WALKING TOURS

A SELF-GUIDED TOUR FOR THE SPIRIT. There is an element of spiritual pilgrimage for many visitors to Notre Dame. One way to tour some of the principal places for prayer and reflection is to start at the Basilica of the Sacred Heart and to make a small loop that leads eventually to the Grotto of Our Lady of Lourdes by St. Mary's and St. Joseph's lakes.

- IN THE BASILICA, ask ushers about available tours, times of religious services, and hours for access to the museum. On your own, you'll see many inspiring statues, relics, religious items, and, of course, exquisite artwork on the ceilings, in the stained-glass windows, and more. Masses and the Sacrament of Reconciliation are offered daily. Please respect the quiet and dignity of this special place of worship.

- FROM THE BASILICA go to the Main Building, with the statue of the Blessed Mother standing atop the Golden Dome. Here, you'll also see the historical records of the Laetare Medal annually honoring outstanding Catholics, and the murals underneath the Dome with ethereal figures depicting religion, arts, and sciences.

- PROCEED SOUTH from the Main Building to walk briefly toward the University's main entrance, passing the statue of the Sacred Heart of Jesus, facing the Golden Dome with hands outstretched, and the statue of bearded University founder Rev. Edward Sorin, C.S.C., facing outward to the world.

- THEN RETURN toward the Basilica's front doors, but turn left. You will first see on your right a statue of Saint Jude and then pass Corby Hall, the home of the campus community of Holy Cross priests and brothers. A famous statue depicts former University President Rev. William Corby, C.S.C., offering absolution to the Union Army as their chaplain at the Battle of Gettysburg.

- NOW PROCEED BEHIND Corby Hall and walk to the Grotto of Our Lady of Lourdes, a wonderful setting of lit candles and constant visitors bringing prayer and petitions. This beloved landmark is made all the more inspiring by the proximity of St. Mary's Lake and St. Joseph's Lake. You can close your tour by walking to (and around) these tranquil lakes.

WHERE AM I?

You are in Notre Dame, Indiana, adjacent to the city of South Bend, which is part of a metropolitan area of more than 300,000 people. Notre Dame has its own post office and professional fire department, and it includes not only this University campus, but also the adjacent campuses of Saint Mary's College and Holy Cross College. The private property which the University stands includes 181 buildings, two lakes, two golf courses, and a Catholic cemetery open to members of the Notre Dame family. Our main entrance is at Notre Dame Avenue and Angela Boulevard.

Our life as a community is integrated with the life of our neighbors and neighborhoods. South Bend's downtown is about two miles to the south. Notre Dame's presence extends to places throughout the metropolitan area—places like the Notre students whose parent(s) attended the University.

The University has more than 135,000 alumni, many of whom participate in a worldwide network of Notre Dame clubs. Many of these alumni also come back to campus throughout their lives for reunions, football weekends, spiritual milestones such as weddings and baptisms, and for other reasons tied to the Notre Dame family. About one-quarter of undergraduate students are "legacy" students whose parents attended the University.

Notre Dame is truly an international university, with its student body of approximately 8,500 undergraduates and 3,700 graduate students drawn from all 50 states and some 100 countries. This is a residential university, with 80 percent of undergraduates living on campus in single-sex residence halls. Also in residence on campus is a community of priests and brothers of the Congregation of Holy Cross, engaging in teaching, research, and a range of collaboration with people to enrich the worlds of academe and everyday life, educating both the mind and the heart. The priests live primarily in Corby Hall and Moreau Seminary, but members of Holy Cross and other religious orders live at the residence halls, often serving as rectors. The campus is designed primarily for pedestrians, encouraging safety and community spirit, so vehicle access is limited and monitored.

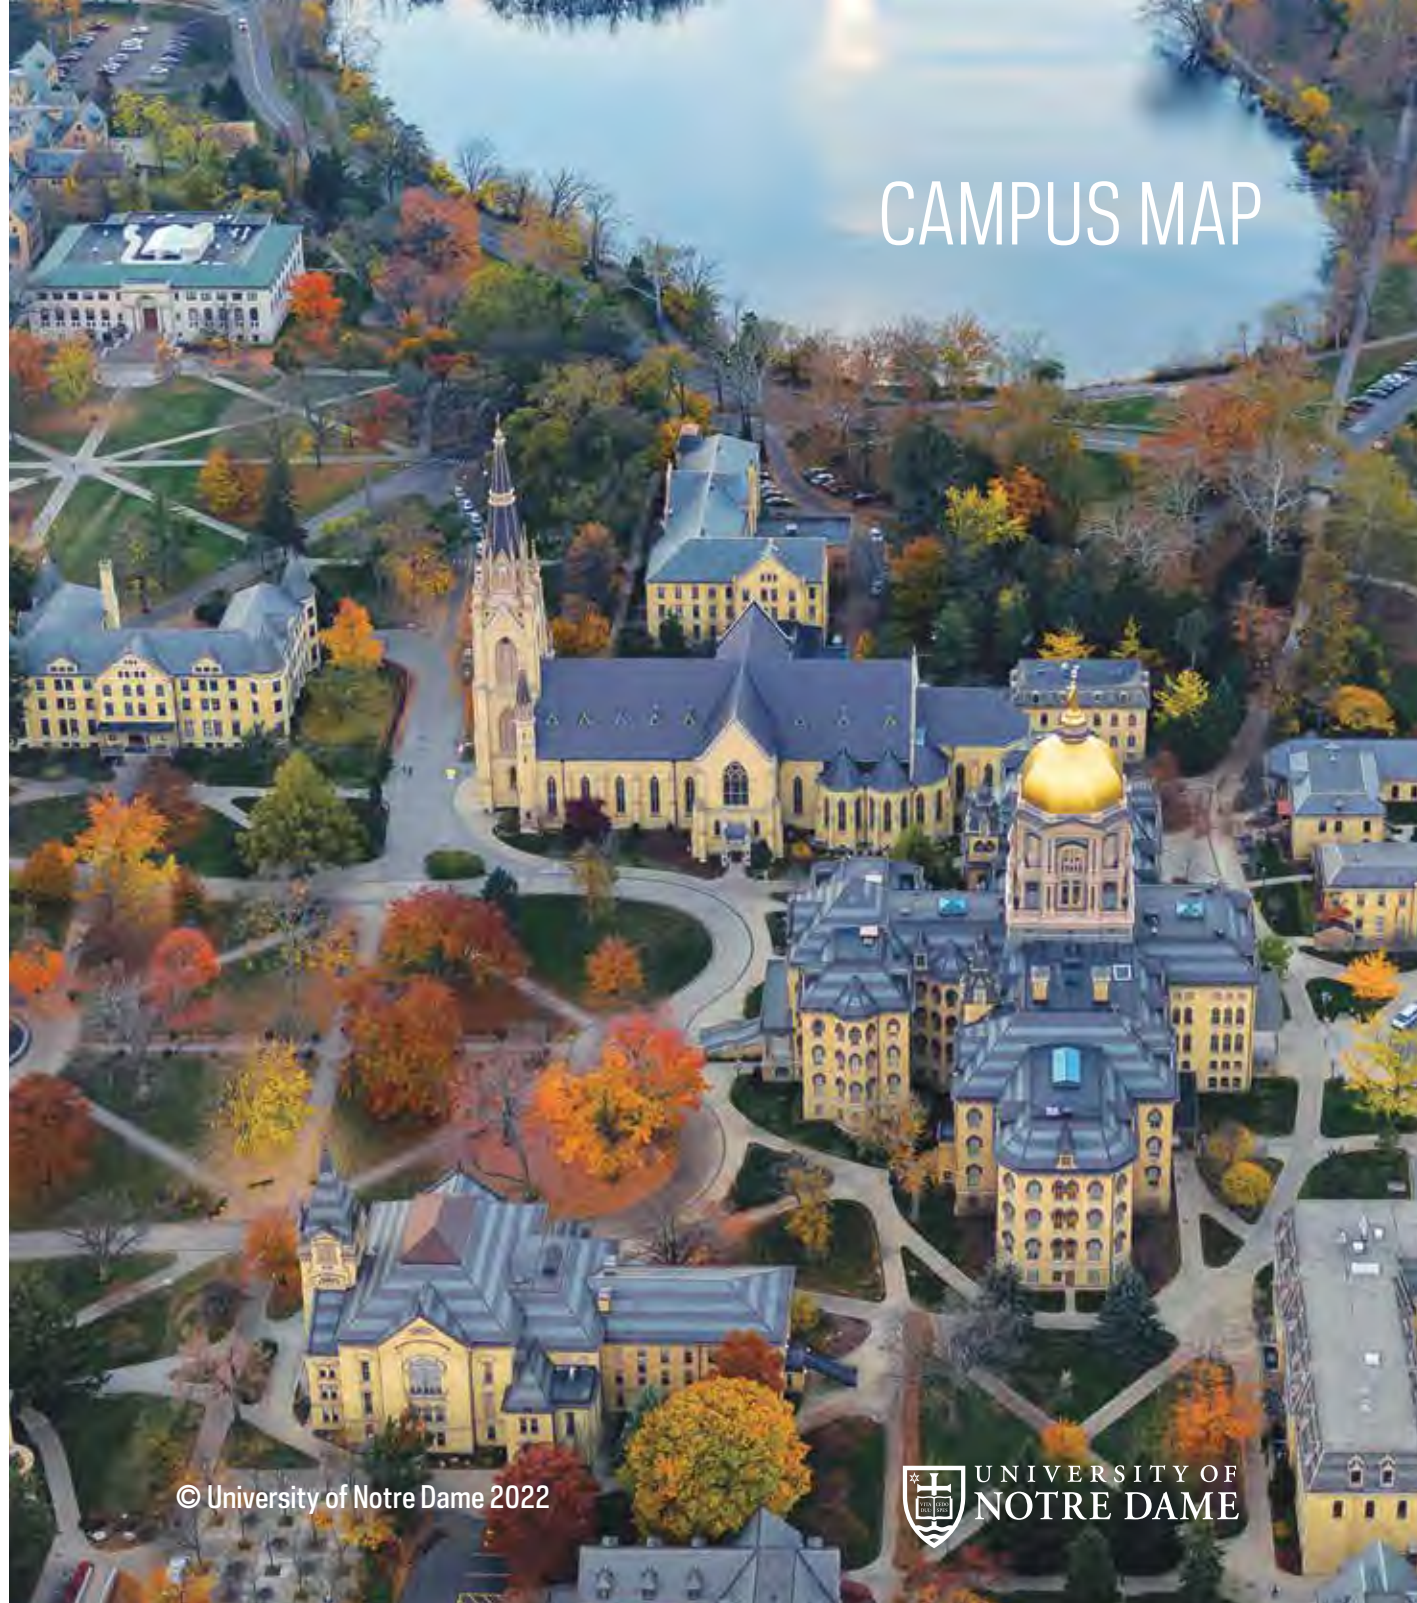

Notre Dame's faculty exceeds 1,100. These are among the finest scholars, researchers, and teachers in the world. Their vibrant contributions to the life of the mind and to human culture are supplemented by professional specialists, research fellows, librarians, and administrators. This is one of America's leading undergraduate teaching institutions and is growing as the pre-eminent Catholic research university.

Notre Dame was chartered by the state of Indiana in 1844, through higher education, missionary work, and the staffing of parishes. Notre Dame is today a major international order serving societies and individuals Catholic congregations of priests and brothers began in France and Sorin, C.S.C., a priest of the Congregation of Holy Cross.
