

Access to Redstone Arsenal

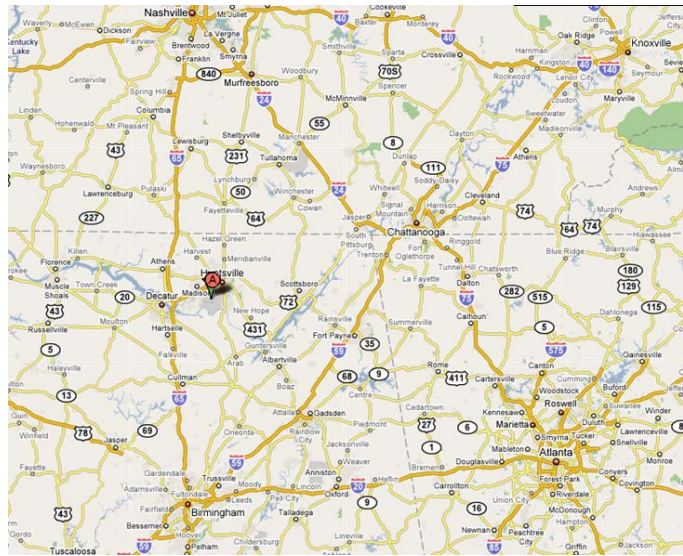

Marshall Space Flight Center is located on the U.S. Army's Redstone Arsenal in Huntsville, Ala. Access to Redstone Arsenal requires a decal and badge, and prior approval of the hosting organization. For more information about visiting Marshall, please visit the Visitor Information page:

<http://www.nasa.gov/centers/marshall/about/visitor.html>

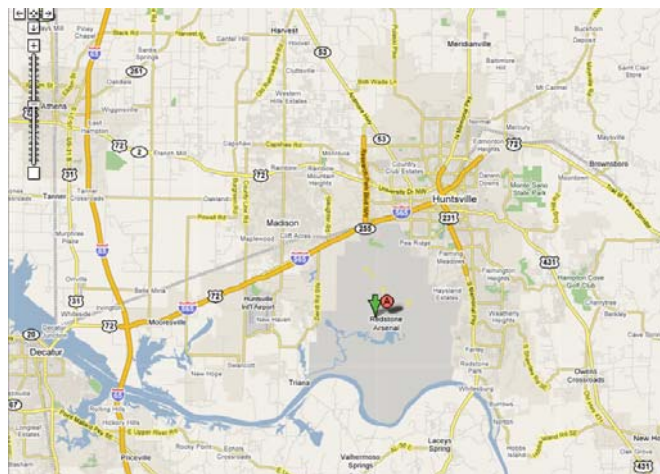

If you have prior approval for a visit, you may enter through the Redstone Arsenal Visitor's Center at Gate 9 on Rideout Road where decals and badges may be obtained for approved visitors. You can find a map of the Redstone Arsenal gates and gate hours at:

<http://www.garrison.redstone.army.mil/sites/about/gates.asp>

You can click on this map link to see our proximity to Memphis, Nashville, Knoxville, Chattanooga, Birmingham and Atlanta:

You can also click on this map link to see more detail about Redstone Arsenal and the Marshall Center:

Driving Directions

To enter the Redstone Arsenal Gate 9 Visitor Center from Huntsville International Airport: Follow signs along Houston Goodson Way / Glenn Hearn Blvd to I-565 East. At Exit 14, turn right onto ramp (AL-255 / Rideout Rd / Gate 9) and follow the Gate 9 Visitor Center signs. A Marshall visitor without a badge and decal must stop at the Visitor Center.
