Dear valued Flat Rolled Group Customer,

I would like to start by thanking you for trusting Steel Dynamics with your flat rolled steel needs. We appreciate your support and value your trust that you have with Steel Dynamics being part of your supply chain.

We have been monitoring the COVID-19 situation for the past several months. We have researched our supply chains and believe we are well situated with primary suppliers and tertiary suppliers to ensure operations during this time of uncertainty. Recent developments and actions by our Government and the Centers for Disease Control have led us to develop internal policies to help mitigate the spread of this contagion. We believe we have adopted prudent measures to help our employees protect themselves and their families from unnecessary exposure, as well as reducing exposure hazards in the workplace. We have identified travel restrictions and visitor requirements to help with exposures outside the workplace. We have also identified internal measures for heightened cleanliness and personnel interaction.

At this time, we have not seen absences or symptomatic employees to any degree that indicates an emergency situation. Fortunately, our mills are located in areas that have had very small exposures to date. We will closely monitor our team's health and our ability to continue our operations. We have Pandemic plans at our major steel making facilities. Our plans are all based on the safety of our team and our ability to produce steel safely and to the highest quality standards. Our plans address measures that can be taken to ensure the right people are on the right job.

We will continue to respond to the Government directives and the advice from the Centers for Disease Control.

Our commitment is to the safety of our team and yours, and all of our families. Our commitment is to you, our loyal customer, that we will continue to provide for your needs and help in protecting your supply chain.

With Regard,

Barry Schneider
