Frequently Asked Questions – FAQ

NextGen Kids Care

Will childcare be provided on both days of the conference?

There will be no childcare on Friday. Childcare will be provided on Saturday only and check-in begins at 8:00a.

What are the ages/grades for childcare?

- Nursery: 6 months – 2 years
- Preschool: 3 – 5 years
- Elementary: 1st to entering 5th grade in the Fall of 2024

Where will I take my child on Saturday morning for childcare?

All children will be checked in at Education Center located at 1821 West Camp Wisdom Road, Dallas TX 75232.

Can my younger child accompany an older sibling?

Having younger children with older children disrupts staffing ratios, can be more stressful for the younger child, and is generally inappropriate for care. When able, we accommodate the wishes of the parent/guardian when the request does not disrupt the overall program.

How do you ensure the safety of the children in your care?

We have developed a thorough, multi-level security process designed to ensure a seamless and controlled transition of custody from family to caregiver and back to family. The process includes registration, check-in, group assignment by ratio, and a two-adult supervision rule at all times. There is also a security presence throughout all locations when children are in our care.

For the safety of children attending the conference, it is the policy of OCBF that the adult who checks the child in MUST be the one who checks the child out. If the parent or guardian cannot be reached via text or a phone call, a team member will notify DFJ Conference personnel.

All NextGen Kids team members are screened through the process of a background check, as well as safety training.

How do I check in my child?

Please be aware that there will be NO CHILDCARE provided on Friday evening. A NextGen Kids team member will assist with the check-in process on Saturday morning beginning at 8:00 a.m. You will receive two printed labels at check-in: the child's nametag and one pick-up tag for the parent or guardian.

What if my child experiences separation anxiety?

Parents are welcome to help their children settle in if they become anxious. If a child continues to be anxious after you leave, a NextGen Kids Team member will immediately attend to your child.

What if my child becomes ill during the conference?

If your child becomes ill or injured while in our care, you will be contacted immediately by the NextGen Ministry Medical team or NextGen Staff Representative.

What if my child needs me during the conference?

If your child needs you during the conference for any reason, we will send you a text message.

What should I bring to the nursery?

Parents are asked to provide a small bag with anything their child will need during their visit with us. All items, including bottles, pacifiers, clothes, blankets, etc. should be labeled.

Will my child be fed?

Yes, children will receive breakfast, lunch, and a snack.

Can you accommodate my child's special dietary needs?

Yes! Please indicate any dietary restrictions/food allergies on your child's registration, and we will work to ensure that food options are available to meet your child's needs.

What should I do if I have any additional questions, comments, or concerns?

For more information, please contact Cynthia Dixson at cdixson@ocbfchurch.org. Our goal is to ensure that parents are confident leaving their children in the care of the NextGen Kids team.
