about you. Be present and participate in those conversations, and make sure you're contributing your voice, so I am a "no, thank you."

From a diverse standpoint as a law firm leader, Denton-Reyes expressed that she has to get comfortable with saying "no." She views saying "no" as an opportunity to support someone else in the legal community. After rejecting a request, she provided a relevant resource to address people and clients' immediate needs by connecting them with another colleague.

Imposter syndrome: what do you do to get back to the truth?

Imposter syndrome is a psychological experience of perceiving oneself as incompetent and unworthy to deserve what they had achieved. Simply speaking, it is an internal experience that one feels they don't belong to where they are

The task force, soon entering its seventh year, has worked collaboratively with local police and other law enforcement agencies, researching the law and best practices to protect the rights of citizens.

Policy changes: Pat Search for Weapons

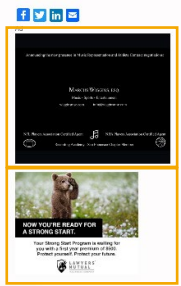

Earlier this year, the police department leaned on the task force's guidance when it revised its policy on frisking people for weapons. The task force discovered that the police department's proposed General Order 5.03 used an incorrect legal standard. It would have allowed officers to conduct a pat-down for weapons if they reasonably believed the person was dangerous or may be carrying a weapon.

But the more restrictive "armed and dangerous" is the clear standard outlined by the seminal U.S. Supreme Court case Terry v. Ohio (1968) 392 U.S. 1, and California precedents. The task force prepared a detailed legal memo reviewed and agreed by the BASF Board of Directors.

The armed or dangerous standard was far too permissive and completely contradicts California Criminal Jury instructions and Judge Travis Smith's Protocol of Court Programs and a Task Force member. A culinary student would run afoul of the "armed or dangerous" standard simply by carrying a sharp knife to class.

BASF Executive Director Yolanda Jackson wrote a cover letter delivering the legal memo—authored by Task and Task force member Rebecca Young—to San Francisco Police Chief William Scott and the San Francisco Police Commissioners. The proposed policy threatened to "undermine the Department's reform efforts designed to heal relations between police and the community—especially our communities of color whose lives and lives of our young men are disproportionately impacted and harmed," she wrote.

"The new police department policy rolled out in May adopted the bar's recommended "armed and dangerous" language. San Francisco Police must now be able to "point to specific and articulable facts causing them to believe the suspect is armed and dangerous." In addition, police may only perform pat-downs when legally detaining someone. The policy clarifies that the purpose of a stop is to pursue an investigation without fear of retaliation from the community or suspects.

LAWPAY We're the best legal payment solution for a reason. Member benefits.

This month, we're honoring Robert Rodriguez, our longtime Facilities Manager here at BASF. As the first friendly face you'll see when you return to our offices next year, Robert ensures our offices run smoothly every day, with the help of Amy Ramirez and Renee Magaña who are also a part of the Office Management department. Since he graduated from college and joined the team more than 18 years ago, he has provided essential support for the BASF family. His daily job duties can range from dealing with vendors for BASF events and conferences to replacing a battery on a clock in the office - all sorts of tasks that make our teams go easier and provide a comfortable space for our members to continue.

Robert was originally hired to work in the mailroom. Within a few years he demonstrated such professional competence supporting the offices, he was promoted to the Facilities Manager. More importantly, another main reason he enjoys working with BASF is that he is inspired by the mission and differences our organizations have made in the community. "Normally, I'm behind the scenes but one day was at BASF's Habitat for Humanity (2015) and I was asked to interpret for a Spanish-speaking client and it was rewarding to help a client succeed."

When you are able to visit our new office space at 201 Mission, be sure to say hi to Robert when you see him at the front desk.

All advertisements for BASF publications, print and electronic, are accepted and published on the representation that the advertiser and/or the advertising agent are authorized to publish the entire contents and subject matter thereon.

No conditions printed or otherwise appearing on the insertion order, billing instructions or copy instructions which conflict with the publisher's stated policies will be binding on the publisher. BASF will not be liable for any oral agreements or specific arrangements contrary to or in addition to this contract.

All advertising orders are accepted subject to the terms and provisions of the current rate card. Orders are subject to change in rates upon notice from BASF. In the case of advertising placed by an agency, the agency and the client in whose name the agency is placing the ad, are jointly and severally liable for the price of the advertising space.

Payment for advertising space is due within 30 days of the date of invoice, unless the ad package requires pre-payment.

New advertisers with no credit history with BASF or the RW/Walker Company will be required to pre-pay advertising.

Funds collected in advance of advertising produced are non-refundable.

Failure to provide ad materials will not alter contract payment terms or obligations. BASF reserves the right to decline or reject

An advertising order may not be changed or canceled after the closing date of the issue in which the advertisement is scheduled to be published. If instructions to change copy are not received by the closing date, copy run in a previous issue will be published.

Frequency discounts are based on calendar year. Cancellation of space reservation by the advertiser or its agent will result in an adjustment of the rate based on past and subsequent insertions to reflect actual space used at earned frequency or volume rate.

Advertisers and their agencies assume liability for all content of advertisements printed and for any claims arising therefrom made against BASF. In consideration of publication of the advertisement, the advertiser and agency will fully indemnify and hold BASF harmless from all costs, expenses (including reasonable attorneys' fees) and liabilities resulting from or arising in connection with publication of the advertisement.

If a dispute arises out of this agreement and if the dispute cannot be settled through negotiation thirty days after the negotiations begin, the advertiser and BASF agree first to try in good faith to settle the dispute by private mediation in San Francisco County or if unable to agree on a mediator, the advertiser and BASF agree to mediate with the American Arbitration Association under its applicable rules. The cost of any such mediation shall be borne equally by the advertiser and BASF.

If any dispute arising out of this agreement cannot be settled by mediation, then it will be settled by binding arbitration conducted in San Francisco, California, pursuant to the applicable rules of the American Arbitration Association.

BASF is not liable for delays in delivery and/or non-delivery of any publications, printed or electronic, in the event of any condition beyond the control of BASF affecting production in any manner.
