HUNTSMAN HALL

3730 Walnut Street

⁰⁵ The center of Wharton life is Jon M. Huntsman Hall, the main academic building for the School, which opened in 2004. With 48 classrooms, faculty offices, and Wharton's Undergraduate and Graduate Divisions, Huntsman facilitates collaboration among staff, students, and faculty. Huntsman's 57 group study rooms are in use 24 hours a day, promoting Wharton team learning. Students study and collaborate using wireless keyboards, video-conferencing technology, and electronic whiteboards.

The Baker Forum on the lower level is the largest common space in Wharton, used for casual studying and meetings, as well as student receptions. The 8th Floor Conference Center hosts meetings and conferences and offers sweeping 360-degree views of Philadelphia.

Take a quick bite or long lunch at Pret a Manger, which opened in 2017 on Locust Walk, or visit the outdoor lounge area known as Koo Plaza on the 2nd floor.

STEINBERG - DIETRICH HALL

3620 Locust Walk (pedestrians only)

- 06 SHDH, opened in 1952, was Wharton's first building. It also contains Wharton's most recent addition, The Mack Pavilion—a glass tower with faculty offices and new advanced classrooms.

ACADEMIC RESEARCH BUILDING

265 S. 37th street

- 07 The Academic Research Building was completed in 2020. The building contains four floors of academic and research space, including classrooms, group study rooms, a communal first-floor atrium with a two-story “living wall”.

TANGEN HALL

115 S. 40th Street

- 08 Tangen Hall was completed in 2020, and is home to Penn Wharton Entrepreneurship. The building holds seminar rooms, a colloquium space, a market space, a food experimentation lab, student venture pods, and offices.

LOCUST WALK

Wharton straddles Locust Walk, the lively pedestrian thoroughfare through the heart of Penn's campus.

- 09 Van Pelt and Lippincott Libraries (by the statue of a broken button!) is the 2nd largest open-stack library in the U.S.
- 10 The ornate Fisher Fine Arts Library was designed by Frank Furness and is considered one of the world's most beautiful libraries.

WALNUT STREET

Walnut Street between 36th and 38th

- 11 Just across Walnut Street from Huntsman Hall is the Pottruck Fitness Center, where MBAs work off steam in the 17,000 square feet of fitness space with a climbing wall, golf center with simulator, pool, basketball courts, spinning room, and more.
- 12 Walk east on Walnut Street to visit Penn and University City favorites including the University of Pennsylvania Bookstore, where you can purchase Penn and Wharton specific gear.
- 13 The Inn at Penn is a luxury hotel right in the heart of Penn's campus. In addition to the 248 rooms and suites, the Inn is also home to Penn's private Faculty dining room and a French-inspired American bistro called Louie Louie.

PENN POINTS OF INTEREST

- 14 The LOVE sculpture, one of many iterations by Robert Indiana, has become a centerpiece of Penn's campus, starring in numerous photos and the gathering place for numerous events.
- 15 Step back in time at the Penn Museum, a grand Italianate building housing a collection of art and artifacts from ancient Egypt, Mesopotamia, the Greco-Roman world, and more.
- 16 In Penn Park, an urban park stretching from Walnut Street to South Street, formal and informal play fields are framed and subdivided by patches of canopy trees. Stop to enjoy the green space or to join a game of pickup soccer or rugby.

PHILADELPHIA SIGHTS

Cross the Walnut Street Bridge over the Schuylkill River to head toward the section of Philadelphia known as Center City, where the majority of MBA students live.

- 17 Rittenhouse Square is a gem of a park surrounded by restaurants, bars and shops that provides plenty of entertainment off-campus.
- 18 Climb the famous steps of the Philadelphia Museum of Art. Go inside to view the stunning collection of Renaissance, American, and
- 19 Modern art, then take a deeper look at the Impressionists at the Barnes Foundation, which recently relocated its world-class collection to Benjamin Franklin Parkway.

Take a stroll along the Schuylkill River, home of picturesque

- 20 Boathouse Row. The Kelly Drive/Martin Luther King Drive loop is a favorite spot for runners and cyclists.
- 21 Philadelphia is the “birthplace of freedom.” Visit Independence Hall, where the Declaration of Independence was adopted, and
- 22 the U.S. Constitution Center, to understand how the grand experiment in democracy unfolded.
- 23 Savor local delicacies—from cheesesteaks to Amish specialties at Reading Terminal Market, one of America’s largest and oldest public markets, housed since 1893 in a National Historic Landmark building.

THANK YOU FOR YOUR INTEREST IN THE WHARTON SCHOOL.
