ARB CASE NO. 2017-0059

ALJ CASE NO. 2017-OFC-00004

PLAINTIFF,

DATE: JUL 29 2019

v.

GOOGLE, INC.,

DEFENDANT.

FINAL ADMINISTRATIVE ORDER

On July 14, 2017, a Department of Labor Administrative Law Judge (ALJ) issued a Recommended Decision and Order denying the request by the Department of Labor's Office of Federal Contract Compliance Programs (OFCCP) that Defendant Google, Inc., provide certain types of information to OFCCP. OFCCP appealed the ALJ's ruling to this Board.

On January 30, 2019, OFCCP filed a Motion for Voluntary Dismissal of its Appeal. The Board granted the Motion and dismissed the appeal on February 1, 2019. On May 16, 2019 OFCCP filed a document styled "Request to Clarify This Court's February 1, 2019 Order Granting Plaintiff's Motion to Dismiss Appeal" (hereinafter "Request"). The Board declined to "clarify" its previous Order or otherwise grant the relief requested by this tardy request for reconsideration in an Order dated June 11, 2019. On July 23, 2019, the Board received a document styled, "Joint Motion for the Issuance of a Final Order," in which the parties agreed that this matter was not adjudicated below as an expedited proceeding and requested the Board issue a final order as provided by 41 C.F.R. § 60-30.30.

In light of the joint nature of this Motion and the absence of exceptions to the ALJ decision below from either party, the Board hereby GRANTS the Joint Motion for the Issuance of a Final Order and VACATES its previous Order in this matter, dated June 11, 2019. The parties will comply with the terms of the Recommended Decision and Order issued by the ALJ in this matter on July 14, 2017,¹ with the time periods set out in the Recommended Decision and Order to run from the date of issuance of this Order.

SO ORDERED.

William T. Barto
Chief Administrative Appeals Judge

¹ This Final Administrative Order applies only to the matters alleged in the Administrative Complaint at issue below and the specific findings and conclusions entered by the ALJ in his Recommended Decision and Order. It is not intended to extend to or bar further proceedings concerning acts or practices by Defendant that may be alleged by OFCCP to violate Executive Order 11246, any applicable regulations, or Defendant's contractual obligations.
