuries as whiskey and tobacco shall in no manner be relieved from internal taxation, till the high protective tariff has been wholly divested of its extortions; and we especially denounce the McKinley bill as the crowning infamy of protection.

Second—We demand governmental control of railways, both by the state and nation, to the end that all discrimination shall cease; that reasonable rates shall be established; that watered stock shall not receive the rewards of honest capital; and the pooling of rates is such an element of monopoly as should be absolutely prohibited. We anticipate the ultimate ownership of railroads as the solution of the question.

Third—As producers we demand free and open markets for our grain, and that the railways shall receive and ship grain as they receive and ship other commodities, for the owner to its destination. That the grading of wheat at country stations be abolished; that the right to establish sidetracks to connect grain warehouses and the equal use of cars shall in no manner be abridged.

Fourth—That in the adjustment of a schedule of rates for this state we believe the railroad commission should be guided mainly by the schedule of rates now in force in Iowa. But if the interstate railways leading to Chicago shall make a less rate than the Iowa rates, we demand that the rates to Duluth shall be no greater per ton per mile than the rate per ton per mile to Chicago; reasonable terminal and transfer charges being added to the mileage charges as provided for by freedom of traffic law now in our statutes.

Fifth—That we demand the maintenance of the present freedom of traffic law, the present grain laws and the law for the distribution of cars, and the erection by the state of public warehouses, where the producer shall store his grain unmixed in a special bin at actual cost.

Sixth—That we hold that mortgage indebtedness should be deducted from the tax upon realty, whether such mortgage is held at home or abroad; and we ask such laws as will make the hidden property pay equal taxes with the visible property.

Seventh—That we favor a material reduction of interest on money, and demand that severe penalties be attached to the practice of usury.

Eighth—That we favor an increase in the volume of money equal to the requirements of an ever increasing trade and business, without the intervention of banks, which shall be made full legal tender, and we demand the free coinage of silver.

Ninth—That our public lands, the sacred heritage of the people, shall be reserved, in small quantities, without cost, to actual settlers only, and we favor laws for the protection of our forests.

Tenth—We are opposed to the giving away of valuable franchises by the state and municipalities.

Eleventh—That we are in favor of the improvement of our great waterways, so that our produce may go in unbroken bulk to the markets of the world.

Twelfth—That we ask the next legislature to establish the Australian system of voting for the whole state.

Thirteenth—That all public offices which directly affect the interests of the people should be made elective, and for this reason we hold that United States senators and railroad commissioners should be made elective by popular vote.

Fourteenth—We demand the prohibition of the employment of children under fifteen years of age in the mills, factories and work-shops of the country; and we also favor the adoption of a factory and mine inspection law, and an employers' liability act; and we favor the publishing of free text books.

Fifteenth—We favor the settlement of all strikes by arbitration, and for equal pay for equal work, irrespective of sex; also for shorter hours of labor in factories, stores and on public works, and we also favor a lien law that will give labor a first lien on its product.

Sixteenth—The assumption of the power by the supreme court of the United States in recent decisions denying accepted constitutional rights of the several states is a direct menace to the privileges and liberties of the people, and is fraught with danger to our institutions and form of government.

Seventeenth—When so demanded, the right of the people to vote upon constitutional amendments should not be denied, as it involves the right of petition.

Eighteenth—Labor everywhere has a common bond of sympathy, and a common cause. We cordially welcome every association having for its purpose the amelioration of the condition of all who toil "in the sweat of their face." In such a union now imperatively demanded, there will come that strength which will yet bring justice with victory. And for the support of these principles, we invoke the co-operation of all good citizens in the state of Minnesota without regard to previous affiliation.

Nineteenth Resolved—That we demand that the convict labor of the state shall be utilized to furnish the farmers of the state binding twine at cost.

REPUBLICAN PLATFORM.

The Republican party of the state of Minnesota, in convention assembled, announces the following declaration of principles:

First—It heartily endorses both the national and state administrations in the conduct of the affairs respectively entrusted to them by the people, that it especially commends the sound business and financial principles, the strict regard for economy and the fidelity to the pledges made by the last Republican state convention and emphatically ratified by the elections at the polls, which have distinguished the administration of Gov. W. R. Merriam.

Second—That having the requirements of the government in view, our tariff laws should be so adjusted as to best protect our American industries and bear fairly and equitably on all sections and interests of the country. It cordially approves of the policy recommended by Mr. Blaine, of such reciprocity treaties with the republics of Southern and Central America as will open closer commercial relations between the Northern and Southern Americas.

Third—It claims that in its high license policy in regard to the liquor traffic it has inaugurated the best and most efficient method of dealing with the evils attendant upon such traffic which has yet been devised, as shown in the results which have followed. It pledges itself to a continuance of this policy and a vigilant enforcement of such laws, and that in the future, as in the past in its efforts to regulate and restrain such traffic, it will take no backward step.

Fourth—It favors wise and discriminating legislation by congress on the subject of immigration, by which persons not in sympathy with our institutions, or opposed to republican government, may be excluded from our shores.

Fifth—It favors a reduction of the legal rate of interest permitted by written contract, and the vigilant enforcement of all enactments passed for the punishment of usury. It endorses the introduction of the binding twine industry in the state's prison, and the supply thereof to the citizens of the state engaged in agricultural and other pursuits, at the prime cost of manufacture and sale.

Sixth—It denounces all monopolies, whether under the name of trusts or otherwise, and demands the passage of laws by the congress of the United States for the placing on the free list any commodity which shall at any time become the subject thereof.

Seventh—It favors the regulation of the tolls of common carriers by inter-state commerce laws, or if solely within the state, by the legislation of the state in such manner as to prevent the watering of stock, with a view to illegitimate exactions of interest thereon, or oppression or discrimination between different individuals or localities, and at the same time to secure to the employe of such carriers a just return for his labor. It pledges itself to the endeavor to secure the passage of such laws as will guarantee to the people of the state the free disposition and transportation of their products, unimpeded by the vexatious exactions of rings and monopolies, or the unjust exercise of corporate franchises, and particularly to secure the reduction of rates on grain, lumber and coal.

Eighth—It approves of the Australian system of voting and recommends its adoption by the next legislature for the entire state.

Ninth—That the nation owes a debt of gratitude to the brave defenders of its flags, and that they and their widows and orphans should at all times be the subject of national recognition and protection. That it indorses the disability pension bill passed by the present congress in fulfillment of the pledges made by the Republican party to care for the ex-soldiers, their widows and orphans, and the Republican party of Minnesota take special pride in the fact that this just measure was fathered and championed by Hon. C. K. Davis, senior senator from this state.

Tenth—Resolved that we favor relieving, as far as possible, the poorer classes of our people by providing free text books in our common schools at the public expense.

Eleventh—That we are firmly opposed to any federal legislation designed to restrict the competition of Canadian with domestic common carriers.

DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM.

The Democracy of the state of Minnesota in convention assembled, express anew their appreciation and approval of the broad statesmanship, the steadfast, unswerving devotion to right principle and the heroic self-sacrifice of Grover Cleveland in compelling consideration by the people of the vital question of tariff reform. He forced the Republican party to remove the mask behind which its leaders had hidden their purpose to use the taxing power of the government to build up wealthy classes upon which they could rely for the money wherewith to corrupt voters and retain their control of the government. We send to him in his honorable retirement as a simple citizen of the great republic, assurance of our profound respect and esteem.

We declare our uncompromising opposition to the policy of a protective tariff, and we deny that the federal government has any right, legal or moral, to use its taxing power for any other purpose than to provide a revenue for the actual needs of the government when administered with strict economy. We oppose protection as un-American, as wrong in principle, false in promise and prolific in corruption, it contravenes the fundamental principle upon which the nation rests that "all men are created equal," by singling out industries to be favored at the expense of all. It puts the American manufacturer before the world in the attitude of a weakling, unable to hold his own in the world's industrial contest, while it leaves the farmer and the laborer to a world-wide competition. It promised a home competition and it gives us trusts and combines. It promised protection to labor and it confronts its organizations with Pinkerton's Winchesters. It promised a home market for our products, and the margin of surplus keeps pace with the growth of consumption. It corrupts and demoralizes by its teachings that the government and not individual effort is the source of wealth. It takes from the earnings of all and centers wealth in the hands of a few from whom it can be "fried" for use in corrupting the voters at the poll.

We denounce the McKinley tariff bill as nothing less than a deed of conveyance by the Republican party of the enormous power of federal taxation, to a combination of manufacturers and trusts in consideration of money advanced by them with which the election of Benjamin Harrison was purchased. It is not designed to protect American labor or infant industries, nor to raise government revenue, but to enable prosperous manufacturing concerns to increase their profits at the expense of the farming and laboring interest, and to furnish future corruption funds to the Republican party.

We charge upon each of the representatives in congress from this state the sole and individual responsibility for the increase of 120 per cent. in the tax on tin plate and its manufactures. When the McKinley bill was on its final passage in the house the amendment making this increase was voted upon as a distinct proposition, apart from the bill, and was adopted by a majority of one, each representative from this state voted for that amendment, thus assuming the sole responsibility of fastening on the people this most useless, defenseless and iniquitous tax on an article of universal and necessitous use.

We denounce the recent attempt of the Republican majority in the federal congress to usurp power, to impose unjust taxation, to stifle proper discussion of public measures, and to substitute the dictatorship of the speaker of the house of representatives for the considerate action of a deliberative assembly. We condemn the attempt to enact into law monstrous proposals for overturning the election laws of the several states and substituting for the local supervisors of election the mercenary and unscrupulous agents of the Republican party, and in the language of Speaker Reed, to enable them to "do their own registering, their own counting, and their own certifying."

We regret that the zeal which Republicans now profess for purity of elections in the south was not sufficient to secure for elections in this state the safeguards of the Australian ballot law for more than five of its cities, and we demand that its protection be extended to every precinct in the state.

We demand further that that law be supplemented and strengthened by limiting the use of money in elections and compelling candidates to make, verify and file for public inspection itemized statements of all money so spent by or for them directly or indirectly.

We oppose any legislation that would restrict our right to transport our products over Canadian railways, or an attempt to extend the protective system in the interest of American railway monopoly.

STATE ISSUES.

Grave as are the questions affecting the nation which the voters of the state must solve in the congressional districts, there are others equally important, concerning the management of the affairs of the state, which it is their duty to decide at the polls. Chief of these is the marked growth of corruption in our legislature. We instance the infamous "House File 157," which, under the deceitful pretense of relieving settlers "and others," remitted to a land grant railroad company the taxes on its land amounting to nearly one million dollars. We instance the debauchery of legislators in the election of senators, which, in the latest, was so widespread that the investigation was quickly withdrawn and the testimony taken was suppressed "to save the party from the disgrace" which would follow its publication. We refer to the indubitable fact that there has grown up in the legislature a gang of professional strikers who introduce measures injurious to legitimate private and corporate interests, making them the basis of demands for money. It is well known that meritorious measures are hindered and obstructed by them until they ascertain "how much there is in it" for them, and we appeal to the conscience of the honest voters of the state to aid us in suppressing this venality which is sapping the foundations of the state.

We again impeach the Republican party for incapacity to deal with the problem of a "free and open" grain market. We repeat our denunciation of its grain inspection law as "stupid, if honest, and malevolent if not,"

and we point to the fact that complaints continue of the evils it was to remedy, and that the chief inspector admits that all the redress it affords is limited to those farmers who are able to ship their grain directly to the terminals, leaving unprotected that great mass of farmers whose present necessity prevents this, compelling them to sell to the local elevators, and leaving the syndicates which now control most of the elevators of the state to reap the 20 to 30 per cent. profit, of which they boasted when promoting their schemes on the English market.

We arraign it again for the reckless extravagance of the legislatures, the latest session of which was only restrained from again exceeding the great revenues of the state by a fear of political defeat, and which met the deficit of $325,000 bequeathed it by its predecessor by an issue of bonds, thus increasing the interest bearing debt of the state rather than curtailing its expenditures.

In view of the glaring inequality and manifest injustice of our present system of state taxation, under which it is notorious that the bulk of personal property of the rich escapes taxation, thus adding to the public burden of those of moderate possessions, we commend to the coming legislature an earnest consideration of the matter with a view of devising some method by which the taxes may be justly and equitably distributed and borne.

And the Democrats of the state covenant with the people, if entrusted with the management of affairs, that the offices of the state shall be administered on the rule that a "public office is a public trust;" that strict economy shall be enforced in all departments; that needless offices shall be either abolished or consolidated; that every grain market in the state shall be made "free and open;" that corruption when discovered shall be exposed, not sheltered; and to this end we again appeal to all voters who set good government above party.
